A FOOTBALL TROPHY

No football team is worthier of recognition for great achievements accomplished during the past season than the Penn State eleven. Some permanent record of the present team should be in the possession of the college. This might be in the form of a football trophy presented by the students to Penn State in honor of the Nittany grid machine and it would serve as a nucleus of a much needed trophy room where symbols of Blue and White victories in athletics would be permanently kept.

It is the custom of many colleges and universities to commemorate athletic achievements by presenting such trophies to their institutions and in many cases a large and worth-while collection of memorials of victory is the proud possession of the school. These many reminders of past work serve to cement together traditions which are so essential to college spirit. Visiting Penn State teams at other colleges have been favorably impressed by such collections and have often expressed the opinion that there should be a similar group here.

With what past victories of Penn State are the average students familiar? There have been many notable accomplishments of former Penn State athletes of which the present student body is not aware. Shall we allow this condition to continue? If we do, the work of the 1921 football team will, in a few years, pass into oblivion, while the inauguration of the trophy idea will always keep before the coming college generations the worthiness of Penn State athletics.

The Student Council is now formulating plans for the presentation of some permanent record of the results of the games of the 1921 season to the college. The definite form of this trophy or the manner in which the money will be raised to purchase it have not been decided. However, no matter what the form of the trophy may be or what method will be used to raise the funds, Penn State students will, no doubt, back the plan so that the college in the future will always know of the achievements of the football team of 1921.

SWIMMING POOL

The memorial committee of the class of 1922 has made its report to the class recommending that the class as its gift to our beloved Alma Mater donate a swimming pool, which to the student mind is what Penn State needs most at the present time.

The committee has been working unusually hard for several months on this important matter and has given careful consideration to every possible thing which the class might properly establish as its memorial, and its unanimous decision is that the swimming pool is the most appropriate. This opinion is shared by the entire undergraduate body. Ask any student what is most needed at Penn State in the way of equipment for the well-being of the student body and instantly he mentions a swimming pool.

The Seniors are moving slowly and wisely in the selection of the memorial and no action has yet been taken on the splendid report made by the memorial committee. The matter was thoroughly discussed at the recent class meeting and held over to the next meeting after Christmas so as to give every member an opportunity to think over the matter and discuss it with his parents before taking any action. The class memorial is something which requires the undivided support of every member if it is to be an unqualified success and the Seniors are making sure that undivided support will be given before any action is taken.

WINTER SPORTS

Penn State's winter sports will be officially opened Thursday evening when the Nittany tossers meet the Juniata College basketball team. Let us remember that this sport together with wrestling and boxing will be the focus of athletic interest during the winter months and that they deserve the same splendid support which has just been accorded the football team throughout the season just ended. The basketball prospects are not very bright on account of the dearth of experienced players and this sport demands the utmost student support to bring about a successful season. Penn State men have not failed when called upon and we know that they will not fail in this duty now.

MORE MUSICAL PROGRAMS

The splendid musical program rendered by the College Choir last Sunday morning and evening at the chapel exercises was a most welcome observance of the Christmas season. The singing of the old Yuletide carols and the fine old Christmas hymns at the last chapel service before the Christmas vacation was an appropriate variation in the program of chapel services and was enjoyed by all.

Would it not be possible to have more musical chapel services? The rendition by the Chorus some weeks ago of Gounod's "Gallia" in place of the customary chapel address caused much favorable comment and was much enjoyed. Music of this character preaches its own sermon and sometimes has more spiritual effect than the finest sermon. Penn State has a splendid musical organization in the College Chorus and we are sure that the student body would welcome hearing it oftener in the chapel services.

GIRLS' VARSITY QUARTET TO TAKE TRIP IN JANUARY

A definite trip for the Girls' Varsity Quartet has been arranged for and is set for January twenty-sixth. At this time they will journey to Harrisburg where they will furnish the music at the annual alumnae banquet. Tentative plans are also being considered for a trip of the entire Girls' Glee Club in the near future. This will probably include Altoona and Pittsburgh.

INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS TO HOLD DANCE IN JANUARY

Members of the Industrial Engineering Society will hold a dance in the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity House, on the evening of Friday, January 13. Arrangements are being formulated to insure a highly enjoyable affair. With music furnished by Thompson's Orchestra, and with the co-operation and enthusiasm of the members, the dance is expected to be an unusual success.

NEW RULES TO GOVERN FUTURE LEAGUE GAMES

Longer Periods and Smaller Floor Mark Coming Fraternity And Unit Basketball Games

The inter-fraternity and inter-unit basketball league got off to a good start last week when the first full week's schedule was completed. Due to the large number of games to be played considerable difficulty in getting the floor has been encountered, but it is hoped within the near future that the schedules will work out under new arrangements. According to the new plan the games will be played on half the floor instead of the entire length. This will enable two games to be played at one time and the length of the halves to be increased to twelve minutes.

Due to the large number of organizations desiring the "gym" for practice a definite schedule is necessary. Mr. Myers, the new physical educational instructor, has worked out a new plan that will be strictly enforced after the holidays. According to the new arrangements, any fraternity or unit team may have the floor from twelve to three-thirty, by making arrangements beforehand with Mr. Myers. If they put an entire team on the floor.

Because of the varsity game on Thursday night and school closing this week, Tuesday and Wednesday will be the only nights that there will be league games. The schedule of the week is as follows:

Wednesday
Unit No. 21 vs Unit No. 3.
Unit No. 19 vs Unit No. 4.
Tuesday, Dec. 13

GLEE CLUB WILL FEATURE MEDICAL COLLEGE DANCE

Dean Robinson of the Music Department has announced that a concert has just been closed with the officers of the Glee Club of the Hannan Medical College of New York by which a joint concert and formal dance will be held March third, in the ball room of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. On the following evening, the Inter-collegiate Glee Club Concert will be held.

FROSH SCORE HIGH IN PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS

Professor Anderson, Head of the Department of Education and Psychology, reports that Psychological tests have been given to 332 members of the Freshman class. The results show a slight reduction in average grade from the score made by the Freshmen of a year ago. There are, however, a few individuals in the present Freshman class who made higher scores than have hitherto been made by the students in this institution.

One student completed the thirty minute test in twenty-three minutes, answering correctly 163, out of 168 questions. One percent of those taking the test made a score of 140 or more out of a possible 168. The average for the entire group is 91.5.

ARCHITECTS WILL STAGE PLAY IN NEAR FUTURE

Following the example of the Architectural Clubs in the other colleges and universities as well as the clubs in the large cities, the organization at Penn State will produce a play within the near future. The exact production that will be used has not yet been decided but it will be of an architectural nature.

It is planned at the present time to give the play earlier in the year. The production that is under consideration at the present time is a revision of the "Prolonged Thumb-tack" which was given at Cornell last year. This will give the Architects an opportunity to show their ability in the matter of the stage effects, the play from this standpoint at least should rival anything that has yet been given at Penn State. The cast and the various committees will be selected after Christmas vacation and work will begin at once on the production.

The club is also planning to run a large dance after the holidays. The plans are only on a tentative basis at the present time but work will be started as soon as school reopens.

PRE-LEGAL CLUB PRESENTS GIFT TO FACULTY MEMBER

Dr. Jacob Tanger, of the Department of History and Political Science was the speaker and recipient of a testimonial gift at a regular meeting of the Pre-Legal Club held last Friday evening in room 14, Liberal Arts Building. Dr. Tanger addressed the club on the subject, "New Developments in International Law," a topic well worthy of consideration in these days of international conference for the limitation of armaments in session at Washington, D. C.

At the conclusion of the speech, the president of the club, E. E. Overdorf '22, presented Dr. Tanger, on behalf of the club, with a testimonial of the good wishes and respect of its members in the form of a silver cream and
