

SOUTHERN BALL TRIP NETS SIX VICTORIES

The first inning was three straight outs for the Blue and White. In the second period, Koehler, Miller and Brumbaugh got to the first sack and when the inning ended two runs had been scored and two men had been left on bases. Lightner, in the third inning got a base on balls and stole second but three straight outs followed and prevented any scoring.

The fourth inning was one of the big ones of the contest. Five runs were scored, Meakle, Korb, Ullery and Brumbaugh each hitting the pill for one bagger. The next period was scoreless but the one base hit of Denck's scored Lightner in the next inning. The seventh was a repetition of the fifth, no runs being scored.

The eighth and ninth periods witnessed a big rally for Penn State. Meakle, Korb, Ullery and Koehler made one bagger, Joe Lightner connected with the ball for an extra base and when the team took the field at the end of the inning, four runs had been made. The ninth was even bigger than the eighth, six runs being netted. "Hinkie" Haines led on the horsehide for a homer in this period while Ullery made a three bagger, Brumbaugh a two bagger and Meakle a single.

Final score—Penn State 18, W. & L. 9. Navy Gets Trounced Penn State's old rival, the Naval Academy, went down in defeat before the Nittany stockmills on Friday, losing 4 to 1. The contest was undoubtedly won by the superior knowledge that Bezdels' men had of the great national game but the victory was also due in a large part to the way in which the team pulled together. Mellinger pitched a fine game in this contest.

In the first inning, Ullery and Haines started things off in good shape when they each pulled down one bagger, thus advancing Korb to third base who later crossed the home plate on a wild pitch. Two tallies were made by Koehler and Mellinger in the second period while Korb went to second and Meakle on third at the end of the inning. Captain Haines was hit by a pitched ball in the third inning and stole to the second sack but after that the Navy twirler lightened down and struck the next three men out who came to bat.

In the seventh inning Korb fled to right field. Lightner connected for a two bagger and was knocked home by Haines' single. The eighth saw three Nittany men come to bat and he struck out the Navy twirler. In the ninth inning, Meakle and Korb were put out on grounders. Lightner was walked and was advanced to the second sack on the hit of Ullery's. Both of these men were advanced on other base batters of a wild pitch and when Hinkie Haines got a base on balls, the sacks were full. Hare was put in by "Bee" as a pinch hitter but he failed to connect for a clean swat, the foul being caught by the first baseman.

The star pitching of Fleming of the Navy was worthy of note inasmuch as he had stolen sacks on two of his credit when the game ended. Final score—Penn State, Navy 1. Georgetown Completes Trip What was probably one of the smoothest running games of the entire trip was the one with Georgetown last Saturday. It was also one of the best played on the invasion, the pitching of Thomas being exceptionally good. Georgetown did not score a single run in this final contest while the varsity was able to pile up four tallies. The Nittany steam roller got up full steam in the first period when Ullery's two bagger scored Meakle who had gotten on the first sack by a single. Ullery stole home for the second and last score of the period. The second inning ended with the sacks full and no score. Three straight outs completed the third period. Koehler held on the ball for a trip to second base and was brought to the home plate by Thomas' single, in the fourth. The fifth inning passed without any score being made. The only run in the sixth was made by Meakle who reached first base by an error, stole second and was brought home by Korb's single. The three final periods witnessed no more scoring for the Blue and White machine. Score—Penn State 4, Georgetown 0.

GRAPPLERS CAPTURE WESTERN CONTESTS

(Continued from first page) sulted in a draw after one of the most thrilling matches ever witnessed at Indiana. Both men had the advantage off and on and fought hard every minute. They were evenly matched and neither had gained a decided advantage over the other when time was called. In the second bout, neither man was taken off his feet by the other, and the second draw was declared. In the third bout, however, Spangler broke out of a seissors hold which Mundy had attained, and remained on top for rest of the bout, earning the decision for Penn State. In the unlimited class, McElahan outweighed his opponent considerably and threw Held after the first bout; had progressed about four minutes. He won the second bout with a decision and the match went to the big Indian.

Iowa Meet Closed Season

Penn State laid its final claim to the national championship by defeating Iowa on last Friday night by a score of 28 to 18, winning four bouts out of the seven. Captain Datar and Mowrer registered falls over their opponents while Watson and Garber emerged with decisions. Rumberger, Spangler and McElahan were defeated in decision matches. The meet was one of the closest ever held at Ames and the crowd that packed the gymnasium did not leave until late in the evening. One of the features of the meet was the fact that no match lasted less than three periods before it was decided, while three out of the seven matches went into extra periods.

In the 115 pound class, the first three bouts resulted in draws, which necessitated an extra period to determine the winner. The opposing grapplers were Watson and Dickerson. In the first three minutes of the extra period, Watson gained considerable ground, which he was able to maintain until the time was up, giving him the match on decision. In the 125 pound class, Garber and Lomelski mixed it up thickly during the first period, neither gaining the advantage. In the second frame, the grapplers did not leave their feet, while in third period Garber gained a time advantage of four and a half minutes, winning the match on decision. The 135 pound class, in which Datar opposed Brown, of Iowa went for three draw bouts and the match went into extra periods. Datar winning on a fall in the first thirty-three seconds of the first extra frame with a body and chancery hold. In the 145 pound class, Shupard gained a decision over Rumberger in the first extra minute period, which was followed by two draw bouts, Rumberger not being able to gain the advantage. Mowrer got a body chancery on the 158 pound class which was a repetition of the 235 extra period in that it went into extra periods after three draw periods. In the first extra period however, Mowrer and threw him in one minute and fifty-four seconds. Spangler met an exceptionally strong grappler in Barker in the 175 pound class. In the first period the latter gained a decision over the Blue and White wrestler and the second and third periods resulted in draws, giving the match to the westerner. In the heavyweight class, McElahan suffered defeat at the hands of Wallace. The first bout was hotly contested but resulted in a draw. In the second and third periods, however, Wallace showed his superiority by winning two decisions. The final score was, Penn State 28, Iowa State, 18.

HON. P. P. CLAXTON LECTURES TONIGHT

(Continued from first page) of today. This meeting is not confined however to upperclassmen, and it is hoped that a large number of the faculty and first year men will attend to hear such a prominent man. The subject of vocational guidance has come to the fore with increasing force in recent time, and it is the trend of public opinion the faculty of this institution has energetically endeavored to present to the student body the best thought on vocational guidance. Many college men give too little thought to their future until faced by the approach of graduation, and then find that they are not fitted to pursue the profession for which they spent four years of study. Dr. Claxton is one of the foremost educators in the world and his official position puts him in a position to give some authoritative facts in his lectures tonight and tomorrow morning, so that every Penn State student will do well to hear him. This is the first time that Dr. Claxton has honored Penn State with his presence.

On account of the extension of the chapel period tomorrow morning to accommodate this lecture, the first hour classes will not be held.

SOUTHERN COLLEGES LOSE TO TRACKMEN

and Demming started for the Blue and White, winning the mile run, broad jump and quarter mile. Demming ran the quarter mile in the fast time of fifty seconds flat, breaking the record for both institutions. The former Penn State record was fifty and two-fifths seconds for the distance, established by W. H. Mason '16. Beck was the highest point winner for the Nittany squad, starting in the various field events and running up ten points to his credit. Newcomer won a brilliantly run 300 yard race, while 'Tee' tied for first place with Byrd in the pole vault. Barron and Hile had no difficulty in capturing the hurdle events. For the southern institution, where Ben Cubbage is coaching track, the stars of the meet were, Brittingham, one of the best sprinters in track circles; Woodward, another short distance man who promises to develop into a star; Byrd, who was high point winner for V. P. L., showing up well in the field events; and Carpenter, who threw the javelin 155 feet, 6 inches. The tabulated results of the meet follow:

100 yard dash: Brittingham (Tech), Woodward (Tech), Hile (Penn State); time, 10 seconds. Southern Champions Strong Last Wednesday afternoon, the second meet of the trip with the University of Virginia was held at Charlottesville, under unfavorable weather conditions, there being a strong wind and cold atmosphere. The day was ill suited to the breaking of records but the meet was an interesting one nevertheless. For several years the southern institution has held the championship in its district and track is one of the most popular major sports, the squad of candidates consisting of several hundred men, under the direction of Coach Lennigan, head of the athletic department of the college. In this meet, Penn State was weak in the high jump, javelin throw, and sprint events, while the Virginians did not show up well in the distance events, hurdles, broad jump, and weight events. Hile was high point winner for the Blue and White, with twelve markers to his credit, the result of four second places in the dashes and hurdles. Romig won first place in the two mile run, while Carter and Cooper both showed up well in their events. The most thrilling race of the afternoon was the quarter mile, in which Demming had an exciting struggle with the Baker brothers and which he finally lost by an almost imperceptible margin after having made a brilliant exhibition of ground gaining at the finish. The results follow: 100 yard dash: Seward (Va.), Hile (Penn State), Swinford (Va.); time, 10.4 seconds. 120 yard high hurdles: Barron (Penn State), Hile (Penn State), Round (Va.); time, 15.1 seconds. One mile run: Carter (Penn State), Cooper (Penn State), Romig (Penn State); time, 4 minutes, 33 seconds. 440 yard run: M. R. Baker (Va.),

(Va.) tied for first place, 10.4 seconds; height, 11 feet, 3-4 inch. 220-yard dash: S. M. Baker (Va.), Hile (Penn State), Grimes (Penn State); time, 23 seconds. 880 yard run: Newcomer (Penn State), Demming (Penn State), Bonannon (Va.); time, 2 minutes, 2.2 seconds. Javelin throw: Gleaves' (Va.), Archer (Va.), Newman (Va.); distance, 140 feet, 8 1/2 inches.
