STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1922

TWO MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING FUND IS AIM OF COMING CAMPAIGN

Plans Involve the Erection of New Hospital, Men's and Girls' Dormitories, Social and Recreation Halls

Two millions for Health and Welfare Buildings

That is the first objective to be reached in the movement of the Pennsylvania State College into a great University for the people of the Commonwealth.

More buildings are required for the social, athletic and health activities of the present student body of 3,200 boys and girls, and still others will be needed which development of academic facilities will require the entrance of thousands more. It is the purpose and determination of the Board of Trustees and of President John A. Thomas to provide immediately for the needs of the students in health and recreation. They have decided on an appeal to Penn State Alumni, former students, parents and all friends of the College to help in the realization of their project.

The Board of Trustees has decided upon a program of action, and when it is executed the Penn State students will have the following new buildings on the campus:

- Residence for men
- Residence for women
- Physical Education Building for Men, where the principal athletic activities will be centered
- Physical Education Building for Women, where the girls will hold forth in their games
- A Varsity Hall, which will be a track house worthy of the great name that Penn State athletes have earned in college in the intercollegiate meetings
- Penn State Union, which will be something new in the way of a place of assembly for students' organizations of all sorts and for the individuals of the college
- This building will serve as a great incentive to that Penn State mass spirit which has had such remarkable development in the past few years
- Finally, there will be a Hospital with adequate facilities for an institution of Penn State's size

Organization Started

For many months preliminary steps have been taken under the leadership of the Board of Trustees and the College authorities leading toward an actual part of the movement. This has now been made a general campaign committee, which has been constituted with the following personnel, seven chosen by the Trustees, seven by the Alumni Association and one additional member:

For the trustees: J. W. White, '22, New York; Chairman, Judge H. W. Mitchell, '20, Pittsburgh; James L. Hamill, '20, Columbus, Ohio; Henry D. Brown, '21, Williamsport; C. G. Tyson, '21, Florida; F. Ambrose N. Diehl, '21, Duquesne, Pa.; and President John M. Thomas

For the Alumni: J. B. White, '24, Philadelphia; J. H. Spicer, '25, Harrisburg; W. H. Teas, '27, Annapolis, Md.; J. F. Rodgers, '25, Pittsburgh; Boyd A. Muser, '24, Scranton; E. W. Nick, '27, Erie; and Edward N. Sullivan, '27, College, Pa.

Also, Edward K. Hishman, Assistant to President Thomas

The committee is feeling that the time has come for the full development of State College in all its phases, named an Executive Committee to assure vigorous prosecution of the work. This Executive committee will meet each day in its activities until the goal has been reached. President Thomas is the Executive Chairman. Other members of this committee are J. F. Rodgers, R.

H. Smith, E. K. Hishman, E. N. Sullivan and Miss L. V. T. Simmons

To assist the Executive Committee in its labors other committees have been formed and will be constituted, to care for the details of the separate phases of the undertaking. An Organization Committee has been formed to proceed at once with the establishment of Committees in every county in Pennsylvania, on which members of the Alumni Association, former students and friends of the college are invited to serve. These will be the men who will carry the message and appeal of Pennsylvania State College to all other alumni and one-time undergraduates of Penn State supporters, drawing them into the fold and urging upon them the great opportunity of putting the Commonwealth's only free school on higher learning grounds in the state, and establishing it for all time as the State University—the apex of the public school system

Work Well Under Way

Great progress has been made in contacting organizations in Allegheny, Berks, Blair, Dauphin, Erie, Indiana, York Counties and Philadelphia, while the first steps have been made in Beaver, Cambria, Cameron, Cameron, Elk, Centre, Clearfield, Lawrence, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, Northampton, Schuylkill and Westmoreland Counties

The Alumni Clubs in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston, Baltimore and Washington have been acquainted with the project on foot. President Thomas attended dinners of all these clubs, accompanied by Mr. E. H. Shuman and Mr. Sullivan, the Alumni Secretary-Treasurer. At the conclusion of the affairs committees were authorized in resolutions, these committees to decide on ways and means for getting Penn State men in the various districts together as one man to carry out the detailed work which will be assigned to them later from general headquarters at State College.

Alumni Are Enthusiastic

Everywhere the enthusiasm for the project was marked. Penn State alumni hold important positions in all of the great industrial and business centers of this country as well as in their native Keystone state, and they have an enviable opportunity to demonstrate now before the world what their Alma Mater means to them. That they will do this is indicated by the zest with which they have greeted Dr. Thomas and the other members of the committee. Their immediate needs in buildings for the health and welfare of the great student body.

While the groundwork of organizations is being prepared by representatives of the Executive and Organization Committees, these two bodies will hold regular sessions in State College to arrange for the carrying out of the project during the summer and into the autumn. They will be assisted by a Committee of the Faculty, a Student Activities Committee and other organizations, the announcement of which will be contained in a later issue of the COLLEGIAN.

The sustaining idea of the whole project is to have the people who have helped in the past by Pennsylvania State College now help it in its greater development as the university of the people.

To accomplish the project fully many

After a week of intensive training in preparation for the Penn Relays, Coach "Bill" Martin and a galaxy of track and field stars left State College yesterday morning on their journey to Philadelphia where this year's classic will be held today and tomorrow.

The Nittany distance medley relay team which will compete with some of the fastest combinations in the country this afternoon, is composed of Moore, Helfrich, Enck and Shields in the quarter, half, three-quarters, and mile respectively. The only other event in which the Blue and White runners will take part today is the international two mile run. Some of the most prominent trackmen in this country and Europe are entered in this event which promises to be one of the greatest races ever held in the Penn carnival.

Seniors will have a last opportunity to secure commencement invitations and announcements at the sale which will be held at the Co-op from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock every night except Saturday during the first week in May.

CUSTOMS ADOPTED FOR TWO-YEAR AGS

Constitution for Two-Year Men Ratified at Meeting of Student Council

Approval and adoption of a constitution for the Two Year Class in Agriculture and the appointment of several new members to the Tie-Up Scrap Committee were the most important features of the business transacted by the Student Council in the meeting which was held last Tuesday evening.

The new constitution of the Two Year "Aggies" imposes certain restrictions on the members of this class and places them in a definite position in regard to customs at this institution.

For some time the "Aggies" have been getting a reputation for places in the customs of Penn State and one of the results of their effort is the new constitution which was approved and adopted by the Council. These fundamental laws which will regulate the action of the Two Year Agricultural students from now on, were drawn up entirely by members of their own class and met the approval of the Student Council without any reservations.

Among the most important "customs" embodied in the new constitution are those which do not permit the members of the Two Year Agricultural Class to be "barbequed" and require them to wear a coat about the campus and the town. Two Year "Aggies" will not be permitted to occupy the State benches in the dining hall. A complete copy of the new constitution of the Two Year Agricultural students will be printed in a later issue of the COLLEGIAN.

Because of the Penn Relays, in which they will take part, Shields and Tice were unable to fill their position on the Tie-Up Scrap Committee. Lane '23 and Parsons '22, were selected to act in the Virginia Ricketts '22, Penn State, J. Barrer '22, was also appointed a member of the Committee.

ARMORY ARRAYED IN GALA ATTIRE FOR JUNIOR PROM

Grand March and Sixteen Dances on Program—Entertainment During Intermission

GOVERNOR SPROUL MAY BE PRESENT AS PATRON

Egyptian and Arabian Idea Strikingly Evident in Colorful Draperies

An atmosphere of expected readiness now pervades the grandly transformed Armory decked out in a barbaic Egyptian-Arabian color riot for the Annual Junior Prom. After three days of feverish industry on the part of Joe Ebers, his co-workers, and the various fraternalists, the decorations have been completed and the thirty-seven booths prepared.

Red, black, white, yellow and light blue are the main colors and are combined in the characteristic Egyptian and Arabian fashion, resulting in a decidedly novel scheme of decoration. Several pieces of scenery have also been made use of to add to the effectiveness of the Egyptian plan, although the Sphinx has been omitted.

Patron of the Prom itself Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomas, Mrs. E. E. Sparke, Dean and Mrs. C. W. Stoddard, Dean and Mrs. R. L. Sackett, Dean and Mrs. E. S. Moore, Dean and Mrs. A. R. Warrick, Mrs. R. W. Davis, F. Hahn, Margaret A. Knight, Dr. L. V. T. Simmons, Professor and Mrs. C. C. Robinson, Professor and Mrs. E. H. Dusham, and Mrs. J. M. Moore, Professor and Mrs. T. J. Mann, Professor and Mrs. J. R. Esawell, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Haller, have consented to act as patrons and guests, and it is possible that Governor Sprout may also be present. "The Seven Virginians" will supply the music for a Grand March and sixteen dances, and during the intermission will play "Down the Old Church Alley" a piece that the orchestra has used very successfully. Some interesting numbers will be staged also, but nothing has been announced as to the specific character of the specialty.

The members of the Prom committee are as follows: J. W. E. Hers, Chairman, Lemhuus, W. E. Conrad, Miss Virginia Ricketts, '22, Penn State, F. Hahn, Miss Roanna Hill, and C. Hare, ex-officio.

PROM TICKET SALE!

The Chairman of the Junior Prom Committee announces that all Juniors and Seniors attending the Prom who have not secured their tickets as yet will be accommodated at the entrance to the Armory tonight.

UNDERCLASSES SET FOR TIE-UP SCRAP

Fresh-Soph Clash Will Start at One O'clock on New Beaver Field

GYM SHOES MUST BE WORN BY PARTICIPANTS

The annual tie-up scrap between the two underclasses will take place tomorrow afternoon on New Beaver Field at one o'clock. This affair has come to be regarded as the most exciting inter-class scrap of the year and gives the Sophomores and Freshmen an opportunity to exhibit their class spirit and superiority. All Sophomores and Freshmen not physically disabled and not on approved athletic lists are eligible to take part in the scrap and should be present.

The clash will be divided into four periods of five minutes each. Before the rush begins, the Sophomores will gather at the end of the field nearest Old Main and the Freshmen at the other. Fifty men from each class will be picked for each period and will be marked by a distinguishing label so that one man will not enter more than one period. The piece of rope, about five feet long, will be furnished by each man himself.

At the signal from the gun, the two groups of fifty men will rush forward and attempt to tie up the men from the opposing side. At the signal for the end of the period, it is necessary that all on the field remain in their position until the committee can count those who are tied. For hands or feet tied, one point will be given to the opposite side and for both hands or feet, two points will be awarded. At the end of an extra period will be put on.

The same rules as last year will be enforced, especially the wearing of rubber soled shoes. The scrap committee will act as officials and will be aided by members of the student council. It must be remembered that each man is to furnish his own piece of rope.

BUCKNELL OFFERS VETERAN LINE-UP FOR COMING GAME

Lewisburg Institution Will Have Veteran Battery, Outfield, and Second Baseman

SPECIAL TRAIN TO BRING MANY UNIVERSITY FOOTERS

Bezdekian Forces in Good Condition on Eve of Fourth Contest on Season's Card

With the first big home game for the Blue and White batsmen now but a day away, Coach Bezdekian is looking over at the Nittany diamond machine in an effort to get the men into the best possible form to do the Bucknell game on New Beaver Field tomorrow afternoon. The Nittany varsity have been showing progress in their practice games since the Gettysburg invasion, and are now in the prime of condition for the Lewisburg game tomorrow afternoon and the three stiff contests on next week end.

The Nittany mentor plans to place the same line-up on the diamond in tomorrow's game that met the Gettysburg team last Saturday. It is possible that one or two changes will have to be made in this combination, but what they will be is not yet known. Hollinger, the big right handed pitcher, who started in last week's victory, will start on the mound for the Lion but will likely be supplanted by Miller later in the game. The Blue and White hurler is still troubled with his sprained foot and Coach Bezdekian is anxious to save him for next week's series with Waynesburg and Bethany.

STICKMEN START SOUTHERN JAUNT

Blue and White Team Meets Navy and Maryland University on Annual Trip

FAST TEAMS REPRESENT OPPOSING INSTITUTIONS

With the spirit of revenge in their hearts for defeats suffered last year at the hands of both the Navy and Maryland State University, Coach Jardine and the squad of Nittany stickmen are ready to begin their annual trip in friendly combat today and tomorrow.

Maryland State University is reported to have an exceptionally strong team this year and the Annapolis institution can always be counted upon to give a good account of itself so that the trip promises to be a hard one for the Penn State team.

The probable line-up of the Blue and White combination in the game with Maryland State University today is as follows: Morgan, goal, Coulter, point, Captain Brown, center, Gatchell, first offense, Youcous, second defense, Bash, third defense, Yost, center, Briener, third attack, Rowe, second attack, Hegarty, first attack, Elzier, out home, Trout, in home, Banks and Body substitutes.

DEBATERS BREAK EVEN ON WESTERN INVASION

Forensic Artists Lose Four and Win Four Debates on Trip to Coast

Penn State's first transcontinental debating tour has resulted in an even balance of wins and losses for the Nittany Lion, the team having won and lost four debates each in the western states as they return on their way home after having won the last two debates with the Colorado Aggies and the University of Wyoming. The contestants from Penn State are: Marquette University, 3; Penn State 0; North Dakota Agricultural 0; Penn State 3; Montana State 0; Penn State 3; Washington State 2; Penn State 1; Oregon Agricultural 2; Penn State 1.

HEADS OF WOMEN'S CLUBS WILL MEET HERE IN MAY

Seventeen members of the Executive Board of the State Federation of Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania will meet in State College during the week of May fourth, fifth and sixth for the purpose of planning the program and work of the organization for the next three months. The Executive Board comes to Penn State as guests of the college and Mrs. R. L. Sackett.

DR. CROCKETT WILL BE SUNDAY CHAPEL SPEAKER

Dr. William D. Crockett, head of the Classical Language Department, will deliver the chapel address at the church services Sunday morning and evening. He has not made known the subject of his discourse, but simply said, when questioned "I've been waiting to tell you this for years."

Although in the past Dr. Crockett has appeared many times before the students of Penn State in the capacity of speaker, his last occasion in this way so will be on Sunday in June he will, with Mrs. Crockett, for Italy. The college has granted him leave of absence for the summer of 1922-23 and he will spend the year in Rome. He will be gone for about fifteen months. Dr. Crockett will conduct a large number of lectures through Europe each summer, and during the academic year will study in the American School for Classical Studies in Rome.

FORMATION OF HONOR COUNCIL IS IMMINENT

With a view to forming a permanent organization for the proposed Honor Council of Penn State, the representatives of the various honor societies of the college will meet some time next week at the call of Dr. S. W. Fletcher, of the Department of Horticulture, to transact the preliminary business necessary to organize the council. This will be the first actual step in the matter of making the council a definitely constituted organization.

SEVEN HARD GAMES ON TENNIS SCHEDULE

Syracuse, Allegheny and Colgate are Included on Card as New Opponents

Prospects for a strong Penn State tennis team have become more encouraging since the beginning of the outdoor tournaments which close today, and the Blue and White aggregation should be in condition to give its first opponent, Bucknell, a hard battle. Penn State lost to Bucknell last year, and the Nittany Lion is out for vengeance this spring, although the Lewisburg racket wielders are reported to have no weak team.

Three new teams, Syracuse, Allegheny and Colgate, appear on the Nittany schedule this year, and stiff opposition is expected from these combinations. Altogether there will be seven opponents, playing Bucknell twice. The others are Lehigh, Colgate, Allegheny, Syracuse and Cornell (pending), the game with Bucknell at Lewisburg, on May thirteenth, being the first contest.

This year's tennis team will be one of the best Penn State has ever produced. The temporary fall and winter drought in tennis that has prevailed during the last three or four years has been dispelled, and the students are

PLAYERS ATTRACT FULL HOUSE IN WILLIAMSPORT

"Clarence" Will Be Presented to Lock Haven Audience This Evening

The Penn State Players put on a very brilliant performance of Clarence in Williamsport last night and they received a hearty reception from the large audience present. The performance was marked by splendid interpretation of the lines and the house was kept in constant rapture by the brilliant "Clarence" Holmes in the role of Cora. A remarkable performance, with strong support from Philip Amram, Joseph Ruth and Philip Stanley.

Tonight the play will be repeated in Lock Haven and already the house has been sold out. The success of this trip has been a great help for entertainment of the Players.

In the near future the organization will play at Birmingham College and negotiations are under way for performances at four divisions or leagues.

For next year more elaborate plans are on foot. The places already named have been figured up for entertainment and it is expected that Harrisburg will be added to the list. In the fall in addition a western trip is planned as far as Pittsburgh and then toward spring an eastern trip, which will end up in Philadelphia.

FRESHMEN NINE MEETS BELLEFONTE TOMORROW

Prospects Bright for Strong Team This Year—Bellefonte First Opponent

Handicapped by a lack of practice, Penn State's yearling nine will open its card tomorrow afternoon with the strong Bellefonte team at the annual game at Bellefonte. The Blue and White coaching staff was unable to start the daily workouts for the Lion Cubs until last Monday afternoon on account of the difficulty in securing a competent mentor for the Freshman nine. In spite of this serious handicap, the Freshmen have been making rapid progress and have succeeded in smoothing out the rough edges of their playing under the careful tutelage of Coach McCollum.

The Bellefonte nine has the advantage of several weeks' practice and are prepared to offer a strong opposition. The fight which the 1922 combination will put up on Saturday afternoon. The Academy team contains a number of veterans from last year's squad and succeeded in besting the varsity scrubs in a hot game at Penn State a few weeks ago.

While it has been impossible for Coach McCollum to make a final selection of the lineup that he will put up on the Bellefonte field tomorrow afternoon, several back-up men have been showing up well in the last few workouts. They will probably be given a chance to display their abilities in Saturday's contest. T. Mensch, a Bellefonte boy, J. A. Hartman, captain of last fall's winning gridiron team, and A. W. McCoy, all-Freshman end, have been making strong bids for the mound berth and should serve as a nucleus for the nine which will be placed on the Bellefonte Academy's diamond in the coming contest. As candidates for the back-up position, the coaching staff will have the choice of B. C. Farchell, or M. B. Kerstetter, both Freshman football stars.

PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN FOR AFRICAN SCHOOL

Dramatic Units to Cooperate in Giving Benefit for Liberian Extension Work

The latest extension activity of the Pennsylvania State College is a program to be given in the Auditorium at seven-thirty o'clock. This program is being given in the interest of an agricultural school in Liberia. This interest has been stimulated by Ko Wo Obu Donna, a native of Liberia who came to this institution three years ago through faculty and student subscriptions. It is hoped to raise at least two thousand twenty-five dollars this year.

Since Donna came to Penn State and enrolled in the animal husbandry course, it has been his ambition to graduate and specialize so that he might return to his native land and give his countrymen the benefit of American agricultural science. The project requires funds and the students here are planning to give the performance for this cause.

The main feature of the program will be the presentation of one act play by the Penn State Players. The performance is "Suppressed Desires" by George Cram Cook and it is being coached and directed by J. Gordon Amend.

The play is a clever bit of satire on psycho-analysis. Everything is very "puffing" until her theories begin to operate on the domestic happiness. Fortunately her husband has a sense of humor and quits save the day.

Following the play, Miss Ruth Ellen Jackson will give a reading. Miss Jackson has read to State College audiences on other occasions and her work is always looked forward to by the student body.

The last piece on the program is filled by Donna, who will appear at that time in native costume and give native songs and dances.

SENIORS PLAN SWIMMING POOL AS CLASS MEMORIAL

A swimming pool costing approximately thirty-five thousand dollars, will be the Class Memorial of the Class of 1922, Clyde J. Meilinger, chairman of the class memorial.

The money for the class memorial will be raised among the members of the graduating class by five year promissory notes. The Senior Memorial will form the left wing of the proposed Physical Education Building, which will contain all the work of the Department of Physical Education, the courts for the indoor sports, a trophy hall, and spacious dressing and shower rooms. The swimming pool is to be sixty feet wide and on hundred and twenty feet long, with a shallow section which will be used for beginners, and the deeper half of the pool for plunging and racing. It is planned to acquire every student to learn to swim.
