UNIT MASS MEETING SET FOR TUESDAY

Small Number Present at Last Meeting Made Decision at That Time Impossible

The mass meeting of all men interested in the Penn State Union will be held in the Auditorium Tuesday night. This meeting was originally called for last Tuesday evening but had to be postponed on account of the small attendance due to the conflicting class meetings and other affairs. Every student who is interested in the formation and development of the union is invited to make his support felt by his presence at this mass meeting as matters of vital importance will be presented and plans for the year made.

The Inter-class Council headed by President E. B. Atherton will be in charge of the meeting and will place the situation in the hands of the students. They will show what was accomplished last Tuesday and what has been done so far this year and then will put the matter before the gathering to decide what shall be done to continue the work and further the benefits of the Union. The meeting is of vital importance to every man who wishes to see the union a success at Penn State. It will practically decide the future policy of the Union. If the organization gets the support that the officers feel is due them then there is no limit to the expansion that is possible or to the benefits to be derived. The matter will be put up to the students to decide for themselves.

A meeting was held of those who assembled for the meeting which was called for last Tuesday night. Each man pledged his support to the union idea. These men gave their undivided support to the strengthening of the union and carried the message back to their respective districts so that a representative gathering is assured for next Tuesday night.

JUDGE PLANS SECOND "COLLEGE WITS" NUMBER

An important letter was recently received by E. M. Aiken, Editor of Froth, announcing that the second "JUDGE'S College Wits" Contest number will appear in March of this year and invite participation in the contest by the students of this college.

JUDGE'S first College Wits number, published last March was such an amazing success that it has become an annual institution and it is expected that this second number will far surpass the first in interest.

The "Wits" number is published on the principle of a track meet, the college which wins being selected on points garnered by its representatives. A large silver cup is the prize for the college making the best showing in the contest. Last year it was won by Cornell. The cup must be won three times by a college before it becomes the permanent property of the college.

Two individual silver cups are offered in addition, one to go to the artist whose drawing is considered the best submitted, including a possible cover in color. Charles W. B. Faid, Jr., of Cornell, won this last March. The other cup goes to the author of the best bit of text published in the number.

Albert B. Stewart, of Dartmouth, won this in the first contest. It is required that all contributions be original and exclusive.

Those who wish to enter the contest should prepare such material as poems, little essays, jokes, and other suitable matter, including drawings for the number. Each contribution accepted must bear the name, class and college of the contributor, and WILL BE PAID FOR.

As stated in an excerpt of the letter received by Mr. Aiken, "This forthcoming Wits number of JUDGE may be prepared and published in a room at a theatre. The seats are fast, and soon the house is crowded. Early arrivals secure places and there is no standing room. Thus after the editors of JUDGE

SEATING ARRANGEMENT FOR INDOOR GAMES

Because of the limited facilities for seating in the athletic building, the contests held there, and the fact that there are only 1000 seats available, the Student Committee on Seating Arrangements for the football contests, composed of J. M. Chastain, N. R. Korb, F. G. Church '21, R. R. Burtner '22 and W. H. Payne '23, has decided upon a plan whereby certain reservations will be made. These reservations include seats for seniors and letter men, girls and faculty members, as follows:

Seniors and letter men	400
Faculty	150
Girls	50

Seats will be reserved until the time for beginning the game. After that no places will be held open. During the time for Mid-year house parties, provision will be made for chaperones, girls and escorts and a section of seats will be roped off for this purpose.

It was decided by the Athletic Association to charge a straight fifty cent admission to all indoor home contests this winter whether in basketball, wrestling, or boxing, although, of course, this admission fee does not apply to the regularly matriculated students who have paid their blanket tax for athletics. All athletic tickets must be shown at the door before entrance will be permitted.

While no definite arrangements have been made as regards the method of procedure which will be followed in emptying the Army or the Navy building of a contest, it has been decided that the girls present may leave the building through the door on the east side of the building, passing before the office of the Director of Athletics. This will facilitate matters somewhat and will permit of the girls leaving as soon as others and at the same time avoiding the necessity of waiting until the rush for the main door has subsided.

CLASS WRESTLING HONORS AT STAKE

Trials for Inter-class Meet Indicate Strong Varsity Wrestling Squad This Year.

The trials for the annual inter-class wrestling meet will be held tomorrow afternoon on the Army mats, were completed with the exception of one bout, last Wednesday evening, and the results indicate that there is a store for wrestling enthusiasts at this institution an exhibition of wrestling that will favorably bear comparison with varsity inter-collegiate meets, both in the past and future. The trials further indicate that Penn State will be represented this year in intercollegiate wrestling, by an aggregation of grapplers well qualified by experience, or knowledge of the game, to be successfully upheld honors on intercollegiate mats. The teams follow:

Senior Team—115 pounds, Moffitt; 125 pounds, Evans; 135 pounds, Williams; 145 pounds, Mack; 155 pounds, Mowrer; 175 pounds, Spangler, heavy-weight, Parley.

Freshman team—115 pounds, Watson; 125 pounds, Jones; 135 pounds, Williams; 145 pounds, Oehrl; 155 pounds, McCool; 175 pounds, Watson; heavy-weight, Shaull.

Sophomore team—115 pounds, Dickert; 125 pounds, Evans; 135 pounds, Buscaglia; 145 pounds, Park; 155 pounds, Wieland; 175 pounds, Doret, heavy-weight, McMahon.

Freshman team—115 pounds, Bogar; 125 pounds, Clappier; 135 pounds, Haase; 145 pounds, Mandavill; 155 pounds, Dyer; 175 pounds, Dnochi; heavy-weight Mader.

The trials furnished many spectacular exhibitions of effective wrestling. Some of them, in the caliber of work, excitement, and interest, equaled, if not surpassed, the best intercollegiate bouts, and no better demonstrations of the science of wrestling may be expected in the coming intercollegiate trials than were given in the recent trials. Perhaps the most interesting from the spectacular point of view, were those between Buscaglia and Coleman, in the 135 pound class. Each bout was won by Buscaglia by the smallest possible margin. One series of bouts that completely upset the expectations of everybody was the one between Rose and Oehrl in the 145 pound class. In the first bout, Rose, the interclass contender, secured an advantage over his opponent until the last half minute of time, when Oehrl got the top position and quickly secured the fall. The next bout was almost a repetition of the first, when Oehrl, after the bout had been in progress for some time without either man showing decided superiority, gained the advantage with a few minutes to go, and then threw Rose. The only place that has not been decided at the time of writing is the 125 pound bout on the Senior team, in which lies the possibility of a upset. Should Fuchser win, the interclass meet tomorrow will mark his last appearance on the mats before he graduates at mid-year.

As to the question of interclass wrestling, the meet tomorrow afternoon, it is one which will not be decided until the contest is over. From the point of view of experience, the Senior team to have a slight edge over the others. On the other hand, the list of juniors and seniors is an imposing one, with such names as Watson, Jones, Williams, Shaull, and Oehrl. The chances of either the Junior and Senior teams being victorious are greatly endangered by the representation from the Sophomore class which will appear tomorrow afternoon. The men on the second year squad are a bunch of fighters, not content to be merely members of the varsity squad, but persons who have the mettle to win. The Freshman team is by no means a weak one, although young in experience, and some excellent wrestling may be expected from its members, especially in the heavy-weight class, which will be defended by Madler. In fact, the heavy weight bouts all promise to furnish some of the biggest thrills of the week.

LOWER CLASSES WILL CLASH FOR RING TITLE

First Class Boxing Meet of Season Will Be Held Immediately After Wrestling Scrap

Immediately after the underclass wrestling scrap which is to be held in the Army tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, the members of the Freshman and Sophomore boxing teams will take to the arena and endeavor to decide the question of supremacy in this sport. Trials for positions on the teams have been going on since Tuesday afternoon and judging from the caliber of the men who have reported, the bouts will fall thick and fast. The youngsters will enter the contest on the underdog side to the excitement of their opponents. This fact however will not detract from the enthusiasm of the Freshmen who are determined to win regardless of the strength and superior ability of the Sophomores.

Every one of the bouts will be a daily test for both teams. In the 115 pound class, Goldman '21, will meet Tate of the Sophomores. Both of these men are rated as heavy-hitting boxers and a regular slugfest is anticipated. Vanilla '21 and Friel '22 will shake mitts in the 125 pound weight, with the outcome of the bout much in doubt due to the experience and fighting ability of each.

In the 135 pound class, Griffiths '22 and Steele '21, are scheduled to stage another slugfest match. Griffiths is a hard hitter but lacks form while Steele has counted on to do his best in upholding the honor of his class. At the close of the second year team will have as his opponent in the 160 pound weight Anders of the yearling squad. The former of these boxers is an especially hard puncher and is looked upon as a likely contender for a varsity berth in the 145 pound class.

The 175 pound class is the running of the Blue and White. The Blue squad but will in all probability box at 160 pounds. Berkman '21, and Clark '23 are the contenders for the honors in the 175 pound division. Both of these men are inexperienced at the boxing game but will no doubt put on a good lively match.

BRYN MAWR PREACHER TO SPEAK AT CHAPEL

The Reverend Andrew Mutch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, will be the chapel preacher at both services next Sunday morning. Dr. Mutch was educated in Scotland and is familiar with the present European situation as well as the economic conditions in the United States.

The speaker comes with a message of exceptional interest to college students as his daily work has brought him into constant touch with the college man and woman.

FROSH TOSSERS PLAY BELLEFONTE TONIGHT

The Freshman basketball team under the care of Coach Davis will leave for Bellefonte this afternoon to compete to meet the Bellefonte Academy tossers tonight on the latter's floor. Due to the fact that it is rather early in the season, little is known of the strength of either team but the strength of contests of former years count for anything, a close fight may be anticipated. The Bellefonte youths are exceedingly anxious to reap revenge for the two defeats which the Yearlings handed them in football this fall and will be greatly strengthened by this desire. The Fresh team on the other hand will be handicapped by being compelled to stage their initial game on a foreign floor.

However, Coach Davis feels that he now has a well balanced aggregation and one that is capable of at least matching any team of its class. At most two hundred candidates reported to the yearling basketball call in December and after numerous trials and workouts, a squad composed of about thirty men was selected. This cut only occurred in the past week so that the coach had considerable doubt as to the picking from this large group a suitable combination with which to start the first game. Numerous men have exhibited almost the same quality and have run a neck and neck race for positions but the line up was finally decided upon and is as follows: J. C. Frank and E. E. Turner guards, M. T. Schoenfeld center, and E. Wilson and E. H. Cornwall as forwards. Some changes may be brought about in the line up after the Bellefonte game because of the state of the competition. The line up at present the above named five will play. C. A. Bolt and A. F. Dorrer will make the trip to Bellefonte as substitutes, a total of seven men being taken besides the coach and manager.

WHERE DO YOU STAND?

What does the Honor System mean to you? Just what is your opinion on its potency and virility as a moulder of men at Penn State?

Have you ever seriously considered the meaning of the words; the meaning of the system; the part that you should play in carrying out this meaning?

If not, what have you done?

Have you been content to sit back like many others, watching cribbing going on as it without question has, and feel when you signed your pledge, that you had done all in your power to make Penn State's system the best it could be?

Have you ever had the moral courage to get up in a class room where cribbing was going on and ask that it be stopped?

Have you ever been man enough to go to one whom you have seen cribbing and ask him to cease his unrighteous practice?

What is your honest opinion about Honor System?

Think it over. Read over the provisions of the system and its interpretations at Penn State.

You will be called upon to make a final decision in the near future.

DEBATING COACH TO LEAVE PENN STATE

Professor E. W. Miller Resigns From Faculty to Teach at Ohio Wesleyan—Debaters Busy.

The resignation of Professor E. W. Miller, of the Department of English, and head coach of the varsity debating team, has been accepted, to take effect at the close of the present semester. The coming departure of Professor Miller, and the subsequent appointment of a new coach for the debating squad, at a time so close to the opening of the intercollegiate debating season, will greatly affect the work of the varsity debaters, but it is fully expected that regardless of the change the season will be a successful one, inasmuch as the utmost important preparations for the approaching contests have already been completed.

Professor Miller resigns his work at Penn State to go to the Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio. There he will join Professor Maraham, former head of the Department of Public Speaking at that institution, in the School of Oratory. He has been a member of the faculty in the Department of English at Penn State since the fall of 1918. Since his coming here, he has taken an active interest in the debating activities of the college, and, until the resignation of Professor Maraham last June, served in the capacity of assistant coach in the department of college affairs. This semester, he has taken full charge of the debating squad, and will continue the capacity of assistant coach in the department of college affairs. His successor has as yet been appointed to.

BALKANS WILL BE THEME OF LECTURE

Dr. Charles U. Clark, Noted Authority, Coming Here Under Auspices of Phi Kappa Phi

A free illustrated lecture on Reconstruction in South-Eastern Europe will be given by Dr. Charles Upton Clark under the auspices of Phi Kappa Phi Monday evening at seven o'clock in the Auditorium.

Dr. Clark was formerly head of the Latin Department in Yale University, which position he resigned to become Director of the American School for Classical Studies in Rome, Italy. Since leaving Rome, Doctor Clark has spent much of his time traveling and lecturing. He stands at the very forefront of scholarship in his particular field—that of textual criticism. He is a man of great personal charm and has been in great demand the past two years as a lecturer in the colleges and universities of the country.

During and since the war in Europe, Doctor Clark has spent much time in Roumania and the other Balkan states, and is thus able to treat his subject from first hand knowledge. Most of the illustrations used by him in his lectures have been taken by his own hand.

The lecture is put at an early hour Monday evening so that it may be attended by all the members of the student body and faculty who will then have ample time for their duties after the conclusion of the lecture.

In introducing Dr. Clark to a State College audience, Phi Kappa Phi is continuing a precedent established last year of inviting the most eminent public men of the country to speak here, and it is hoped that other men in the Auditorium will be filled.

QUARTET TO ENTERTAIN WITH PANAMA PROGRAM

The Varsity Quartet, fresh from its recent trip to Panama, will render an exceptionally pleasing program in the Auditorium this evening at seven-thirty o'clock. With the exception of a small humorous skit, called "Rehearsal on Deck" which portrays the laughable situations in which the members of the party found themselves on shipboard, the program will be an exact replica of the one which was so much favored in the Canal Zone. Although the quartet has already taken two trips this year, tonight will mark its first public appearance at Penn State. The quartet, made up of A. R. Kennard '21, H. Ralston '23, B. W. Knapp '21 and W. A. Stoolzing '21, has received much praise on every appearance and should make a decided hit in the Auditorium.

In addition to the popular air and classic numbers that will be presented by the quartet, Miss Ruth Jackson, who accompanied the party to the Isthmus, will give selected readings while a string composed of Knapp, Flahburn and Stoolzing will play "Whispering," one of the biggest song hits of the past year. A most interesting feature of the program will be a tonorial solo by Ralston who gives an excellent rendition of a classic song by Macchioni called "For All Eternity." At the same time Penn State students will be interested in the final number of the evening which consists in the rendering of various Penn State songs by the quartet with the additional help of stringed instruments.

Because of the fine impression which the quartet made on its recent tour, it has received an invitation to appear at Bloomsburg Normal and Red Lion, Pa., and will appear at these places on the first of next week. The members of the quartet will be ready to accept an invitation to sing in Harrisburg near the end of this month but was unable to accept it because of the fact that the date occurred during the period of examinations.

In order to defray the expenses which the quartet and the remainder of the party incurred in going from here to New York and return on the Panama, the club has decided to charge fifty cents will be charged for the concert tonight. There will be no reserved seats however.

The courses numbered Fr. 26, Modern French Drama, and Fr. 38, The Romantic Movement in France, are also open to students who have permission of the Head of the Department. The prerequisite in both cases is in two years of French.

WASH-JEFF IS NEXT ON CAGE SCHEDULE

Red and Black Five Has Achieved Victories Over Dartmouth and Duquesne University

The Penn State basketball team will entertain the five from Washington and Jefferson College this Saturday night in the Army at the usual time, seven thirty o'clock. The Freshmen are coming with what they feel is a winning team and have the statistics to back up the statement according to the scores of the game played at the same old schedule. They opened the season with a vacation game with Dartmouth and very effectively settled the question of superiority by defeating the Honoroverlies 21 to 21. During the course of this contest the Washingtonians allowed only one Green field goal and established a substantial lead which they held until the close of the game when Dartmouth attempted a vigorous comeback and took the offensive in the latter period. Duquesne University was the next to fall before the Wash-Jeff dribblers and only succeeded after a desperate struggle which ended 27 to 25. This cage battle was played on the Freshmen's home floor before an enthusiastic cheering section and produced some exciting moments before the victor was finally picked. As in the first game, W. & J. started well and got what was thought to be a fairly safe lead, but Duquesne showed fight in the second half especially, and started to overcome the handicap of points. A neck and neck race ensued. The Red and Black combination rebounded this winter point to a better year than ever. In the Dartmouth game he roved over the floor and caged four baskets and at the same time held his opposing forwards to one field goal. Carroll, one of the forwards is another dangerous opponent and has a knack of making high averages at foul shooting. In the contest with the Green team making 17 out of 22.

The Blue and White cage squad has put in a strenuous period of practice since the Dickinson match. This contest disclosed several weaknesses in correction and Coach Herman has practiced the last few days to some hard voted to eradicate the fault. The varsity is rapidly rounding into shape and should be ready to fight the next battle. The first team, Wilson, Wolfe, Rogelio, Haines and Killinger are in good shape at present and the second varsity is receiving a good deal of attention in order to develop a string of first class substitutes.

OUTING CLUB SECURES CABIN FOR ACTIVITIES

Location Provides Accessibility to College in Fine Hunting and Fishing Region.

After several weeks of negotiations, the Penn State Outing Club has announced that a log cabin located about twelve miles from here in one of the best hunting and fishing regions of the state has been secured for the use of the club. The deal involving the cabin was consummated the early part of this week and will provide the members of the club with a place where their recreational program can be carried out. Work of putting the place in shape will start tomorrow and that within a short time the cabin will be ready for occupancy.

In every respect the newly acquired headquarters is all that could be desired. Located in the vicinity of Charter Oak the cabin is readily accessible from the college either on foot or by automobile while not being hampered by the fact that it is too near civilization to spoil the game possibilities. The cabin, itself is of best construction for such purposes being constructed through of logs and being suitably roomy to accommodate twelve men at a time with room enough, if necessary, to quarter at least eight more. Five small bedrooms, a large living room and a large combined kitchen and dining room make up the layout of the cabin. From the log cabin, the members of the club will be able to see wild game almost any time during the winter, as many as six deer being seen at one time right in front of the house.

Work on fixing up the cabin which is in need of minor repairs and some cleaning will begin tomorrow when P. J. Hahn '21, will lead some members of the club who wish to volunteer to do the work back to the cabin. Any members of the club who desire to help out in this matter are urged to get in touch with Hahn at the Delta Sigma Xi house at once in order that the place may be put in shape as soon as possible.

FROSH HOLD CLASS MEETING

The Freshman class meeting held in the amphitheatre on last Wednesday night was in charge of the fifth trial president H. G. Hoehler who spoke intelligently concerning the need for candidates for the heavy weight positions on the wrestling and boxing class teams. At the same time the agricultural students were reminded of the stock show to be held tomorrow. Dr. H. H. Hauth then explained the new system by which class historian is to be selected. All freshmen competing are to submit their essays to C. Douds '22 before January the nineteenth. No names are to be placed on the essays but their matriculation number will serve as identification. An auxiliary envelope containing the name of the author and his matriculation number will accompany the work. F. Church '21 emphasized the importance of observing the rules of the Honor System and asked the class to back up the system.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT HAS NOT BEEN PICKED

That the new president of the college is to be named in the very near future is a common report heard daily on the campus. Nothing definite has been decided in the matter and no announcement of this institution will be made until after the meeting of the Board of Trustees which is to be held on the twenty-fifth of this month. Several men are being considered who are eminently fitted for the position and it is only after the closest investigation and most serious consideration that steps are being taken to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Dr. D. Sparks. A retiring executive head of this institution he set a high standard of excellence for the presidency of this institution and only a man supremely qualified will be able to take his place.

It is very probable however that the name of the new president will be announced as the result of the January meeting of the Trustees. It is said that the selection has been practically made and that the action of the Trustees will officially settle the matter.

FIRST SEMESTER CUSTOMS ARE OFF AFTER LAST FINAL EXAM

As has been customary in the past, customs will be off for the first semester after a student has completed his last final examination. Customs will be resumed as usual on the morning of the beginning of the second semester.
