games Koehler '23, who played in the light field on last year's varsity, has been switched to the infield and will play at the short stop position in tomorrow's contest. Koehler will be remembered as having held down the short-stop berth in his Freshman year and his ability at this position, together with his clean-up batting reputation should make him a valuable asset to the Nittany aggregation.

The Nittany mentor has chosen Lightner and Bedenk, both veteran outfielders of previous campaigns, to romp in the left and right field greens respectively while Mahoney '21 will play the center field position in a valiant bid for the graduation of "Hinks", Haines and Rentz, who did not return this year. Mahoney played center field on the 1921 Freshman team.

Tomorrow's game will give "Dez" an excellent opportunity to size up his material under fire and will enable him to make any changes that he sees necessary before the Blue and White batsmen leave on their southern trip on the seventeenth. "Dez" has been putting his diamond candidates through a rigorous process of training ever since the middle of March in preparation for this spring's twenty-one game schedule.

COUNCIL ARRANGES IMPORTANT DATES

Councils to represent the fraternities on the council and that the President of the Penn State Club will represent the unit men.

At the meeting of the Senior class held last Monday night, it was suggested that the valedictorian deliver his address on class day instead of at the regular Commencement exercises. This action was thought to conform more to popular usage and was referred to Student Council for approval. This body after a short discussion voted to approve the change.

SOCCERITES PREPARING FOR INTER-CLASS GAMES

The number will turn out daily. Many of the upper class men have not reported because they have been unable to secure lockers. Manager Miller announces that he has been able to secure these lockers now instead of after Easter and they are now available for class candidates.

The varsity schedule is still in a state of being drawn up and is not yet completed. After being approved by Graduate Manager Fleming, it will be announced in the COLLEGIAN. So far the teams being considered are of the best in this section of the country and the completed schedule will put the Blue and White soccer men to a severe test.

UNITS MAKING PLANS FOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

unit games.
According to the plans formulated at the meeting last Wednesday, twelve men from each unit will be excused from gym drill for playing on their unit team. For this reason, it is urged that each unit expecting to participate in the inter-unit tournaments get its team organized and practicing, as the games will start within a week after the close of the Easter holidays.

While it will be impossible for the Department of Physical Education to get the inter-unit and inter-fraternity sports as completely organized this year as it wishes the outlook for a real competition is good for next term. The department is allowing the units to borrow the Department's equipment on the checking system promises to give that phase of under-graduate athletics a material means of support and will go a long way towards making the inter-unit athletics a real Penn State institution. In addition to these plans, medals will be awarded to the men on the team which wins the inter-unit championship in each sport and will thus stimulate interest and sharpen the competition among the non-fraternity men.

SENIORS PLAN FOR JUNE COMMENCEMENT

contain information concerning each Senior, is expected to be of assistance in this work.
C. L. Mellinger was unanimously elected chairman of the Senior Memorial Committee and, in this position, he will make the presentation of the Senior Memorial to the college on class day.
Honor Men Selected
Honor men selected by the class were as follows: R. R. Butner, Spoon Man, R. D. Baer, Bariel Man, C. C. Cooper, Cane Man, W. H. Weltz, Class Orator and P. W. Amram, Class Representative. Butner and Baer were tied for first honors by the elections and the former won by the highest position by a toss of the coin.
The Senior women students have also elected honor girls, the same as the men name their most popular classmates, and the presentations will be made to them at the same time on class day. The honor girls are: Miss Florence Allen, Bow Girl; Miss Marion Thompson, Skipper Girl; Miss Mildred Dusenberry, Miss Sara Crisman, Class Representative and Miss Mary Craley, Class Poet.

Class Day this year on Monday, June twelfth, will be the greatest day for the Seniors during their stay at college. It plans presented by W. H. Felix, Class Day Chairman, materialize. All members of the 1922 class are being urged to reserve this day for this purpose alone, since activities are scheduled for the greater part of the day. Moving pictures will probably be taken of the events.

Many are expected to attend the Senior dances which will be held on Friday evening, May twelfth. Chairman A. C. Oelke reported that progress was being made on the plans for this class social affair.

S. Y. Boggs submitted the Commencement Invitations and programs to the class for approval, and these promises to be among the best that any class have had.

A change was made in the usual Commencement program, at the instance of those in charge when the class voted to change the time of the valedictorian's address from the graduation exercises to Class Day. Student Council approved this change at its special session on Tuesday evening. The class selected the first ten members of the class in scholastic standing as eligible for the Louise Carnegie fellowship and medals.
No class poet was elected at the meeting, and it was decided to select this office by competition. The class recommended that the English Department select candidates from those who submit poems and the class will choose the poet from among this number. It was thought that this method would be better than the election at large to this position.

All resolutions and constitutions submitted to the class by Student Council were unanimously adopted. The members of the class also went on record as favoring the election of a president of fraternities by the national and local fraternities to be a member of Student Council. They also ruled that the president of the Penn State Club should belong to the organization. Council approved these measures on Tuesday evening, thus placing the membership in that body at forty members.

Girls' Committees Named
The following girls' committees have been named: Class Day Committee, Misses M. K. Thompson, F. K. Allen, L. M. Mather and C. L. Pharo, Invitation Committee, Misses O. V. Chapman, P. H. Manifold, G. M. Yeocum and D. R. Rogers.

strongest cast that he has ever worked with here in the college. The final cast follows:
Mrs. Martyn.....Lillian Fleming, '22
M. Wheeler.....Philip Annum, '22
Bobby Wheeler.....George Allen, '22
Cora Wheeler.....Eather Holmes, '23
Mrs. Wheeler.....Josephine Ruth, '23
Clarence.....Phil Stanley, '23
Violet Pinney.....Mildred Manell, '23
Mr. Stem.....Thomas Henry, '23
Della.....Mary Rumford, '23
Dinwiddie.....Harry Koehler, '21

The play is a very amusing situation that arises in the Wheeler household. Mr. Wheeler suddenly finds his hands full with Bobby who has just been sent home from preparatory school, with Cora who wants to marry an adventurer, with Violet of whom he is very fond of Mrs. Wheeler who is insanely jealous, and with Clarence who has happened to hear all the family gossip. The play presents in a rapid succession one amusing situation after another, working up to a very interesting climax. Interpreted as it is by such a strong cast the performance becomes one of the most brilliant that has ever been presented here in the College. It is a play that no one can afford to miss, surpassing the already high standard set by The Players.

from the Easter recess.

ENGLISH LACROSSE MEN DEFEAT NITTANY TEAM

of the goal and effectually prevented the Blue and White attack men from scoring.

Lett, Moyley and Clark figured largely in the British victory by forming a barrier that baffled the Penn State forwards at all times. Currie, the big Cambridge center, showed exceptional ability in carrying the ball, while Wansbrough and Pleson played well in the end and home positions. Catchell, Elster and Trout played a sterling game for Penn State, while Morgan's great defensive work as goalkeeper prevented four almost certain scores in the second half.

Comeback Staged in Second Half
The Englishmen profited by the Nittany Lion's inexperience in the opening half, five goals being made in the first thirty minutes of play. A great comeback was staged by the Blue and White players in the second half when they held the Oxford-Cambridge team to a single goal and contained to score during almost the entire period. Penn State's showing on New Beaver field last Tuesday afternoon may be regarded as highly creditable when it is considered that the men have had only a month of coaching. The fact that the English students, intercollegiate champions of the United States for the season of 1920-21, were beaten by Penn State's team is evidence of the ability displayed by the Penn State lads in the initial game of the season. The combination this year is much in advance of the teams of former years and should give a good account of itself in the remaining games on the schedule. The line-up was as follows:
Penn State Oxford-Cambridge
Morgan goal Lett
Coutler point Moyley
Trout (Capt) cover point Clark

FACULTY MEMBERS FROM U. OF MICHIGAN ORGANIZE

Professor G. R. Green, of the Forestry Department, was elected president and Professor F. A. Daniels, of the Department of Engineering Extension, Secretary and Treasurer. This was the initial meeting of the local alumni of Michigan University which has a larger representation on the college faculty than any other institution.
