NATIONAL LEADERS AT CONFERENCES

The national conference of the morning will be opened by the address by Judge H. Walton Mitchell, President of the Board of Trustees of the college.

Following the opening session, there will be sectional luncheons of the various groups at McAllister Hall, the University Club and the Woman's Building.

The different speakers of the sectional conferences and the subjects of their addresses follow:

- Agricultural Conference: Progress in Rural Life, Dr. A. R. Mann, Dean of the College of Agriculture, Cornell University. Progress in Rural Schools, Rev. L. Elbert Wilson, Duncannon, Pa.

- Publicity Department: CALLS COUNTY REPORTERS. In view of the fact that a large number of the county clubs are now holding meetings, the Publicity Department urges that each county club appoint a reporter to handle news directly pertaining to that club that each man thus appointed report to the Publicity Department as soon as possible.

- NEWS OF OTHER COLLEGES: KANSAS STATE—Dr. J. D. Ackert, Professor of Zoology at Kansas State Agricultural College, together with a number of other scientists, has just returned from the island of Trinidad where he is studying the life and habits of the hood-worm.

- Conference on Education: The Financing of Education, Hon. Thomas D. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. Edwin R. A. Seligman, Professor of Political Economy, Columbia University.

ROOMS STILL NEEDED

The vast number of persons who will visit Penn State over the coming week will still give the Alumni Office some trouble with regard to the question of securing rooms for these visitors.

In many cases it will be possible for students to "double up" and the Alumni Office is providing cots and blankets for those who are willing to make this sacrifice for the convenience of the vast number of visitors and friends of the college.

Be sure to send all information of vacant rooms, room temporary or permanent, to the location of all students who are willing to "double up" to the Alumni Office, 114 McAllister Building.

Pennsylvania Women: Miss Florence M. Dierck, President of the State Federation of Women. Education: Miss Honore W. Calkin, Specialist in Home Economics, Bureau of Education, Washington.

NORTH CAROLINA GRIDDERS OPPOSE VARSITY TOMORROW

adept at kicking field goals and in addition to his excellent defensive work and running of the ball, may give him the edge over Killinger for some time. Killinger has been standing out prominently both in games and in practice and it looks as if he would hold the quarterback job permanently.

PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT CALLS COUNTY REPORTERS

In view of the fact that a large number of the county clubs are now holding meetings, the Publicity Department urges that each county club appoint a reporter to handle news directly pertaining to that club that each man thus appointed report to the Publicity Department as soon as possible.

NEWS OF OTHER COLLEGES

KANSAS STATE—Dr. J. D. Ackert, Professor of Zoology at Kansas State Agricultural College, together with a number of other scientists, has just returned from the island of Trinidad where he is studying the life and habits of the hood-worm.

MULLENBURG—The Third Annual College Day exercises will be held Friday, October seventh in the College Chapel. College Day is not a casual day at the institution but rather a popular one.

NEW MEXICO STATE—Harry L. Kent, of Hays, Kansas, was chosen by the Board of Regents as President of the College during the summer. The new President is a resident of Kansas and is known and respected throughout that State.

CORNELL—With a total registration of 4518 students, Cornell University for the first time since the war, has fallen short of the registration mark set up the previous year.

CONFERENCE ON EDUCATION: The Financing of Education, Hon. Thomas D. Finegan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. Edwin R. A. Seligman, Professor of Political Economy, Columbia University.

VITAMINE TESTS BEING MADE BY PROF. DUTCHER

Gift of Eight Thousand Dollars From California Raisin Growers To Be Used For Experiments

Professor R. A. Dutcher, newly appointed head of the Department of Agricultural Chemistry, will return from California in about a week to begin a series of the most important vitamin research problems ever attempted in this country.

Professor Dutcher will be ably assisted in his work by Miss Emma Francis who has recently come to Penn State from the Little Creek Sanitarium and Miss Julia Cuthouse who also has arrived recently from the Marshfield, Wis., Clinic.

The leading problem being conducted by Miss Francis is a very practical one. It is connected with the study of human diet.

The method of conducting the experiments is as follows: Milk which is produced under known conditions and rations from certain cows in the college dairy herd will be condensed in the creamery.

Professor Dutcher will likewise conduct experiments to determine the vitamin content of raisins. These experiments have been made possible by the eight thousand dollar gift donated to Penn State for this purpose by the California Raisin Growers Association.

ADDRESS CHANGES NEEDED

All students who have changed their local address since the beginning of the school year should be notified to drop the change of address in one of the Student Directory boxes.

Another project will determine the value of a waste product high in vitamin content, as a chick feed. Professor Dutcher will cooperate with the college Poultry Department in this work where several hundred chickens will be used.

MUSICAL COMEDY BEING WRITTEN FOR THESPIANS

Professor M. M. Harris, of the Department of English, and B. W. Knapp are again collaborating in the production of a new musical comedy which the Thespians are expecting to present about the first of the year.

In addition to this play, which promises to surpass "King Pomposus" in success, the Thespians are planning to present one or two other productions during the year.

Dramatic productions are not the only things in which the Thespians are interested as their float in the Inaugural Parade will show.

The Letter Box

The Editor, Penn State Collegian, Dear Sir:

I have some criticisms, both good and bad, concerning the cheering at Penn State. The showing up of the "Locomotive" and the dividing of the "New Yell" is great and should be maintained.

In spite of these changes, the yell, as a whole, are weak and this is caused primarily by the addition of something that is always tacked on the end.

I have been to games when we have yelled for everybody but the waterboy, and nobody knew who we were yelling for, anyhow.

Give the suggestion fair trial and I am sure that it will improve the cheering to a great extent.

Very truly yours, An Alumnus '20

ALUMNI PLAN BANQUET FOR EVE OF TECH GAME

If preparations have any influence upon a celebration that is being planned for, then the week end of October twenty-ninth, when the Pitty Lion takes a little jaunt to New York City to meet the Golden Tornadoes in open combat at the Polo Grounds, bids fair to be one of the greatest Alumni celebrations ever held in honor of the college and its football warriors.

The Alumni and friends of the college that live out in New York City, and those who can get there by walking, riding, or flying seem to have the opinion that a rousing reception and a good, snappy get-together are indispensable to the winning of the game and reports indicate that fervent activity for the promotion of these ends have been going on for a long time.

The committee that was appointed to plan the banquet is now in the process of making arrangements for the event.

to plan the functions that are scheduled for that time have gone into all possibilities and it was decided to hold a banquet on the night before the game and not to sanction any special function on the night of the game for the reason that the alumni feel that they would not be able to compete with the many and varied attractions of the "Great White Way."

GRADS WILL BE ACTIVE AT BIG GRID CONTESTS

Definite plans are rapidly shaping for the usual big times at the big football games away from home.
