

PENN STATE-WASHINGTON GAME PLEASURES WEST

Congratulatory Telegram Sent By Mayor of Seattle to President Thomas

Evidence that Penn State's decision to send the football team to the Pacific Coast for a contest with the University of Washington on December the third has met with great favor in the west is shown by the following telegram received by President Thomas:

"Citizens of this city welcome the announcement that your football team will play in our stadium December third. Believe your visit will be of great educational value to your students. Everything will be done to make your visit as enjoyable as possible. (Signed) Hugh Caldwell, Mayor, City of Seattle.

In response to this message, the following night letter was sent by President Thomas: "Pennsylvania State College appreciates deeply your assurance of cordial welcome to our football team. It will be a great privilege to our students to see the great northwest and to visit your famous city. You can count on Bezdek's team to put up a fight worth seeing." (Signed) John M. Thomas, President.

INDICATIONS POINT TO A SUCCESSFUL REUNION

A flame and the climax will be genuine home coming for all concerned. Big Day Tomorrow

The program of events for tomorrow is an imposing one from the standpoint of both quality and quantity. Three dedications, two football games, a smok er, and a golf tournament will keep the old timers busy as well as the present students and all who will be here during the day.

The first of these affairs will be the dedication of the Wadsworth Memorial Tablet under the auspices of the School of Mines at nine-thirty in the morning. Dr. Marshman Wadsworth, in whose memory the tablet is to be erected, was Dean of the School of Mines for seven years and as such was responsible for a noticeable growth in the School and helped to develop the industry throughout the state.

At the same time, several memorial trees will serve as fitting symbols of dedication and will be planted on the front campus by the Department of Landscape Gardening, two of which will be dedicated to the honor of Captain H. L. Buckwalter and Lieutenant J. A. Tinsman. The Harrisburg alumni are thus honoring two brave Penn State men and their former comrades.

The golf tournament will draw a crowd to the golf links Saturday morning to see the teams representing the various branch organizations of the state. A short time ago the alumni located in the Pittsburgh district, formed a golf team and challenged other organizations to put on a better team. Immediately the alumni in Centre County took up the challenge and did others and indications point toward some close matches.

Two Football Games

The biggest attraction of the day will be the two football contests that are scheduled to be played before the end of tomorrow. The first will be played with Mansfield State Normal School team as opposing the yearling eleven. This will be the second tussle for the frosh and will take place on New Beaver Field at ten thirty o'clock in the morning. This clash should prove to be close inasmuch as the Normal School team is by no means composed of inexperienced players and as the freshmen have shown remarkable improvement since their last game with the team from Bellefonte Academy.

In the afternoon at two-thirty, the first difficult game on the varsity schedule will commence when the Brown and White warriors will attempt to supplement the game of last season with a defeat for this season while the Blue and White gridironers are fully determined to duplicate their feat of two years ago by treating the visitors to a decisive defeat.

The sole event for the night will be the alumni smoker to be held in the armory at eight o'clock. This is a special occasion for all the old timers to get together and have a chat about the past and for meeting the members of the senior class who will soon be enrolled among the ranks of the alumni. The Alumni Association has issued a cordial invitation to all members of the senior class to attend this function and become acquainted with those who went before.

The alumnae are not to be forgotten since the Women's Students are holding a reception in their honor at the Women's Building at eight o'clock.

Registration Place Changed

Arrangements are being made whereby each alumnus may be registered as soon as he reaches the college. The alumni headquarters will be transferred from Room 115 Old Main to the Armory at five o'clock. Rooming accommodations may be secured by making reservations at the alumni desk in the inaugural headquarters at the library. Provision has been made to take ample care of what promises to be the greatest turnout of former students in the history of Penn State.

MINING GRADUATES ARE MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

Recent Graduates Are Holding Important Positions In Coal Fields Of State

From reports that are constantly coming to the Department of Mines from firms employing graduates of that school, it is evident that men are making great progress in the business world and rapidly gaining responsible positions.

Mr. J. B. Warriner '05 has been recently made general manager of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, a position which is one of the most important in the anthracite field. Mr. Harry A. Mintz '07 has been made assistant manager of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, one of the largest coal companies in operation. Mr. C. O. Garner '10 is now assistant manager of the Geddo-Highland Coal Company, another prominent concern which has recently taken over the Markle interests in the coal fields.

Among the recent graduates who are holding important positions is Mr. E. C. Cook '20 who is editor of "Forging and Heat Treating," published by the Anderson Company of Pittsburgh. Another Penn State man who is in the employ of the same company is Mr. H. H. Frasier '21 who is Engineering editor of "Coal Industry." Both of these positions are regarded as being very important, especially for men who have recently graduated. The president of both of these publications has stated that he was so pleased with the work of the graduates of the Penn State School of Mines that he hoped to get a State man to edit another publication which he contemplates starting in the near future.

WORLD'S BEST HARPIS T WILL PLAY HERE SOON

What promises to be the greatest event in the history of local music circles is to be staged on the evening of October twenty-ninth in the Schwab Auditorium by the sensation of the musical world today, the "Paganini of the Harp," Alberto Salvi.

Mr. Salvi is a young virtuoso not yet in his thirties, but his record of achievements is astounding. His phenomenal harp playing has been the sensation of two continents. When a mere child he was playing for the Italian Court and since then has amazed concert audiences of both Europe and America.

Never, perhaps has an artist been a greater revelation to his audiences than has Alberto Salvi. He has revolutionized harp playing and produces effects and accomplishes a power and brilliancy hitherto considered absolutely impossible. So astounding have been these revelations that he has come by the name, "The Wizard of the Harp."

It is certainly a rare opportunity for the students and local patrons to hear this great harpist and the Department of Music as well as the Y. M. C. A. Music and Entertainment Committee who have made the concert possible are to be congratulated.

PENN STATE ENGINEER READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Arranged especially for Alumni Home Coming Day, the first issue of the Penn State Engineer for this year will be placed on sale Friday morning at the Athletic Store. This issue of the Engineer is being published at this time in order that the Alumni may have an opportunity to see the progress of the students and work of the Engineering School.

The Penn State Engineer is one of the few such periodicals published throughout the country by college students and

NEWS OF OTHER COLLEGES

CORNELL—Dr. Livingston Farrand, newly elected president of Cornell, arrived in Ithaca last week, preparatory to taking up his duties as the head of the university. The inauguration will take place on Thursday, October 20, and a great celebration will occur in conjunction with it. Over one hundred colleges and universities throughout the world are sending delegates, nine of these being foreign institutions.

RUTGERS—S. E. Gilbert, of the class of 1912, was recently appointed Under Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. He made a very enviable record while at Rutgers.

HAVERTFORD—A record enrollment was made at Havertford this fall, a total number of two hundred and twenty five students registering. Of this number, sixty-nine are Freshmen.

MICHIGAN AGGIE—Rapid steps are being made toward making The Hothead, the official college newspaper, into a daily paper. The Hothead started a few years ago as a weekly paper but after the war it expanded into a semi-weekly paper of four pages each issue. Last winter a feature section was added. The latest step has been the changing of the paper into a six-page semi-weekly newspaper. In a few years, a daily paper will undoubtedly appear on the campus.

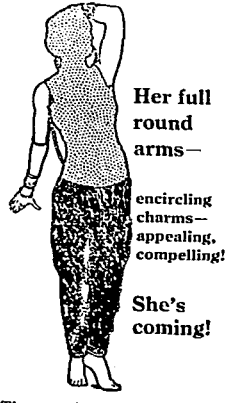

MICHIGAN AGGIE—A. M. Barron, star end on Penn State eleven for three years, took up his duties last month as head football coach at Mich-

IMPORTANT EXPERIMENTS MADE BY MINING SCHOOL

The Mining Department has been carrying on an important and interesting piece of research work on smithing coals for the past few months. The work is being carried out by Assistant Professor Sloman through a cooperative arrangement made between Dean Moore and Cosgrove and Company coal operators of Johnstown. Much of the work is being done with the aid of the forge in the School of Engineering, and some very important discoveries have been made in the practical tests. The results obtained so far have been so satisfactory that it is planned to pursue the tests on a more extensive scale during the college year. That the tests are attracting much attention throughout the country is shown by the fact that Mr. A. E. Wilson of Cosgrove and Company has written Dean Moore stating that he has received considerable inquiries concerning the work.

the supply of suits fell shy of the demand. In former years, the Freshman squad has very seldom run over fifty men. A very powerful team is expected this fall.

NEW MEXICO—The president of the student body at New Mexico resigned at a student mass meeting last week but his resignation was not accepted. He gave as his reason for resignation the statement that his policies had not been supported. Before the meeting had concluded, a vote of confidence was extended to the president and was accepted by the latter.
