A second expedition into the Amazon River district of South America is exploring the region of Eastern Brazil in the interests of the University of Michigan, according to an announcement made by Dr. A. G. Ruthven, director of the University museum. The party is obtaining specimens for the Michigan museum and also seeking data about animals to be found in the Amazon country that will link various specimens of animal life. The work will continue several months.

Another exploration party for the University has just completed its work in Brazil and is on its way out of that country. The Mulford exploration party, as it is called, has made exhaustive investigations in Western Brazil and Bolivia, and is returning with several thousand plant numbers. A large amount of material has been shipped to this country. The specimens will go to the economic museum of the New York.

additional academic buildings as well as social and welfare structures are needed. But because of the overcrowded conditions in the present student body, the first step will be to obtain the residences for men and women, the physical education buildings, the University Hall, Penn State Union and Hospital.

With these provided, the College authorities feel that a great step will have been taken toward the desired goal.

The attention of all student candidates is called to the fact that today is the last day upon which tournaments for the team may be played, and all who have not yet played off their matches are asked to do so today. All who qualified in last year's tournaments will be eligible for this year's squad, without the necessity of entering the tournaments.

tournaments are now being played, and it is expected that the contestants will be ready for the finals by May fourth, so as to give the yearling team a day or two to prepare for the first contest, which will be with Bellefonte. The final arrangements for the Freshman games have not been completed, but the Athletic Department is now communicating with Bellefonte Academy and Dickinson Seminary, the two opponents now scheduled.

PENN STATE NINE READY

FOR BUCKNELL CONTEST

Bucknellians are determined to avenge the two defeats that the Penn State nine handed them last year. The game with Belvidere's proteges is the third on the Bucknell nine's schedule and the Lewisburg collegians expect to have a huge following of rooters to witness the game. A special train bearing the Orange and Blue followers and their University band will arrive in Lemont at noon, Saturday.
Bucknell will enter the game tomorrow with a team which includes six veterans from last year and two experienced moundsmen. Coach Corbitt has not decided who will start on the mound but the choice will be between five of his most likely hurlers, Baird and Bellick, the two veteran twirlers, for the Orange and Blue, will likely come among the first in this choice, while the Lewisburg coach will have Fair, the Philadelphia lad Denton, a Freshman star from Rochester, Pa., and Byham, a huge flinger from Kane to fill back on in the latter innings of the game.

The remainder of the Bucknell lineup will be similar to the one which defeated Lebanon Valley last Saturday by a 5 to 2 score. DeCoursey, the Bucknell captain and veteran of last year's nine, will hold down his usual position on the second bag, with Kopp and Wooding on the first and second bases respectively. Julian, a third veteran of last season's battles, will play the home plate position. It is probable that the Lewisburg coach will give the outfield positions to Dettrick, Culhoun, and Linker, all members of last year's varsity. Gaskill, a substitute on the previous season's nine, will hold down the first base position.

Following the contest tomorrow afternoon with Penn State, the Bucknell nine will leave on its western invasion, on which they have scheduled contests with Duquesne, Carnegie Tech and Pitt.
