

A. A. CONSTITUTION AMENDMENTS ADDED

Additions to Constitution Provide for Election of Varsity Cheer and Song Leaders

REVISIONS WILL GO INTO EFFECT AT ONCE

At the Athletic Association ballot which was held last Monday morning, the student body voted to pass the proposed amendments to the constitution of the association concerning the election of the varsity song and cheer leaders. Since an overwhelming majority voted in favor of the amendments, these will go into effect immediately.

The amendments read as follows:

Article V—Section 1

1. There shall be one head cheer leader and one assistant cheer leader, both from the Senior class. There shall be four Junior assistant cheer leaders.

2. The head cheer leader and his assistant shall be elected from the four retiring Junior assistant cheer leaders by a Committee, consisting of the retiring head cheer leader and his assistant, the president of the Athletic Association, and the retiring Varsity Captains and Managers of the several sports. The man receiving the second highest number of votes shall be the Senior assistant. This Committee shall also elect the four Junior assistant cheer leaders, in the same manner and at the same time.

3. Within two weeks after the opening of college, the head cheer leader shall issue a call for Sophomore Candidates, who are to act as Sophomore assistant cheer leaders. The elimination of Sophomore candidates shall be determined upon by the head cheer leader and his Senior assistant.

4. The election of the cheer leaders shall be held some time during the month of May at the discretion of the head cheer leader and the Graduate Manager.

Article V—Section 2

1. There shall be one head song leader and one assistant song leader, both from the Senior Class. There shall be three Junior assistant song leaders.

2. The head song leader and his assistant shall be elected from the three retiring Junior assistant song leaders by a Committee consisting of the retiring song leader and his assistant, the head of the department of music, the student leader of the glee club, the student leader of the college band, the student leader of the college orchestra, the Bandmaster, and the president of the Athletic Association. The man receiving the second highest number of votes shall be the Senior assistant. This Committee shall also elect the three Junior assistant song leaders, in the same manner, and at the same time.

3. Within two weeks after the opening of college, the head song leader shall issue a call for Sophomore Candidates, who are to act as Sophomore assistant song leaders. The elimination of Sophomore candidates shall be determined upon by the head song leader and his Senior assistant.

4. The election of the song leaders shall be held some time during the month of May at the discretion of the head song leader and the Graduate Manager.

ening of college, the head song leader shall issue a call for Sophomore candidates who are to act as Sophomore assistant song leaders. The elimination of Sophomore candidates shall be determined upon by the head song leader and his Senior assistant, after the candidates have reported to the head of the Department of Music for instruction.

4. The election of song leaders shall be held some time during the month of May at the discretion of the head song leader and the Head of the Department of Music.

LACROSSE TEAM MEETS WEST POINT TOMORROW

Cadets Have Strong Combination This Year—Changes in Nittany Line-up

With the determination to atone for this season's four defeats uppermost in their minds, Coach Jardine and his squad of Nittany stickmen left State College this morning on their journey to West Point where they are scheduled to meet the Army in a clash for supremacy tomorrow afternoon. Several changes have been effected in the line-up of the team which makes it a much better working combination, and the coach is expecting the Penn State aggregation to give a good account of itself in tomorrow's contest.

The West Point institution has an exceptionally strong lacrosse team this year and has gone through a successful season against such opponents as Yale, Johns Hopkins, Harvard, Penn, Swarthmore and Lehigh.

The probable line-up of the Blue and White combination in the game tomorrow will be as follows: Morgan, goal; Coulter, point; Cornwell, cover point; Gatchell, first defense; Capt. Brown, second defense; Yeoman, third defense; East, center; Briner, third attack; Bush, second attack; Rowe, first attack; Elsie, out home; Trout, in home; Binks and Hegarty, substitutes.

PREP SCHOOL STUDENTS VISIT RUTGERS COLLEGE

An opportunity to view the college man in his native haunt was given to fifty-one young prep school men at the recent Rutgers Day Program events, which were held by the Athletic Association of Rutgers. A benefit dance held by the Sophomores, a tour of the college, and a track meet and baseball game constituted the program. On the evening of their departure the student body turned out and gave a demonstration of singing and cheering.

SWARTHMORE FROSH WILL COMPLETE IN FOSTER CONTEST

To the Freshman submitting the best design for next year's poster the Class of 1925 at Swarthmore will offer a prize of a 1925 "Halcyon." Much originality is expected to be brought to the fore in this competition, and the poster for the class of 1926 should prove effective in both design and wording.

MANY RURAL LADS WILL BE HERE FOR MEETING

Representatives Working Hard To Make Boys Conference Success on May 26

A large attendance of delegates to the Boys Conference, which will start here on Friday, May twenty-sixth, is assured by the response received from all parts of the county. Three teams were sent out last week-end to Spring Mills, to Nittany, and to Hecla Park on invitation tips. In addition, last Sunday forty-five men in machines were engaged in announcing the conference in Sunday schools throughout the county. Next Sunday an equal number of students will repeat the trip in an endeavor to reach every Sunday school. Delegates have been pledged in many towns, and a representation of about two hundred is expected.

The Conference, which is held under the auspices of the Extension Department of Penn State Y M C A, will start at six p. m. on Friday with a supper, probably at the University Club. Dr. Thomas will give the welcome address to the visiting delegates and Mr. F. B. Freeman, County Work Secretary of the National Y M C A, will respond to the visitors. Addresses by Dr. Thomas, faculty members and Y M C A representatives, will feature the Conference, whose aim it is to inspire rural boys to leadership and to clean moral life.

INTERESTING DISCUSSIONS AT ARCHITECTS BANQUET

The Architect's Club held its annual banquet last Tuesday evening in Engineering F. Professor F. C. Disque acting as toastmaster. Dean Wainock, as the first speaker, explained to the Club the plan which is being considered to intelligently use the money that is to be raised by the campaign. Professor A. L. Koehler was the next speaker and talked on subjects of special interest to architects. J. M. Judge '22, retiring President of the Club then spoke a few words expressing a hope that the Club would experience next year success equal to that of the past year.

The initiation of Freshmen took place at this time when fifteen of the first year men received shingles. The formality of the banquet then gave way to a business meeting which concluded the evening. The following men were elected to offices for next year: President, E. Wilson '23, Vice-President, H. Shicklette '24, Treasurer, S. Piekalski '23, and Secretary, R. W. Robinson '25.

STUDENTS SUPPORT MOVE FOR GREATER PENN STATE

must go forward.

"The campaign is the answer, its chief purpose is to spread information which will impart conviction, and which will result in adequate support."

Two Million Dollars Not Only Aim

The idea that the coming campaign is basic to a far greater degree than the raising of a two million dollar building fund was brought out with emphasis by Director Berdek at the Bull Pen where the students from Allegheny, Beaver, Green, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland counties were assembled. In this effort the students acting as missionaries have every opportunity to attain the desired end.

"This campaign is to effect publicity concerning Penn State and it can be done," Berdek said. "We can do it because the appeal for buildings gives a chance to give information of all kinds about the work of the college. The campaign will carry the story. It will get our alumni and friends to working and talking for Penn State as never before. They are doing it already. Every contributor will be active as a friend. People will follow their investment in the college with active effort in its behalf. The evergreen of other institutions is that there is nothing like a financial campaign to stir interest and awake loyalty."

Contribute Any Time

Announcement was made at all meetings that the campaign proper would get under way early in the fall, probably in October, to culminate at about the time the Legislature convenes in January. It was stated that pledge blanks are now ready at the Campaign Headquarters in Old Main, and subscriptions are already coming in. For the present the main efforts of the committees—faculty, alumni and student—must be devoted to much preliminary work such as that now under way and such as was accomplished at the various meetings.

Dean Sackett addressed the students from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties in the Hort Building, and he placed emphasis on the fact that the proposed buildings would be strictly for student health and welfare purposes and not for the academic buildings such as are used for recitation halls and laboratories.

It is indicated that the erection of buildings from private sources would stimulate the state to provide the needed academic buildings. Payments of subscriptions are to be made in three annual installments if desired, those of the Senior class memorial fund to extend over five years as provided in their plan.

Professor Bressler, speaking to the students from Berks, Chester, Delaware, Montgomery and Philadelphia counties, in Old Chapel also told of what students can do right now to make the campaign a success. Students were urged to have their fathers attend the meeting on Saturday morning; to write home about the campaign, to supply names of possible donors, to tie up with county alumni organizations while at home, keeping in touch with activities throughout the summer, and to read and master the "Student Handbook" and follow out its suggestions.

One point that was brought out by speakers was that as soon as a student hears of any objections to the college development plan, to report it to the Campaign Headquarters or to the proper authorities. This is especially desired because it is necessary to know how the people regard the proposition. The speakers said that the college is in fact a State University and that it is a good idea to call things by their right names.

The story of the campaign was taken to all students who come from other states and from foreign countries at the meeting in Engineering D where Miss L. V. T. Simmons told of the situation in a convincing manner. As all the other speakers had done, she impressed upon these students the need for "talking up Penn State" not only within the boundaries of the state, but anywhere and everywhere they might be located, in any state or country.

Throughout all meetings the idea that this is the biggest thing that Penn State has ever undertaken, was the main thought expressed. It can not be done by one man, or a hundred men—all Penn State's thousands must help in the play for the tremendous stake.

No institution in the country will have such resources back of it as will Penn State if it is established as the Pennsylvania State University. When the cause is won the finest University plant in America will be established on this campus, and every boy and girl in the Keystone State who has demonstrated his or her ability will be privileged to walk up to the admission office and demand entrance as his right to the highest and best which American education has to offer.

The Resolutions

The resolutions adopted by the various counties and at the separate meetings, are the same in text. To serve as an example, the following set of resolutions for Centre county is printed, others being the same, with the county name properly recorded.

WHEREAS, The President and the Board of Trustees of The Pennsylvania State College have authorized a plan for the expansion of the College so it may fulfill to a greater degree the purposes of its charter and its services to the Commonwealth, and

WHEREAS, The rejection of one thousand qualified applicants a year, now necessary because of inadequate state support could be prevented by expansion to a state university like the great Universities of Ohio, Illinois, and Wisconsin, and

WHEREAS, We desire for others the opportunities we ourselves have enjoyed at Penn State

WHEREAS, A campaign for a $2,000,000 Building Fund to be devoted to health, social and other welfare buildings has been inaugurated, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the students of The Pennsylvania State College, from Centre County, in meeting assembled, unqualifiedly endorse the plan for expansion of the College, and be it furthered

RESOLVED, That the students from Centre County urge that every proper means be evolved to achieve the change of the College to the State University, and be it furthered

RESOLVED, That the students from Centre County pledge their fullest loyalty and support to the $2,000,000 Building Fund Campaign, and be it furthered

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the College, the President of the Board of Trustees, and the chairman of the Board of Centre County

By unanimous vote on Monday the Senate of the Women's Student Government Association adopted similar resolutions.

College Spirit

It's the kind of loyalty that's ready to fight at the drop of the hat. Only high and worthy things evoke such a feeling. Men have something of the same loyalty for their favorite cigarette, Melachrino, "the one cigarette sold the world over."

Remember that Melachrino is a master blend of only the finest Turkish Tobaccos as originated by Miltades Melachrino. Egyptian cigarettes are simply those that originated in Egypt. But the tobacco is what you want to know about—and if it's Melachrino—it's right.
