Information of Interest to Golfers Will Appear Under This Heading

If Penn State students continue to take an interest in golf as they have done up to the present time, the links game will have a great future at the Nittany institution, according to predictions made by Director of Athletics, Hugo Bezdek.

General instruction in golf by Mr. Rutherford is entirely free to students. He has been connected with the Nittany Britain, Connecticut, Club for twenty years and is well qualified to teach others how to play the game.

Sometime in the future Penn State will be represented by a golf team. This can only be accomplished if there is a proper interest in the game and also that they really wish to be represented in collegiate circles in this sport.

From now on, players must obey the local rules if they wish to be allowed to engage in contests on the Nittany links. Score cards have been printed by the Department of Physical Education and may be obtained at the Army.
