

TRACK EVENTS FEATURE MAY DAY SPORTS CARD

Colgate University and Penn State Cinder Men to Strive For Honors in Dual Contest

SCHOLASTIC TEAMS TO STAGE ANNUAL CLASH

New Beaver Field will prove itself to be a mecca for high school track athletes all day tomorrow, when over two hundred and twenty wearers of the thin clads, representing high and preparatory schools from all parts of the commonwealth meet to decide the championship. The interscholastic track and field meet has been an annual affair at Penn State for many years, tomorrow marking the twentieth anniversary of its inception. The twelfth milestone that has been passed. This year the races will be contested by a greater number of athletes than has ever appeared at the interscholastic at any previous time. Eighteen schools are sending their representatives, the total number of athletes numbering over two hundred and twenty. In addition to these a number of athletes managers, coaches and friends of the various contesting teams will be here to see the meet.

Classes will end after the second hour Saturday morning. In order that students and faculty may attend the meet, which will begin promptly at ten o'clock. This early dismissal of classes was secured through the efforts of the Student Council which recently petitioned the Council of Administration to have May fourteenth declared a holiday. In the morning, the trials and semi-finals in the dashes and hurdles will be run and at the same time the finals in the field events will be staged. The track events which will take place in the morning are the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the 120 yard high hurdles, the 220 yard low hurdles and the 440 yard dash. At the same time the following field events will be staged, putting the 12 pound shot, throwing the 12 pound hammer, throwing the javelin, the 220 yard high jump, the running broad jump and throwing the javelin. These events will conclude the program for the morning and the meet will be renewed promptly at two o'clock. At noon, when finals in the various track events will be run. These races will end in the following order, 100 yard dash, 120 yard low hurdles, 220 yard dash, two mile run, 220 yard low hurdles.

Tomorrow's varsity track meet with Colgate promises to rival the recent thrilling meet with Harvard from a point of interest and closeness of score. Up to the present time little has been heard in this locality concerning the Maroon team, and it is therefore impossible to judge the calibre of the visitors with any amount of exactitude. Coach Martin, however, is taking no chances and is running his best men against those from the New York institution. Colgate is represented by a stronger team on the track this year than for many years in the past. Their men are exceptionally strong in the dashes, broad jump and all the field events. In the one mile relay race which was run at the annual track carnival at the University of Pennsylvania several weeks ago, the Maroon team finished second to a very fast team from Cornell College (Iowa). The only other contest in which Colgate has taken part this year occurred last Saturday when the University of Syracuse and Pittsburgh in a triangular meet held at the home of the Orangemen. This meet was won by Syracuse, Pitt finished second and Colgate coming in third, the score being 56, 33, and 27 respectively.

The strength of the visitors must therefore be very great, for in last Saturday's meet the Colgate runners met two of the best track teams in the country and gave both of them a hard battle despite the fact that they finished third. Their strength is shown by the fact that four firsts were secured by the men from the Maroon institution. Monroe was first in the high jump, Volgaescu secured first in the discus, Lawrence first in the high hurdles and Watson first in the broad jump. Patterson is the present holder of the Junior American 100 Yard Dash Championship and is also a first man in the 220 and very good in the weights. Had he taken part in the recent triangular meet, Pitt would undoubtedly have won much more easily in order to come in second. It is uncertain whether Patterson will compete in tomorrow's games, but should he do so, Penn State will have to put up a hard fight in order to win the dash in which he appears. Big "Bill" Ullery, who has gone on the trip with the baseball team, will not be back to run against Patterson in the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes.

Colgate has two very good men in the half mile, Captain Van Bree and Robertson. Robertson is the holder of the Colgate record in the half mile. Van Bree, in addition to running the half mile will also appear in the quarter mile. Both of these men are slowly rounding into their old form and Coach J. F. Rourke, of the Colgate team, expects these two men to give Captain John Denning and his team mates a lively chase. Colgate also has another very good man, Virtuo, who runs in the quarter and 220 yard dash. This makes his third year on the Colgate team and he has been rapidly developing into one of the fastest short distance men on the Maroon and White team. Volgaescu and Brice will appear in the weight events.

The Penn State entries in tomorrow's meet will be practically the same as those who appeared on the Harvard program. Ullery and Haines will not appear in the events as they are out of town with the baseball team. An additional event will take place that of throwing the discus, and in it Penn State will be represented by Jones, Beck, Darnell and McManon.

FRESHMEN WILL NOMINATE OFFICERS AT NEXT MEETING

The Freshman Class will meet next Monday night in the Bull Pen at 7 o'clock, when the nomination of officers for next year will take place. Besides electing a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, the class will elect a member to Student Council. A committee will be appointed to take charge of the elections, which will have full charge of the ballots cast and will distribute printed ballots for the election.

The election of officers will probably take place on the twenty-sixth of this month. This date has not definitely been decided upon as yet but will be announced later. The fifty officers will be elected should urge every member of the class of '24 to attend this meeting.

The muck lands of Pymatuning Swamp in Crawford county is being used largely for the cultivation of onions, cabbage, and root crops. Asparagus was found most in the Morrisville section of Bucks county.

The value of such a survey as this can easily be seen. It is through these surveys that the amount of land under cultivation is determined and it is also by these surveys that the farmer can find out whether he is getting the maximum value out of his ground.

SOUTH AMERICA TO BE SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Instructor in Spanish Department Will Talk on His Adventures in Latin American Countries

South America, with its varied types of inhabitants, customs, modes of living, geographic and many other features, will be the general theme upon which Mr. Willis K. Jones, an instructor in the Spanish Department, will lecture tonight at seven o'clock in the Old Chapel. Mr. Jones is well qualified to speak upon the subject which he has chosen, as he recently spent three years as an instructor, student and newspaper reporter in South American Countries. The subject will be illustrated with sixty lantern slides, and while on many interesting trips thru Latin American lands Mr. Jones has given his talk the title, "A Frog's Eye View of South America," because of his choice of the subject which he has drawn from any one country or locality, but will be taken from all points of South America and the impression left is expected to be somewhat similar to that which would be received by hopping about the continent from one end to the other.

The object of the lecture is to give those who are interested a general idea of what South America is like, the various types of inhabitants and, in addition to that, to present some facts that the average student has not thought about. While teaching on the southern continent, Mr. Jones spent all his vacations traveling and in so doing visited every country in South America with the exception of Colombia, Venezuela and the Guianas. During the time which he spent as a government school inspector he also as a reporter on Bolivian and Chilean newspapers, he had many opportunities to become thoroughly acquainted with these countries and the habits and customs of their people.

THESEPIANS REHEARSING DAILY FOR JUNE PLAY

Many Impressive Scenes Included in Pomponius I—Burlesque on Uncle Tom's Cabin to be Given

Pomponius I, the feature show to be given by the thespians will be rehearsed by the public on Monday night, June thirteen, at the Auditorium. The cast has been practicing strenuously for the past week and they have rehearsed the play on the stage of the Auditorium until the date of the show.

Pomponius I is a musical comedy written by B. W. Knapp '21 and Prof. C. L. Harris. The scenes are laid in Jacteca, Mexico, in the fall of 1492. Act I is laid in a court room and the second act is laid in the Temple of the Sun and the final act is laid in the Temple of the Sun. The time of the first act is Saturday, the second the following Monday and the third scene of the third act is set for Sunday, the following Monday.

The part of Pomponius I is taken by B. N. Knapp '21 and D. V. Bauder '24 takes the part of Queen Frensis. F. B. Roelke '21 portrays the part of Columbus.

The first scene opens in the audience chamber in the absence of King Pomponius. The Queen is sitting in her throne at the rear of the stage. The court is in attendance and in the opening chorus they show their displeasure with the manner in which the Queen is ruling. A messenger announces the return of the King and all rush forth to greet him. After the King has been greeted by the court, Columbus will discover America on the following day for the first time. The King prepares a festival in the honor of Columbus. The entertainment consists of several travesty acts, one of which is "Uncle Thomas' Cabin." The scene closes with the dancing girls reappearing in the court after their banishment by the Queen.

SENIORS DISCUSS FUND AT MEETING

Graduating Class Will Decide the Form of Endowment at First Reunion in 1925

DRIVE CLOSSES THIS WEEK

Sales Committee Making Final Canvass—Prospects Brighter as Campaign Ends

Prospects are looking brighter for the Senior Endowment Fund campaign since the 1921 class meeting last Tuesday evening when the members of the graduating class endorsed the drive and pledged their support. A grand finale is now being made by the sales committee to make the campaign successful and to make the percentage of subscribers from the class as high as possible.

The Seniors will not decide to what use their money is to be put until five years from now at their first class reunion. At that time the needs of the college will be considered and the fund will be devoted to some worthy purpose. Should a very large amount be needed by the Blue and White school, then the funds of the 1920 class may be combined with that of this year's graduating class along with endowments from the following classes. In this way an imposing and more valuable memorial from a group of classes could be given to Penn State.

Five years from now, the endowment fund will also be larger from the yearly payments which have been made on the individual policies and from the interest that has accrued on them. At that time, more money can be borrowed on the sum and, as a result, whatever the 1921 class should decide to give to the Nittany institution will be much better and more valuable. At the meeting the class voted to place the executive committee in charge of the fund and it is definitely decided how the money shall be used.

Final Round-up Now On

The large sales force is endeavoring to make a final drive so that every senior who has been seen and will have an opportunity to see him or her. F. Hazelwood, who is chairman of the committee, has announced that if any member of the class has been missed by the canvass, and wishes to subscribe, he should see him or her.

When the examining physician arrives at State College on Monday, the 14th, he will have a long day. All members of the class who have taken out the endowment policies will at that time be scheduled for an examination which will probably be held at the Armory.

DR. SPARKS TO ADDRESS FRESHMAN BIBLE CLASS

The Dorwart Bible Class for the Class of 1924 will end its meetings for the year next Sunday when Dr. E. B. Sparks, the founder of the class, will speak to the Freshmen. The program will also include several other speakers. The Freshman Bible Class for this year has been the largest that Penn State has ever had, judging from present indications, the class for the Freshmen next year will be even larger and better than the present one.

INTER-CLASS LACROSSE SERIES BEGINS SOON

Coach Lewis announces that for the next two weeks there will be a series of inter-class lacrosse games. F. H. Leuschner '21 will be in charge of the series, and it is "Doc" Lewis' plan to let the varsity stick-wielders coach the class teams and teach them some of the fine points of the game. This will continue for about ten days, after which the varsity will begin to train for the Toronto game.

TELEGRAPHIC RETURNS

Captain Haines' lusty drive in the tenth inning against Princeton on Wednesday gave the Blue and White diamond men a 6 to 5 victory over the Tiger nine in the first game of the eastern trip. A wonderful running catch by "Doc" Lightner in the ninth inning saved the Nittany nine from defeat at the time, the score then being 3 to 3, but the Princetonians secured two more tallies in the tenth and it remained for "Hinky" to push the winning runs across for Penn State. Molinger pitched good ball for nine innings but was taken out in the tenth by Thomas, who fanned three batters, after hitting one man and walking another.

The varsity baseball team plays Yale at New Haven today and then moves on to meet Lehigh at Bethlehem tomorrow. Telegrams from the Nittany team will be received at the Collegian office and will be posted in the window as soon as possible.

YEARLING DIAMOND MEN WILL FACE BELLEFONTE

Academy Team Defeated Panther Cubs by 2-1—Freshmen Have Shown Little Improvement

With a record of three straight defeats and no victories to their credit, the Freshman diamond men will make a desperate attempt to overcome the Panther Cubs tomorrow afternoon at the expense of Bellefonte. Academy, the game being scheduled to take place on New Beaver field at four o'clock. The Bellefonte nine was originally slated to play here on April twenty-third but wet weather at that time prevented the clash and it was moved forward to tomorrow. A return contest will be played at the college seat next Saturday.

Judging by the work of the yearling players the last two weeks and their failure to show any improvement over the poor baseball played in the Baltimore Polytech game, it would seem that the Academy should be able to pull through with a victory tomorrow since it is a fairly strong aggregation and has defeated the Pitt Freshmen 2 to 1. Last week the Panther Cubs spent one of many overruns on the Nittany Freshmen in a thirteen inning contest and their setback by the Bellefonte team thus darkens the chances of the Blue and White Freshmen against the same outfit. The Bellefonte batsmen also nosed out the Penn State varsity second team three or four weeks ago by the score of 5 to 4 and walloped Dickinson College, 12 to 5, in a game at State and Wyoming Seminary, however, managed to turn the tables on them. The Bellefonte nine meets Wyoming Seminary again today so that the outcome of the game may greatly affect tomorrow's contest.

Five Veterans On Academy Team

Bellefonte was fortunate enough this year to have five men back from last season's team and the baseball mentor was able to meet the same around these players. Captain Parsnall, who is doing stellar work behind the bat, has played with the Academy baseball team for the past three years and is returning to the team as a veteran. Staffen, although not a veteran, is pitching excellent ball and has held the majority of opposing batters at bay. He may be called upon to pitch against both Wyoming Seminary and the Nittany first-year men this week end. Besides Parsnall, Fratzenheim, Rigby, Hilliard, and C. Fleming are the other old members of the team and hold down the positions well. Hillard covers first base in good style while Rigby appears at third. C. Fleming usually guards right field. The other players are new to the team. Brice, who has made a strong bid for the garden area, Irwin, Foreman, and Webb at second, short and left field respectively, round out the Bellefonte line-up. The Academy team this year is much better than in former seasons although it often runs in streaks, and the teamwork as a whole is a decided improvement over that of last year. ## GRADUATES ACTIVE ON JUNE PROGRAM

Saturday, June Eleventh is Day Set for Alumni Stunts for Commencement Week

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

Track Events, Baseball Game, Reception and Important Business Meeting Scheduled

Crowds of Penn State alumni and friends will flock to State College for the Commencement Week at Penn State this year, according to all indications that speak for the biggest and best June program in the history of the institution. From Friday, June tenth, when the Freshman stunts start the program until the following Tuesday evening when the reception to college guests brings the activities to a close, something will be afoot in the form of athletic events to executive meetings. The old Penn State graduates will feature largely in the affair and many have already decided to come, either singly or with the entire families.

Alumni Day, which has been set for Saturday this year, is going to be crowded with events that promise to attract many visitors for the week end. In fact, the alumni have so much to do that they have been forced to schedule an important meeting for Friday evening, so that they will not be kept from the fun on the following day.

Immediately after the Freshman stunts, Friday evening, the Penn State Players will present "A Thousand Year Ago" in the Open Air Theatre. The alumni meeting which occurs a little later is that of the Alumni Council. This is the second time that this body has come together. Although authorized in 1917, owing to war conditions, this organization met for the first time last January when important business was transacted and the organization bettered. The June meeting will accomplish much in gaining more efficient methods of working and in securing a more unified action among the alumni.

Band Concert Starts Big Day

The class of 1916 which holds its first five year reunion in June expects to start Alumni Day right by awakening the rest of the town Saturday morning with their own noise and assisted by the band. This ever popular musical organization will then continue its work by staging a concert at nine o'clock.

DRAMATIC DIRECTOR TO EXPLAIN PLAY STAGING

Arthur C. Cloefing to Address Normal School Students on the Production of Plays

On Friday evening, May thirteenth, Mr. Arthur C. Cloefing, of the Department of English, will deliver a lecture at Bloomsburg on "How to Stage 'The Community'." The problem is one which is confronting the people today and Mr. Cloefing is pointing to the drama as a logical solution for it. He is turning along with him a portable stage which he will erect in the course of the lecture by way of illustration. Also he will bring out the various effects that can be produced with simple scenery and curtains. When the stage has been built and set step by step two act plays will be given to emphasize the various points of the lecture.

The first performance will be "The Noble Lord," by Percival Wilde. It will be remembered that the play was presented here by the Players on April fifteenth in their bill of Three Representative Plays. It is a bit of human nature which culminates in a typical Wilde ending. The cast of characters is:

Rayman G. Adams '21
Saru D. Koepfer '22
David D. Mason

The other play will be "The Farwell Supper" by Arthur Schnitzler, the Viennese dramatist. It is taken from the Cycle of Anatole, a series of seven one act plays, which presents Arthur Schnitzler at his best. Off with the old love, on with the new to happiness is the bit of philosophy he portrays. The cast in the production is—Anatole—Arthur C. Cloefing; Mrs. C.—Frances C. Adams '21. This is the first extension program of the Players. In addition to this there will be also another performance later in the month in Lock Haven. Already plans are under way to make this department of The Players a very important factor in their program for the coming season.

FRESHMEN MAY ATTEND SENIOR GIRLS' LAWN FETE

The lawn fete which the Senior men students are holding tonight from seven to ten on the lawn in front of the Women's Building may be attended by Freshmen as well as the other three classes. Customs will be off and many first year men will undoubtedly take advantage of this opportunity to get back into the social world.

As previously announced, the dancing is open to everybody at the nominal charge of ten cents per event. The music will be furnished by a special dance orchestra of women students. Other features of the evening will be card games and refreshments at a small cost.
