

NITTANY RUNNERS SHARE HONORS AT PENN RELAYS

(Continued from first page) place, but the judges decided that "Larry" Shields, who attempted to pass Jimmy Connolly of Georgetown in the final mile, had fouled the Georgetown runner and the race was awarded to the Washington team.

At the end of the first quarter mile, Columbia was in the lead with Georgetown second and Penn State third. Hofflich and Edgerton ran fast races, second and third men for the Nittany team, with the result that Edgerton turned over a lead of two yards to Shields, anchor man for the Blue and White.

Shields shows fine sportsmanship. The fight between Shields and Connolly in the mile was one of the greatest ever seen on Franklin Field. "Larry" set the pace for the first three-quarters and then allowed Connolly to step out in front. With the Georgetown man leading by about one yard, the Nittany runner showed a burst of speed and tied to pass him on the next turn around. They were about to make a turn and as Shields shot out from the pole Connolly made a break to get through on the inside and as a result "Larry" accidentally fouled him.

The Georgetown star needed a complete re-surrender and Shields, showing a splendid split of sportsmanship, waited until he arose and then allowed Connolly to start out in the lead again. On the home stretch Shields passed the Georgetown runner once more and won by five full lengths but the judges ruled the Penn State team disqualified and awarded first place to Georgetown. Second place went to the Nittany Ohio State finished third and Columbia took fourth place.

Barron Second in Hurdles

Harold Barron and Charles Kauffmann, Nittany hurdlers won their respective heats in the one hundred and twenty-yard event, each going over the sticks in fifteen and three-fifths seconds. In the finals, however, they were forced to give way to Earl Thomson, Dartmouth's famed hurdler, who stepped over the sticks in fifteen seconds flat, winning from Harold Barron by a few scant yards. Knollin, of Wisconsin, finished third, while Kauffmann took fourth place. He was not entered in any of the hurdling events as he has not entirely recovered from injuries received in a fall some time ago.

Romig Takes Third in Two Mile

"Blondy" Romig did not hit his stride in the international two-mile run on Friday afternoon and was forced to make third place in this championship race. Ray Baker, of Bates, New England champion, won the event, beating Watson Thompson, of Hamilton Collegiate Institute, to the tape by seven yards in nine minutes, thirty-five and one-fifth seconds. "Blondy" finished a few yards behind Thompson.

The Penn State yearling one-mile relay team took fourth place in the championship event with Penn finishing first, Syracuse second and Navy third. The Penn youths were in the lead most of the way and finished the race in three minutes and twenty-eight seconds. "Mac" McElhan and Alvine failed to place in the discus throw and shot put.

Meet With Virginia Saturday

Next Saturday afternoon, the Nittany track and field stars are scheduled to meet the University of Virginia in a dual meet on New Beaver Field. This Southern institution has built up an enviable reputation on the track and the meet with the Penn State speed artists promises to be close and interesting.

DR. HOLLIS DANN HEADS MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

(Continued from first page) dei a concert in the Auditorium while on Friday evening a number of neighborhood concerts will be staged at various homes in the community. Following is a list of the homes at which the concerts will be held: Dean Watts, 215 Foster street, Professor Covell, College Heights, Professor Woodruff, Fairmount Avenue, Mrs. Bell, 400 West Beaver Avenue, Professor McDowell, 112 West Beaver Avenue, and the Reform Church. These concerts will all begin at the same time, seven-thirty o'clock.

Joint Meeting of Churches Sunday On Sunday night all the churches in the community will be closed and a joint meeting will be held in the Auditorium in the form of a musical gathering. A combined choir, made up of the various church choirs in the community, will render special numbers under the direction of Mr. Robinson. Various organizations and pianists from different churches and incidental songs will also be present.

The Music Department of the College wishes to acknowledge publicly the splendid cooperation of the churches in the community and the music sections of the Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce and American Legion which are together making possible the proper observance of Music Week at Penn State.

Five Clubs Give Concerts The first Saturday evening, the Men's Glee Club gave a playing rendition of a Request Program in the Auditorium presenting as requested, numbers which had been given at some time during the last two years. From a musical standpoint the Club performed in a more creditable manner than at any other time during the year. The audience was not as large as it would normally have been owing to the various other activities on the same night.

The Variety quartet made a hit when they presented "Old Man Noah" and several other pleasing numbers. Soloists by 12 H. Robinson and Donald Bauder, were particularly well received. "Jack" McEvers made a decided impression with his clever old jokes and dancing.

The Glee Club rendered a dramatic program on Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium before a goodly number of students and town-folk. The program consisted of three club numbers and selections by the girls quartet.

Several readings by Miss Cupit and a number of solos by Miss Gladys Fulton were well received by the audience. Messrs. Commins, Treat and Parker

FORENSIC ARTISTS END WESTERN TRIP

(Continued from first page) were also of this opinion. The Blue and White aggregation also won their third debate, with Montana State Agricultural College, who took the negative side of the unemployment arguments.

The next stop was Helena, Montana, where Penn State lost to Montana Wesleyan two to one, in a thirty hour debate. The subject concerned the grant-aiding by the United States to the Philippines, Independence within five years. Montana Wesleyan took the negative side in this discussion.

Washington State defeated Penn State two to one, winning from Overdorf, Kramer and Romig. The returned team has nothing but praise for Washington State, and their commendation was high for Kai Jensen who, they declare, was one of the most skillful debaters they have ever faced. The unemployment insurance question was the subject of the debate.

It was interesting to note the high favor in which debating is held in the western institutions, especially as compared with the attendance given the forensic meets at Penn State. In no case was the attendance less than three hundred at the various debates in which the local team engaged and it Seattle thirteen hundred people turned out to witness the international debate. Twenty-five to fifty cents admission is charged at the debates.

Unemployment Insurance was likewise argued pro and con by the Oregon State Agricultural College and Penn State teams, the latter upholding the negative, with Overdorf, Kramer and Romig again on the platform. The Oregon arguers proved their superiority in this debate by a two to one score. Colorado "Aggies" Lose Return Debate At Iowa City, where is located the Iowa State University, Overdorf, Kramer and Romig stopped off to attend a conference of the Delta Sigma Theta, honorary debaters' treatment while Adams preceded to Ames where he visited the Iowa State Agricultural College, which he reports to be splendidly equipped with both buildings and materials for instruction. The new Agricultural Engineering building contains all kinds of farm machinery and equipment. He also met several former Penn State students here, and Dr. Smith who was once in the Department of Mathematics at Penn State and is now in the same department at Iowa State. At Iowa City, Professor Gates left for Bloomington, Illinois, where his family was staying.

Almost everywhere the debaters went Dr. Sparks had been there before them, on his tour in the interests of higher education. Dr. Sparks, they said, has made an excellent impression in the region along his route and he also

EDUCATORS FAVOR UNIVERSITY PLAN

(Continued from first page) ed to true university scope, and this found expression in a recent legislative appropriation of nearly three and a half million dollars. While this was reduced by Governor Sproule veto by about one million dollars, evidence was given in the inauguration, in part by the presence and words of the Governor himself, that the people of Pennsylvania are behind the proposed enlargement of the institution and that larger appropriations will doubtless be provided by the next legislature.

As President Thomas pointed out in his inaugural, Pennsylvania State College has always been solely dependent upon state and federal funds for its maintenance. It has always been free and does not now charge tuition. Its sentiment and spirit is that of the great state institutions of the west—like them it regards the whole territory of the Commonwealth as its campus and its field of service. The time has now come when the Pennsylvania State College should frankly assume the name and function which its present strength and service justify, and become in name as it is now in fact the Pennsylvania State University.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

IS the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business.

He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesman today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

Everything for QUALITY— nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
