KNOCKS AND BOOSTS

By Mike and Ike

Another week gone and everything still going out with nothing coming in. Wish Ye Ed would shell out.

Wonder where all the hay-loads go to? Seems to be about forty-eleven every night so there must be some attraction. All invitations (free) kindly accepted.

There are a bunch of Wm Hart admirers in town judging from the number who "roll their own".

The Co-op on a windy day reminds us of Broad and Walnut or Fifth Ave and Smithfield St. Oh my jes.

Stations in town last week wanted to be directed to the "Old Ladies Cottage" had had been there before.

Between the loud awriters, short skirts and western 1011s a man has little chance of coming through with good eyesight.

"Foes" at night on the golf links is going to be strictly enforced.

Don't forget Warnings. It has been changed to the Phi Delt House.

And still the fall-birds hold forth. Funny they don't put up a No Parking sign there. Guess the next will be a "No Sparkin'" sign on New Beaver Coises.

Sights on the Campus. "Anesthetic Darning Glass" holding their picture took. Boys at the Forestry Building also most any other place.

Sure are some dances in town which give the stuff but they come high. Guess we could support an automobile etc. too.

The Phi Kappas threw a wienner roast and football game the other night. Good time was had by all.

A certain house in town supports a ukulele but we won't say any more. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mystery. Who swiped the dance records from the Beta and Phi Delt? Guess we could support an automobile etc. too.

Heat the Summer Session is going to come all the eggs in town before they put on their play. Please take the tomatoes out of the can.

We understand that Dick Jones had a heavy date, but that the date was very very tired at twelve and had to get some rest for a long hike the next day.

Tough luck Jonsey but we saw the date around one A. M.

We wonder if our Boxing Captain had to fight very hard to get the Castanets we saw him playing with around the streets.

Walle, tell the girls how it feels to be a Man.

Pete, who caused the quarrel between you and your seventeen year old school main?

Last Friday night a snake was found in the Phi Gamma Delta House. Guess what a whopper—about six feet long and weighing 160 pounds. Thank Heavens they caught him in the act of hissing at a chicken. Ask Butch Maurer for details.

Lil' Cynthia? We wonder if it is quite proper for chaperones to respond to the sound of a Klaxon at ten P. M. and get back at A. M., or are they like the preacher who wishes to try all the sins before he preached them.

Tough Joe, that you fell off the bleachers and sprained your wrist but we suppose the moon wasn't shining brightly then.

Jones—Here's one for you. Twinkle, twinkle, little hair, How I wonder how you air, Up above that lip so fair.

How is—did you get there. Joe Little says that Miss Jackson is a peach of a musician. Joe happens to be our famous or infamous singer, as you will, gentle reader, and he imparts the info that Miss Jackson nearly always gets the music she orders. That one little word—nearly—means an awful lot.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT REACHES SECOND ROUND

The Summer Session Open Singles Tournament is progressing in fine shape. So far only two matches have gone by default, and as all the remaining players are intensely interested, there is little chance of a failure to play any of the remaining matches.

The student body has at last wakened up to the fact that these matches are well worth spending an hour or so to see, for Doc Lewis reports that the spectators at some of them have been quite numerous. Half of the contestants have been eliminated, the remaining players are for the most part pretty experienced.

Watts and Guthrie, who are scheduled to play off a match tonight are both members of State's varsity tennis team, and the contest is certain to be both hard fought and interesting. Both men play a very good game and neither will wish to lose tonight. Sam Boggs, captain of last year's varsity team is still in the running, as well as other players of more than usual ability. The results of the matches that have been played are as follows:

P. F. Fatout defeated W. K. Yocum, 6-3, 6-4. W. D. Reynolds defeated W. D. Lewis, 10-5, 8-6. A. R. Baturin defeated J. L. Marshall, 7-5, 6-3. S. Y. Boggs defeated R. D. Loose, 6-1, 2-6, 6-2. F. Magill defeated P. M. Heverly, 6-1, 6-2. P. B. Knapp defeated J. Patterson, default. I. D. Baconstow defeated O. K. Snyder, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. C. S. Wilkins defeated J. H. Henderson, default. C. M. Watts defeated F. J. Hoibsen, 6-3, 6-3. W. D. Guthrie defeated C. D. Jeffries, 6-0, 6-1. R. D. Loose, who lost to Boggs was the winner of the Summer Session Men's Singles, and P. L. Fatout was the winner of the Summer Session Faculty Singles.

LAST EXCURSION SCHEDULED FOR THIS SATURDAY

The last big excursion of the Summer Session will be to Point McCoy, Saturday, July 30th. Will leave from the front of the auditorium at 2:30 p. m. and will return to State College about 9:30 p. m. Those going will need to make provision for evening meal.

The total walking distance will be about four miles. To go on this excursion it will be necessary to register and secure a ticket at the Summer Session office, 26th Old Main, not later than Friday noon.

Point McCoy is on the Bald Eagle mountains about sixteen miles from State College. It is a new excursion for the Summer Session but it has by far the best scenery to be found anywhere in Centre County. On a clear day it is possible to see the Nittany valley for a distance of about fifty miles and the Bald Eagle valley for about twenty miles.

NOTES FROM A. T. O. The A. T. O. House is not quite "all tied out" even though we haven't had much to say, but then you know action speaks louder than words. Ask the Shingletown natives how tired we weren't when they tried to sleep to the strains of Jack Meyers' banjo and the harmonious basso of our old friend "Trap".

These features were part of the hay-ride which Mrs. Babcock of the house directed on Monday evening. Wednesday night we are having "Novelty Night" when Jack will favor us again. Then too we have some talent among our "Dumb Waiters" which we are looking forward to. The program, among other things, includes—

- 1. Recitation—"Ode to the Ashman" Shakespeare. By John R. Traphona. 2. Selection—"The Cheating Gum Rag"—Quartet from Rigoletta. 3. Interpretive Dancing. (a) "To A Stub Too" by Sockless Sam, alias Bush. (b) "North Pole Dance" By the loose shouldered girl from Washington.

Jack's big part of the program is a fashion display of "Direct from Paris Models". By our little friend Geraldine.

NOTES FROM FRIENDS UNION The McDonald and Kennedy families of Belleville motored over to spend Sunday with their daughters, who are students of the Summer Session.

Miss Anna Louise Laub spent Sunday at her home in Lewistown. Messrs G. W. Grove and Norbert Schwab visited friends here over the week end.

Miss Mertz of Yencertown was the guest of Mabel Knepp. Miss A. L. Laub entertained a number of friends from her home town Wednesday evening.

There has been an epidemic of birth.

divs at the Friends Union this week but as it is not good policy to ask a lady's age we cannot enlighten you.

Miss D. L. Stoker sent Saturday afternoon in Bellefonte and reports having a good time.

Miss Ivy Braton with a party of friends enjoyed a pleasant trip to Penn Civic, Saturday.

A number of young people from Friends Union walked to Pine Hollow Festival Saturday night and report a fine time as the cats were up to standard. Wish they'd have another one soon.

The young people from Friends Union held a Doggie Roost last Thursday evening. They had a fine time as they hid with them Jno Kieutzing, a soloist, who rendered several fine selections, and also a number of selections were rendered by the Union Chorus, which made the hills resound.

ALPHA ZETA Miss Elizabeth Pussel spent the week end at her home in Bloomburg. "Pidge" says she is full of pep and ginger now.

Russ Miller's parents and sister from Chester, Penna., spent Sunday here. We can boast of one good member in the Sherwood-Caste, Little Johnny. And from all reports we expect him to prove the "Matinee Idol".

Question. Where is Hans' horse? We haven't seen him since— Does Nell live here? Nell who? We never knew until last night, it rained when Jack and Jill went up the Hill. Miss Flemming thinks so. Did anyone hear of an accident Sunday evening? Two cripples—and Mums the word.

Another issue off the press. The staff worn and weary with their labors during the last five weeks gives thanks that there is but one more to go. Only once more do we have to direct our efforts toward keeping that mythical omnipotence, Public Opinion, on the straight and narrow. Only once more shall it be necessary to pound the typewriter into the wee hours, and then listen to the crabbled-criticism of those whose dignity or vanity was crossed with too rough fingers. Only once more do we have to hypnotize the local merchants into thinking that advertising space in our sheet will garner for them covets of Rolls-Royces. Furthermore—the firm is solvent. No one has attempted to assassinate the staff. The blister on our typewriter finger has become a callous. We are indeed thankful.
