

PENN STATE TRACKMN PREPARE FOR RELAYS

Although handicapped to a considerable extent by injuries, Coach "Bill" Martin and his Nittany speed artists succeeded in getting an even break on their Southern invasion during the Eastern recess...

In the Georgetown meet, "Bob" Leckie pentathlon champion, took six first places in the Penn State, winning the 100 yard dash, 250 yard dash, shot-put, javelin throw, discus throw and broad jump.

Shields Unable to Start Mile "Jimmy" Connolly, another one of Georgetown's stars, placed first in the mile and half mile events.

Heald Batton, Penn State's star hurdler, took first in both of the hurdle events, finishing in first time Hile and Kauffman also scored in these events.

Five Firsts in V. P. L. Meets In the clash with V. P. L., the Nittany stars rounded away with nine first places and a goodly number of seconds and thirds.

Tim McVahon who is improving rapidly under the careful tutelage of Coach Martin won both the shot put and the discus throw.

Penn State Plans to Observe Week of Song (Continued from first page) he offered. This feature will be proposed by Mr. Letchworth, 22, President of the Inter-fraternity Council at a coming meeting of that body, and it is hoped that it may meet with a response to put it across.

The week will close with a combined service of song to be held by the united churches of the community, in the auditorium Sunday evening, May 7th at 7:45 p. m.

Gettysburg Easy for Blue and White Nine (Continued from first page) and Black flings. Traphoner was hit by Koehler while Sparks and Palm made the other two outs.

Kaiser opened the second inning for the Gettysburg team with a single, but was kept from scoring by Kyle's fly to Lightner and Myer's pop to Ullery.

Lightner ended the second inning by committing to Traphoner, who threw him out on first. The Nittany catcher got to first on balls and was advanced to second by Mellinger's single.

Both of the batteries, however, were prevented from scoring by Ullery's and Traphoner's strike-outs and Lightner's hit to short-stop. The time ended with the score still at the 2 to 0 mark.

Palm Figures in Double Play The feature of the third inning was Palm's sensational peg to home from his center field position. Fisher had by a wild pitch and was advanced to second by Lightner's hit. Koehler came to bat with the bases full and connected for a single that brought Ullery and Traphoner in for the two tallies registered in the first frame.

Bedenk sacrificed in an effort to advance Kotten to first on a single off Mellinger and was then advanced to second when "Mollie" walked. Wise Hersh tried to bring the two home runners in with a sacrifice but it was intercepted by Mellinger before Hersh could score.

Gettysburg Scores First Run It remained for Kaiser, the Orange and Black right fielder, to replace the zero on the Gettysburg score. With one out, the big football star came to bat. Mellinger was cautious and delivered two balls and as many strikes before Kaiser connected with a vicious swing that knocked the pill under the football bleachers and netted the visitors a home run, their first score of the game.

Mellinger retaliated for the Black-Orange forces by diving the ball under the other end of the bleachers on his time, at bat but his injured ankle prevented him from getting farther than the third base. He was then brought in by Ullery's sacrifice fly to the Gettysburg right fielder. The inning ended with the score 4 to 1.

The fifth frame was uneventful the visitors scoring but one hit off the Penn State pitcher, and the home nine dropping its three outs in as many men at bat. Mordan grounded to Koehler in the sixth and was called out on first. Kaiser, the next man on deck came very close to repeating his fourth inning's homer by a drive to the farthest corner of right field, but Bedenk's quick recovery kept him from getting farther than third. A strike out by Kyle and a pop fly to Koehler prevented the Gettysburg ace from raising the visitor's score by another marker.

The Lion also failed to score in this frame as Wise tightened up and they were unable to get on base. The Gettysburg hurler went to pieces in the seventh after walking Traphoner and Lightner in succession and allowing Koehler and Sparks a three-bagger apiece. He was replaced in the middle of the frame by Plovman, but it was too late to avert a third run for the Nittanyites by Sparks. The inning ended with the score 8 to 1.

Visitors Score Second Marker Mordan, for the visitors, scored the second run on the Gettysburg tally in the eighth frame after getting to first on balls. Kaiser singled, as did Kyle, thus advancing Mordan. Kyle's fly to center field was muffed by Palm and the Gettysburg first baseman reached second and Mordan got home on the error. The remainder of the game was uneventful as the other outs were made in succession. The game ended with the final score standing 8 to 2.

ALTER SHOWS RELATION OF STATE TO COLLEGE

(Continued from first page) the various activities of the state in the trained men and women it has provided," declared Mr. Alter. "The college depends on the state and we are now realizing more and more how much pointing out the mutual connection the state depends upon the college for the training and inspiration which sends out so many to help in the advancement of every walk of life."

Being greatly interested and indirectly connected with the college for over twelve years, the Attorney General expressed himself as being heartily favorable for anything for the advancement of the institution. In conclusion, he stated, "Anything I can honestly, properly and legitimately do for the Pennsylvania State College in its position as the pinnacle of the state educational system, it shall be done."

DIAMOND MEN LOSE TWO GAMES IN SOUTH (Continued from first page) Jerry and Mahoney were the only Penn State players who were able to make the circuit for runs throughout the entire game. The first meet with the Naval Training Station on Easter Monday was called on account of rain and the Blue and White forces were compelled to lay idle for two days. The second game of the series with the sailors was scheduled for Tuesday and loose fielding, coupled with the hard hitting of the Naval Training Club, proved the undoing of the second game.

Ullery opened the game for Penn State with a home run on the first ball pitched, and was followed by another by Traphoner in the same inning. When the Naval Training crew came to bat the tide was turned and the Middles scored five runs off Kelley in their half of the first frame. The Nittany hurler was replaced in the sixth inning by Hunter but the sailors had tasted blood and the last year's flinger was retired in the middle of the same inning in favor of Miller, who pitched the remainder of the sixth and the whole of the seventh inning. As a last resort, Dzwilecki was put in for the eighth and ninth frames, and was the only one of the Nittany hurlers who seemed to be able to hold the hard hitting sailors. The final score was nine to five.
