TRIALS FOR LEHIGH MAT MEET NOW IN PROGRESS

Preliminary Bouts Started Last Night—Finals Take Place Next Week—Garber Joins Squad

Trials for the wrestling meet with Lehigh University, which will be held here a week from tomorrow, and which will open intercollegiate mat activities at Penn State for the present season, are now under way...

The trials are being conducted along the new policies outlined some weeks ago by Coach Lewis. If a man is scheduled for a bout and does not appear, the coaching staff will make it a point to find out why he did not come out...

Another new policy that is to be followed out this season is the one in regard to the time of holding trials. Formerly, the trials or a meet on Saturday were commenced on the preceding Monday, necessitating rapid selection of team members in time for the meet...

The squad has been considerably strengthened by the return of Garber, who has not been seen since his grapple with the 115 pound class last year in intercollegiate wrestling at Penn State two years ago...

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS TO MEET AT LAFAYETTE

Committee of Local Organization Hopes to Send Large Delegation to Eastern Conference

Efforts are being made at the present time by a committee from the local Student Volunteer organization to send a large delegation to the Eastern Conference of Student Volunteers which will be held at Lafayette College, Bethlehem, on February twenty-fifth to twenty-seventh...

This conference is similar in nature to the one which was held at Penn State two years ago and at Juniata last year. At this latter conference there were at least sixty delegates from Penn State and Penn State is to be proportionately represented at this conference should have at least fifty delegates.

The object of this conference is to establish a basis of cooperation among the Pennsylvania and New Jersey colleges and to offer some means of carrying this stupendous message back to the various institutions. The inspiration which has been carried back to the colleges of the state from the earlier conferences and from the larger convention at Des Moines last year cannot be estimated.

MID-YEAR CONVOCATION HELD IN SIMPLE STYLE

Brevity and simplicity marked the graduation of seventy-three students from Penn State at the mid year commencement exercises held in the Auditorium on Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

The exercises were opened by Professor F. L. Patten who read a short passage from the Bible and, after the audience had sung a hymn, rendered the invocation. The process of conferring the degrees was then undertaken and, called up in order their respective schools, the students were presented their diplomas by Judge Mitchell, President of the Board of Trustees.

After all degrees had been awarded, Major E. D. Walker of the Engineering Department and representing the Military Department of this institution, read the names of members of the graduating class who have received Honorary Military Certificates in recognition of the military service which they rendered in the past year...
