ALUMNI DAY STARTS EVENTFUL COMMENCEMENT

The classes of '20 and '18 are also planning to be present at the Nittany institution in strong numbers to help make things lively. Headquarters for these groups will be at the big, alumni tent which will be located on the front campus. This will be the main headquarters for all alumni where they can get together to discuss old times and become re-acquainted with each other. An accommodation, the alumni association has cheerfully consented to receive dues at this place at all hours of the day.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association, which is scheduled for ten o'clock in the Auditorium, will undoubtedly attract a record-breaking crowd. President John M. Thomas will appear before the alumni as a body for the first time when he will deliver a brief address. Following this the most important business to be taken up is that of increasing the annual dues of the Alumni Association to meet the increased expenses. The meeting will close in time for the alumni luncheon at the alumni tent at twelve o'clock. This will be a big affair and it is expected that an unusually large number of grads will eat together. Members of the graduating class are also invited to attend the luncheon. Time has been allowed so that they will be able to witness the track meet at one o'clock.

Before the ball game, the reunion classes will pull off their stunts on New Beaver Field at three o'clock. Some original and amusing ideas are to be expected when the grads show their ability to do something entertaining. A friendly rivalry exists between the different classes and each is striving to surpass the others when the stunts are performed.

A part of the program to which all of the reunion classes are looking forward are the class dinners which they are holding at the University Club, the Deck-shed and other places at six p. m. The Penn State Alumnae club also dines at this time at McAllister Hall. Following this the former women students will hold their annual business meeting.

Reception in the Evening

The final event of the day will be the reception given to President and Mrs. Thomas and Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Sparks on the lawn in front of the Women's Building. Following the appropriate decorations for such an event are being planned. Alumni will have the opportunity to greet the new president and renew their acquaintance with Dr. Sparks. Following the reception, dancing and a general get-together of all alumni and alumnae will take place in the Women's Building. All members of the graduating class of 1921 are also urged to attend this affair.

Class Day Monday

On Monday morning at ten o'clock in the Open Air Theatre, the graduating class will hold its annual Class Day Exercises, when the lighter side of the college life will be seen. "Red Alken," president of the Senior class as well as class historian will deliver his farewell address to the class and will also present the class history. E. W. Knapf will deliver the Pipe Oration and present the old class pipe, which has been passed down for many years, to the president of the Junior class, C. A. Goldstone, will make the class presentation while Fred Hazelwood, chairman of the class memorial committee, will present the class memorial to Penn State which will be accepted for the college by Judge H. Walton Mitchell. These exercises always attract a large crowd and this year should prove to be no exception. The committee in charge of this day who are doing all in their power to make it a success are chairman, F. W. Gladding, Miss E. L. Crawford, C. A. Goldstone and H. L. Stuart.

Fresh Stunts Friday

All Freshmen remaining in College until Friday, June tenth, will report at the Stock Pavilion at six thirty Friday evening to participate in the entertainment provided by the Freshmen Class. The parade will start at fifty from the pavilion and will move from that point to Maple Lodge to the Hall to College Avenue up Fugh street to Beaver Avenue, to Allen St. to Copo, to the west end of the Drill Field. Here, F. L. Cropp '24, will render appropriate music. A. E. Helmreich '24, in the role of "parson," will render a fitting sermon. Following these rites, taps will be sounded and the burial of the links will take place. The stunt committee have spent a great deal of time, energy and thought in the coming stunts and have done their best to make them an unqualified success.

of plant diseases at the Botany Building with information concerning symptoms, methods of cure, and the protection against these diseases.

Another novel part of this year's schedule is the special program for young farmers that will be conducted at the forepart of the general Farmers' Week. The aim of this innovation is to give the visitors an opportunity to become acquainted with judging and demonstration contests. Considerable time will be given to organized recreation, including hikes, campfires and athletic contests.

Extensive Program Planned

On Thursday morning at eight o'clock, Dr. Gladding will have charge of an inspection trip to the old Soil Fertility Plots where the explanation and results obtained over a period of thirty-five years will be explained and the advantage given to the use of fertilizers, lime and manure. At this same time, groups will start for the Variety Plots where an inspection and discussion of Variety Tests of Wheat, Oats and Barley will be conducted by C. F. Noll and also for the Spring Creek Farm where M. F. Grimes will discuss Swine Management. At the Dairy Barn, the selection and breeding of Dairy Cattle will be explained and a poultry demonstration will be held at the stock pavilion. The experimental orchards, the student gardens, the Creamery, the implement barns, the Forestry Building and the greenhouse will be visited by groups interested in horticultural and vegetable gardening.

State Officials Will Be Here

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth have signified their intention of being here and each will appear on the program for an address at one of the night sessions to be held in the Open Air Theatre on the Front Campus on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at seven-thirty. Dean Waitts will preside at the first meeting which will be opened by a musical number by Professor Yoder. At eight o'clock, the Honorable Frederick Rasmussen, Secretary of Agriculture will give an address on "New Problems for Pennsylvania" and he will be followed by Honorable E. B. Beldeman, Lieutenant Governor.

Dr. William Flear will preside at the Thursday evening session and it will be opened as on the preceding night. Dr. J. M. Thomas, President of the College, will be the first speaker and will be followed by E. H. Hilbard of the University of Wisconsin, who will discuss the "Present Economic Problems of the Farmer."

In case rain threatens to interfere with the plans for the day, the program will be carried out as far as possible indoors and meeting places will be assigned to the different sections while the evening concerts will be held in the Auditorium.

CINDER CONTEST WITH PITT MARKS GRADUATION

Shea and Deming

One of the most interesting races of the entire program will be the quarter mile run in which Captain John Deming is expected to give Frank Shea, the Panther's Olympic star, one of the speediest races ever seen on New Beaver Field. It will be remembered that it was Deming who made Shea travel so fast in the recent Pittsburgh Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet and broke the Pittsburgh record, Deming and Shea will both try to lower the Penn State record in the quarter next Saturday. The latter also runs the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Medley Relay

Another event which promises to arouse great interest is a medley relay race which Coach Martin is planning. This race will not figure in the score.

PRE-LEGAL CLUB ELECTIONS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

Dr. Tanager spoke to the Club on the large field for the Club's activities during the coming year, stating that it would be an interesting study for the members to determine the relative legal status of Penn. of Pittsburgh, and of Penn State so far as dependence on the state was concerned, and the legal obligation of the state to support one or all of the three institutions.

ing of the meet and at the present time it not even known for certain if it will be possible for Pitt to enter a team in the event. Penn State will be represented in this relay by two varsity teams, a varsity team, and a team of freshmen—that is a team made up of Freshmen and "Larry" Shields, who are at the present time ineligible to membership on any varsity team. The varsity team will be composed of Galtz who will run the 220 yards, Ellis or Newcomer who will run the quarter, Deming who will run the half and Truitt who will run the mile. The other team, which the varsity has challenged, is composed of Russel '24, who will run the quarter, Hoffrich, who will run the half and Shields who will run the mile. Pitt also has a very fast distance medley relay team and should they accept Coach Martin's invitation to be present in the relay, even greater interest will be added to the affair. The Panther team is made up of Wakefield who will run the 220, Shea who will run the quarter, Allen who will run the half and Hayes who will run the mile.
