FROSH COLLEGIAN MEN! NO FRIDAY MEETING.

PROF. McFARLAND TO ADDRESS ENGINEERS

The lecture which was to have been given last Friday afternoon by Mr. J. Horace McFarland has been postponed to November twenty-fourth when Mr. McFarland will speak to senior engineers and others interested on the subject "Should an Engineer Consider Beauty?"

Mr. McFarland has addressed audiences here several times before with pleasing results. He has been very prominent both as a lecturer and a writer along varied lines, mostly tending toward civic, scientific, and horticultural subjects, having written several books, and being a contributor to a great number of popular magazines.

 contribute in the near future. The county has completed its quota in the potato growers' fund, and in fact over-subscribed it.

Another new phase of the campaign and its possibilities came a few days ago when a check for $13.50 was received at headquarters from the public school children of Hastings, Pa. There the principal, D. R. Lowette, stated that the students desired to contribute one cent each to Penn State's fund, and before they were through many had contributed more, the check representing the gift of the 400 pupils in the schools of Hastings.

Under the direction of Dr. D. A. Anderson of the education department, the county institute campaigning is progressing also. Elk Bucks, Huntingdon, and Juniata counties were visited this and last week, and the co-operation of the alumni committees is being given in each county. Centre, Clinton, and Lancaster counties will be visited next week.

INDIAN SOLOIST WILL APPEAR WITH CADMAN

Distinguished Music Critics Commend Musical Interpretations of Princess Tsianina

As an added attraction for Charles Wakefield Cadman's All American Concert, to be given in the Auditorium November twenty-fourth under the auspices of the combined Y. M. C. A. and Department of Music's entertainment course, Princess Tsianina, a full-blooded Cherokee-Creek Indian girl, will appear in the soloist's role.

Princess Tsianina has appeared jointly with Mr. Cadman in their All American Concert and analysis of American Indian music for the past four years with flattering success. She has sung with unqualified success in hundreds of American cities, and in most of the large cities of Europe. The Indian maiden has been praised for her work by the leading critics of America and Europe and has been feted by persons high in social and musical circles abroad, received in this country with the highest honors, and loudly applauded by thousands of concert patrons.

Tsianina (pronounced Chi-Nee-Na) is a Cherokee-Creek and was born in the State of Oklahoma. When translated into English, her name means "Wild Flower". She has always retained the individuality of her race in the matter of dress and invariably appears on the concert platform wearing a dress of beaded leather, moccasins, and a beaded head-dress about her head. While a very young girl, it was discovered that she possessed unusual musical talent. Later she studied with some of the foremost professors and private tutors in the East. After eight years of training she stands today, a noble example of her race—educated and cultured to the highest possible degree.

This Indian maiden has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice, which is guided by an artistic intelligence and trained to expressive ends. To quote a distinguished music critic: "All the notes of the nightingale, the meadow-lark, the blue-bird, the robin, and the dove seemed to be harmoniously blended in her wonderful voice. Her clear enunciation brought out the beauty of every word of her songs; put real emotion into her acting in a manner whose elegance was ravishing to behold."

TARTANS DETERMINED TO VANQUISH NITTANY TEAM

 Wilson and "Squeak" Hufford at the halfback positions and Wentz at fullback. This combination has been working together in splendid manner on the practice field all week and should cause considerable trouble for the crack Skibo line. The shifting of Hufford from the wing position to left halfback lends weight and punching power to the backfield. Wentz has been showing considerable ability as a line plunger and is an excellent defensive man. Kratz and Lafferty are in good condition and will be ready to break into the line-up if needed.

"Bill" Hamilton is suffering from a bad knee and will be replaced at left guard by Flock, a member of last year's freshman team. "Dutch" Redenk will be in his customary place at right guard and may be counted upon to play his usual dependable game. McMahon and Logue will fill the tackle berths with "Hap" Frank and Artelt, another star of last year's freshman eleven, at the wing positions. Captain Bentz at center completes the Nittany line-up which should give the Carnegie Tech lads a rather busy afternoon.

NEW MANDOLIN CLUB SELECTS PERSONNEL

The Penn State Mandolin Club after careful arrangement and discriminate selection has finally fixed the instrumentation of the club for this year to be as follows: ten first mandolins, six second mandolins, four third mandolins, one flute, one cello, and four guitars. The club is preparing a number of new selections of a classical nature which they will render sometime during the winter at one of the Sunday afternoon concerts. It is with the purpose of making this the best year in the history of the club that the leader, P. F. Shope '23, is drilling the men hard and thoroughly.

Plans are being made for the formation of a quartette which will probably consist of a first mandolin, a second mandolin, a third mandolin, and a guitar. It is being formed with the idea of providing extra attraction at concerts and of providing entertainment at functions. With the excellent material from which to select, a first class quartette may be expected.

FARMERS TAUGHT HOW TO SELECT POULTRY

Five hundred and forty-three culling demonstrations were given during the summer by poultry specialists of the extension department of Penn State College at meetings held on farms and poultry plants throughout the state. The eleven thousand five hundred people who attended these meetings, handled over one hundred thousand hens and under the supervision of the poultry men, culled out twenty-six thousand unprofitable birds.

As a result of these demonstrations it was discovered that only a few farmers are feeding their poultry to produce a maximum number of eggs. Unless hens are fed a mash containing meat scrap, eggs cannot be produced on a profitable basis. It has been found that equal parts by weight of bran, middlings, ground oats, corn meal, and meat scrap makes a very satisfactory mash.

NEW JERSEY SPEAKERS WILL TALK TO FARMERS

At the first meeting of Farmers Week, to be held on Monday evening, December eighteenth, Dean Watts of the school of Agriculture and Professor Alva Agee, secretary of the State Department of Agriculture of New Jersey, will be the speakers. Immediately after this meeting there will be a general reception in the Armory and all are urged to attend.

Mrs. Alberta M. Krader, supervisor of music and dramatic art in the Bellefonte schools has been secured to lead the community singing. Mrs. Krader has had wide experience in concert work and has been unusually successful in chorus leading. Mass singing will be held at all the evening meetings.

On Tuesday night, President Thomas Honorable Fred Rasmussen, and Honorable A. P. Sandles of Columbus, Ohio will speak. The latter has taken for his subject "The Battle Cry of Freedom". A play given by the students of the State College High School, under the direction of Miss Anna K. Conrad, will furnish the entertainment. Music will be provided also by the High School under the direction of Miss Emma M. Meyer.

CUT SYSTEM INSTALLED AT UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

By a new method of checking absences, students of the University of Kansas will be given cards upon which they must write a statement of their absence excuse, to be signed by some authority as the house-mother or a physician. The reverse side of the card is to be filled in with data concerning the time of absence, the course in which it occurred, and the signature of both the instructor and dean. This new system will save a great deal of time in reinstating of students, as, according to the previous system, absence excuses were not available until ten or fifteen days had elapsed after the absence.

MINING SCHOOL EXHIBIT HAS NOVEL FEATURES

Demonstration of Mining Apparatus and Operations in Both Old and New Buildings

Entering whole heartedly into the spirit of Pennsylvania Day, the miners are to give the public at large an exhibition of the interesting parts of their various activities. They have arranged for guides to take the crowd through the maze of mining and metallurgical operations, dealing with all the interesting and instructive processes in each department.

The guides are to meet the visitors at the west end of the Engineering Buildings and thence will conduct them to the Old Mining Building. One of the first sights that is to be shown to the inspectors is in the Department of Metallurgical Engineering. In the Assay Laboratory will be found students engaged in assaying ores for their gold and silver content, showing the principles of metallurgy. The visitors will then be led on to the Metallurgical Laboratory. In this laboratory are shown the methods of taking photomicrographs of metals, and there are exhibited specimens of iron, steel, and other metals.

The visitors are next guided to the department of Mining Engineering, in which department there is an experimental mine tunnel into which they may go. From the tunnel, inspectors will go to the New Mining Building, where is located a complete mining museum, containing models of mines and coke plants. An extensive exhibit of Pennsylvania coals and other economic minerals is located in this building. On the floor below is a general collection of minerals and fossils.

At the New Mining Building also the students of Mining Geology will exhibit the mineral collection and show interesting views of various minerals under the microscope.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

STATE ART DIRECTOR TO LECTURE MONDAY

Mr. Valentine Kerby, Art Director for the State of Pennsylvania, will give a lecture on "The Value of Art and Its Relation to Life," at seven thirty Monday evening in Old Chapel.

Mr. Kerby is starting on a State-wide program to promote the study of Art in the rural as well as the city schools. The theme of his lecture will cover the idea that the love of Art should be instilled in the minds of children when they are young instead of waiting until they reach maturity. He says "If the value of Art is appreciated this country will have taken a great stride in the direction of refined culture."

NITTANY SOCCER TEAM MEETS NAVY TOMORROW

 last two weeks, since the 0-0 game with Syracuse, and, although not over-confident, hopes to prevent the shattering of the record maintained by the last three Penn State soccer teams, which have come through their respective seasons undefeated. But this will require the utmost that the Nittany Lion can put forth in the way of soccer playing, as the Navy has one of the most formidable aggregations in the country.

Several changes have been made in the Nittany line-up for tomorrow's battle, in order to strengthen the forward line, which has been weak from the start of the season. "Andy" Warner, who began the season at center half, was shifted first to center forward.

W. & J. FRESHMEN OBJECT TO SOCK INSPECTION BY SOPHS

The members of the freshman class of W. and J. underwent their second sock inspection on Thursday, October the twelfth, after chapel exercises. Three husky fellows were found sporting hockey colored otherwise than the modest hue of black. The culprits were unceremoniously conducted to the swimming pool, and there received the benefits of a cold plunge. When the cry, "Sock Inspection," rang through the hall the frosh evidently decided not to submit to the ordeal for they made a concentrated rush upon the sophs.

ILLINOIS SENIORS STAGE HOBO PARADE FOR ALUMNI

Homecoming at the University of Illinois is celebrated by a "Senior Hobo Parade" which corresponds to Poverty Day at Penn State. General palatial and wearing of suggestive costumes has been forbidden at the former institution this year. Special interest is attached to the demonstration this fall for the success of the parade helps spell success for the new Illinois stadium.

PENN STATE CLUB TO STAGE DANCE TONIGHT

First Dance of Season Will Be Staged in Armory at Eight O'clock

The Penn State Club will hold its first dances of the season tonight and tomorrow night at the Armory. The Club has secured the Tartan Entertainers, a first class orchestra from Pittsburgh. This is the first time that this orchestra has appeared here and a novel program is planned.

The dances will be informal Program dances both evenings and will begin at eight o'clock and continue till twelve o'clock. The decorations will be of the same nature as those used at the Old Main's Hallowe'en Dance, consisting of corn sheaves and a unique lighting system appropriate to the season. The admission will be one dollar and fifty cents per couple.

All customs will be off for Freshmen attending the dance.

ENGINEERING EXTENSION WORKS ON REFRIGERATION

Mr. P. X. Rice of the Engineering Extension Division, in conjunction with Professor A. J. Wood, of the Mechanical Engineering School, has completed tests on a newly designed refrigeration car. The tests were successful in that it is believed the new design will supplement the models now in use.

Professor E. F. Grundhofer, who is also connected with the Engineering Extension Division, is working on a detailed bulletin of recent tests performed on a new standard hot plate, which is used in determining the values of insulating materials.

The Experiment Station is also busily engaged in conducting tests on a new standard heat meter for tests on the same materials.

Mr. J. D. Tyson, Research Fellow, of the Engineering Experiment Station, is planning to conduct a series of investigations on surface transformation of various materials.
