

VEGETABLE SURVEY NEARLY COMPLETED

Since last November, from six to ten men have been employed on the first detailed survey ever made of Pennsylvania vegetable growing. This study was undertaken under the joint supervision of the Pennsylvania State College and the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Until the present time no one knew with certainty what the resources of Pennsylvania are with regard to the vegetable crops, nor was there any assurance that the State could be reasonably self-supporting as far as vegetables are concerned. The survey has cleared up some of the uncertainty, by furnishing exact information as to the usefulness of Pennsylvania soils and the adaptability of her climate for vegetable production.

In addition to the members of the vegetable section of the Department of Horticulture, all of whom are graduates of Penn State, a number of other alumni have assisted in the survey. These include John S. Gardner, H. Bechtel, L. D. Mills, Raymond P. Wright, Gilbert Watts, Leonard Smith, Harry Beckus, and J. H. Mendenhall.

PENN WRESTLERS NO MATCH FOR VARSITY

draw, Watson was on top the entire time but was unable to get a fall in the second three minute section, however, Cliff started with the advantage but was speedily overturned and thrown by Watson with a crotch and neck hold. Time, 13 minutes, 45 seconds.

In the 125 pound class, Grant, a Penn regular, faced Garber, Penn State. In the latter's first varsity match of the season The Blue and White veteran took Grant to the mat shortly after the bout began and had the upper hand until the tilt closed. He made use of a crotch and arm hold exclusively in trying to get a fall but Grant's superior height aided him in breaking his opponent's grips.

Time, 8 minutes, 24 seconds. In the 155 pound class it did not take "Tip" Moyer long to throw Rabonowitz, of the visitors. Several minutes elapsed before the Blue and White veteran could get Rabonowitz to the mat, but from then on he had everything his own way, throwing his opponent with an arm and body hold in three minutes and twelve seconds.

The shortest bout of the afternoon was between Sprangler, Penn State, and Close of Penn. Sprangler greatly out-weighted the Quaker and had little trouble handling him. Sprangler took Close off his feet with a head crumery, and then hit him with the same hold almost as soon as the palm struck the mat. The time was fifty-seven seconds, and the bout was almost too fast to follow.

"Fins" McMillon was slated to represent Penn State in the unlimited class, but was forced to stay out of the meet on account of the serious illness of a relative, and Weitzel appeared in his place. He was greatly out-weighted by his opponent, acting Captain Myers, of Penn. However, the Blue and White grappler had a decided favor in reach and height and put up a very good showing. He did not lose the advantage at any time during the bout, and after six minutes and twenty-five seconds of hard fighting, pinned Myers shoulder to the mat, using a head and arm hold.

Final score, Penn State, 33, Penn 0. Referee, Bruce, Lafayette. Timer, Doctor Torrence.

SWARTHMORE DRIBBLERS LOSE FAST CAGE GAME

(Continued from first page) Close Battle in First Half. Very few field goals were made in the first half by either side and the game seemed destined to be a terrific endurance test with a low score ending. Soon after the half opened Benjamin eluded his opponent and neatly plunged the ball through the center of the ring from a considerable distance. The shot was a perfect one and swept the crowd off its feet, but this indication of the Grinnet prowess concluded as soon as it began, the Swarthmore list of tallies, Killinger, not to be outdone, retaliated by socking two pointers through the net and the battle of points was on. Haines then established the Penn State lead by availing two tallies in succession before the clock expired. Wolfe made four out of six in this half, while Benjamin made three out of seven.

Killinger Opens Second Half. In the second half, Killinger broke the scoring ice by one of the most remarkable shots of the evening. He obtained ed the ball in the middle of the floor and immediately assessed the difficult long distance shot. The ball sailed toward the goal and slipped through without disturbing the net. He followed this achievement with a second double-decker, and then Benjamin, the Swarthmore star, made his second and last tally of the game. The rest of the contest was devoted to Nitany scoring, every member of the Blue and White quieted tiding in piling up the final 34 to 11 score.

The line-up was as follows. Penn State: Wilson forward, Kemp Wolfe forward, Replogle center, Benjamin Killinger guard, Yarnall Haines guard, Larkin Field goals Penn State—Wolfe 2, Wilson 2, Replogle 2, Killinger 5, and Haines 3. Swarthmore—Benjamin 2, Foul goals, Wolfe 5 out of 8, Benjamin 7 out of 13. Substitutions, none. Referee: Taggart.

BLUE AND WHITE BOXERS HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

(Continued from first page) In the last meet of the season in which Penn State met the Navy boxers at Annapolis, the latter won by the lightest score of the season, 4 to 3. The meet was probably one of the finest exhibitions of collegiate boxing ever seen in this country, with skill, free hitting and hard punching being in evidence throughout the encounter. It was not until the bout in the heavy-weight class between Madera and Miller of the Navy had been completed that the Middlers were sure of the laurels. The same team that trounced Penn the week before, with the exception of Cooper whose place was filled by Vasilla, entered the Annapolis ring. Kahley, fighting his last bout in an intercollegiate meet, put up a wonderful fight in the 115 pound division but lost at the end of the third round by a referee's decision. Chapin evened things up by defeating Sebald and Vasilla added another point by knocking out Jones, the highly touted middy boxer. Clark was the winner of an easy decision over his man also, but the failure of Atanarish, Beck and Madera to come through with victories resulted in the 4 to 3 defeat.

Kahley, Chapin, Cooper, Atanarish, Clark, Beck and Madera boxed in the meet. Clark was the only man to lose his bout but Sebald, of the Penn aggregation only accomplished this after three rounds of hard fighting at the end of which the decision was awarded by the referee. One knockout in the heavyweight class, two technical knockouts in the 135 and 175 pound divisions, and three judges decisions for the Nitany men filling the berths in the 115, 125 and 145 pound classes give some idea of the decisiveness of the victory.
