

Can The Two Year Aggies Get In College?

The College Canning Factory Was Rushed Last Week

VOL. XVII. No. 33

STATE COLLEGE, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1922

PRICE FIVE CENTS

PLAYERS OFFERING SUPER-PRODUCTION FOR ANNIVERSARY

'The Witching Hour' Will Excel In Quality of Cast, Scenery And Lighting Effects

PLAY WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Special Souvenir Programmes Prepared to Commemorate Second Year of Activities

On Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, The Penn State Players will produce in the Auditorium their second anniversary performance, 'The Witching Hour' by Augustus Thomas.

It would be very easy to go over the cast member by member, and single out each one for his splendid work in the interpretation of this great American tragedy, so well is each role played. The lead is admirably portrayed by Mr. P. E. Stanley, '23.

The scenic effects are to be new and startling. They were conceived by Mr. Porterfield and executed under his direction.

As this is the anniversary offering of The Players a special gift program has been planned. It will contain an appreciation of The Players by Dr. W. S. Dye, head of the Department of English, a picture of the organization with the personnel, some criticism of 'The Witching Hour,' and the program of the performance.

SHIELDS TAKES FIFTH PLACE IN BOSTON RACE

'Joie' Ray Wins Special Mile Contest in Field of Speedy Distance Runners

When 'Larry' Shields stepped out on the boards at the Boston Athletic Meet, which was held in the Hub City last Saturday night, he opposed some of the best runners in the United States and was forced to bow to four of them in the Hunter special mile race in which he competed at that time.

Lay took the lead from the start of the race and held it throughout the entire course, finishing a good distance in the lead of his opponents, who were more or less bunched together.

The coach is still anxiously decided whether he will send a team to the meet which will be held in Buffalo next Saturday. Hefflich has been designated for some time in New York where a specialist has been endeavoring to improve his injured ankle, and he may not be in condition to take part in any race this week-end.

The coach is still anxious to get all Freshmen, who are able to run at all, to report for track in order that he may be able to select a team to take part in the Freshmen Medley Relay Race, one of the events on the Intercollegiate Indoor Championship meet which will be staged in New York on the eleventh of March.

DR. ANDERSON ADDRESSES ALTOONA COMMERCE BODY Dr. D. A. Anderson, Professor of Education, addressed the Altoona Chamber of Commerce on 'Psychology Applied to Business,' last Thursday.

RING ARTISTS OPEN CARD WITH VICTORY

KILLINGER'S FRESHMAN FIVE MAKES COMPLETE SWEEP ON LONG JAUNT

Victories Scored Over Kiski, Pitt Frosh, and W. Va. Freshmen On Consecutive Days

Penn State's Freshman five increased its string of victories to five straight last week-end by making a clean sweep on the annual western trip. Ushoring in the journey by a 42 to 24 triumph over Kiski, the yearlings proceeded to defeat the Pitt Frosh by 42 to 35 and then closed the jaunt by demolishing the West Virginia Freshmen at Morgantown, the final score of this contest being 45 to 23.

The first game, that with the Kiski passers, occurred on Thursday evening and was comparatively easy for play. Killinger, grabbing the ball on a tap from Gschwind, tossed it to Artelt who shot it through the basket for the initial score of the game. Field goals by the team followed as the half progressed while Stuckeman contributed eight successful foul goals out of twelve attempts, thus running the Blue and White total up to eighteen points. Kiski, in the meanwhile, was checked in its efforts to penetrate the yearlings' defense and was limited to twelve points, Wild, a Black and White forward, negotiating ten of these through excellent foul shooting.

In the second period, the first-year men were going at a still better clip and accordingly had little trouble remaining in the lead. Kiski was again held to a single field goal. The yearlings, however, found the basket easily and dropped seven shots through the hoop. Stuckeman kept up his good work by tossing eight more foul goals. The game ended 42 to 24 in favor of the Freshmen.

The line-up: Freshmen Kiski: Shaner.....F..... Wild Hartman.....F..... McNally Gerhardt.....C..... Amas Artelt.....G..... Millman Stuckeman.....G..... Vasser Substitutions—Yost for Hartman, Hamsey for Artelt, Hilton for Vasser. Field Goals—Shaner 4, Hartman 3, Gerhardt 2, Stuckeman 1, Vasser 1, Wild 1. Foul Goals—Stuckeman 18 out of 24, Wild, 20 out of 34. Referee—Boyd.

Panther Cubs Defeated Over-confidence, as the result of the easy victory scored over Kiski, was of almost fatal consequence to the Nittany Freshmen when they encountered the Panther Cubs on Friday evening, but a brace in the second brought the necessary punch to the team and the (Continued on last page)

PROF. DE CAMP LECTURES ON OCCULTISM TONIGHT

The fifth of the series of Tuesday evening Free Lectures, held under the direction of the Liberal Arts School, will be a popular discussion of the phases of occultism, such as levitation, telepathy, and so-called communication with the departed, and will be given by Professor J. E. DeCamp tonight, February seventh at seven o'clock, in the Old Chapel. Professor DeCamp will discuss the reasons for human interest in spiritual mediums from the standpoint of modern psychology.

He will discuss some of the assumptions of psychology and occultism, and a few of the psychological experiments which throw light upon the occult. The attitude of psychology towards the occult and reasons therefore, will also be given consideration.

SOPHOMORES PREPARING FOR UNDERCLASSMAN HOP On the evening of March seventeenth, the first formal affair for the two underclassmen that has ever been undertaken at Penn State will be held in the Armory in the form of a Sophomore Hop. Many other colleges have similar affairs for the two lower classes but such a thing has not heretofore been attempted at Penn State. Its success depends largely upon the support and cooperation of the two under classes.

The orchestra has not yet been definitely chosen, but Chairman Walter of the Sophomore Hop Committee announces that they have bids from several of the best orchestras in the country. Tickets will be three dollars per couple for Sophomores and two dollars per couple for Freshmen. The dates of sale will be announced at a later time.

DR. FLETCHER IS ELECTED STATE HORT. PRESIDENT Dr. S. W. Fletcher, head of the Department of Horticulture, has been elected President of the State Horticultural Association, of Pennsylvania. Walter B. Nisley of the Agricultural Extension Department has been re-elected Secretary of the Vegetable Growers' Association.

Win Over Springfield College In Close Meet, 4 to 3

OUTCOME OF MATCH NOT DECIDED UNTIL LAST BOUT

New Glove Welders Show Up To Advantage—Crowther Clinches Meet For Penn State

Battling evenly until the last bout, Crowther slugged his heavyweight opponent to win a decision and a four to three victory for Penn State in the opening boxing meet against Springfield Y. M. C. A. College in the Armory last Saturday evening.

Penn State fight fans witnessed something new when the Nittany mentor, for the first time, was forced to shift three of his lighter men to the heavier weights in order to successfully halt the enemy's attack. Vasilio at 145, Dodner at 160 pounds and Taylor in the 175 pound division were all fighting above their regular positions and showed great ability.

In a number of classes, the New Englanders were excellent boxers. This was especially true of Captain Pucillo, who gave a wonderful exhibition of ring work in the 145 pound pound class.

Benze Loses to Diemer When the timekeeper's bell sounded, Benze, a new boxing representative in the 115 pound class, stepped into the (Continued on last page)

SONGSTERS WILL VISIT THREE EASTERN CITIES

Jaunt in March Includes Williamsport, Philadelphia and New York Intercollegiate Contest

The coming Glee Club trip as now planned provides for three concerts to be given by the club. The songsters will leave Penn State on Wednesday, March first, going first to Williamsport where they will give a concert in the Auditorium of the Williamsport High School that evening.

On Thursday morning the club will leave Williamsport for Philadelphia, and on Friday evening, March third, they will engage in a joint concert with the musical clubs of the Hahnemann Medical School at the Bellevue Stratford. Following the contest, the rival musical organizations will hold a 'formal' contest in the Bellevue ballroom. The contest with Hahnemann will be a very interesting one since the members of this school have always been highly successful in musical endeavor.

Sing in New York Saturday Saturday will find the Club in New York all prepared to uphold Penn State's honor in the intercollegiate Glee Club contest which will be held in Carnegie Hall. Many of the best collegiate musical organizations of the country will be represented at this time, but Dean Robinson's proteges are out to win the first leg on the cup which is to be presented to the winner.

Each club is required to sing three songs in the intercollegiate contest. The first number to be given by Penn State's representatives will be 'Give A House' by Bantock which is an old English drinking song. Incidentally all of the clubs are required to render this song which is known as the test song. As a second number the songsters will give 'By The Sea' by Dudley Buck, a song which received much favorable comment here at the Pennsylvania Day concert. As a third number the club will sing 'Old Penn State' a song which is unknown to many of the present Penn State students. The words to this song were written by Ex-President Sparks and are well suited to be used as a Penn State song.

Thirty members of the Glee Club will make the coming trip. This number includes seven men for each voice. Dean Robinson as accompanist and H. Fishburn who is present student manager of this organization. As yet no trials have been held for the coming trip but interest is running high among the members of the club, and there promises to be some real, live competition at the time of the trials.

GRAD WILL SPEAK ON TOWN IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. H. E. Dahl, '19, who is now Landscape Architect for the Bureau of Municipalities of the State Department at Harrisburg, will give an illustrated lecture on the subject, 'The Improvement of the Country Town,' at 6:45 o'clock on Thursday evening in Room 100, Horticulture Building.

This lecture will be delivered under the auspices of the Crabapple Club and of the Landscape Gardening Society, and is of timely interest for all Agricultural students who have any interest at all in the welfare of their home towns, which in many cases are villages. It is obvious that those who come from cities can also profit from a lecture of this nature.

RE-EXAMS AGAIN ESTABLISHED

The Faculty action abolishing re-examinations has been rescinded. Students who received a D grade in first semester subjects will therefore be entitled to a re-examination. The first re-examinations will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 11, and the others on succeeding Saturday afternoons. A complete schedule of re-examinations will be posted as soon as it can be prepared.

'DICK' HARLOW COLGATE MENTOR

Penn State Coach Signs Contract To Become Head Football and Boxing Instructor

LEAVES HERE IN SPRING

Richard C. Harlow, Penn State football coach since 1912 and varsity boxing mentor since the introduction of that sport, has signed a contract with Colgate University to coach football and boxing at that institution.

Coach Harlow will go to Colgate this spring when he will assume his coaching duties as Assistant Professor of Physical Education. He will have complete control of football and boxing there, including the selection of his assistants.

Will Have Hard Task

Dick's first activities at the New York institution will start in a few months when he will be in charge of the spring football practice, in preparation for an exceedingly difficult list of opponents to be met on the gridiron next fall. Colgate is slated for games with Cornell and Princeton on successive Saturdays while Syracuse, Lehigh and Columbia are other opponents Coach Harlow must meet in his first year at that institution.

Colgate, one of the older universities of the country and having a student body of about seven hundred, has gained a high reputation in athletics despite the small number of undergraduates enrolled there. It is ranked with the leading colleges in athletics and its sport schedules are always composed of a very formidable list of opponents.

Harlow a Penn State Booster

Dick, a Penn State graduate in 1912, is one of the greatest backers of the Blue and White school. He thoroughly believes in the work of this college and his respect for her athletes is such that he states that the assistants he chooses shall be Penn State graduates. Coach Harlow's relations with the college are the very best and he asserts that in his new position he will continue to work for the betterment of Penn State. His connection with other athletic coaches here has been most friendly.

Has Much Coaching Experience

Immediately upon graduation here in 1912, Dick Harlow stepped into the position of graduate football coach and ever since that time, except for a year in the army, he has continued to hold the Nittany coaching reins in some capacity.

In 1912 and the following two years, Harlow assisted 'Bill' Hollenback in turning out winning elevens. In 1915 and 1916, a graduate method of coaching was employed and Dick was connected with Bud Whitney and Charley Brinkley in directing the Nittany football fortunes. After a year with Xen Scott in 1917 followed by a year in the army, Coach Harlow became Besdek's most able assistant and has since continued in the capacity of line coach.

Dick was the innovator of boxing at Penn State in 1918 when he started with inter-fraternity matches. The next year, intercollegiate boxing was introduced here and, aided by Coach Harlow's expert instruction, Penn State has lost only two meets in her ring history, the Navy glove men defeating the Nittany sluggers both times.

A Great Football Player

Harlow's career as a football player has been little short of phenomenal. Coming from the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia where, as a tackle, he was unanimously accorded a position as tackle on the All-Scholastic eleven of that city, he entered Penn State in 1908 in a crippled condition as a result of a broken ankle. Despite this handicap he made the freshman team and was chosen its captain. That same fall, because of his excellence, he played with the varsity against Pitt.

In his Sophomore year, Dick gained the varsity position at left tackle on 'Bill' Hollenback's great undefeated eleven and he continued to hold down the same berth until graduation. Each year he was put in the All-Pennsylvania lineup and at the close of his last season he was considered by many football critics to be the best tackle in America. He established an unequalled football record that year when, in five major games played, he broke through the opposing line to block seventeen kicks.

TOSSERS BEAT PITT AND LOSE TO W & J

Secure Even Break On Trip Thru Western Part of State

BOTH GAMES MARKED BY FAST AND FIERCE PLAY

Panther Succumbs Following Hard Fight—Penn State Too Confident At Washington

After twisting the tail of the touted Pitt Panther at Pittsburgh on Friday evening for the ninth consecutive time in the last five years, Penn State's varsity tossers fell before the superior playing of the W. & J. quintet at Washington on Saturday night and were thereby compelled to accept an even break on their first trip of the season. The respective scores on the trip were 29 to 27 and 23 to 26.

The game in the Smoky City was a battle from start to finish, with Coach Harman's warriors retaining the edge in the second and deciding half. Keyed up to the highest notch, these individuals entered the contest with a determined air and, carrying the fight to the confident Pitt passers, displayed the best brand of ball that they have shown this year. The suddenness and unexpectedness of such an exhibition was undoubtedly the main cause of the Panther's downfall. The latter was over-confident and did not expect severe (Continued on last page)

TEAM SELECTED TO MEET LEHIGH MATMEN

Brown and White Wrestlers Were Defeated by New York Athletic Club, 24-0

In all but the 135 and 158 pound classes, the Penn State wrestling squad, which will meet the Lehigh matmen at Bethlehem next Saturday has been picked and will be composed of the following men:

- 115 pound class—Captain Watson. 125 pound class—Weinschenk. 135 pound class—Hill or Evans. 145 pound class—Oehrlé. 158 pound class—Parks or Wetzel. 175 pound class—Wilson. Heavyweight—Sarson.

These men have won their positions as a result of the trials which were held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Coach Dotar, however, has reached no definite decision in the 135 and 158 pound classes and special bouts will be held during the early part of the present week for the purpose of determining which two of the four men listed shall represent the Blue and White when the first meet of the season takes place next Saturday.

Captain Watson had very little opposition in the trials and as a result he will lead his team to the mats in the contest with Lehigh. Watson has had considerable grappling experience. Last year he won the title of Intercollegiate Champion for his class and the coach is looking forward in hopes that Watson will be able to repeat his former successes this year. He can be counted upon to win the majority of his bouts and should therefore prove to be an capable leader of his team.

In the 125 pound class, Penn State will be represented by Weinschenk, who has been doing good work all season. In the finals which were held last Saturday afternoon, the latter obtained a decision over Hunter and thus earned the privilege of representing his Alma Mater in the mat at Bethlehem.

Coach Dotar has been undecided as to who shall represent Penn State in the 135 pound class. In the preliminaries, Evans lost to Boone, who in turn lost to Williams. In the finals, however, Williams was thrown by Hill after the bout had gone into an extra period. Evans and Boone again met on Saturday afternoon and the former seemed to have a slight advantage over his opponent. Hill and Evans will in all probability meet on the mat this evening in order to determine the Penn State representatives in that class.

Oehrlé has been selected to fill the bill for the Nittany grapplers in the 145 pound class. On Saturday afternoon he threw Mandorville, who made such a splendid showing on last year's Freshman team and who has been showing great improvement in his mat work this year. Oehrlé has appeared on the mat for Penn State on many previous occasions and should be able to show up exceptionally well in the majority of the bouts which take place this year.

Just who will wrestle for Penn State in the 158 pound class in a question. In the trials, neither Parks or Wetzel was able to gain a decided advantage over each other. Parks was awarded the decision in the first nine minutes of the bout, having an advantage of at least one minute of time. However, in an extra six minutes of the bout Wetzel had the advantage of at least five minutes. (Continued on last page)

'JOLLIES OF 1922' WILL EXCEL PAST REVUES OF REHABILITATION MEN

Five Episodes Will Compose New Type of Ex-Soldiers' Annual Musical Production

If talent, beauty, excellent direction, and persistent effort count for anything in the success of a musical comedy, Penn State may look forward to the coming 'Jollies of 1922' with the liveliest anticipation, for all of these qualities are to be found in the four rehearsals which the cast of seventy has thus far held.

The Rehabilitation Club's annual production, which will be staged Friday and Saturday, February seventeenth and eighteenth, is for the third time, under the personal supervision of Mr. E. G. Moyer who represents the Joe Tron Production Company, of Chicago. This fact in itself assures an entertainment of first rank, and Mr. Moyer believes that 'The Jollies of 1922' which is precisely the same production as was recently staged by him in Tampa, Florida, and at Palm Beach, Florida, for the winter tourists at the Palmetto Hotel, will surpass all his former successes at Penn State.

Will Be Revue Type

The 'Jollies' will include five episodes, and while the performance will be of the popular revue type of entertainment, a plot connects the various scenes. The cast which the Talent Committee has selected to carry out this plot could not be better. Twenty-two co-eds whose comeliness as well as singing and dancing talent are of the first rank will appear with fifteen principals in a dancing chorus, while in the minstrel scene which is introduced in a novel manner in the last act, thirty additional men will appear. Of these minstrels the personnel is composed of the best of last year's group, while the remainder have been chosen anew.

The book for the entire show has been written for the Bren Company by James I. Madison, a New York writer who has many successes to his credit and who writes exclusively for such comedians as Frank Tinney, Raymond Hitchcock, Al Jolson, Eddie Carroll, and others. Mr. Joe Bren of the Bren Company, one of the most popular show writers in the United States, has written the music for the 'Jollie,' while Mr. Moyer himself devised and arranged the dancing which is to be one of the features of the production.

Special Scenery and Costumes

The scenery and costumes, which have been created especially for this production, by the best of Chicago's costumers and scenic artists, rival those of the best road attractions, while to handle the elaborate scenic effects which are part of the show, special apparatus is being constructed in the Auditorium.

As has been announced, the 'Rehearsals' will use the proceeds of the 'Jollies' to finance the placing of the 'S' on Mount Nittany. Both for this reason and because of the fact that the last two productions which the Rehabilitation Club has staged have enjoyed such a high degree of success, it is expected that the Auditorium will be filled both nights. Tickets for the show are in the hands of members of the Class of 1922 and of the Rehab Club and may be exchanged for reserved seats at the Co-op on Wednesday, February fifteenth.

MASON-DIXON SEVEN ARE TO FURNISH PROM MUSIC

Plans for the annual Junior Prom, which will be held in the Armory on the evening of April twenty-eighth, are rapidly materializing and the affair this year promises to be one of the best of its kind ever held at Penn State. Good music is a certainty, as Chairman Etter of the Junior Prom Committee reports that the Mason-Dixon Seven have been signed up for the occasion. Robert Hugh Brackenridge of Los Angeles, California, will have charge of the decorations and they will undoubtedly be very elaborate. Mr. Brackenridge is in charge of decorating at the Allen Theatre in Cleveland, and is known as one of the best decorators and costumers in America.

CO-EDS ENTERTAIN AT FORMAL DANCE FRIDAY

Maple Lodge and Diemer Cottage girls made merry at a formal dance in the Women's Building last Friday evening. Balloons and valentines carried out an attractive decoration scheme and the novelty elimination dance, in which balloons were tied to the girls' ankles, afforded much amusement.

Dean Margaret A. Knight, Miss Ruth Stanwood, Miss Evelyn Smith, Mrs. R. L. Watts, Mrs. J. H. Hill, Dr. Edith H. Swift and Miss Katherine Dabney also attended the dance as guests. (Continued on last page)

TWO YEAR AGGIES ENDEAVORING TO 'GET IN COLLEGE'

Actual Rights and Standing of Shorter Course Men is Being Investigated

STUDENT COUNCIL IS INVESTIGATING STATUS

Paying Same Dues and Fees, Aggies Claim the Right to Some Form of Recognition

Will Penn State's Two Year Aggies 'Get In College'? This is one of the questions which has come before the Student Council since a recent meeting of the Two Year Agricultural students who came together to find what could be done toward obtaining equal or proportionate class privileges and customs with the four-year men.

For some time past, considerable discussion has taken place among the two-year 'Agiess' as to whether or not they should be entirely deprived of class privileges as they now are. Since they are subject to many of the restrictions borne by the members of the regular four year courses and since they must pay equal fees and dues, some class recognition is undoubtedly due them.

As a result of the discussion which has steadily grown more pronounced, a meeting of the class was recently called, and a resolution to present the matter to the Student Council for decision was adopted.

The latter organization has appointed a committee which is now investigating the matter, and it is expected that the findings of the committee will be announced very soon. The decision of the Council will then be put before the Two Year Agricultural men with whom the final decision will rest, as to whether or not they will accept the conditions laid down by the Student Council.

SIX SESSIONS TO COMPOSE 'Y' BIBLE STUDY COURSE

Fraternities Will Be Asked To Discuss Suggested Topics At House Meetings

In accordance with precedent, The Penn State Young Men's Christian Association is initiating the formation of Bible Study courses in the various fraternity houses. This year they are suggesting six meetings for fraternities, to be held under the 'discussion' rather than the 'lecture' method. The subjects for discussion are as follows: (1) What objects other than social can Penn State legitimately expect from her fraternities? (2) What determines the value of a man or woman? (3) How can an honest man be at once scientific and Christian? (4) Who is a Hypocrite? (5) How 'dead' is the 'Honor System' issue? (6) What is Jesus' cause in the world?

These six sessions will be conducted by a member of the fraternity house or a suitable faculty member. Questions framed to direct the discussion will be furnished on request while those desiring additional help are urged to attend the Normal class for discussion of fraternity problems which will meet this evening in Room 13, Liberal Arts building.

A new course in Bible Study will begin next Thursday evening when Professor Dennis of the Rural Life Department will start a class in the study and discussion of 'Denmark—A Cooperative Commonwealth.' This class will meet for the first time in Room 11, Liberal Arts Building. This is the course that Sherwood Eddy recommended so highly.

ORCHESTRA PLEASES AT SUNDAY CONCERT

The College orchestra made its first public appearance of the year last Sunday afternoon when they appeared as the first number of the Sunday afternoon musical entertainments, to be given throughout the winter under the auspices of the Department of Music. The concert was one of the best studied recitals ever given in the Auditorium and the large audience was long and loud in their praise for the numerous selections that were given.

Seniors Notre

Seniors graduating next June are asked to make all arrangements for caps and gowns as soon as possible. The date of February fifteenth has been set as the time limit when all data should be in the hands of the committee.

The committee consisting of S. B. Gregory, Araceli; R. S. Adams, 134 W. Beaver Ave.; and R. R. Bortner, 1315 S. Elm St., request that each graduating senior hand in certain requirements. The following is required: Name, College Address, Weight, Height, and size of hat desired.