DATE IS CHANGED FOR OBSERVANCE OF FATHER'S DAY

Change in Date Will Not Affect Work of Committee—Publicity Campaign Started

CARNEGIE TECH NINE ON WEEK-END PROGRAM

President Thomas May Hold Short Business Session for Dads on Saturday Forenoon

Waiting for the decision of the Student Council in reference to changing the date the committee appointed to have charge of the observance of Father's Day was unable to take any definite step in continuing the work that was started one week ago. Instead the week was utilized to strengthen the arrangements that have been already made, which were not altered by the change of date, and to act on suggestions that had not been considered previously. The program for the week-end characterized by the Father's Day observance will depend much upon the President of the college since it was felt that the fathers would be pleased to meet the head of the Nittany institution. Due to the fact that Dr. Thomas must speak before the students on the date previously set for this event, it would be impossible for him to be at State College on May sixth and therefore the committee made a recommendation to the Student Council that the date be changed to May twentieth. This recommendation was made in view of the fact that May sixth is the only other Saturday which would be suitable and desirable to reserve for the fathers.

Program Is Unchanged

The program for the week-end will remain virtually unchanged even though the date has been changed. Some of the fathers will undoubtedly arrive at the college on the Friday of that week but no schedule of events will be made for that day. Friday afternoon and Friday night may be spent by the fathers in enjoying with their sons. Saturday promises to be a busy day for the Dads. Starting with the first class in the morning, the Dads will be invited to attend recitations with their sons and they will be given an insight into the actual operation of Penn State. Sometimes during the morning, the Dads will be invited to attend a business session at which Dr. Thomas will be the main speaker. The main purpose of the meeting will be to inform the fathers of the plans of the college in waging its campaign for recognition as a state university and to consider some means of forming a tie between the fathers of Penn State students.

In the afternoon, the main attraction will be the baseball game between the nine representing Penn State and Carnegie Tech. This contest should have no little influence in getting Dads' consent to visit the college since the Eans Wagner of national fame will probably appear on the diamond with his protégés.

The night will be divided between a mass meeting to be held in the Auditorium and a smoker to be given later in the Armory. The sub-committee that is making the arrangements for the mass meeting have agreed upon a tentative program that may be changed in some minor detail later but which should prove to be interesting in the extreme. The College Band and the Varsity Quartet will be called upon to render selections during the meeting. President Thomas will welcome the fathers to Penn State, to which will respond some father who will have been selected to represent the Dads. Coach Hugo Beitzke has consented to be a speaker on the program and he might later be persuaded to tell a baseball story. The smoker that is to be given immediately after the mass meeting will take place in the Armory and will be characterized by a program under the auspices of the Penn State Club. The details of this program has not yet been worked out but it is probable that one or two speakers, a play, or some athletic attraction will serve to entertain the guests.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY PROFS INSTRUCT BY RADIOPHONE

Teaching by radiophone will become an accepted method of instruction at the University of New York if the experiments which are soon to be conducted turn out favorably. The method if used will permit one instructor to lecture to two, three, or more classes at the same time, or if a student cannot come to the institution, "they will take the institution to the student."

SPECIAL VACATION TRAIN TO LEAVE FROM LEMONT

Extra Sections May Run to Wilkes-Barre and Harrisburg—No Western Accommodations

Announcement has been received from N. S. Longaker, Division Passenger Agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, regarding special trains to accommodate the student body returning home for the Easter vacation period. One special train only will be provided, leaving Lemont, Wednesday, April twelfth at 5:00 p. m., standard time, and arriving at Sunbury at 7:30 p. m. The schedule for this special train is as follows:

Lv Lemont	5:00 P. M.
Lewisburg	7:00 P. M.
Montandon	7:05 P. M.
Northumberland	7:25 P. M.
Ar. Sunbury	7:30 P. M.

If a sufficient number of students use the Lemont train, a special train will leave Sunbury at 7:35 and arrive in Wilkes-Barre at 9:35 p. m. Stops will be made at all points for which there are passengers. If there are not enough passengers to warrant a special train to Wilkes-Barre, accommodations will be provided on the regular train leaving Sunbury at 9:15 p. m., arriving in Wilkes-Barre at 11:25 p. m.

On the same date, a special train will be run to Harrisburg, providing there are enough passengers to make the special necessary. This special will (Continued on last page.)

TRACKMEN PREPARE FOR SOUTHERN TRIP

Nittany Stars Scheduled to Face Georgetown and V. P. I. in Dual Meets

Penn State's track team, composed of twenty men scheduled to participate in track and field events, will leave State College on Tuesday morning, April eleventh and journey to the southland where they will officially open the outdoor season with Georgetown University at Washington, D. C. on the following day, April twelfth.

The names of Connolly, LeGendro, Brewster, Walsh and Fitzgerald are famous in athletic circles at the Washington institution and these men, together with various other stars of the track and field, will oppose the Nittany runners in what promises to be a hard fought and closely contested meet. After the dual meet with Georgetown University, the Penn State track stars will leave on the second leg of their southern trip for Blacksburg, Va., where they are scheduled to meet the runners of V. P. I. on April fifteenth.

Woodward, Brittingham and Byrd are the outstanding figures on the powerful team which the Virginians are planning to put on the field and track to compete with the Blue and White runners. All of these men are holders of honors won in the Southern Intercollegiate last year and their records made in some of these events have not been broken.

Coach "Bill" Martin has selected the following men as the most likely candidates for the southern trip: Palm, Edgerton, Hofflich, Enck, Shields, Cooper, Snyder, Rice, Grubb, McManion, Greene, Barron, Hill, Kauffman, Alexander, Resler, Heikel, Hess, Houser and Everett. These men form a formidable combination and one which should give a good account of itself in the dual meets with Georgetown and V. P. I. For training purposes the team will remain in Virginia until Wednesday, April nineteenth, returning to State College at the same time the remainder of the athletes will be coming back (Continued on last page.)

UNITS MAKING PLANS FOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

Fifteen Unit Managers Report for Inter-Unit Baseball Schedule This Season

Fifteen unit baseball managers reported at the meeting called last Wednesday evening at The Berkshire by W. D. Hellman '23, athletic manager for the Penn State Club, and formulated plans for the coming inter-unit baseball schedule. At least five or six more units are expected to report before the opening of the season.

Athletic Director Berdek is actively backing the inter-unit work and has pledged his support in the coming baseball season. Already arrangements have been made with the Athletic Department whereby the units will be permitted to use the varsity bats and other pieces of equipment which would be very hard to get for the games. The Penn State Club will furnish the baseballs and each unit will be required to provide the gloves for the individual members of their team. The Athletic Association has also announced that five diamonds will be available for the (Continued on last page.)

SENIORS PLAN FOR JUNE PROGRAM AT CLASS GATHERING

Overdorf Made Permanent Class Secretary and Mellinger Head of Endowment Committee

1922 CLASS DAY WILL BE IMPORTANT EVENT

Progress towards successfully completing its college career was made by the Senior Class when Commencement plans were approved, honor men selected, committee reports heard, and other important business was transacted at the largely attended 1922 meeting on Monday evening in the Bull Pen.

A step towards making the class a permanent organization was made at the meeting when President D. E. Overdorf was unanimously elected as permanent class secretary in this important position. It will be Overdorf's duty to organize the group in its reunions, and, from all indications, the class looks forward to bringing an exceedingly large number together such times. The use of the class booklet, which will (Continued on last page.)

ENGLISH LACROSSE TEAM WINS CLASH

Visiting Oxford-Cambridge Combination Defeats Nittany Stick Welders Easily

Although forced to admit defeat at the hands of the powerful Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team last Tuesday afternoon, Penn State has reason to feel proud of the excellent showing made by the Nittany stick welders in the opening game of the season. The Englishmen won the battle by virtue of their irresistible attack and their superior defense. The score was 6 to 0.

Between fifteen hundred and two thousand people of the English and American forces face each other on New Beaver Field. Considering the fact that the game was played at four-thirty and that the class-room work of the first hour prevented a large number of the students from attending the contest, the showing of rosters and on-lookers was very creditable. The Penn State band was out for the game and put forth its usual high class brand of music.

Englishmen Strong on Defense. The outstanding feature of the game was the excellent defensive work displayed by the Englishmen whenever their citadel was in danger of being invaded by the Nittany stickmen. Time after time when the ball was coming down the field within striking distance, the English players arranged themselves in mass formation in the vicinity (Continued on last page.)

FROSH BALL TOSSERS LEAD IN CAGE SERIES

Yearling Team Has Record Of Three Victories—Juniors Hold Second Place

With a record of three victories and no defeats, the Freshman basketball team is leading the Interclass Basketball League. To date each team has played three games. The tournament began last Thursday and the last games will be played next Tuesday. Tonight, besides the Freshman-Sophomore Scrap, the Juniors and Seniors will clash. Tuesday marks the closing games of the league, with the Seniors playing the Freshmen and the Juniors meeting the Sophomores.

To date the results of the games are: Thursday, March 30. Juniors 29—Seniors 16. Freshmen 41—Sophomores 14. Monday, April 3. Sophomores 20—Seniors 17. Tuesday, April 4. Freshmen 62—Seniors 29. Juniors 28—Sophomores 17. Wednesday, April 16. Freshmen 40—Juniors 12. The Freshmen are leading the league, having won three games and lost none. The Juniors with two wins and one defeat are holding second place. Next comes the Sophomores with one victory and two reverses, while the Seniors hold last place with a record of three defeats.

LAST NUMBER OF "X" MOVIES WILL BE SHOWN SATURDAY

The last of the series of free moving pictures in Old Chapel will be given by the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday night at eight o'clock. The production to be shown is "The Outside Woman," featuring Wanda Hawley.

SENIOR POETS WILL ENTER COMPETITION

All Seniors of any poetic ability should submit a poem to Dr. W. S. Dye not later than May first, and from this number the names will be chosen to be submitted to the Senate class meeting for the election of the class poet. This is a new method being inaugurated by the class in order that a man will not be indiscriminately selected for the position.

PLAYERS SET TO STAGE "CLARENCE"

Popular American Farce Will Be Presented in Auditorium on Friday and Saturday

In the Auditorium the stage is set for the performance this evening and tomorrow evening of Clarence, which is to be the third feature production of The Penn State Players this season. No Jabot has been spared in making this performance outclass any previous offering of the organization, and with such a goal before the club, the play attains unusual caliber. The comedy, Clarence, is very typical of the American stage and presents Booth Tarkington at his best. After the professional run of this play, critics agreed unanimously that it was the greatest of all American comedies. Surely there has never been a play that has enjoyed a more successful professional life. Recently it was released for amateur production and The Players were fortunate to be able to secure it for presentation at this time. The cast of this show includes among its roles the best talent available in the institution. From over a hundred who tried out for the various parts a carefully selected cast was made and Mr. C. H. Johnson, Director of The Penn State Players, is sure that he has assembled the (Continued on last page.)

ENGINEERS AND CHEMISTS TAKING INSPECTION TRIPS

Seniors and Juniors Will Visit Leading Industrial Plants in the East

Senior Engineers and Junior Chemists departed early this week on their annual inspection trips to large industrial plants and similar places of interest in the east. The members of the Civil Engineers went to Altoona, first, where they were entertained by the Chamber of Commerce and taken in automobiles to several places of engineering interest. The Mechanical, Electrical, and Mechanical engineers left State College on Wednesday, proceeding first to Philadelphia. The remainder of the week will be spent in the vicinity of the city. The architects will pay particular attention to the colonial architecture of Chestnut Hill and Germantown. They will also pass a short time in Bryn Athyn, where the Cathedral will be visited in company of Mr. Raymond Pitcairn, its designer and donor.

The Industrial Engineers made a stop at Harrisburg and Steelton before arriving in Philadelphia. Electrical and Mechanical students will visit Newark, N. J., where the plant of John A. Roebling will be inspected. All the men with the exception of the Civils are to spend some time in New York. The wonderful church of St. John the Divine will be an object of interest to the architects there. The Electrical and Mechanical Engineers will spend Wednesday, April twelfth, in Schenectady, leaving for home in the evening of that date. Leaving Altoona today, the Civil Engineers will stop at Cresson to inspect water and sewage treatment. The remainder of their trip will be devoted to Pittsburgh and its vicinity where a study will be made of steel plants, tunnels and dams.

The chemistry department is being represented by forty-two Juniors, whose trip will center about Buffalo and Pittsburgh. Their interest will lie largely in the large steel mills and chemical industries which are to be found in the vicinity of these cities. Under the direction of Mr. H. H. Geist and Mr. L. R. Parks inspection visits will be made to the Carnegie Steel Works at Duquesne and to the Atlantic Refining Company at Pittsburgh.

COLLEGE WILL AWARD MANY ADVANCED DEGREES IN JUNE. Twenty-nine advanced degrees will be conferred at the June Commencement. There are six candidates for the degree of Engineer, two for Electrical Engineer, one for Civil Engineer, one for Mining Engineer, one for Metallurgical Engineer, and one for Industrial Engineer. The last two degrees have never before been conferred by this college.

PENN STATE NINE OPENS CARD WITH JUNIATA CONTEST

Blue and White Line-up Is Practically Selected—Strength of Huntingdon Aggregation Not Known

The 1922 Blue and White diamond team will meet its first opponent tomorrow afternoon when Coach Beitzke leads his forces against the strong Juniata aggregation on New Beaver Field at two o'clock. While it was impossible to learn anything of the Huntingdon team, the strong opposition which they offered the Nittany nine last year and the fact that they are reported to have an exceptionally strong combination this spring would serve to indicate that a good game is to be expected tomorrow afternoon.

Mullinger '22, star hurler for last year's varsity nine, will take the mound in Saturday's game with "Chap" Hars '23 as his batter. Mate Hars has been bothered with an injury to his hand for the last few days, and if he is unable to play the home plate position, "Red" Ludwick '22 will don the mitt for the Penn State forces. It is probable that both Miller '23 and Dan Hewitt '23, the first southpaw in a number of years, will also be given an opportunity to demonstrate their control in the Juniata game.

Captain Ullery will take his last season's position on first base and if he succeeds in bringing some of the hard hitting which he has been demonstrating in the daily practice games into play, he should count for more than one tally in the final figures. Considerable competition is being shown for the second bag berth and Coach Berdek was still undecided last evening whether he would give that assignment to Ewew '23 or to Loeffler '24. Loeffler played a pretty game on first in last year's yearling team and has been showing up well in the daily workout on Old Beaver. Whimsey '23 is chosen to hold down the second bag in tomorrow's game, it is certain that he will have to do his utmost to equal the work done by Merkle on last year's nine.

"Prexy" Sparks '22 will take up the third base position left vacant by the graduation of Killinger. Sparks has shown up well at the third sack and years, will also be given an opportunity to demonstrate their control in the Juniata game.

EASTER MUSIC AT CHAPEL SERVICES

Vocal Solos, Organ Selections and Mixed Quartet Feature Sunday Chapel Program

A chorus of eighty voices, organ selections and vocal solos will compose a program of special Easter music which is being arranged by the Department of Music to take place of the regular services, Sunday at both Chapels. Music is always associated with the Easter season and it is thought that such an arrangement of music will be appropriate for the Sunday services. Professor C. C. Robinson is supervising the program and it is expected that such a musical program will be appreciated. The order of the service will be similar to that given two weeks ago Sunday, the program being interspersed by short remarks in keeping with the spirit of a musical service. Professor Dennis will give a short discussion of the value of music in connection with Easter. Carols which are connected so frequently with the Christmas season are practically unknown at Easter services. It was with this idea that two old and characteristic Easter carols were included in the program. The one is "Ye Holy Child of Bethlehem" and the other, "Christ, the Lord, is Risen Again." Vocal solos and a mixed quartet will be the features of the program. The soloists will be Miss Reva M. Dana '24, soprano, Miss Gladys Fulton '24, soprano, D. V. Bauder '24, tenor, E. M. Halston '23 tenor and Mrs. Grace Parks (Continued on last page.)

SOCCERITES PREPARING FOR INTER-CLASS GAMES

Booters Have Extensive Scrimmage Work on Post-Easter Inter-Class Schedule

Spring soccer practice is now gaining headway and both varsity and inter-class players are preparing for the more extensive daily work which will begin immediately following the Easter vacation. Light daily scrimmages now comprise the work of the numerous candidates for the varsity and class teams. This training followed by more detailed work after the vacation period under Coach Packerham will serve to build up one of the strongest soccer aggregations turned out at this institution. Daily workouts for the class team candidates followed by a regular inter-class schedule later in the spring is intended to unearth many men of varsity calibre. A varsity player will be assigned as coach for each class team and under their training it is certain that class squads will be able to put forth a strong and well balanced schedule. Manager Miller has experienced some difficulty in getting a sufficient number of candidates for class teams to report for practice. Underclassmen are still scheduled for their winter gym credit and will not be able to change their sport until after the Easter vacation. It is then expected that a great (Continued on last page.)

DEBATERS OPPOSE COLORADO AGGIES IN 24 HOUR MEET

First Debate of Its Kind This Season is Scheduled for Monday Night

WESTERN COLLEGE TEAM ON LONG EASTERN TRIP

Nittany Line-Up Selected for Argument—Cornell Coach Will Choose Subject

Preparing for the first twenty-four hour debate of the season, and the first international debate to be held in several years, members of the debating squad are awaiting for the announcement of the question on which they will discuss next Monday night, April tenth, in the Auditorium with the Colorado Agricultural College of Fort Collins, Colorado.

The twenty-four hour debate, by means of which the utmost skill of the team in preparing a debate is tested, is not as well known to the students as the more common type of debating. In the coming meet with the Colorado Aggies, the question will be chosen by Professor Hunt, Debating Coach at Cornell. This question will be made known to the librarian who will immediately gather all possible material on the subject and set it aside in an envelope. The announcement of the question will be withheld from the debaters until twenty-four hours preceding the time for the debate to take place.

Very little is known of the strength of the Colorado debaters and the Nittany arguers have nothing on which to base any prediction as to the probable outcome of the meet. The Eastern trip which the Western debaters are at present making, is similar to the trip started last Wednesday by the Blue and White squad. Professor Gates, Coach of the Penn State team, says that judging from the letters received from the Western Institution, an extensive revival is taking place in the debating field. Plans are being undertaken at the Colorado Institution to build up the art of debating and put it on a higher standing.

The final selection of the members of the squad resulting from the preliminary trials is as follows: Jo Hays '24, J. C. Delan '23 and P. W. Anderson '23 with F. Taupich '23 as alternate. The members of the Colorado team are N. N. Dodge, David Shepard and Oliver Waggener. Edward House will serve as alternate.

COUNCIL ARRANGES IMPORTANT DATES

Body Approves Action of Senior Class in Changing Time for Valedictory Address

At a special meeting of Student Council held last Tuesday night, it was found necessary to change the date of the observance of Father's Day. Instead of May sixth which date was selected several weeks ago for this event, Saturday, May twentieth, will be set aside by the college for this annual affair. Approval of the action of the Senior class in changing the time for the valedictory address and Commencement time and the selection of a date for the tie-up scrap were made also before adjournment.

Due to the fact that President Thomas will not be able to be at the college on May sixth, it was thought advisable that the change be made to conform to the President's calendar. It is known that the President is very much interested in the success of the second observance and wishes to benefit by the opportunity given to meet the fathers of Penn State students.

Many of the fathers are coming to Penn State influenced by the promise that they will be given an opportunity of meeting the President. To add to this desire on the part of the fathers, the committee in charge had arranged for an informal reception in the form of a "smoker" to be held in the Auditorium on the Saturday night of that week and had also planned to have a short business session in the morning at which President Thomas would explain the aims of the college in endeavoring to gain the rating of a state university and the far reaching effects this would have on the educational system of the Commonwealth.

TI-UP SCRAP DATE SET

The date for the annual tie-up scrap between the members of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes was set for Saturday, April twenty-ninth. This will be on the Saturday following the Junior Prom. The committee that was appointed to have charge of the affair will decide upon the rules to govern the scrap and these will be published in a later issue of the COLLEGIAN. This committee consists of C. R. Beck, '22, chairman, T. H. Bitner, '22, J. L. Shields, '22, W. E. Atnarish, '23, B. D. Evans, '23, E. G. Tice, '23, W. H. Payne, '23.

During the past week and a half, the new constitution of the student organizations have been presented to the three upper classes for ratification and these classes have approved of them. Since the changes have already been discussed and approved by the student council, the new constitution will now go into effect. One of the changes embodied in the approved document provides that a person shall be selected by the Pan-Hellenic and Inter-Mural (Continued on last page.)

SIGMA XI HONORARY SOCIETY PLANS TO STIMULATE RESEARCH

Local members of the Sigma Xi Honorary Society have held a meeting and adopted a constitution and have organized for the purpose of emphasizing scientific research. Dean R. L. Sackett of the Engineering School is Chairman, Mr. J. Ben Hill, Secretary, and Dean E. S. Moore of the Mining School, member of the Program Committee. It is hoped that a Sigma Xi speaker from some outside town or city may be obtained and a public meeting held before the end of the year.

"SEVEN SINGING SEAMEN" IS NOVEL PRODUCTION

Innovation in Pageantry Will Be Given On May 19 and 20 Under Auspices of Alumni Club

Chief Cotton Sparks will present under the auspices of the Alumni Club on May 19 and 20 in the Auditorium an original production, "The Seven Singing Seamen" as adapted from the Nones version of Fort Singing Seamen. For some time Miss Sparks has been working on the lines and scenic effects and she has worked out four very clever and startlingly original acts. The production will be an innovation in pageantry and a person who has no one can afford to miss. Relying not a bit on lines for interpretation it plays through four acts that reveal in equidistant and colorful extravaganzas.

Miss Sparks has chosen her cast, including: Prester John—Arthur Deering, Count of Castor—John—Katherine Hamilton, '23, Betty Crill, '25, Dorothy Ames, '21, Jean Billings, '23, Betty Glenn, '25, and Julia Henry, '23. The Seven Singing Seamen—E. H. Rolston, '23, D. V. Bauder, '24, P. J. Duncann, '23, R. A. Roxby, '23, D. H. Porterfield, '23, H. A. Matzinger, '22, and J. Gordon Amend.

Attendants to Prester John—George Boone '23, Howard Gould, '25, Frank Young, '24, William McClure, '25, Marshall Jones, '24, and John Rettig, '23. The Chorus—Mary Grace Rugh, Frances Garer, '25, Esther Holmes, '23, Eliza Jane Reese '23, Sarah Cunit, '24, Harriet Culvert, '23, Sarah Koepfer, '22, Eleanor Knox, '21, Opal Chapman, '25, Grace Witt '24, Rachel Hunter, '25, Katherine Graham, '25, Ruth Martin, '23, and Renita Gardner, '25. Others to be announced later.

Miss Sparks is being assisted by an able committee of enthusiasts. Personally she is overseeing the entire production and directing the dancing. Mr. Deering is taking charge of the dramatic interpretation and Mr. Horner and Mr. Amend are designing and executing the costumes. D. H. Porterfield is designing the scenery and Hayward Shacklette is creating the stage effects. The music is in charge of Hummel Fishburn, '22. He is writing some original script for the production and adapting the various moods and interpretations to the orchestration.

APRIL ISSUE OF PENN STATE FARMER ON SALE TOMORROW

The April issue of The Penn State Farmer will be given out at the Agricultural Building today and tomorrow, April 7-8. Blue cards only.
