ELPS WIN IN POOR GAME

Alumni Game Tomorrow Night Will Close Successful Season for Nittany Tossers

Starting the eastern trip with a half-hearted 20 to 23 defeat at Yale in a poorly played game with Wolfe out of the running on account of sickness, the Blue and White quintet wrecked all the sporting done at the University of Pennsylvania basketball 21 to 19 last Wednesday night at Philadelphia. A more fitting climax of the season could not be desired and the victory was a defeat that night before at the hands of Yale, marks one of the most brilliant feats achieved by any Blue and White five in years. The much-touted McNichol quintet was expected to gain an easy victory over the Nittany aggregation on account of the showing made against the Ell tossers at New Haven on Tuesday night, and the smashing blow dealt to the Red and Blue hopes for intercollegiate championship has completely upset all sporting calculations. The Blue and White five entered the game against Penn with the odds 5 to 1 against them and their memorable victory will be one never to be forgotten.

The first half of the contest resolved itself into a fast duel between McNichol, the Nittany forward, and McNichol, Penn's star guard and captain, both men making the extraordinary recording 8 out of 8 and McNichol tossing 10 out of 10. Only one field goal for each team was allowed on account of the almost perfect guarding of the two fives. At the end of the first half with Penn on the long end Haines was the lone Penn State player to slip through the Red and Blue defense while Graves alone broke the stride of Nittany defense men. In this half, the score was nip and tuck and the two teams were led in many occasions although Penn led in the close of the half.

WOMEN STUDENTS HEAR VOCATIONAL SPEAKERS

The past Monday and Tuesday were busy days of consultation and inspiration for the women of Penn State during the sessions of the recent Vocational Guidance Conference held in the Foyer of the Auditorium. Noted speakers from colleges and universities individually Dean Margaret Knight and the Vocational Guidance Committee were unflinching in their activity in arranging for the conference and in stimulating interest in the event.

FATHER'S DAY PROPOSED AS NEW COLLEGE EVENT

Student Council Institutes New Custom at Penn State—Will Be Held April Thirtieth

Penn State will inaugurate a new annual event on April 30, when celebrates the new proposed Fathers Day. The proposal was made at the last meeting of Student Council to set apart one day when the fathers of all the students in the college are invited to Penn State and be entertained by their sons. This occasion will be made a gala affair and will extend over the entire week-end. There will be the baseball game with Carnegie Tech on Saturday afternoon and other athletic contests may be arranged. Smokers at the various fraternities and boarding houses will be the order of the day, and every opportunity will be given for the fathers to get a close view of student life. The aim of the affair is to bring the parents of the men into closer sympathy with their sons' college life, and give them a real idea of life at Penn State. A committee composed of the following men, R. R. Burtner '22, P. H. Leuschner '21, and H. G. Hoehler '24, was appointed by Student Council to make arrangements for Fathers' Day.

NORMAL PASSERS WILL MEET FROSH TUESDAY

Yearling Quintet to Clash With Indiana Cagemen in Return Contest—Anxious for Revenge

Indiana Normal's fast quintet still meet the Penn State Freshmen in a return contest next Tuesday evening in the Armory, having nosed out the Blue and White tossers over Monday night. The latter were making their western trip. The return game was originally scheduled for this evening, but a change in the schedule of the normal aggregation necessitated the postponing of the contest to Tuesday.

BELOW GRADES TO BE ISSUED ONLY ONCE DURING SEMESTER

The general faculty of the college at a recent meeting voted to reduce the number of below grades issued each semester from three to one, and those of this semester will be due on the fourth of April. It was the sentiment of the meeting that the responsibility for keeping a student informed as to his class standing should rest primarily with the instructor. Lately students have placed too great dependence on the reports of the faculty feeling oftentimes that if no below grades were reported against them during the semester they could not be failing for the semester.

"Y" CONFERENCE BEGINS TONIGHT

Four Groups of Students to Study Need of Workers for Christianization of Foreign Lands

The Y. M. C. A. conference for the study of the needs of the Christian vocation opens tonight with an illustrated lecture by Reverend James H. Lewis, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the Auditorium at seven o'clock. His talk, which will be illustrated with stereoscopic views, will deal with the need of foreign lands for the helping hand of Christian America, and their demands upon the college graduates of this country for guidance.

On tomorrow evening from seven to eight o'clock conference on subordinate aspects of the four main topics will be held in the Liberal Arts Building. Representatives of the national church organizations will lead the various groups, and they will also be available for personal interviews by those interested in any kind of missionary or other religious work either here or abroad.

LACROSSE CANDIDATES BEGIN EARLY TRAINING

In preparation for the regular practice period the lacrosse men are meeting at the Armory daily at four-thirty o'clock and engaging in cross country running in order to further the new policy which has been adopted as condition them for the season's work. This is an effective way to prepare for the scheduled games and it is probable that they will be in better shape before the Easter vacation. "Doc" Lewis will again coach the team and he is anxious to have as many new men out for the team as possible, especially those who have heretofore played on other teams. There are three existing vacancies left from last year and it is advisable that the varsity candidates should get out and engage in the cross country work which will in turn fit them for the strenuous practice which will begin immediately after the Easter vacation.

DIAMOND MEN HOLD OUTDOOR PRACTICE

Coach Bedzek Staged First Real Workout Last Wednesday—Promising Material Reports

If Jupiter Pityus condescends to call a halt to his activities and weather such as was enjoyed yesterday continues, baseball practice at Penn State will soon be in full swing. Battery men have been practicing for some time in the Stock Pavilion but it was not until last Wednesday that weather conditions were such to warrant outdoor workouts. A general call for candidates has also been made and the number of men who have reported for practice has been quite gratifying.

With the kind of weather that prevailed here yesterday, this task should become much easier for the veteran diamond men. For the first time this season "Baz" had two teams take the field yesterday and play a practice game. The men composing each of the teams showed considerable ability for so early in the season so that with more of these workouts there is little doubt but that Penn State's prospects on the diamond will be indeed sunny for the coming season.

Two industrial motion picture films, each 16 reels in length, dealing with the construction of automotive vehicle chassis will be shown at the Pastime Theatre next Monday afternoon at one twenty o'clock, through the courtesy of the Messrs. Buick. These pictures will count as part of the work in Machine Design 60 and are being exhibited by the Department of Mechanical Engineering, which has been selected by the Clark Equipment Company, of Chicago, manufacturer of Clark truck axles and wheels. One film is entitled "The Plant of Accuracy," which the other is called "What is a Wheel?" The pictures should be of special interest to Senior and Junior students in Engineering, but the performance will be free, and all are invited to attend.

WRESTLERS FACE CRUCIAL TEST AT NAVY TOMORROW

Blue and White Grapplers in Good Condition for Fifth and Hardest Contest of Season

BOTH TEAMS UNDEFEATED

Bout in 135 Pound Class Between Captains Dettar and Swigert Will Feature Meet

The long heralded and anxiously awaited wrestling meet between the teams of Penn State and the United States Naval Academy will take place tomorrow afternoon at Annapolis. The meet will be the crucial test of the Blue and White grapplers this season, with the possible exception of the Intercollegiate, and which team will win has yet a matter of conjecture. Both teams are keyed up to an unusually high pitch of rivalry, and the victory will be a hard earned one for the visiting aggregation. So far each institution has met four opponents, and each has won by large scores in every instance, indicating that the teams that meet tomorrow will be very evenly matched, and the contest between the extreme Penn State will go to Annapolis with an intense desire for revenge for the many defeats suffered on the mountain at the hands of the midshipmen, while the latter will put forth every effort to keep their grappling white clean. The Blue and White team will leave State College this afternoon, and every member will depart from here in good condition for the test that faces him tomorrow.

The Naval Academy has produced strong wrestling teams for a number of years and regardless of the strength of the Blue and White teams, Penn State has seldom been able to scuttle the grappling ship of the midshipmen, though the scores have usually been very close. Last year this was especially true, when the Navy administered the only defeat to the Nittany mat men by the score of 14 to 15. The meet up to the beginning of the heavyweight bout had resulted in a one point margin in favor of Penn State, and it was only the loss of the final bout that kept victory from the Blue and White wrestlers. The meet this year promises to be just as keenly contested. Penn State has one of the strongest teams in the country, and in the majority of our big cities. He is an educated Christian worker, a graduate of the Southern University, and head of the "Denominational Evangelical Association" an organization with headquarters at Winona Lake, Indiana.

Continuing his campaign here until the twentieth of March, Mr. Jones hopes to be able to reach a Penn State student through his meetings. One of the main purposes of his work is to reach and influence young men and young women. The evangelist will address both Chapels during his meeting in an effort to reach the big majority of students who have not attended his chapel services. Apart from this, however, he desires to see the influence of the Christian religion spread in the town and men, in a "Men Only" Meeting to be held in the Auditorium, at three-thirty o'clock, Sunday afternoon. The subject of the meeting will be "Can't Get Away With It," and the speaker is desirous of having a large attendance of men.

DEBATERS WILL MEET CAPITOL TEAM SOON

Dual Contest With George Washington University Will Take Place During Easter Vacation

The next debate on the schedule of the Blue and White team will take place on March twenty-fifth, when three members of the squad will appear against the present team of George Washington University in a dual debate in the Capitol City. The question will be, "Resolved, That Labor Should Share in the Management of the Government of Washington, D. C." The affirmative side will uphold the proposition, it having been the subject of most of the intercollegiate debates on last year's schedule. Those who will compose the team from this institution are E. E. Overholser '22, K. D. Hart '21, and G. D. Stoddard '21.

DR. SPARKS TO RETURN AFTER LECTURE TOUR

According to reports that have been received here recently, ex-"Prairie" and Mrs. Sparks contemplate returning to State College from their lecture tour of the first of April. They have been sojourning in Florida during the past few months, and will be at the Groveland Inn, Haines City, Florida, until the twentieth of this month. Doctor Sparks will be active during the remainder of his winter trip, visiting a number of southern colleges, where he will deliver lectures, usually before Phi Kappa Phi. On February twenty-second, he delivered the principal address at the inauguration of Doctor Spright as president of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, at Auburn. Next Thursday, he will address the chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, of the University of Tennessee, and during the remainder of his tour, he will speak before other chapters of the same fraternity in middle western institutions. His subject will have to do with the encouragement of scholarship.

EVANGELIST JONES TO ADDRESS BOTH CHAPELS

Religious Worker Conducting Services in State College Will Speak Before Students Sunday

Both chapel services next Sunday morning will be the occasion of sermons by "Bob" Jones, the evangelist, who is at present time conducting a religious campaign in the town. Much interest has been aroused among townsmen, and students by the arrival here, on March sixth, of this well known spiritual worker. Brought here by an association of churches, he has made his influence felt throughout the community, as is witnessed by the numerous meetings, held and the large attendance always present. The evangelist has made his headquarters at the Methodist Church in this town. So far each institution has met four opponents, and each has won by large scores in every instance, indicating that the teams that meet tomorrow will be very evenly matched, and the contest between the extreme Penn State will go to Annapolis with an intense desire for revenge for the many defeats suffered on the mountain at the hands of the midshipmen, while the latter will put forth every effort to keep their grappling white clean. The Blue and White team will leave State College this afternoon, and every member will depart from here in good condition for the test that faces him tomorrow.

Barron Will Meet Thompson Tonight

Penn State Practically Closed Her Indoor Track Season Last Saturday Evening with the Annual Indoor Meet of the New York Athletic Club in the 22nd Regiment Armory at New York, and Coach Martin and his proteges are being urged forward to the difficult outdoor schedule that has been arranged by Manager I. W. Sel '21.

Although the track team, a whole Barron has been invited to compete in a meet at New York City tonight that is to be held under the auspices of the Second Legion. Barron is entered in the seventy-yard high hurdles and will race against his Olympic rival, Earl Thompson. A great deal of interest will center around this event as the Penn State hurdler is anxious to defeat Thompson and would probably have done so in the New York City meet had he not long ago had he not tripped over a hurdle when leading the field. Tonight's meet will mark the third meeting between the two stars. Penn State was invited to send a two-mile relay team to the meet to compete with Syracuse and Columbia in a special race, but Coach Martin decided to give his runners a well-earned rest.

WAR VETERAN TO BE HONORED AT SMOKER TOMORROW NIGHT

A smoker will be given at the Phi Epsilon Pi House tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in honor of Mr. Herman Kline who speaks to the Menorah Society not long ago on "The Jew's Part in the World War." Mr. Kline was connected with the Intelligence Department of General Pershing's staff in the late war and is familiar with the work done by the Hebrew race in every army that took part in the struggle. All Jewish students are invited to attend the smoker.

HISTORIAN TO ADDRESS FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Dr. W. D. Dodd, Professor of American History at the University of Chicago, will speak to the faculty and students in the Old Chapel this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock and tomorrow evening will address the faculty of the University Club at eight o'clock. He is recognized as the greatest authority in the country on southern history and has written a large number of books on this subject and on the lives of famous Americans. He will speak at this institution, Dr. Dodd will speak on historical subjects that will be of genuine interest to everyone. All State students are invited to attend the lecture this afternoon.
