

PENN STATE BOXERS FACE DIFFICULT MEETS

one which Coach Harlow hopes to overcome if it is possible. Captain McFadden and Friedman, the men who are missing this year were rated as two of the clearest boxers ever turned out from this institution and were largely responsible for the winning of every meet won by the Penn State team during the last two years. Captain Kahley who boxes in the 115 pound class and Alken of the 160 pound class are the only consistent winners upon which Coach Harlow can depend and as a result the Nittany mentor will build his team around these two veterans.

There is no death of candidates for the team, however. One hundred and twenty-five men including Freshmen have reported for the daily practices which are being started in the Armory. In the 115 pound class, Captain Kahley has three contestants for his position. The men who are trying out for this class are Reese, Tuttle and Kaiser and from present indications all of these candidates are evenly matched. Chaplin, Fied and Jenkins are the trio who are struggling for a position in the 125 pound class with the first two mentioned exhibiting improved form over that displayed last year. Cooper, of last season's varsity is showing up well in the 135 pound class but both Coffey and Vanilla are also making a strong bid for the berth. Cooper's experience in the boxing game will no doubt stand him in good stead during the coming meets and will make his two opponents step lively if they hope to represent Penn State in this class.

The contenders for the 150 pound weight are Atanah, Butler and Grimth. Atanah was one of the best boxers on last year's Freshman team and at the present time is showing up well. Alfens, Bonner, Brown, Taylor Everett and Anders are the most likely ones in the 160 pound class with Alfens having a slight edge over the other candidates. Clark and Volsa seem to have the most ability among those who are making a bid for a berth in the 170 pound division.

In the final of heavyweight class, Coach Harlow has two men who will considerably strengthen the team when it was particularly weak last season. Beck and Schuster, both of them filling inside positions on the varsity football team for the season just finished will be the contenders for this heavyweight berth. In practice last year Beck showed himself to be a hard hitter and a man that can fill the bill. (Ed) a man that can fill this difficult piece on a boxing team.

Three intra-collegiate meets have been planned before the varsity schedule begins. A Novice meet has also been arranged for and will be for all men who have never participated in a boxing meet before. In addition to these two contests the Freshman and Sophomore scrub will no doubt be the cause of much interest. Later on, a meet for the championship of the college will be staged.

WILSON CLOSED SERIES WITH STIRRING APPEAL

brought forth for the present failure of this program is merely because it is not undertaken. "The Call of the present day is for Christians with real red white blood and who are not afraid to shed this blood if necessary for the cause of Christ."

"Ye cannot serve God and Mammon" was thrown by Christ at the Roman empire and it is just as true today with regard to the labor problem. This statement will have to become the text of the American people if the world is to be saved. A number of other familiar bits of Scripture were explained by Mr. Wilson and as a closing statement Mr. Wilson quoted "Whosoever that forsaketh not all he hath cannot be my disciple."

Sunday Evening Address.

The first appeal that Mr. Wilson made in this address was that men think the problems through for themselves. "The world tonight is suffering from wounds, shedding its blood. Some one must come to the wreckage and aid." To do this requires an unselfish spirit, a renunciation of self for the higher things of life. "The task is here, language cannot possibly describe the suffering in the world tonight," said Mr. Wilson.

The real appeal of the series opened at this point and the speaker put forth an appeal to the will, decision and powers of action of his hearers, to their moral and intellectual nature to some action according to the ability and world. "You cannot build the man-world, you cannot rebuild the manhood needed without absolute foundations, neither can you build a character on sand without spiritual nutrition," was Mr. Wilson's next startling statement. He stated that the next ten years should be put in preparation and the next forty in service.

MAJOR JOHNSON ADDED TO MILITARY PERSONNEL

Major Harold D. Johnson, 5th Cavalry U. S. Army, has reported for duty here in the Department of Military Science and Tactics. This latest addition to the personnel of the department brings the number of the staff to seven, including three sergeants, one captain, two majors and one colonel.

Major Johnson entered the army in 1902 and since that time has seen active service in the Philippines and on the Mexican border, besides commanding overseas. His last assignment before coming to State College was with the Texas border patrol, in which he was ranking adjutant of the 1st Bnd district. In France he was Lieutenant Colonel of the 80th Field Artillery.

In army circles, Major Johnson has gained wide distinction because of his expert horsemanship and skill as a polo player. He ranks among the leaders in both of these sports.

His duties as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics here at the college began at the first of the month.

YORK COUNTY CLUB PLANS FREE CHRISTMAS DANCE

At a meeting of the York County Club held last Wednesday evening arrangements were completed for the annual Christmas dance to be held in York the evening of December thirtieth. The dance will be a no-admission affair and is being held for the express purpose of boosting Penn State among the people of the county. Invitations are being sent to all prospective college men in York. Among the speakers of the evening will be "Dick" Harlow and Hon. Robert Spangler, Speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

Will there be a Victrola in your home this Christmas?

If any one thing more than another can add to the joys of Christmas, it is music--and the Victrola can bring into your home any music you may wish to hear.

The Victrola is the one instrument to which the greatest artists have entrusted their art--an unanswerable acknowledgment of its artistic achievements. Moreover, the Victrola is the only instrument specially made to play the records which these great artists have made.

Christmas Day and any other day through all the years to come, the best or the newest of all the world's music may be yours to enjoy.

By all means get a Victrola this Christmas, but be sure it is a Victrola and not some other instrument made in imitation. $25.00 to $1500.

Why do so many men "get off" straight Turkish cigarettes?

IT'S not always a matter of price. Many can afford straight Turkish cigarettes, expensive as they are.

The real reason is that straight Turkish cigarettes contain too much Turkish for steady smoking. They are over-rich--even heavy.

Men, for the most part, turn to part-Turkish or Turkish Blend cigarettes. And in a great many cases are disappointed. Why? Because the ordinary Turkish Blend contains too little Turkish--it lacks taste.

No doubt this explains Fatima's popularity with discriminating smokers.

For while Fatima does not contain too much Turkish, still it contains more than any other Turkish Blend--in other words "just enough Turkish" to please not tire, the taste.
