THESPIANS PLEDGE $1000 FOR HEALTH AND WELFARE WORK

Oldest Dramatic Organization of Penn State Inaugurates Idea of Group Giving

PLAN IS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED BY MEMBERS

Money Will Be Used to Furnish Theatre in New Penn State Union Building

An added impetus was given the Health and Welfare Campaign for $2,000,000 last Wednesday evening when it was announced that the Thespian Club had unanimously voted to donate one thousand dollars towards the general college campaign fund.

The members of the Club were enthusiastic about the idea as soon as it was introduced, and voted unanimously to pay the Campaign Committee the amount of their pledges from the Club treasury.

The Thespians, who compose the oldest student organization on the campus, have arranged that their gift be used for the purchase of furnishings for the small theater that is to be included in the new Penn State Union, which is the object of the student campaign.

The Thespians are the first campus society to make a pledge of their funds to the big Penn State drive. On every side where the news became known yesterday, there was praise for the generous offer made by the Club and the predictions were made that there will be other groups to take action in contributing as student organizations towards the general fund of $2,000,000.

In addition to the Thespian Club's donation, there is every indication that the fifteen men who make up the Thespian Club will give their personal pledges to the Student Drive, making their act of generosity stand out even more prominently. The one thousand dollar fund is to be taken entirely from the Club's treasury.

The present Thespian Club is made up of the following men: J. McC. D. Greathead '23, J. A. Patton '23, G. B. (continued on last page)

CROSS COUNTRY SCRAPS SET FOR NEXT MONTH

Interclass Contest Comes October 14th, and Sophomore-Freshman Meet, October 21st.

Coach "Bill" Martin, of the Varsity cross country squad, has announced several of the meets that will occur at Penn State this season, and the dates of other contests that are now being arranged will be published as soon as they are made known.

Interclass Meets Next Month

The annual interclass cross country meet will be held October fourteenth, and will be run over a three and one-half mile course, while the annual Soph-Fresh scrap comes on the twenty-first, the runners to cover a distance of three miles. The merchants of State College are also arranging to offer prizes in an all-college handicap cross country contest to be held the Saturday following Thanksgiving. The details have not been completed as yet, but it is known that awards will be offered both for those who win out on the time basis and also for the first several who finish in each race. The three mile course begins at the Athletic field and runs around the golf links and past the beef barn.

Arrangements are now pending for a meet here with Carnegie Tech, on November eleventh. But no definite information in regard to this meet or the (Continued on last page)

NITTANY GRID MEN READY FOR CLASH WITH SOUTHERNERS

Veteran Indian Team Is Confident of Holding Penn State to Small Score

With the initial contest of the 1922 football season disposed of in a successful manner, Coach Bezek and his assistants are busily grooming the Nittany eleven for the second grid game which takes place tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock on New Beaver Field when the Blue and White warriors meet the representatives of William and Mary College in what promises to be a much more hotly contested battle than that witnessed last Saturday.

Four long, hard days of scrimmage have worn off, to a considerable extent the rough spots displayed in the game with St. Bonaventure. The attack, which was woefully weak due to the loss of so many valuable and experienced backfield men, is showing signs of unexpected strength, the powerful and experienced defense is being still further improved, and the general teamwork has increased so favorably during the past few days that the Penn State coaching staff is looking forward to an excellent showing in tomorrow's contest. The William and Mary team must not be underrated, however, as the Southern warriors are coming here, primed as never before and determined to hold the Nittany gridiron gladiators to a small score.

Visitors Have Veteran Line-up

The clash on New Beaver Field tomorrow afternoon will mark the hardest game of the season for the Virginians in aggregation and Coach "Bill" Ingram is desirous of having the Indians make an impressive showing against the mighty Penn State machine. Coach Ingram, of All-American fame, will be remembered as the best athlete at Annapolis during the years spent as midshipman at that institution. Last year he coached the Pacific Coast Navy team which was the pride of the Navy. The William and Mary team is absorbing a new system of football this year which is considered very effective. Ten letter men are back from last year's team and these veterans, together with a promising lot of first year men, form a formidable combination and one which Coach Ingram expects will give the Nittany Lions an interesting battle.

As on previous occasions, Coach Bezek is skeptical regarding the outcome of Saturday's fray and will not make any statements as to just what the final score will be. He is looking for a hard fight, however, and expects the visitors to have a bag full of tricks in the form of plays devised especially for the purpose of outwitting the bigger and heavier Nittany grid men. The first and second Blue and White teams were pitted against each other every day this week from five to seven while "Bez" and his assistants watched every play, bolstering the defense and strengthening the attack. COLLEGE SENATE TAKES ACTION ON FESTIVITIES

Committee Appointed at September Meeting to Look After Student Organizations

Recent action taken by the College Senate at its September meeting has resulted in a definite plan for faculty control over all student activities. A committee was appointed whose duty it is to supervise the execution of these plans. The committee is composed of Professor S. W. Fletcher, chairman; Professor L. V. Simmons, Professor E. H. Dusham, Dean M. A. Knight, and Dean A. R. Warnock, secretary.

The action taken is as follows: Committee on Student Welfare shall have the duty of authorizing any public assembly in a college building, or on the campus.

In the performance of this duty this Committee shall examine the nature of the program to be given, the personnel of the proposed cast, its financial budget and the desirability of the professional coach employed, in case such services are to be used. It shall also be represented at any rehearsal of the proposed performance and shall have the authority to censor or forbid such performance, so that the reputation and best interests of the College may be safeguarded.

The Committee shall maintain an advisory relationship with the business managers of all productions and the treasurers of all dramatic and musical organizations in order to prevent waste and misappropriation of funds. In case a professional coach is employed, he shall be deposited with the Committee by the employer organization, and the Committee shall pay the fee to the coach, if in the opinion of the Committee the coach has satisfactorily fulfilled his contract.

This Committee shall also have the power of arranging the schedule of all public occasions in order that no conflict may ensue. In the performance of this duty the Committee shall establish and maintain (Continued on last page)

REV. JOHN M. McDOWELL WILL ADDRESS CHAPELS

Reverend John McDowell, an authority on social and industrial questions, will speak at both the morning and evening chapel services this Sunday. Reverend McDowell is Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church and as a writer and student of industrial problems has frequently been called upon to aid in the arbitration of industrial disputes. Born in Scotland, Reverend McDowell came to this country at an early age and received most of his education here. In 1894 he was graduated from Princeton University and two years later, ordained as a Presbyterian minister. His religious work began as pastor of a church at Steelton, Pa., but a few years later he went to Detroit only to return as pastor of a church in Newark, N. J. Here he remained until in 1919 he was appointed to his present position as Secretary of the Board of Home Missions.

FIRST FOOTBALL MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT 7:30

CO-EDS' CAMPAIGN QUOTA IS $15,000

Co-Eds Employing Novel Stunts to Raise Funds for Women's Activities Building

ENDOWMENT FUND PLANS REFORMED ON CLASS BASIS

One thousand dollars an hour—that was the rate at which the co-eds were subscribing to their $15,000 aim in the student campaign at noon Wednesday. The blanks arrived at McAllister Hall just at lunch time and there was a mad rush for them; each class determined that its thermometer should be the first to register one hundred per cent subscribed.

The co-eds are strongly in favor of earning as much of their pledges as possible. "Shoe Shines", Shampooing and Hair Trimming, "Manicuring", "Facial Massage", "Novelties", "Candles", "Sweaters", Bridge Instructions, "Dancing Lessons", are but a few of the shingles hung out in McAllister Hall and the Woman's Building. The girls are working on the basis that "nothing is too humble for us to do for Penn State". They have plans made for extensive rounds of teas, parties, dances, and other galas of a paying variety. Today they completed the arrangements for a vaudeville show to be given in the interest of their campaign in the Auditorium on November twenty-fourth.

Closing windows on these frosty mornings at the rate of five cents a week per co-ed, isn't bad paying business, and by the end of the winter some (Continued on last page)

CHESTER COUNTY GIVES THREE HOLSTEIN COWS

Will Be Presented at Annual Breeders Field Day Next Month

The Chester County Holstein breeders have set the record for donating the largest number of milch cows to fill the empty stanchions of the college barns. A gift of one cow by the Chester County Friesian Association augmented by gifts of a heifer each by Mr. Hugh Moors of Mortonville, and Mr. Marshall Jones of Westown, has set the state record at three cows from a single county.

The cows are not yet in the college barn but they will be next month when President Thomas addresses the Chester County Holstein breeders field day and show at Townsend farm next month. The banner county dairymen are planning to make the fall outing the occasion of the official presentation of the new stock. President Thomas will receive the cows for the college and voice the appreciation of the institution for the able manner in which the dairymen of the state have come to the rescue of the depleted dairy herd. The dairy department has also purchased two Jersey cows from breeders in Susquehanna County. Ball Bros. of the same place have donated a Jersey heifer to the college herd.

GIFFORD PINCHOT

Gifford Pinchot, Republican, gubernatorial nominee is a visitor at State College this afternoon. A mass meeting is scheduled to take place on the front campus as soon as he arrives, which will be announced by the ringing of the bell in Old Main. No classes are being excused for this meeting. With the candidate's party will be Colonel David J. Davis, nominee for the Lieutenant Governorship, and Messrs. Swoope, Scott, and Beaver local Republican candidates.

PENN STATE PLAYERS CHOOSE FIRST COMEDY

The Penn State Players have chosen for their first play of the season A. A. Milne's brilliant comedy "Mr. Pim Passes By". This performance will be given in the auditorium over Pennsylvania Day.

Milne is perhaps the best known dramatist in the world today. Last year he had four plays running simultaneously on Broadway: "The Dover Road", "The Great Broxoff", "The Truth About Gladys" and "Mr. Pim Passes By". All of these plays were very successful and of the three, "Mr. Pim Passes By" was the most popular. More interest has been shown in dramas this year than ever before. The first trials were held Tuesday evening and there being too many contestants to handle, appointments were made for hours during the remainder of the week. The first try-outs brought out about fifty girls and about the same number of men. There proved to be an unusual number of people with ability as displayed by the short trial readings. All students who desire can arrange for a special trial with Mr. Cloetingh, the director.

MEN SELECTED FOR BAND AND ORCHESTRA

About forty of the candidates for the band and about twenty men for the orchestra were selected by W. O. Thompson, leader of the Penn State band, at the trials held Wednesday night. The forty successful candidates, together with the men from last year, will bring the band to its full strength of one hundred and twenty-five men.

The following Freshmen were among the men chosen for the band, A. D. Apper, V. H. Barber, R. E. Beckman, E. L. Begoffer, J. J. Bonita, F. B. Brindle, G. E. Brumfield, F. H. Calkins, J. S. Davis, C. B. Deltz, D. P. Donovan, A. R. Pink, A. H. Garbriek, S. E. Geise, W. G. Gray, S. R. Harr, D. W. Heck, A. B. Helmick, A. W. Irwin, M. H. Jenkins, P. J. Kappo, J. E. Kennedy, J. P. Kruppenberger, S. W. Korman, F. H. McClure, W. W. McCombs, D. W. McPeaters, J. J. Machlan, S. A. Mitterling, F. S. Newsbaum, C. A. Reenick, R. Sahle, G. W. Sarson, C. G. Sensesch, W. Smith, Jr., T. H. Thompson, W. R. Wiedner, H. A. Wilson, R. N. Wolfe, F. C. Mitter, and E. W. Wood, Sophomores, were also selected. The following violins were picked for the Orchestra from the Freshmen candidates: C. G. Famer, W. R. Hollinger, G. G. Hoover, C. V. Leo, J. V. Lightman, R. M. Rainey, C. H. Rosenbloom, J. J. Temple, W. R. Wiedner, D. M. Ball, H. W. Fanning, R. J. Krievall, H. L. McCabb, Wm. Nothstine, C. L. Robb, A. W. Wiershock, D. S. Leeb was selected for the violin, cello and Tom Pryde for the double bass violin.

WOMEN'S A. ENTERTAIN GIRLS AT CAMP FIRE PICNIC

The Women's Athletic Association entertained the girls of the college at a camp fire picnic in the woods north of town last Wednesday evening. The fun started with a wild-west movie presented in pantomime by an amateur theatrical company. After that came the "rats" followed by general camp-fire singing.

CUSTOMS OFF FOR JUNIORS AND SOPHS

All class customs will be off for Junior and Sophomores tomorrow for the Student Campaign Stunt Day. All Juniors will please come to the football game in the afternoon in white trousers and blue or white sweaters.

STATE-WIDE DRIVE OPENS NEXT WEEK

Much Rivalry is Shown Among Various Counties For Raising Their Assigned Quotas

$250,000 ASSURED WHEN STATE DRIVE OPENS

The State-wide campaign to raise the remainder of the $2,000,000 which Penn State has set as her goal for Health and Welfare Building fund begins next Monday morning, when every man and woman in Pennsylvania will be given an opportunity to take part in this state college's plan for expansion. On that date, the sixty-seven counties throughout the State and the centers of Penn State alumni in other states will begin their efforts to raise the fund that is to provide the much-needed health, welfare, and residence units for the college.

At the opening of the state campaign, the total already subscribed will be well over a quarter of a million dollars. The faculty drive which ended last week resulted in a total contribution of $44,686, and it is expected that by the end of this week the $300,000 set as a goal for the Student Campaign, will have been pledged by the undergraduates of the college. Other pledges that have come into headquarters in Old Main during the preliminary weeks of the campaign make it certain that at least the first eighth of the fund will be in the hands of the Campaign Committee before the actual work of the state campaign is begun. The past week has been spent by the (Continued on last page)

FRATERNITIES SET LIMIT FOR ORCHESTRA PRICES

Musicians Offered One Dollar and a Half an Hour by the Inter-Fraternity Council

The prospect of a shortage of dances this winter faced the students of Penn State as a result of the decision reached on Tuesday night by the Inter-Fraternity Council to uphold their ruling of last year in regard to local dance orchestras. By this ruling the maximum rate for local orchestras had been reduced from two dollars an hour per man to a dollar and a half and since it has gone into effect, the orchestras have gone on a strike, refusing to play for fraternities at the reduced rate. The firm stand of the fraternities, however, brought the orchestras into line and on Wednesday night new contracts were being signed at the reduced rate.

Last spring the question was brought before the Inter-Fraternity Council as to whether the two dollar rate was too high considering the quality of music that was furnished by the local orchestras. A committee was appointed and after careful consideration of the question, advised the Council that the price was too high and that if the fraternities agreed on a maximum rate of a dollar and a half per hour, the orchestras would soon agree to accept the more reasonable terms. The following ruling was accordingly passed: "That all members of the Inter-Fraternity Council, on hiring local orchestras for house dances shall do so by contract, such contracts, FIRST—to be printed and placed in the hands of the Secretary of the Council by whom they will be distributed to the chapters as needed. SECOND—they will provide the contracts for the consideration of not more than one and a half dollars per hour per man.

This was the ruling that the fraternities on Tuesday night voted almost unanimously to uphold. Any house violating the ruling was liable to suspension from the Council for a year, the nature of its offense to be published in the COLLEGIAN and the Alumni Quarterly and the national officers of the fraternity to be notified. Most of the houses had already cancelled the contracts that had been made with the local orchestras and four or five of them were considering the holding of a joint inter-fraternity dance in the Armory with music furnished by a high class organization from out of town. The impossibility of effecting a compromise with the fraternities produced a feeling among the orchestras that it would be better to take the reduction in rate rather than hold out with no prospects of success. After a number of hurried conferences the leaders decided to accept the new rate and on Wednesday night new contracts were signed and the danger of a danceless winter was averted.

Y. M. C. A. HAS MANY LOST ARTICLES FOR OWNERS

The Y. M. C. A. is holding at the present time at the hut dozens of articles that have been lost by students. Among the articles are fountain pens, Eversharp, note books, text books, knives, watch charms and other articles. The Y. M. C. A. will be glad to have students inquire at the hut concerning lost articles, and if any articles are found it is asked that they be brought to the hut for identification.

Novel Stunts Help to Raise Student Enthusiasm for $300,000 Penn State Union

MASS MEETING

An Athletic Mass Meeting will be held Friday evening, at seven o'clock in the Auditorium. "Bez" and several of the players will speak. Nominations will be made for Vice-president of the Athletic Association.

ADDITIONAL FIELD GIVEN SOCCERITES

Southwestern Corner of New Beaver Will Be Used for Varsity Practice

GRIDIRON TO BE SCENE OF HOME SOCCER GAMES

An additional field has been given Penn State's large soccer squad, for practice, and permission has been granted to use New Beaver Field for all home games except that with Lehigh, which contest will be staged on the regular football practice field. These are the latest developments announced by Manager Miller, and it is expected that more announcements of interest will be forthcoming in the near future, since "Bez" and the Athletic Department are backing the soccer team as far as is reasonable, in order to further prospects of a fourth undefeated season.

New Practice Field

The varsity squad accompanied by Coach Koenigsleide, adjourned to the southwestern corner of New Beaver field this week, where varsity practice will be held during the remainder of the season. This leaves the Armory field to Assistant Coach Piget and his squad of nearly sixty Freshmen and Sophomores, along with those of thearsity candidates who still stand in need of fundamental training. The new practice field has been graded and leveled, and will be rolled as soon as possible. This will keep the Varsity men in a smaller group where the more advanced details of the game can be studied and practiced to much greater advantage than under the old system of using one field for all.

"CHRISTIAN SERVICE" IS TOPIC AT "Y" LECTURE

George Irving of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. spoke at the first of the series of Tuesday evening meetings of the Student Fellowship for Life Service Society and Y. M. C. A. in the Auditorium. His subject was "The Opportunities for Christian Service—A Survey."

Mr. Irving said, "The only real capital to invest is our own life, and how to invest it depends upon our life's greatest passion. In whatever we undertake we should let Christ be our master as he has the power, and resources, and will supply them if we will only get our credit through service done for him."

Preceding the lecture the meeting was enlivened by the Band who played a few selections, and by the singing of the different college songs by the students.

PENN STATE RIFLEMEN TO MEET OXFORD TEAM

The first steps in the organization of another winning rifle team at Penn State were taken Monday evening at a meeting of candidates for the team. Lieutenant Gruber pointed out to the men that the success of last year's team had brought a number of challenges from such colleges as Lehigh, Pittsburg and Oxford, England and with only a few of last year's team back, State faces the prospect of developing almost an entirely new team.

Last year the rifle team won the championship in both indoor matches, of the Third Corps Area which includes the colleges of Pennsylvania, Maryland and (continued on last page)

LAVIE PHOTOGRAPHS

All Juniors are requested to watch the bulletin boards for Lavie photograph assignments. If the dates are not satisfactory, change with somebody else. The photographer will be in the Hort building every day from nine-thirty to twelve o'clock and from one-thirty to three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Student Campaign to raise $300,000 for the remodeling of Old Main into the proposed Penn State Union got off with a flying start just after the mass meeting Monday night, and by Wednesday evening, when the first returns came into the Campaign office, the results of the first two days work showed a total of $58,650 pledged by the members of the four classes and the two-year olds now in the college. These results of the first two days of the Drive show that the student body is heart and soul behind the movement to raise $2,000,000 for Penn State and the impetus which a successful campaign among the Penn State students will give the State-wide campaign which starts next week can not be over-estimated.

When the last canvasser had reported Wednesday evening, the results of the days' work showed the two-year agriculturists in the lead with a thirty-eight per cent participation and the seniors coming second with thirty-one percent. The sophomores ranked third in the list with a showing of twenty-nine percent, while the Juniors came a close fourth with twenty-six percent. The Freshmen came last with an insignificant four percent that earned for them the privilege of having the Campaign goat bear their colors the following day.

In addition to the individual participation of the first days of the Student Drive, several campus organizations have made one hundred per cent averages that will give the Campaign an added impetus. First among this list was Student Council, which reported a hundred percent participation at their meeting held in Old Main Wednesday evening. In addition to this body, a number of the fraternities about the town have reported hundred percent houses and the Campaign headquarters has received the announcement of a donation of one thousand dollars for furnishing the tent in the Penn State Union which the Thespian Club. It is expected that a number of other campus organizations will follow in the footsteps of Student Council and the Thespians and report hundred per cent participation before the Drive closes.

The enthusiasm of the student body for the Campaign was demonstrated Thursday night when practically the entire body turned out for the all-college (continued on last page)

FROSH FOOTBALL MEN IMPROVE IN SCRIMMAGE

Scrimmage Against Third Varsity Squad Shows Up Good Yearling Material

The opening contest on the Freshman football card with Bellefonte Academy is scheduled to take place on Old Beaver in view of the fact that the Academy gradmen are one of the stiffest opponents on the yearling schedule each year and that this year they are the beginning of one of the most formidable lists of first year teams to be met by Penn State Freshmen, the coaches have been gradually enlarging the scope of training in preparation for the coming season.

Coach Horneman is being assisted in the building of a Freshman eleven by Ed. Kedic, a former '19 man who played an end position on the football team.

From the huge squad of nearly fifty candidates who reported to "Dutch" Horneman at the beginning of the year, several men have been weeded out who have no small degree of ability for first year men and who are strong contenders for the various positions. Among these strongest aspirants for the yearling eleven is a wealth of backfield material which should prove to be a strong point for the Freshmen integration in the coming games and also a dependable source for Bezek next fall. The majority of these backfield candidates are big men and at the same time fast. The tentative first and second teams are heavy as a whole, the linemen in particular who are averaging as heavy as the varsity.

The work of the Freshman squad has been steadily increased from the simple points of the game up to daily scrimmages. A great deal of improvement can be seen in the work of the yearlings but there still remain many points to be smoothed off in preparation for the first game. The most important improvement which the Freshmen still seem to need is that of each man playing where he is supposed to play in order to make the movement clearest. Until this is accomplished, the plays will not be as effective as they are intended to be.
