

TEN COLLEGES IN SINGING CONTEST

Novel Advertising Plan The members of the Glee Club have conceived of a novel plan for advertising their trip to Hahnemann College and to the Intercollegiate Glee Club contest in New York on March third and fourth.

Post cards and placards bearing various pictures of the Glee Club, and the University Male Quartet have been printed. Among these pictures is one of the Male Quartet en-route to Panama and one of the entire Penn State Glee Club.

The posters will be sent to all Penn State Alumni in the vicinity of Harrisburg and Philadelphia in order to inform them of the present activity at Penn State. It is hoped that by this plan a strong representation of Penn State supporters may be insured at both of the coming contests.

TRUSTEES APPROVE NEW BUILDING PLAN

(Continued from first page) ... neering, agriculture, mines, liberal arts and natural science. These will be erected through future State appropriations as the need for them arises and the demand for additional students makes it imperative. The college is refusing admission to upwards of a thousand boys and girls each year and the need for these buildings is very great. Name of Course Changed

A request made by the college senate that the course in landscape architecture be changed in name to landscape architecture was approved by the trustees. They also created a new course in the school of engineering to be known as the course in architecture. Both of these changes were recommended by the college faculty senate in keeping with the added prestige obtained by graduates in these branches.

A few more faculty appointments were made and resignations accepted. Several faculty men were granted leave of absence for short periods and routine business occupied much of the meeting time.

Judge H. Walton Mitchell, Pittsburgh, was re-elected president of the board of trustees. The executive committee was also re-elected including the following: Vance C. M. Corshak, Harrisburg; B. S. Byard, Pittsburgh; M. L. Lowery, Scranton; Judge J. O. Shields, Philadelphia, and Mitchell.

REGULATIONS ANNOUNCED FOR WIRELESS CONCERTS

(Continued from first page) ... distinct entertainment on practically any night except when the messages come from long distances. The regenerative Thompson set also been added to the receiving set at the station. The station is a member of the American Radio Relay League and as a unit of Trunk-line B, which extends from Boston to California, relay messages every night. Communication can be maintained with points as far distant as New Orleans, Kansas, and Palm Beach, Florida, on most nights while all stations within a five hundred mile radius can be reached at all times.

The arrangements for the appointments on the nights that are reserved for ladies and their escorts must be made while for the other nights, this regulation does not have any effect. Mr. Crossley, who is in charge of the Radio station, will be glad to make any appointments desired.

TWO MILE RELAY TEAM RACES IOWA TOMORROW

(Continued from first page) ... ponents of as high a calibre as that which Berlek took to the metropolis to represent this institution on the gridiron last fall.

Barron in Hurdles Harold Barron, who has returned to complete his work at Penn State during the second semester, will represent his Alma Mater in the high hurdles events at New York tomorrow afternoon. Barron was the first American to finish in the high hurdles in the Olympic Games and for three years he was the swiftest runner to oppose Earl Thompson the Dartmouth star, who was the ruler of the indoor and outdoor timber who was graduated last spring. Barron will undoubtedly receive his greatest opposition from Vyan the Notre Dame star. Others who will oppose Barron are Mawes and Thompson of Princeton, Edman of the New York A. C. Fallon and McKel of Boston College, Wells of Colby, and Sauls of the Boston A. C. Stomka and Commins of the New York University and Singer of the New York A. C.

Romig to Run Three Mile Penn State Club Plans BIG MEETING WEDNESDAY

(Continued from first page) Penn State students are always interested in the track activities of "Hondy" Romig. Romig is a former intercollegiate cross country champion and also holds the Interstate Two Mile Championship of America. He is at present taking post graduate work at Penn State, and while he will not be able to represent his college on the track, he is participating in a three mile race at the Millrose games tomorrow. He is being looked upon with an intense amount of interest. Romig will run against Worthington and Myers of the Meadowbrook Club and O'Donnell and Taylor of the Nativty Club.

Helfrich Not to Run 600 According to the original plans of the meet, Alvin Helfrich was to have been entered in the "Millrose 600" but another is being planned for the coming spring, and better organization and Coach Martin intends to save him as much as possible in order that he may be able to put all his speed into the relay race. Had it been possible to carry out the original plans, Helfrich would have met such runners as Earl Eby of Penn, Tom Campbell of Yale and Stevenson of Princeton. Harold Parent, '12, a former Penn State hurdler has been entered in the 45 yard high hurdles race by the Meadowbrook Club of Philadelphia.

at the system of giving credit for winter sports to those playing on university ball teams, the basketball league has enjoyed a lively season. The members of the winning team will probably be rewarded with small gold basket balls in watch-fob form, although it is to be discussed at the meeting tomorrow night.
