PENN STATE FACES TOUGH OPPOSITION IN WASHINGTON

Western Foe Threatens Clean Record Of Lions---Has Made Great Progress Since First Few Games

Penn State's first gridit on battle on the Pacific Coast takes place to morrow, afternoon at Seattle when Bezdek's undefeated proteges line up against the University of Washington eleven in the final game of the serson Although the Nittany Llons are repeated to their remarkable record in castern football circles, a slight feeling of confidence exists in the western city and Washington fanns are expecting the Sun Dodgers at the Bitte and Washington fanns are expecting the Sun Dodgers will be and Washington the Leland Stanford team to a scoreless tie, after the latter had trimmed the Cregon Aggies by 14 to 7 The Oresonians had previously defeated Washingtons, and had the awsome respect of all Pacific Corst teams Under the guiding hand of Dobi, now head coach at Cornell, the Sun Dodgers welloped all comers and for nine consecutive seasons were undefeated. Their record was indeed iemarkable in 1910 their luck changed though and they have been up against it for some time This year, however, the western institution and star grid performer, to coach the eleven, with the result that Seattle is confidently expecting the Washington team to regard the seasons were undefeated. The Is Inexperienced

Washington's line, in addition to being light, is inexperienced and is perhaps the weakest part of the machine. Only four veterans appear in the lineup but they are grouped together and this is of considerable holp Clark and Ingram, at the tackle posts weigh about 190 pounds each and were members of last year's eleven while Roggs and Hobit, the guards, have played before and by their work this season have made the critics sit up and take notice Stanford made, little headway against these two stars. At the pivot position, appears Langhorne, a 185 pounder, who played in the packtield of the Freshman team last year but who was transfered to center assignment over him tomorrow because of its rather slow and has not yet acquired the marks of a star center. Haynes, a sub, may draw the center assignment over him tomorrow because of sreater training. The wings are taken care of by Wilson and Galligan, two ends who have made an impressive showing to date. Wilson especially has been prominent, due to the fact that he is an all-around player. He is a remarkable punter, his boots averaging almost sixty yards, and is a good drop-kicker likowise. Its secred the only points against California by kicking a thirty-(Continued on fourth page).
