FITTING EXERCISES MARK CELEBRATION OF ARMISTICE DAY

Local Post of American Legion in Charge of Services on Friday

NO CLASSES AFTER 11:20 A. M.

College Officials Declare Holiday After Third Hour—To Be Nationally Observed

Armistice Day will be observed at State College this Friday, in accordance with the proclamation which President Harding has issued, making that day a holiday in tribute to the brave men who fought for our freedom. The day will be observed by holding a service in the Front Campus or in the Auditorium at 11:20 a. m. in charge of the American Legion, Nittany Post 245. That students may attend this memorial service and in keeping with the spirit of the general national holiday, the college officials have declared that no classes shall be held on Friday after the third hour in the morning at 11:10 a. m. It is also probable that the stores of the town will be closed at noon for the rest of the day as a tribute to the day and its significance. The following impressive program has been arranged for the morning's services at State College: Invocation—Rev. G. F. Mitch, College Band—Under Bandmaster W. O. Thompson. Singing—"America"—by assembly. Short Addresses—Professor W. S. Dye Jr., and T. C. Pakenham. Address—"Unknown Soldiers"—Professor Arthur Deering. Music by band—"Star Spangled Banner". Benediction—Professor G. F. Mitch. Professor C. B. Steel, commander of the local post of the American Legion, will be in charge of the meeting as chairman. The arrangements for the ceremonies of the day are under the charge of the special committee headed by Professor J. Light is chairman. The services will either be held on the Front Campus or in the Auditorium, according to the condition of the weather.

All Ex-Soldiers in Uniform All ex-services men, whether they are members of the American Legion or not, are requested to attend the services in uniform. The members of the Rehabilitation Club have been invited to attend in a body. All those who take part on the program are requested to do so in the uniform of their service to their country during the war. Professor Arthur Deering left State College at the outbreak of the war and was advanced to the rank of Major while in the service. He has been selected to deliver the main address on "Unknown Soldiers". Mr. Pakenham has had an experience of twelve years in the British army during which time he advanced from an enlisted man to the position of Lieutenant Colonel. In the recent war he was wounded four times. Mr. Pakenham retired from the British army in order to come to Penn State, where he is an instructor in economics and the various aspects of the British army. Professor Mitchell served with the Y. M. C. A. overseas for the period of the war and Dr. Dye, as a citizen, was one of the most active men at State College in backing all patriotic movements and volunteering his services in every way to aid in the work here.

Tribute To War Dead The whole of Armistice Day this year will be devoted as a tribute to those who sacrificed their lives in the great war. In the Arlington National Cemetery, in Washington, D. C., ceremonies will be held incident to the burial of the unknown and unidentified soldier who "represents the manhood of America, who gave their lives to defend its integrity, honor and tranquility against any enemy." In addition to the services in the British army, President Harding has issued concerning the observance of the day, Governor Spruell has also issued a proclamation to the citizens of Pennsylvania calling upon them to "pause in their pursuits as a mark of respect on this solemn occasion."

Varsity Cross Country Trials Next Saturday Next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock the finals for the Intercollegiate cross country meet will be held. Since the Freshman will also be represented in the Intercollegiate this year, Freshman trials will also be held at the same time on Saturday afternoon. These trials will be limited to those twenty varsity men and twenty Freshman runners who successfully passed the preliminary trials several weeks ago. The first seven men to finish from both squads will represent Penn State in the big New York City meet.

CLASS HARRIERS HOLD ANNUAL RUN WEDNESDAY

Members of the various class cross country teams are anxiously awaiting the outcome of the Inter-Class scrap which will be held to-morrow afternoon at four-thirty o'clock. Any person enrolled in one of the four year courses at Penn State is eligible to take part in the meet which will be run over a three mile course. The first five men to finish will receive their numerals and will also be the first five members of the winning class team. One week later the annual Freshman-Sophomore cross country meet will be held over the same course. Any member of the Freshman or Sophomore class may take part in the meet which will be conducted in the same manner as the Interclass Meet.

NITTANY SOCCERITES CONQUER LEHIGH IN PENNA. DAY CONTEST

Brown and White Unable to Tie Score after Strong Rally in Second Period

The Nittany soccer team chalked up another victory to its credit of three seasons without a defeat when the Lehigh booters were forced to admit inferiority before the smooth action of the Brown and White machine. The only difference between this game and the first home game of the season was that the score was different. Penn State secured three tallies while the Brown and White were fighting for their single point. With the cold wind blowing from the north, the boys took their positions on the field last Saturday morning at ten o'clock fully determined to annex the title of the game. This is the third season that the Penn State football aggregation has tasted victory unmingled with defeat and the Lehigh supporters were set on breaking this winning streak and Coach Pakenham's pupils were determined to add the Bethlehemites to their list of victims. Captain Beaver of the Brown and White won the toss and selected the eastern goal. Both teams started strong but the excellent teamwork of the lines and backfields showed that the struggle was to be a close one. For six minutes the ball was kept in the vicinity of the Lehigh goal but the Penn State forwards were unable to place it. The wind seemed to favor the visitors for their goal keeper repeatedly sent the ball out of danger with a low swift punt to midfield. After six minutes of this maneuvering, the ball was worked to the Lehigh goal again. Traphamer sent the ball between the goal for the first tally of the game with a straight swift boot from the eighteen foot line. Grupp Secures Second Point The latter part of the half was characterized by a number of passes. (Continued on last page)

FROSH TOURNAMENT IN TENNIS NEARS FINALS

The tennis tournament which was started this fall among those Freshmen who had signed up for fall tennis has nearly been completed. Mr. Myers, of the Physical Education Department who has charge of this tournament, stated that quite a little delay has been caused by inclement weather. It is expected that the rest of the rounds, six in number, before the finals will be played off before November sixteenth. A tournament is also in progress among the Sophomores, making a total of one hundred ninety six underclass men engaged in tennis as a fall sport. The tennis committee, an interschool tennis match will be played between seventh Freshman and Sophomore, the man winning three out of five games automatically becoming the best of the two under classes. This tournament is affording an opportunity for thorough weeding out of possible varsity material which will be continued next spring in the form of a Freshman team and inter-class matches.

CO-EDS NOW PLANNING FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Plans are already on foot to make the Old English Christmas Party held annually in McAllister Hall a greater success than ever before. The names of the girls who will head the committees in charge of the various activities have been announced by the Senate of the Women's Student Government. The committee heads are as follows: Invitations, Miss Sara Croll '23; decorations, Miss Edna Hoffer '24; Lord's table, Miss Polly Regolie '22, costumes, Miss Edna Garrett '23, entertainment, Miss Harriet Calvert '22.

ENGLISH COLLEGE GRAD AN EXPERIMENT STATION

Mr. P. Nicholls, who represented Victoria College, London, England, at the inauguration of President Thomas, has been in the Engineering Experiment Station for several months as an expert on Heat Transmission. He was formerly with one of the Pennsylvania companies manufacturing heat insulating materials and spent his vacation at Penn State studying the experimental work with Professor A. J. Wood.

AMERICAN COLLEGE STUDENT TO VOTE ON DISARMAMENT

Simultaneous Mass Meetings Will Be Held in All Colleges to Ascertain Sentiment

MUST TAKE PLACE SOON

Results of Various Votes To Be Presented at Washington Conference

In an effort to accomplish as much as possible in the time that remains before the conclusion of the world's conference on the Limitation of Armaments that is opening on the eleventh of this month at Washington, D. C., the colleges and the universities of the country are entering into a state of frenzied activity that is justified by the extensive program that must be completed before a month passes. This conference is composed of representatives of all of the leading nations of the world and the action they take will have a direct bearing on the future welfare of the entire world. The general plan for student participation as endorsed at the conference of the delegates of the student bodies in the various colleges and universities of the eastern part of the country calls for the action of every student body in the country, the result of which will be sent to the world conference at Washington and there made known to the notables assembled. In order to organize the participants effectively, the country has been divided into sections, some college of which will superintend the organization. When the different sections have been organized and the units in each section have worked out a plan of action, the results of the students, the head of each section will call for simultaneous mass meetings in every unit when a vote will be taken. Thus, the sentiment of the American college student will be ascertained and will be presented to the world's leaders for recognition. The following sectional conferences have been called: Drake University for the state of Iowa; Miami University for the state of Ohio; University of Texas for the Southwest; Leland Stanford Junior University for the Pacific Northwest; Washington for the Northwest; Georgia Tech for the South and Princeton for the East. Besides the results of these conferences, letters have been received from Earlham, Massachusetts Tech, Columbia, Cornell, Vassar, and all of the colleges and universities in the State of Virginia and West Virginia. All have expressed their appreciation for an opportunity to take an active part in this country wide movement.

Cablegrams Sent Out With the object in view of supplementing the work of the Princeton conference, Frank I. Olmstead, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., immediately got in touch with John R. Mott who is the present head of the triangle association to aid in this work. With his aid, a cable was sent to the student organizations in Belgium, England, France, Holland, and Italy. The text of the cable was as follows: "Representatives of forty American colleges assembled at Princeton University on October twenty-sixth adopted resolutions urging upon American delegates to Washington Conference the importance of reductions of present naval armaments and necessity of amicable discussion if this end is to be realized. In the name of the Princeton Conference, we sincerely urge you to organize student sentiment in your country and to send a similar plea to your representatives at the Washington Conference."

Impetus Added to Cause Confidence that the movement is not confined to a few students of one sex, is shown in the announcement that the students at Vassar and Bryn Mawr are already organized and have voted to support the movement financially as well as morally. Bryn Mawr is responsible for a donation of two hundred dollars while the girls at Vassar are just as determined to aid in the movement. Dr. S. P. Capen who is head of the American Council of Education, is at the present time contributing articles on the advisability of limiting armaments especially in regard to the various naval policies of the world's largest nations to all of the periodicals of all denominations including protestant, Jewish, and Catholic faiths. Every day brings to light the results of this publicity campaign as different colleges and universities request information and this week the annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities is being held at New Orleans and President Thomas will present this matter at that time in behalf of the college students coming under the jurisdiction of this association.

DATE OF WOMEN'S A. A. DANCE CHANGED TO NOV. 19

The date of the Women's Athletic Association Dance has been changed from November twelfth to Saturday, November nineteenth. As announced before, the dance will be held at the Armory and early indications point to one of the finest social events of the year when this active organization stages the dance.

TECH HARRIERS WIN FROM BLUE AND WHITE, 24-31

Three Plaid Runners Finish Before First Penn State Representative Finishes

SNYDER LEADS NITTANY MEN

Coach Martin Will Start Immediately to Get Team in Condition for Intercollegiate

Now that the defeat of the Penn State cross country team at the hands of the Carnegie Tech Harriers is a bit of past history, Coach Martin will make a vigorous attempt to get his squad in such physical condition that the Blue and White runners will be able to redeem themselves in their only remaining meet of the season, the Intercollegiate which will be held in New York City on Monday, November twenty-first. Last Saturday morning the Plaid runners showed themselves to be in far better condition than their Blue and White rivals. The one sided 24-31 score indicates that Tech had little trouble in winning the contest. It was the third meet that the Carnegie runners took part in this year and they profited greatly by their experience with the Lafayette and Lehigh teams. In the first two meets of the year the Carnegie runners overcame the Blue and White runners. On October twenty-second at Bethlehem, six Carnegie Tech runners finished before the first Lehigh man in one week later, at Pittsburgh, five Tech runners finished before the first Lafayette representative. It was in this meet that Miller, the Tech captain, broke the cross country record for the Schenley Park course. Penn State was not expecting the Plaid to be represented by as strong a team as they one that won such a glorious victory last Saturday. The Nittany hill and dale man had not been training strenuously enough to make a favorable showing against the well seasoned Tech men. Realizing that the cross country squad will have to be placed on a more effective training basis, Coach Martin has already started to give his men more intensive daily work outing. It is expected that the Tech runners will be able to make a much better showing than that of last Saturday. Weather conditions were far from ideal for a cross country race last Saturday. A stiff north wind, carrying with it flurries of dry snow, continually hampered the progress of the runners as they journeyed around the six mile course. Three Tech men, Kelly, Dykeman, and Miller, the captain, took the lead from the start and maintained that lead through the race, finishing in the order mentioned. The first Nittany runner (Continued on last page)

DEBATING SQUAD MAY MAKE TRIP TO COAST

With Five Veterans and Good Material Forensic Work Should Be of High Order

Although Penn State's Debating Squad is this year composed of all new members, except for five debaters from last year's squad, only one of the latter number being an experienced veteran, Professor T. J. Gates, who has the training of the squad, believes that the Nittany Lion will be well represented in the forensic art this year. The number of members comprising the team is small, but the debating ability they display is of high quality. Nothing definite has been arranged in regard to the Princeton meet, nor, in fact, concerning any of the contests, except that the first will take place early in the second semester, and that the usual Buchanan, Dickinson, and Penn State and Colgate Pittsburgh and Penn State triangles will clash. The subjects for these discussions have not as yet been chosen. Professor Gates is making every effort to arrange for a trip to the Pacific coast for a team comprising three debaters and an alternative. Nothing whatever is said about this trip, since the preliminary negotiations have just begun. President Thomas has signified his approval of the plan and has given his unofficial consent to it, and if the scheme can be consummated the trip will serve not only to make Penn State better-known among the western states, but will also furnish an exceedingly worth-while incentive to work for candidates for the team. Following is a list of the new men who are giving evidence of debating ability: F. Tapchik '23, G. R. Fried '23, I. S. Gress '24, E. Woltz '24, W. P. Gifford '25, W. C. Eastman '24, J. H. Hays '25, F. R. Smith '23, E. R. Tompkins '23.

The members of last year's squad, who will be on the squad this year are: E. E. Overdorf '23, W. E. Romig '23, L. Runkle '23, R. S. Adams '22, and R. C. Kramer '23.

GLEE CLUB PLANS TRIP FOR THANKSGIVING

Dean C. C. Robinson of the Department of Music announces that the Glee Club will journey to Pittsburgh on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of Thanksgiving week, making several stops on the way. On November twenty-first, the musical organization will be with the Shrine at Johnstown, while the next day they will sing at Indiana, Pennsylvania, on the invitation of the Normal School and one of the churches there. Negotiations are now being made with the Pittsburgh Alumni for an entertainment at Pitt on Wednesday. The entire club, with the exception of course, of those members who are below the required scholastic standing, will make the trip. This number will likewise include the Varsity Quartet and the Specialty Trio which comprise Jack Myers '23, Schloesen '23, and G. A. Hays '23.

PANTHER CUBS PROVE TOO POWERFUL FOR NITTANY YEARLINGS

Pitt Team Superior in Weight Crosses Nittany Goal Line Early in Game

Playing what appeared at some times to be an exceptional brand of football and which other times appeared to be an extremely loose brand, the Penn State Freshmen and the University of Pittsburgh Panther Cubs battled desperately on the New Beaver Practice Field last Saturday morning to the extent that the Panthers emerged from the struggle with a 14-6 victory over Coach Hermann's team. During the times when both teams showed their flashes of form, they played like veterans and made numerous advances in the direction of their opponents' goal line. The first half was decidedly a Pitt triumph, but in the second half the Lion Cubs completely outplayed the Panther yearlings. Taking advantage of their superior weight and also by making the best of every break that came their way, the Pitt Freshmen had little trouble in establishing their superiority. They took the ball shortly after the kick off in the first quarter, used a battering ram attack and immediately started a march down the field. After being held back down on two occasions the Pitt team renewed their attack, and a brilliantly executed forward pass from the twenty five yard line across the goal line from Plannagan to Frank, netted the Panther representatives their first touchdown. The second Panther touchdown came at the beginning of the third quarter. Pitt kicked to the Nittany youngsters but the ball was not caught. Upon hitting the ground the ball was snatched by backfields and when it had rolled the necessary ten yards on the ground a Pitt man fell upon the ball and it remained in Pitt's possession. A forward pass and four line bucks were sufficient to carry the ball over for a touchdown. Gosweden, who kicked the first goal, also kicked the second. From that point the Nittany Lions braced and took the offensive for the remainder of the game. Line buck after line buck was used, hole after hole but Coach Hermann's proteges were unable to carry the ball over the goal line until the final quarter. At that time five successive line bucks in which Lowry carried the ball on almost every play resulted in the only touchdown that the Frosh were able to score. McCoy failed to kick the goal and the score stood 14-6. The severe cold and a biting north wind with occasional snow flurries numbed the players and plenty of fumbles resulted. Although Pitt was able to take advantage of most of the fumbles, the Panther surely deserves credit for winning the game. In the early stages they piled up enough points to insure victory and after that they kept the Lion Cubs in check sufficiently to keep them from tying the score. The line-up follows: Penn State Freshmen: McCoy, L. E., Gosweden, Parshall, L. T., Murdoch, Flock, L. G. C., Hangartner, Shanser, C., Ashbaugh, Yost, R. G., Lewis, Alwine, R. T., Alkins, Anderson, R. E., Frank, Hartman, C. Q. B., Plannagan, Kratz, L. H., Brudet, Lowry, R. H., Bohren, Wilson, F. B., Johnson. Touchdowns—Frank, Johnson, Lowry. Goal line touchdowns—Gosweden. Substitutions—Artlett for Yost, Cook for Alderson, Yost for Flock, Gregory for Wilson, Doughitt for Plannagan, Evans for Bohren, Brickman for Brudet, Carnahan for Lewis, Kefauver, Daugherty, W. and J. Umpley—Crosby, Durnouth, Headlinesman—Goldchen, Lafayette. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

Skibos Show Remarkable Power And Score First In Holiday Game By Thrilling Triple Pass

ACTRESS FAMOUS FOR SHAKESPERIAN ROLES HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Mona Morgan Will Be Presented by Penn State Players—No Admittance Fee

The Penn State Players under the direction of Mr. Arthur C. Cloetingh take great pleasure in announcing the appearance of Miss Mona Morgan, Shakespearean actress, lecturer, and scholar. On Thursday evening, November 10, she will appear in the Schwab Auditorium and give an interpretative reading of the famous scenes in "The Taming of the Shrew". It is a rare privilege that Shakespeare lovers are going to have in this performance and one that none of them can afford to miss. Miss Morgan comes to Penn State with a nation-wide reputation for her interpretative genius. Last season she played opposite Mr. Walter Hamplien in what was probably one of the most brilliant companies ever produced by the great Shakespearean roles. Ever where her work met with the most hearty approval of the greatest dramatic critics. "It is a remarkable portrayal," says the Washington Times "Juliet carries production beautifully planned performance, spontaneous, and unaffected, continues the Boston Globe. Not less laudatory is the comment in the Syracuse Herald, "Juliet more than fulfilled the highest expectations"—or the Washington Post—"especially in 'What's done by night is done by day' and 'Mistlow height'. And so on might be quoted indefinitely from the shower of praises that follows every performance. Miss Morgan resigned as Mr. Walter Hamplien's leading woman in order to devote her time to reading from Shakespeare. These readings are designed primarily to aid the general public in obtaining a further and a better understanding of the great art of the Shakespearean drama. (Continued on last page)

GLEE CLUB STAGES SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

Noted New York Tenor J. B. Wells, Assisted by Miss Douthett Pleases Audience

The eighth annual Pennsylvania Day Concert of the Penn State Glee Club proved to be one of the most successful concerts ever staged by that organization. Mr. Clarence C. Robinson, Director of the Department of Music, was effectively assisted by Mr. John Barnes Wells, tenor, New York City, and Miss Myra Douthett, accompanist and piano soloist. The work of the Glee Club was of high order, their training showing good musicianship and bringing out the careful drilling they had received at the hands of Professor Robinson. A deep and doubtless a lasting impression was made on a large audience representing the music lovers of Penn State. One of the best selections sung by the Glee Club was "The Swan Song," "Pleasant Snuggly Song," by William G. Smith. In this piece the solo parts were rendered by Mr. D. V. Bauder '24, who sings first tenor on the Varsity quartet. All through the club displayed remarkable precision of attack and well-balanced shading from forte passages to faint pianissimos. The noted tenor, Mr. Wells, who sang a large proportion of the pieces, was well worth hearing. Most of his selections were sung softly, something that requires a most melodious voice under absolute control. In one or two songs in which he sang rather strongly, the wonderful melody of his voice seemed to be more noticeable than in any of the others. Miss Douthett, who accompanied Mr. Wells, exhibited a complete mastery of technique in the accompaniments as well as in the piano solos. Before playing her second number, which was an interpretation of Saint Francis' walk on the waves, Miss Douthett explained the story and the occasion of the composition of the interpretation.

The Varsity Quartet, composed of D. V. Bauder '24, R. A. Borby '23, P. J. Duncan '24, and E. E. Tackett '23, proved as popular as ever, and were compelled to render several encores before the audience would permit their leaving the stage. As usual, they displayed considerable acting ability in connection with their songs.

Penn State's football machine again demonstrated its ability to come from behind and win last Saturday on New Beaver, when, trailing at the end of the first quarter by the score of 7-0, the husky Blue and White warriors launched an irresistible attack and crushed the Skibo eleven from Carnegie Tech, 28 to 7. Played before a Pennsylvania Day crowd of perhaps ten thousand persons, in the face of a stinging wind that was at times filled with whirling snowflakes, the contest had all the makings of a gridiron classic and was a battle from start to finish. The Plaid aggregation fought gamely and stubbornly but, like all other opponents encountered by Penn State this season, could not adequately stop the magnificent offensive tactics of the Lions. The line-smashing of Lightner and Wilson and the elusive running of Killinger. Penn State's premier quarterback, simply swept the Skibos off their feet. Carnegie Tech's lone score came in the middle of the first period by means of a beautiful triple pass from Sawyer, to Godden to Robertson, the last individual running fifty-five yards for a touchdown. The Nittany scoring consisted of four touchdowns and the resulting goals, and resulted from steady marches that have been characteristic of Penn State's playing all this season. Killinger tallied first, after the ball had been carried from the Nittany fifteen yard line, while Lightner scored, following a forty-five yard drive, and Wilson crossed the goal line twice, after two seventy yard marches by Penn State. A long forward pass from Killinger into the eager arms of Frank for a forty yard gain and a thirty nine yard run by Brumbaugh were high lights of the game. Plaid Shows Clinch in First Half "The Carnegie Tech eleven," was reported as being quite strong this year, Penn State grid followers really did not expect to see such a style of football as the Skibos displayed in the first half of the game. The latter playing at perhaps their best form this season, opened the conflict with a rush and, securing the ball on the kickoff, proceeded to rip up the Nittany line. They annexed a first down immediately and, following an exchange of punts in which they held a slight advantage, executed the triple pass mentioned above which gave them seven point lead over the Blue and White. Anxious to increase this score, knowing as they did of Penn State's faculty of recovering its losses, the Plaid warriors sought like wildcats and held Devedek's men even during the first quarter. A snarl penalty in the second quarter, though, forced the Tech team to forfeit the ball and then Penn State began the long march which led to the taking of the score. Still fighting desperately, the Skibos finished out the half with the ball in Penn State's possession on the fifty yard line, the score being tied at 7-7. The second half though was all Penn State's and proved beyond a doubt the efficiency of the Bezeltran attack. The "hidden ball" style fooled the Plaid almost completely and time and again the Nittany backs tore thru for five and ten yards, the Tech players not carrying the ball until it was too late. The charge of the Lions was very fierce too. The runner went for long gains often, with two or three tucks hanging on him and his very impetus carried him through a mass of men. Only once did the Plaid defense prove capable of halting the Nittany offense. This time being at the opening of the half when Penn State carried the ball down on the seventeen yard line. On the other hand, the Blue and White team checked Carnegie Tech repeatedly and often threw Skibo backs for losses. The Pittsburgh aggregation only obtained two first downs during the entire half. Penn State Crisped Penn State entered the game sadly handicapped because of injuries and sickness and its victory over the Plaid entitles it to considerable credit. With Scifollum out with a bruised shoulder and Baer disabled with a sore knee, in addition to Madala being out permanently with a broken leg, Devedek was compelled to substitute for the entire left side of the line. Frank was injured into the line-up's last end, the Tech hills and Longe filled the positions at left tackle and guard left vacant by the loss of Madala and Baer. Captain Shell too was unable to play because of irritation of his throat and his place at fullback was taken by Innabi. Carnegie Tech started the game with its regular line although many substitutions were made before the fray was over. "Buz" made three substitutions for Penn State during the course of the game, putting in Redinger, Cornwell, and Palm in the last quarter. The First Quarter Deutz kicked off for Penn State, to (Continued on last page)
