

Remble
Box 32

Boy! Twelve
Games

Semi-Weekly

Penn State Collegian

Oh,
Baseball
At Home

Here's Luck To
The Mat Men
Tomorrow

VOL. XVI. No. 36

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11 1921

PRICE FIVE CENTS

MEET WITH LEHIGH OPENS MAT SEASON

Only Two of Last Year's Intercollegiate Team to Appear on Mats Against Old Rivals

Varsity in Good Form

Lehigh Comes With Victories Over West Virginia and Columbia as Record to Date

The last bout of the final trials for the wrestling meet with Lehigh tomorrow afternoon was held last Wednesday when Evans defeated Garber and secured a berth on the team. Most of the members are in good condition for the struggle with the strong Brown and White team.

Those who survived the trials and will appear on the Army mats tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock are:

- 115 pound class—Watson
- 125 pound class—Evans
- 135 pound class—Captain Deitz
- 145 pound class—Rone
- 155 pound class—Mowrer
- 175 pound class—Spangler
- Heavy-weight—MacMahon

The Bethlehem matmen come to Penn State with a record of two victories so far this season. The first match was with West Virginia, about four weeks ago, when the Lehigh team came through with a 21 victory over the Mountaineers. The second was held last Saturday against Columbia. The Brown and White had a harder proposition than the first, but they won by the scant margin of one point, the final score being 16 to 16, with the New Yorkers on the short end. The Lehigh line-up for tomorrow will probably be similar to that of the first two meets. It is as follows:

- 115 pound class—Reynolds or Schwabach
- 125 pound class—Myers
- 135 pound class—Thompson or Ghion
- 145 pound class—Captain Bertolo
- 155 pound class—Loeber
- 175 pound class—Rone
- Heavy-weight—Carlin

In accordance with the new policy which has been adopted by the coaching staff in respect to the conduct of trials for the intercollegiate meets this season, the preliminary trials for the meet with Harvard University, which will be held here on the nine-fourth of this month, commenced last night. The trials will be held in the gymnasium tomorrow and the finals will be held during the early part of next week.

UNITS TO DECIDE ON FUTURE ORGANIZATION

Mass Meeting Called for Next Wednesday—Prominent Speakers to Present Club Plan

Whether the Penn State Union will continue to exist in the future as it has in the past or whether members of the Union will be formed into one big organization to be known as the "Penn State Club," is the important question which will be brought before unit men at a meeting to be held next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the Auditorium. The plan for reorganization will be discussed by a number of men prominent in college affairs and it is hoped by the officers of the Union that there will be a sufficiently large number of unit men present to decide the question.

The plan of reorganizing the Union into a large organization to be known as the "Penn State Club" was laid before the unit men at a meeting held during the latter part of January. At that time it was pointed out that the present situation of the Union is very unsatisfactory inasmuch as the plan of unit men lacks centralization. With the new system of a club such as will be proposed, it is hoped to do away with this handicap.

According to the club plan which has as its prominent sponsor Director Hugo Bezdek, the "Penn State Club" would be organized into a number of various sections. Meetings of the sections would be held separately in case the membership of the club increased to large proportions but in case this did not become a reality the various sections would all meet together at one big meeting. It was pointed out at the meeting in January that this plan would do away with many of the needless groups which have been flourishing around since the beginning of the school year by making them subject to the government of the club.

It has also been proposed to secure a house for the carrying on of the activities of the Union or the "Penn State Club" in case the latter proposition is adopted. A complete hotel, a school, a general store, a bank, a post office, a theatre, a hospital, etc., and it is open to any active seaman of the world. Seamen of all nationalities and religious beliefs are invited to secure safety, service, comfort, cooperation, and inspiration and go forth with a new faith in Christianity. The Institute is indeed a god send to the lone sailor and is one worthy of the utmost praise and consideration.

SENIOR GIRLS TO HOLD MARCH BENEFIT DANCE

The Senior girls will hold a subscription dance in the Armory the evening of Friday, March fourth, for the benefit of the State College Alumna Club and the Association of Collegiate Alumni.

DEAN KNIGHT COMPLETES GIRLS' VOCATIONAL TALKS

Dean of Women, Miss Margaret Knight, concluded her Thursday morning vocational talks to the Freshman girls this week. For the remainder of the semester, Freshman girls will be required to attend Thursday morning chapel, as previous to the course.

OUTING CLUB ENLISTS MANY NEW MEMBERS

Ninety-three Join Club at Initial Meeting of Year—Plans Outlined by President Haler

A large number of hiking enthusiasts met in Old Chapel on Wednesday evening and were acquainted with the plans of the Outing Club for the coming months. President P. J. Haler explained the numerous difficulties which have retarded the growth of the club in the past and pointed out the only cooperation of the students is necessary to start the organization off with a bang. As a result of the talk given by President Haler and the announcement that a cabin had been secured in the last few days, the men present pledged their hearty support, and ninety-three joined the club, paying the small fee of fifty cents as dues. The total capital that results from dues will be employed in purchasing prizes for a hiking contest, which extends from now until the end of May. All members of the club are required to record on regulation blanks, which are to be published soon, the routes of hikes and their destination, and will have the blanks in every week to a committee of which "Dick" Rauch is chairman. In this method an accurate account will be kept of the distance each man hikes and in May the prizes will be awarded.

Although it is hoped to have three or four cabins by next fall, only one has been secured thus far, and is situated near Charter Oak. It is quite large, however, and will accommodate many students. The key to the cabin may be obtained from President Haler or may wait until next Tuesday evening when a chance will be given to the Co-op from six-thirty to eight. To join the club a student has only to sign a membership card and pay the fifty-cent fee. The organization bills for to become a live wire portion of the college.

Glee Club Making Plans For Contest

The Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest, which is to be held in New York City on February twenty-sixth, will offer Penn State talent an opportunity to display their talents before other colleges and universities of the east. The college will be represented by a carefully selected group of singers.

Authority on Life of Seamen to Speak Sunday

Penn State students will have the opportunity of hearing a well known seaman of New York City next Sunday morning when he will be entertained at Mansfield, D. D. Superintendent of the Seamen's Church Institute of that city, addresses both chapel services. Dr. Mansfield through his association with the hundreds of seamen who visit the institute daily, has acquired a wide viewpoint of life and is familiar with the various serious problems that face the men of today. He has seen and talked with men who have experienced the worst phases of life and has done much toward the social betterment of the seaman. His address on Sunday should prove to be one of the most interesting and instructive talks ever given at this institution.

SEAMEN TO SPEAK SUNDAY

The Seamen's Church Institute is a large philanthropic organization which aims to provide a home for seamen where their physical, mental and spiritual welfare may be safeguarded. It is practically a city in itself as it contains a church, a complete hotel, a school, a general store, a bank, a post office, a theatre, a hospital, etc., and it is open to any active seaman of the world. Seamen of all nationalities and religious beliefs are invited to secure safety, service, comfort, cooperation, and inspiration and go forth with a new faith in Christianity. The Institute is indeed a god send to the lone sailor and is one worthy of the utmost praise and consideration.

CAGE TEAM MEETS V. P. I. TOMORROW

Coach Herman Sends Team Through Vigorous Practices for Contest With Southerners

Virginia Polytechnic Institute, one of the southern schools which has proved more or less of a "dark horse" to the northern basketball teams, will appear against the varsity tomorrow night at seven o'clock in the Armory. The Dominion State five has a hard road ahead of it in the way of games on this northern trip which brings the Tech team here. The first game of the invasion is played against the Mountaineers quintet at Morgantown. West Virginia, a well established organization, proved its worth in the contest three weeks ago with Penn State. The second game is with Coach Herman's stalwarts, who promise to give an interesting battle to southern invaders, and the final game is scheduled with the Delaware College quintet at Newark, Delaware, a team which represents a small institution but with a big cage reputation. The schedule has been arranged on the strength of the teams put out in the past by the Virginia school and should produce some lively contests.

The athletes at Virginia Poly are partially supervised by Ben Cuddeback '20, a member of Penn State's memorable 1918 football eleven, who has been appointed to accept the post of assistant athletic director of the southern school. He has been largely responsible in establishing athletic relations between Penn State and his present charges. The team will be composed of its usual players, Wolfe and Wilson, forwards, Replieg, center, and Haines and Kugler at guards. Coach Herman has been vigorously putting his men through their paces the last few days as he was not altogether satisfied with some of the playing shown on the trip to Pitt and W. V. The team has however been rounding into shape for its crucial games with Penn, Yale, and Swarthmore.

USHERS FOR MEET

In order to take care of the large crowd, which is expected to attend the wrestling meet tomorrow afternoon in the Armory, it has been decided to provide ushers. These ushers will be under the direction of Coach Herman. Applications will be accepted at the maximum seating capacity of the Armory may be realized.

WRESTLING MANAGER

The Cadet Band has been asked to attend and will in all probability play selections from two o'clock until half past two, when the meet is scheduled to begin.

INTER-CLASS CAGE SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The schedule for the basketball games between the four classes has been announced by Manager Myers according to the card as arranged, the first game will be played on next Tuesday. No dates have as yet been set for the finals but it is expected that they will be announced shortly. After the last game on the schedule has been played, the Freshman-Sophomore scrap will take place. The schedule is as follows:

- Tuesday, February 15: Seniors vs. Freshmen
- Thursday, February 24: Seniors vs. Juniors
- Sophomores vs. Freshmen
- Saturday, February 26: Juniors vs. Freshmen
- Seniors vs. Sophomores
- Tuesday, March 1: Seniors vs. Sophomores
- Juniors vs. Freshmen
- Thursday, March 3: Seniors vs. Juniors
- Sophomores vs. Freshmen
- Tuesday, March 8: Seniors vs. Freshmen
- Juniors vs. Sophomores

WOMEN STUDENTS BEGIN INTER-CLASS CAGE GAMES

The first two games on the inter-class basketball schedule of the women students were played off last Wednesday night in the Armory with the Juniors defeating the Freshmen by a 26 to 15 score and the Sophomores winning from the Seniors by the closer score of 32 to 23. The games were witnessed by an enthusiastic audience of co-eds and from the interest displayed it is evident that a promising season is ahead for the enthusiasts of the sport.

Both Chapels—Rev. A. R. Mansfield, Supt. Seaman's Church Institute, of New York City.

9:30 a. m.—Two-Year Ag. Students, 11 L. A.
3:30 p. m.—Reading of Barrie's play "Alice Sit by the Fire," by Miss Jackson; organ recital by Prof. L. S. Rhodes, Auditorium.

Members of the Freshman class who reported as candidates for the Business Staff of this publication last fall will present themselves at the COLLEGIAN office Saturday afternoon at one-thirty. Any other Freshmen who desire to try out but who have not reported may also come out at this time.

Don't forget the Dorwart Bible Class in Old Chapel, Sunday at ten-thirty o'clock. Come and hear what Bezdek has to say on "Is it worth while to live a clean life?"

PLAYERS PRESENT COMEDY TONIGHT

Popular Organization Prepared For Record Crowd at Presentation of Cohan Comedy

Tonight, at eight-fifteen o'clock sharp in the Schwab Auditorium, the curtain will rise on the presentation, by the Penn State Players, of their second offering for the present year, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," by George M. Cohan. The production of this modern and popular play is one of the most ambitious attempts by the dramatic society and advance information seems to indicate that the effort will be a big success. Ever since the inception of the organization it has endeavored to provide entertainment of the best and most popular quality to Penn State audiences, and the reputation established in the presentation of "Shanties," "Andros and the Lion," last semester, and various other plays during the year 1919-20 bids fair to be enhanced by tonight's play.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate" may be properly classed as a mystery farce, as it excels in both mysterious and farcical elements. It is replete with moments of intense mystery as well as situations that create great bursts of laughter in the audience. It was one of the big hits in New York and other large cities several years ago, and has been produced in motion pictures. The play has only recently been released for amateur production, and the players are one of the first bodies to use it in amateur work. They have spared no pains to make the entertainment tonight a success in every way. The large cast, which has been carefully rehearsed, has been frequent. An entirely new set of scenery has been arranged for the setting of the play and a special lighting system has been devised to carry out the mysterious element in some portions of the production. Tickets will be on sale at the Auditorium box office this evening before the play commences.

High Schools To Meet Here in May

The second annual intercollegiate basketball tournament for the high school championship of the state will be held at Penn State on April first and second. The tournament will be held at the Pennsylvania Athletic Association and the champions of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Association and the champions of the Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate League or the Pittsburgh City League will enter the meet, making it a tournament of the best foot teams of the state. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners.

MISS JACKSON WILL READ BARRIE'S PLAY

The main feature of the entertainment to be given next Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium under the auspices of the Music Department will be the reading of J. M. Barrie's play, "Alice, sit by the fire," by Miss Ruth E. Jackson. The program will also include a recital by Professor L. S. Rhodes of the Civil Engineering Department.

RE-EXAMINATIONS BEGIN FEBRUARY TWENTY SIXTH

According to regulations, the re-examinations for the first semester will come the last four Saturdays of the first half of the second semester. This means that the re-exams will begin on the twenty-sixth of February and will continue until sometime in March. No student will be permitted to sit for all of the grades are not in and some conflict might occur if a student received another failure at the last moment, as soon as all grades are in the re-exams will be held at the time and place of examinations.

DEAN SACKETT AWAY

Dean Sackett, of the Pennsylvania School of Mechanical Engineering, is now in New York City attending a committee meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

RELAY TEAM PLACES IN MILLROSE EVENT

Accident Prevents Barron From Scoring—Romig Substituted for Helfrich on Relay Team

At the indoor track meet held by the Millrose Athletic Club of New York City last Tuesday night, the Penn State two mile relay team captured second place in that event. The quartet, which was composed of Taylor, Romig, Newcomb and Demming, ran against the teams from Syracuse, Dartmouth, and Columbia. Syracuse finished first, while Penn State, Dartmouth, and Columbia followed in the order named. Romig did not run in the three mile race, being credited with the relay. He did not win points in the seventy yard low and high hurdles.

The relay team that wore the Blue and White last Tuesday night was not the one originally planned. Helfrich did not run, and Romig was substituted for him. Romig's specialty is the longer distances and he was not able to run the half mile distance to the best of his advantage. Demming, the anchor man, ran a beautiful race, recovering a great deal of the distance lost by the first three men, being credited with the remarkable time of one minute and fifty-eight seconds for his half mile.

Buffalo Meets Saturday

In the Junior National Indoor Championship meet, which will be held next Saturday, Penn State will be represented by a medley relay team, composed of Williams, Moore, Demming, and Carter, who will run the 225 yard, 440 yard, half mile and mile distances respectively. It was originally planned to use Edgerton in the half mile period, but he has been entered in the 1,000 yard race, and Edgerton will run the mile in the relay event.

WIZARD ENTERTAINS TOMORROW EVENING

The sixth number on the Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course will be given in the Auditorium with eight o'clock in the evening. The Master Magician as the feature of the evening. The entertainment will be wholly different from those which have been given here previously for it concerns the science commonly known as wizardry. Davis is one of the foremost magicians travelling the country today and because of his ability to hold the audience spellbound at his feats, he has been justly named "the man who mystifies."

WIZARD ENTERTAINS TOMORROW EVENING

The entire performance will be characterized by the novel feats which will be shown to the audience tomorrow night are new and Mr. Davis is positive that they have never been seen before. Strange happenings follow amusing conditions and the background of all is magic. Davis is an artist in this line. His comical method of presenting to the audience the most interesting of marvels, his wit and humor, and the perfected system with which he makes his presentation, places him on a level with the best entertainers of the day. It is commonly said that he has twice as many tricks as any other modern wonder worker and he always has a ready note to present at such performance. Instead of performing a trick with the view of showing one marvel, he so performs it that a threefold result is produced. It is upon such basis that he lays claim to the title that is so frequently associated with his name.

JUNIOR PROM PROMISES TO BE BRILLIANT AFFAIR

From the interest shown by the members of the Junior Class at the meeting held on Tuesday night, it is evident that the Class Prom will be one of the most successful social affairs in the annals of the college. The dance which is the annual social affair of the Junior Class, is to take place on April eighth and will be informal. The majority of the Juniors announced their intentions of attending the affair, and from every standpoint it seems that nothing stands in the way of its success.

DEAN SACKETT AWAY

Dean Sackett, of the Pennsylvania School of Mechanical Engineering, is now in New York City attending a committee meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

BULLETIN

FRIDAY
7:00 p. m.—Forsenic Club, 19 L. A.
8:00 p. m.—Druids, 206 Old Main.
8:15 p. m.—"Seven Keys to Baldpate" by Penn State Players, Auditorium.
2:30 p. m.—Wrestling, Penn State vs. Lehigh, Armory.
SATURDAY
7:00 p. m.—Basketball, Penn State vs. V. P. I., Armory.
8:00 p. m.—Y. M. C. A. Entertainment—Davis and Company "The Man Who Mystifies," Auditorium.
SUNDAY
Both Chapels—Rev. A. R. Mansfield, Supt. Seaman's Church Institute, of New York City.
9:30 a. m.—Two-Year Ag. Students, 11 L. A.
3:30 p. m.—Reading of Barrie's play "Alice Sit by the Fire," by Miss Jackson; organ recital by Prof. L. S. Rhodes, Auditorium.
UNITS
All units which desire to take part in the Inter-Unit Basketball games must turn in the names of the players to Bezdek's office by Saturday. Only the following units have responded so far: 24, 6, 11, 22, 7 and 23.
FRESHMEN
Members of the Freshman class who reported as candidates for the Business Staff of this publication last fall will present themselves at the COLLEGIAN office Saturday afternoon at one-thirty. Any other Freshmen who desire to try out but who have not reported may also come out at this time.
Don't forget the Dorwart Bible Class in Old Chapel, Sunday at ten-thirty o'clock. Come and hear what Bezdek has to say on "Is it worth while to live a clean life?"