

Penn State Collegian

Does A Lion Like Quaker Meat?

Latest Style Customs To Fit Any Need

VOL. XVIII. No 192

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1922

PRICE FIVE CENTS

REAL PENN STATE SPIRIT IS SHOWN BY 1926 STUDENT

"Penn State Means More Than $200 to Me," Freshman Says, as He Doubles His Pledge

GIRLS TO BRING NOTED SINGERS TO AID FUND

Subscriptions Continue to Come Into Headquarters at Rate of $5000 or More a Day

Another example of Penn State spirit in the campaign was demonstrated a few days ago at campaign headquarters.

A freshman walked in with his green dink in one hand and his fountain pen in the other. He approached Professor A. H. Espenshade, who is in charge of the office, and asked for his student union pledge blank.

With visions of a possible $100 less in the campaign total, Professor Espenshade looked up the blank and handed it over to the young Penn State, expecting to bid it good-bye.

"Let me have a new blank, please," was the unexpected query from the wearer of the verdant postage stamp. Now looking for a big cut in the pledge, the campaign manager complied.

He was, therefore, agreeably surprised a minute later when the visitor handed over the new pledge and it was found to bear a promise for $200—just double his initial pledge!

"That's the spirit!" exclaimed the (Continued on last page)

THE HON. S. F. EDMONDS NEXT CHAPEL SPEAKER

Wide Experience at Law and as Promoter of Civic Welfare Make Him Able Preacher

The Honorable Franklin Spencer Edmonds, LL. B., of Philadelphia, will be the chapel speaker this Sunday. Mr. Edmonds is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, having secured all his degrees at that institution. He is now practicing law and is a professor of law at Swarthmore college.

Mr. Edmonds has had wide experience in politics and law, having been a member of various political parties, and associations promoting civic welfare. He has also written many books, the best known of them probably being the "Centuries Progress". All of these attributes and accomplishments combine to make him an able and helpful, as well as interesting speaker.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM LEAVES FOR CHICAGO

Eight men with whom the Penn State's possibilities for success in the Student Livestock Judging Contest at the International Show at Chicago next month left State College this morning to receive some preliminary practice in judging and the final finishing touches in coaching prior to the contest. Many of the leading breeding establishments in Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio will be visited.

The team is coached, and will be accompanied as on previous trips, by Professor F. L. Bentley, B. L. Coleman, L. D. Faro '23, W. F. Heckert '23, W. E. Hunt '23, J. L. Kirby '23, C. A. McKinney '23, Albert Lent, Jr. '23, and W. S. Miller '23 are the students who will make the trip and from whom a team of five men, will be selected. In addition to the contest at Chicago December twelfth, a Penn State Judging team will enter the Student Livestock Judging Contest to be held in connection with the Canadian Royal Livestock Exposition at Toronto on November twenty-first.

PULLED OUT OF MUD MOTORIST HELPS COLLEGE CAMPAIGN FUND

A motorist stuck in the mud of a Bucks county road a few days ago unknowingly became a contributor to the Pennsylvania State College Emergency Fund. County Agent R. E. Atkinson, who is the Penn State campaign chairman of Bucks county, was returning home from a State booster meeting in Doylestown with another worker when they passed a stranded car. They stopped and helped the autist out of his trouble and he was so pleased that he gave the Penn State men each a dollar. They accepted only for the good of the campaign and today sent in the money with another dollar received from an "old lady friend of State College".

PENN STATE A. S. C. E. WILL STAGE DANCE NEXT FRIDAY

The Penn State student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers will stage a dance on the evening of Friday, November twenty-fourth, from eight until twelve o'clock. Members of the faculty of the Civil Engineering Department, and their wives will act as patrons and patronesses of the dance. Talbot's orchestra will play, and subscriptions will cost one dollar and twenty-five cents.

NITTANY BOOTERS FACE HARD BATTLE

Outlook for Blue and White Booters Becomes Gloomy as Final Struggle With Haverford Looms Near

The fourth undefeated Penn State soccer team faces the crisis of its existence tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock when the Haverford booters will do all in their power to ruin the Lion's hope of coming through four consecutive seasons of soccer, without a defeat. With the loss of McVaugh from the backfield on account of sickness, a cloud has appeared on the Nittany horizon and the atmosphere grows murkier with the ominous shadow of the formidable Scarfort and Black aggregation.

Without a doubt, the Lion will be compelled to put forth the last ounce of his strength if he hopes to defeat the Haverford soccerites tomorrow. McVaugh has been taken down with sickness since the Navy battle and will be unable to play and coach Keenleyside is faced with the choice of moving "Andy" Warner from inside left to McVaugh's position as right fullback, thus weakening the forward line, or of substituting Edgerton in the right fullback berth. Otherwise the line-up will be the same as for the Navy game.

Haverford Powerful Haverford soccer is of the same high quality this fall that has brought the main line Quakers several intercollegiate championships in the past. Last year was one of the poorest years in their soccer history, when they were tied for third place with Penn and Harvard, Princeton winning first. This year Princeton has been practically eliminated by the wide margin defeat at the hands of Cornell, although the Orange and Black handed Haverford a totally unexpected defeat, 4-0, this fall and has placed the Quakers in a position where they must win every remaining contest of the season if they are to emerge champions of the Intercollegiate league. This organization includes Yale, Harvard, Penn, Cornell, and Haverford. Penn State has endeavored to secure admittance to the league several times but has been refused on account of her out-of-the-way situation.

In the first two games of the season, Haverford tied Yale and Cornell, although the Pennsylvanians outplayed the latter teams. The University of Pennsylvania is considered the one big obstacle in the way of championship for the main liners this year, and coach McPeet has instituted and maintained practice of the most strenuous type this fall in preparation for the struggle with the Philadelphians. His linemen are exceptionally strong at shooting, one of the weaknesses of the Nittany forwards. One of the most formidable players on the forward line of the eastern aggregation is Captain Hunsicker who has starred at center forward for the last two years.

The line-up for tomorrow's game is as follows: Penn State Haverford Longhurst G Wilbur Edgerton or Warner R. F. Fisher Shafr L. F. Leeds Hagenbuch R. H. Thomas Harral (Capt.) C. H. Hoag Binnis L. H. Longstreth Kelly O. R. Borton Russell I. R. Starbuck Grupp C. F. Hunsicker (Capt.) Warner or Gaul I. L. Garrett Crooks O. L. Willey

Coupons for event number eleven will secure admission and general admission will be fifty cents.

DR. CHAPMAN DESCRIBES INDIAN PRIMA DONNA SERVED WITH A. E. F.

Missionary Tells of Dog Journeys and Illustrates Lecture by Stereoptican Slides

Beginning at seven o'clock last Tuesday evening and talking for over an hour, Dr. J. W. Chapman mused his dog team over the frozen lands of Alaska by means of a stereoptican lecture in Old Chapel. The dogs were husky fellows and true to their breed were willing to work. We were able to cover considerable territory through pine covered forests and only once had to make a portage where the going was rough.

After we struck the Yukon River and had traveled toward the interior of Alaska we were able to see what a great work Doctor Chapman has wrought in that region. The Indians and Eskimos formerly lived in underground huts which were dark and unsanitary. We saw but very few of these old dwellings, for the natives have constructed log cabins with an abundance of ventilation.

There are two railroads which enter this northern territory and they mark the improvement which has been made over the pack trains of horses or mules which were so common during the gold rush of the late nineties, and which were in evidence when Dr. Chapman (Continued on last page)

PITT TICKET DISTRIBUTION

A new system will be used for the distribution of the football tickets for the Pitt-Penn State football contest at the end of the month. Any student going to the game will be permitted to purchase two tickets, for which he will make application during those days specified. Two days later he will receive the tickets allotted to him.

Two days will be given the student and faculty bodies to send in their applications on forms furnished for the occasion. At the end of that time the applications will be collected and then sorted according to classes. A committee from Student Council will then draw the lots for the applications. Senior applications will be honored first, and those of the other classes in order. The one or two tickets will then be placed in an envelope on which is the applicant's name, address and class and then may be called for during college office hours of two days. This plan eliminates the waiting in line, and a fair distribution is made. The choice of the tickets in no way depends upon the time of filing the applications.

Application cards may be secured at the Treasurer's office: Monday, Nov. 20—8:30 a. m. to 12:00 p. m. 1:30 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 21—8:30 a. m. to 12:00 p. m. 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Students and faculty will be required to secure application blanks during these hours and to place these, properly filled out, in the box located in the Treasurer's office before Wednesday morning. No applications will be considered after that date.

The tickets allotted to the faculty will be distributed at the offices of the Deans of the respective schools on Thursday, Nov. 23. Seniors and juniors may receive their tickets on Thursday, Nov. 23, during the hours specified above, and the underclassmen on Friday, Nov. 24 at the same time. Tickets will not be given out at night or at any other time.

Two thousand tickets have been secured for students and faculty members. Grand stand seats are priced $2.50 apiece and the seats in the cheering section are fifty cents apiece. All Penn State sections are opposite midfield and are the best that can be secured.

Students securing cheering section seats are assured consideration. The following conditions must be complied with before tickets will be given out:

- 1. Money for the tickets must accompany the application and may be placed in the envelope accompanying the application. 2. Each applicant must sign a pledge to the effect that either he or a member of his immediate family will occupy one of the seats.

LA VIE NOTICE

The La Vie Board reminds the upperclassmen that all activities cards must be filled out and handed in before November thirtieth. Activities cards can be procured at the "Y" Hut, and there is a box just inside the front entrance to Old Main, where they may be deposited.

DEBATERS HAVE HARD SCHEDULE THIS YEAR

Two Triangular and Four Single Debates Arranged—Successful Season Anticipated

Two triangular debates, four single debates, and a possible tour of the North and East is the schedule for the Penn State debating team this year. The forecast for the success of the team is cheerful for this year according to Professor T. J. Gates, coach, since a large number of men are out for the team and debates have been scheduled with some of the best college teams in the country.

Two questions are to be argued this year. They are as follows: I. "Resolved that the United States and the several states should establish industrial courts analogous in principle to the Kansas Industrial court." II. "Resolved that the Towner-Sterling Education Bill should be enacted into a law."

The first debate of the year is to be held December sixth, and is a triangular debate between the University of Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, and Penn State. The first question is to be used and will undoubtedly attract considerable attention, the affirmative team debating here, while the negative team travels. The following two debates will be single debates held respectively with North Dakota Agricultural College and The University of Maryland.

The first to be held at Penn State and the second at College Park, Maryland. Penn State is also to debate in a triangular argument with Dickinson College and Bucknell University. Tentative arrangements have also been made with Colgate University and with the George Washington University.

The tour of the North and East is still indefinite, but will probably be made between March twenty-eighth and April fifth. About five universities will be met on this tour, and the debates will be rather in the nature of an inter-sectional contest.

The team itself is rapidly shaping into a well-trained machine and a cut will be made before the end of the week. This final cut will bring the squad down to twelve or fourteen men and will make a more widely aggregation from which the coach can choose a team.

More than ordinary interest is being displayed in debating this year as is shown by the size of the squad included in which are a few freshmen who are doing well. While certain men have shown up better than others so far, Professor Gates has not as yet named a possible line-up.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS TO PRESENT PLAY TONIGHT

Tonight in the Auditorium at eight-fifteen the Student Volunteer Association will present the comedy, "Mrs. Mainwaring's Management", by J. R. Froome, Jr. The proceeds will be devoted to the extension of the S. V. A.

The play, which has been in rehearsal for two months, will be handled by a competent cast. The lead will be played by Miss Mary Ferguson '24 who is a splendid actress and will be remembered by State College audiences for her excellent work in "The Dear Departed", "The School for Mothers-in-Law", the Rehab show last season, and "Sham". Her present play provides her best role.

Miss Ferguson is supported by a strong cast including Alvin Proudfoot '25 who has appeared in "The Witches Hour", "St. George and the Dragon", and "Sham"; Harry Hoehler '24 who has appeared in "Clarence"; and Thomas White '24 who will be remembered for his splendid impersonation of Miss MacGonigle in the architects' play last year. Other characters in the cast are Louisa Van Sant '23, Miriam Roy '23, and Miss Sarah Worthington '24. The scenic effects are in charge of D. H. Porterfield '23 and a very interesting set is planned.

The play will be preceded by a novelty program of four numbers. Harold Taylor '26 will present a brilliant piano number, and Miss Ruth Ellen Jackson will give an interpretive reading.

The concluding number will be a song selection by Clifford Finley '24 of the variety quartet. The entire program is under the personal direction of J. Gordon Amend who is sprinkling neither time nor energy to make their production a success.

KILLINGER WILL NOT COACH AT DICKINSON NEXT SEASON

According to "The Dickinsonian", Glenn Killinger, now coach of Dickinson, will not resume his work as coach next year. Although he has received a number of offers to coach, he has not made his plans for next fall. He also stated that he would not play professional baseball this summer.

LIVELY MASS MEETING IS HELD FOR FOOTBALL AND SOCCER CONTESTS

Coaches Bezdek and Keenleyside Comment on Outcome of Tomorrow's Games

Howling for the scalp of Penn and Haverford next Saturday, the loyal supporters of the Nittany Lion again showed their spirit and enthusiasm at the mass meeting last Wednesday night. The Auditorium, which was crowded even to floor space, reverberated time and again to the cheers of the crowd as "Bez", Keenleyside, Captain Harral of the soccer team, and "Tiny" McLaughlin spoke on Saturday's game. Each man seemed secure in the faith that Penn State would again come home with the proverbial "bacon".

The first number on the program for the evening was a selection by the Glee Club, which was so heartily received by the crowd that the variety quartet had to be sent in as reinforcements. However, as the first notes of the singing were heard, the notes entered and the music died an unnatural and premature death.

Captain Keenleyside, of the soccer squad, was the first speaker on the program, and explained that it was his honest opinion that the enthusiasm shown to the soccer team at the last mass meeting was the deciding factor in the game with the Navy last week. He explained that the game next Saturday is an important one in that Haverford has one of the foremost teams in the country, and is also a member of the Intercollegiate Soccer League, and will be an excellent opportunity for seeing what status Penn State would have in this league. Captain Harral also spoke of the great effect the cheering at the last mass meeting had on the playing of the team and pointed out that while the Blue and White team has been considerably shattered by sickness and injuries, there is every reason to suppose that Penn State will come out on the "long end" tomorrow.

The meeting was then devoted to football. Captain "Newsh" Bentz was found to be absent. The reason came from "Bez". Captain Bentz was afraid of being a jinx. It seems that Bentz was not accustomed to attending the mass meetings last year, and Penn State won. When he went to the mass meeting preceding the Navy game, the fate frowned. "Bez" is not superstitious, but when "Newsh" suggested that perhaps he had better stay away this time, the coach agreed that the gods should not be goaded too far. Bezdek then emphasized the importance of winning tomorrow's tussle, and the meeting closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

INTERCLASS REFLE MATCH TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

About thirty-five men participated in the Noveltv Rifle match, held Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the Armory Gallery. To qualify, the men had to average sixteen points in the standing position, eighteen points in the kneeling, and twenty in the sitting, out of a possible twenty-five. Those who passed these were permitted to enter into the prone position match. Vessey, Artois, Jeffries, Wentworth, and Spangler showed up well in the matches. The team is practicing diligently for a few hard matches which will be held this year.

Appears Second Time Frank Gorman appeared before the Tribunal for the second time and was dealt with accordingly. This time he was charged with refusing to carry a trunk, and for general "freshness". He received a hair cut and wears a sign which reads, "Touch up my brains with this". In his hand he carries a feather duster.

Two fresh have been charged with a serious offense which merits the attention of the Tribunal. R. H. Poole and C. S. Crawford were both found (Continued on last page)

ERRING FRESHMEN FEEL STUDENT TRIBUNAL LASH

First Year Men Who Break College Customs Pay Penalty in Many Different Ways

Five more freshmen have felt the lash of the Student Tribunal and have been ordered to substitute a meek and lowly appearance in place of their one-time open disregard for college customs.

The football practice field was the seat of jurisdiction when William McCombes appeared for a haircut and a molasses feed, Wednesday evening. A sign now adorns his back, to wit: "I gave her the music and said 'Good Bye'."

Appears Second Time Frank Gorman appeared before the Tribunal for the second time and was dealt with accordingly. This time he was charged with refusing to carry a trunk, and for general "freshness". He received a hair cut and wears a sign which reads, "Touch up my brains with this". In his hand he carries a feather duster.

Two fresh have been charged with a serious offense which merits the attention of the Tribunal. R. H. Poole and C. S. Crawford were both found (Continued on last page)

Student Council Takes Action On Customs and Class Scraps

At the last meeting of the Student Council, held Tuesday night, important measures regarding the revision of the college customs, student conduct on the campus and in buildings, class scraps, revision of the Athletic Association Constitution in regard to minor sports S and the distribution of football tickets, were discussed and action taken on several of the items.

Customs Revised A report of the committee on the revision of college customs was made by A. J. Musser '23. The recommendations of the committee in regard to the General Customs were adopted as follows:

- 1. Every student shall salute the President. 2. Every student shall give the right of way to those in classes above him and to the faculty. 3. All students shall stand with uncovered heads during the singing of the Alma Mater. 4. Students shall not "joste" "stickers" or seals, hearing college insignia, on the outside of any baggage. 5. At all indoor athletic events all students shall remove their hats. 6. Smoking shall not be permitted in the class rooms of any building or at any indoor athletic event. 7. No unsportsmanlike or ungentlemanly conduct will be permitted at any athletic event. 8. The ringing of Old Main bell shall be restricted to sanctioned occasions. 9. The wearing of high school or preparatory school athletic insignia shall not be permitted. The revised and new Class Customs to be adopted at the next meeting are as follows: 34 There shall be no indiscriminate hazing. All violations of college custom shall be permitted to go without coats except on Stunt Night, the night of the first freshman class meeting and at times of engaging in class scraps. 9 Freshmen must always wear green caps and plain black four-in-hand ties except when on trips, on Sundays, or on holidays, or when entertaining their mothers, sisters, or when entertaining young ladies at the times of house parties, but in no case shall they be permitted to go without a tie or hat. The period between semesters is regarded as a holiday period. 10 Freshmen shall keep their coats completely buttoned when in public. 11 Freshmen shall wear dark colored socks at all times. 12 Freshmen shall not be permitted to use tobacco in any form in public. 13 Freshmen shall not loiter in the vicinity of Co-op corner. 14 Freshmen shall not frequent the vicinity where the findings of the Student Council are being executed. 15 Freshmen shall be permitted to give only sanctioned yells at their athletic contests and class meetings. 16 Every freshman shall wear during the first two weeks of college a tag upon which his name is legibly printed in letters not less than one-quarter of an inch high. 17 Any student entering as a freshman in any four-year course shall be considered as a freshman, and shall be required to undergo a year's college customs. All special students, entering college with approximately the rating of a freshman and all students changing from two-year to regular four-year courses shall be required to undergo one year's college customs. 18 There shall be no indiscriminate hazing. All violations of college custom shall be permitted to go without coats

BATTLE OF GRID GIANTS PROMISED IN PENN TUSSLE

Bezdek's Warriors Are Confident of Annexing Quaker Scalp--Penn Has Strong Backfield

The game for which all Eastern Pennsylvania football fans have been waiting is on the program for tomorrow afternoon when Bezdek's Nittany Lions meet the strong University of Pennsylvania eleven on Franklin Field. There is something about a Penn State-Penn tussle which appeals to the gridiron followers as does no other game. This tussle which will be held at the big Red and Blue stadium, but recently dedicated will be filled to the brim tomorrow.

In fact, the immense amount of interest which has arisen in Philadelphia and the near vicinity over the contest has already exhausted the available supply of tickets, and one of the largest crowds in the history of that metropolis is expected to sit in judgment at Franklin Field tomorrow afternoon. More than a thousand Penn State students, together with the college band and the popular Nittany Lion, are migrating from State College for the big fracas.

A Battle of Giants The battle between the Lions and the Quakers bids fair to be a classic struggle. The 1922 Penn team is the best that has ambled down the pike in a long, long time and is made up of exceptional men, the outstanding characteristic of whom is a willingness to no matter what the odds. The first tussle will stack up in weight and experience above the average while Haverford can draw on a well-stocked substitute list for both linemen and backs.

Both elevens are assessed to a high pitch over the impending battle and will go on the field determined to win at any cost. Spectacular football methods are sure to prevail. The Quakers take big chances in close battles and Penn State, too, has been leaning toward the spectacular and unexpected in some of the recent games. Bezdek's Lads have been employing the aerial attack more frequently this season than in any past year, and Penn will doubtless resort to the same kind of attack if the going is close.

Penn Backfield Strong In the backfield the Quaker is strong. Captain "Pos" Miller played a whole of a game against the Navy at half-back and his work all season, has been beyond reproach. "Tex" Hamer, full-back (Continued on last page)

BATTLE OF GRID GIANTS PROMISED IN PENN TUSSLE

Bezdek's Warriors Are Confident of Annexing Quaker Scalp--Penn Has Strong Backfield

The game for which all Eastern Pennsylvania football fans have been waiting is on the program for tomorrow afternoon when Bezdek's Nittany Lions meet the strong University of Pennsylvania eleven on Franklin Field. There is something about a Penn State-Penn tussle which appeals to the gridiron followers as does no other game. This tussle which will be held at the big Red and Blue stadium, but recently dedicated will be filled to the brim tomorrow.

In fact, the immense amount of interest which has arisen in Philadelphia and the near vicinity over the contest has already exhausted the available supply of tickets, and one of the largest crowds in the history of that metropolis is expected to sit in judgment at Franklin Field tomorrow afternoon. More than a thousand Penn State students, together with the college band and the popular Nittany Lion, are migrating from State College for the big fracas.

A Battle of Giants The battle between the Lions and the Quakers bids fair to be a classic struggle. The 1922 Penn team is the best that has ambled down the pike in a long, long time and is made up of exceptional men, the outstanding characteristic of whom is a willingness to no matter what the odds. The first tussle will stack up in weight and experience above the average while Haverford can draw on a well-stocked substitute list for both linemen and backs.

Both elevens are assessed to a high pitch over the impending battle and will go on the field determined to win at any cost. Spectacular football methods are sure to prevail. The Quakers take big chances in close battles and Penn State, too, has been leaning toward the spectacular and unexpected in some of the recent games. Bezdek's Lads have been employing the aerial attack more frequently this season than in any past year, and Penn will doubtless resort to the same kind of attack if the going is close.

Penn Backfield Strong In the backfield the Quaker is strong. Captain "Pos" Miller played a whole of a game against the Navy at half-back and his work all season, has been beyond reproach. "Tex" Hamer, full-back (Continued on last page)

HARRIERS PREPARE FOR INDOOR TRACK SEASON

Tentative List of Five Meets Announced by Manager Weil—Season Starts in January

With approach of winter the Nittany Lion has begun to prepare for the indoor track season, and Manager L. G. Weil '23 has already announced a tentative list of meets, some of which Penn State will enter. All of them are in and around New York, Philadelphia, and Boston, and the organizations sponsoring them are noted for staging contests in which the best colleges and universities of the East furnish competition that calls forth the utmost ability and greatest skill from those who participate.

Penn State runners have time and again brought back to the Nittany valley laurels won at these meets. Among those who have placed their names in the Hall of Fame because of their winning various medals and cups at the contests or who have placed high in many of them will be remembered "Blondy" Romig '21, Denning '21, Larry Shields '22, Barron '22, and "Chick" Cooper '22. "Bank" Kauffman '23, Captain of this year's track team, Enoch '21, Captain of the varsity cross country team, Ilie '23, hurdler, Hoffrich '21, Edgerton '23, and Moore '24, Wind '25, Kraatz '25, and Conway '26 are also promising prospects for the coming months. All these runners have been developed by Coach "Bill" Martin who has demonstrated his ability to turn out winning track men without fail each season, with the result that Penn State has been able to make her influence felt year after year at track and field meets, as well as cross country races, in all parts of the East.

The tentative list of meets now under consideration by the Blue and White trackmen is as follows: Melrose games, Metropolitan A. A. U. championship, Newark A. C. games, Waco games, Boston A. A. Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America, and the Meadowbrook Club meet. The contests are scheduled to take place during January, February, and March, and Penn State runners and field artists will be entered in some or all of them.

UNDERCLASS WRESTLING SCRAP TO BE HELD SOON

The freshman-sophomore wrestling scrap, one of the most popular and interesting underclass affairs of the year, will be held on Saturday afternoon, December ninth in the Armory. Trials for the two lower class teams will begin immediately after the Thanksgiving vacation. There are a number of promising first year men signed up for wrestling this year and the bouts will undoubtedly be close and hotly contested.

CAUTION

In view of the fact that the diseases of Scarlet fever and Measles are rapidly spreading among the school children of State College, the Child Welfare Section of the Woman's Club, urges the mothers not to send their children to school in case they have slight colds, sore throats, coughs, in order to prevent the spreading of the diseases. It is also very important to strictly observe the quarantine.

Child Welfare Section (Continued on last page)