FACULTY CHANGES IN AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College, held in Harrisburg last week, several important changes and additions were made in the faculty of the School of Agriculture. The most important of these changes was the promotion of Professor R. R. Welch, formerly associate professor of agriculture, to the chair of Assistant Professor of Agriculture. Professor R. U. Blasingame was selected to fill the position of head of the recently established Department of Farm Machinery. Messrs. William V. Dennis and Charles D. Myers were promoted to associate professorships in Rural Sociology and Agricultural Education, respectively, and J. H. Hagg and G. F. Miles were made instructors in Ag Chem and Plant Pathology Extension. Mr. F. W. Haller was also elected assistant in Horticulture and superintendent of the college's vegetable gardens.

In addition to the changes mentioned above a number of the men who graduated this mid year were given appointments. W. D. Bonedict was appointed county agent of Allegheny County, R. H. Engle of Erie County, and R. S. Shauffer of Jefferson County.

The Board granted Professor E. O. Wilde, Associate Professor of Horticulture, a leave of absence to extend from April 1 to July 1 for the purpose of allowing him to pursue special work in horticulture at Cornell.

Professor R. D. Anthony and Dr. S. W. Fletcher addressed meetings of the Virginia State Horticulture Society and of the New York State Horticulture Society recently. Dr. Fletcher spoke on "Recent Progress in Pennsylvania Apple Growing."

Is some chance that he may be used instead of Bonedict. The problem is confronting the coaches in attempting this shifting about is whether Alken could stand coming down to this weight without losing a lot of valuable strength.

Clark in the 160 pound berth promises to give the Tartan man of his class a hard tussle. The Penn State fighter is showing the greatest improvement of any man on the Nittany squad and in addition to being a good hitter has fast footwork.

No 175 pound bout will be run off tomorrow night due to the agreement made with Carnegie Tech but in its absence the heavyweight battle with Madera representing the Blue and White promises to make up for this to a large extent. Madiera lacks experience, it is true, but his exceptional speed and heavy punching are expected to overcome this handicap.

opposition for the last few games and pushed the varsity to the limit. They were a first playing and clean combination in the faculty of the School of Agriculture. The most important of these changes was the promotion of Professor R. R. Welch, formerly associate professor of agriculture, to the chair of Assistant Professor of Agriculture. Professor R. U. Blasingame was selected to fill the position of head of the recently established Department of Farm Machinery. Messrs. William V. Dennis and Charles D. Miles were made instructors in Ag Chem and Plant Pathology Extension. Mr. F. W. Haller was also elected assistant in Horticulture and superintendent of the college's vegetable gardens.

Wilson Scores First

In the opening seconds of the game, "Andy" Wilson, Penn State's whirlwind forward dropped in the first tally and gave the start to the scoring. Immediately after this the Plaid machine made a two pointer from the hands of McPhee and drew alongside of the Nittany score but Wolfe's fouls got into action and established the Blue and White lead. Then Killinger, Wilson and Wolfe, contributed tallies to the Penn State total while the Tartans made only one goal by Pittman. By this time, the Nittany combine took a firm hold on the situation and effectively captured the game when Killinger, Replogle, and Wilson again scored. The half ended with the Coach Herrman's proteges in possession of a twelve point lead, and feeling confident while the Carnegie Tech team still continued to battle, by this time rather unevenly matched.

Tech Score Opens Second Half

The Tartan team took advantage of the opening minutes of the final period to allow Dosey, their lightning forward to drop in the first score of the half. But this ended the field goals for the Techites and the rest of the game was devoted to chalking up Nittany tallies. In this period Wilson kept up his excellent brand of basketball while "Killy" went wild and shot eight goals. Nothing could stop him and he, in time and again, evaded the Plaid defense and slipped the sphere through the circle. It was in this period that "Hinky" Haines captured his memorable tally from the floor. Only one substitution was made in the Blue and White line-up and that was caused by the replacing of Wolfe by Rittner in the last few minutes of play.

The line-ups were as follows:
 Penn State forward - McPhee
 Wilson - forward - Dosey
 Replogle - center - Bell
 Killinger - guard - Nichol
 Haines - guard - Pittman
 Field goals Penn State—Wolfe, Wilson 6, Replogle 2, Killinger 10, Haines, Carnegie Tech—McPhee, Dosey, Pittman

Foul goals Penn State—Wolfe 20 out of 29, Carnegie Tech—Dosey 10 out of 13, Bell 1 out of 2.

Substitutions: Rittner for Wolfe, Hamman for McPhee, McPhee for Hamman and for Pittman, and Hamman for Dosey. Referee, Miller, Harrisburg Y. M. C. A.

COLLEGE MAY TAKE UP GUIDANCE PLAN

graduates will hold conferences and give advice on matters pertaining to their respective vocations. It had previously been planned to hold conferences and meetings on Wednesday and Thursday nights, but a change has been effected by which the meetings will be held on Monday and Tuesday nights. Sponsors for these conferences have not yet been secured but among those proposed are some of the most prominent educators of the country. President Secor of Northwestern University will, no doubt, address one of the meetings while effort will be put forth to secure Dr. Vincent, head of the Rockefeller Relief who is at present traveling in Europe.

Y. M. C. A. To Start Campaign as Part of Plan

On Friday, March the eleventh, the college Y. M. C. A. will officially start its campaign for Life-Work Recruits. The campaign which will last till March the thirteenth, will be under the direction of the student board of the Y. M. C. A. and will embrace several conferences and meetings. Over twenty-four men from outside agencies will address the different meetings and will deliver addresses at the different conferences.

According to the schedule arranged, the first day of the campaign will be featured by four sectional conferences which will deal with wholly different topics. The one relating to social service will be addressed by Mr. Paul Belsner who is the field secretary for the New York School of Social Work. The speaker for the conference dealing with the church and its needs has not yet accepted the invitation to attend. The other conferences will deal with Christian work which is closely related to missionary work, both at work and home, and with Y. M. C. A. work in both rural and city communities.

On Saturday, follow up conferences will deal with the divisions of the major topics considered on Friday while on Sunday, each church will devote one of its services to the campaign and hold afternoon conferences. A conference of all representatives will be held on the following Monday when the campaign closes. Those who will address the various meetings will include Dr. Lampe of The Reformed Church, Dr. Caruthers of the Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Lewis, member of the General Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

as a result of the interest which the latter has taken in military affairs at this college and the fact that he has successfully completed the courses in officers' training given here.

Judge Mitchell completed the evening's exercises by making a short plea to the graduating members to always remember their alma mater, the commonwealth and their instructors. He reminded them that the college depends largely upon its graduates for support and that it takes great pride in their success. He pointed out that it is the duty of every college graduate to uphold the state and obey its laws and finished by asking the students to keep in mind the teachings of their professors.

WANTED

I am looking for a particular type of man who is inherently honest; who has a good personality, and who is willing to work. I prefer one who is working his way through college. To such a man I can offer a position that will pay enough for his next year's expenses.

"AS I get to know more about life in general and the electrical industry in particular, I like to think of everything as a game," said the old grad. "You've got to keep your eye on the ball and your mind alert for the main chance. "Not long ago I tackled a job that nearly threw me. It called for some pretty heavy arm work but mostly head work, before I broke down the obstacles and made my goal. "Right now the hurrahs from the grandstand are ringing in my ears—by which I mean that the boss said in his extravagant way, 'Good!' "I know what helped me to turn the trick. Back at college I put in some hard licks on the football field, and that training to think fast in a pinch and to keep plugging with the odds against me certainly stood by me when I graduated from football togs to overalls at the electrical works. "So I'd like to offer this experience of mine as evidence on a disputed question, 'Is taking part in athletics a waste of time?' "Certainly you want first of all to get your math and your lab down pat. But to my way of thinking physical work will help you master them, because it leads to good health and a clear mind—a combination you can't beat. "Start out in business with this capital and you'll find it backing you at every stage of the game, helping you to fight your way through and work out in a practical way your highest ambitions."

The electrical industry needs men who can see far and think straight.
