team, who has shown remarkable ability as a distance runner. Some more "dark horses" have appeared in both lineups. Fitzpatrick 24, running with the varsity, has been striving to reach varsity standard for several seasons, and has at last succeeded, while Yeager 25 has shown steady improvement since school opened this fall. The same is true of Guyer who is listed as a freshman entry. Wendler 25 is the only one of last year's varsity team, besides Captain Enck, to have retained his berth. He has likewise been exhibiting a steady and sure improvement in running form during the past months. Coach Martin has high hopes for the frosh in the coming contest, as Penn State has one of the best, if not the best, freshman cross country team in the history. It is expected that the Harvard and Penn State freshmen will make the strongest bids for first position next Monday, Walters of the Crimson, and Shipley of Penn State being the outstanding performers on both teams. But Lafayette and Penn also promise yearling teams of high caliber, Loman, son of Penn and Farnham, the only frosh entry being announced for Lafayette, being formidable contestants. This is the second intercollegiate contest in which Penn State frosh have been entered.
The varsity runners of Penn State have been entered at the intercollegiate for the last four years, and have always placed in the upper five of the list of finishers. It is expected that they will do as well this season. Columbia, M. I. T., Cornell, and Princeton will be among the strongest contestants with among the strongest contestants with whom the Lion will strive.
The list of schools entering teams is as follows: Bates, Bowdoin, Carnegie Tech., Colby, City College of New York, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Maine, M. I. T., New York University, Penn State, Penn, Princeton, Rutgers, Syracuse, Yale. Freshman teams entering are: City College of New York, Cornell, Harvard, Lafayette, Maine, M. I. T., New York University, Penn State, Penn, Princeton, Rutgers, Syracuse, Yale. Colleges entering for the first time are: Bates, Carnegie Tech., New York University, and Rutgers, while University of Cincinnati, Holy Cross College, Lafayette College, and Williams College have dropped out. Rutgers, New York University and Maine have added to the freshman list of entries this year, while Dartmouth has dropped out.

PURDUE OFFERS LOVING CUP TO BEST DECORATED FRATERNITY
In order to promote better decorations in fraternities and societies at Purdue University, a silver loving cup will be given to the one having the best decorations of the Annual Homecoming. This is being done to make the alumni feel that they are at home, and that enough interest is taken in their returning to make a festive affair. The judges will be a committee of alumni, who will award the cup at the game.

FRED B. SMITH IS COMING TUESDAY

contagious and as head of the sales force of his company he is the main force as a "pop instiller" he is absolutely speaker at all sullen's conventions.
Speaks on World Situation
Mr. Smith has selected as his Tuesday evening topic "The World Situation" and is as well fitted to speak on this topic as any person in America. He has traveled around the world at least four times visiting ninety nations and addressing audiences in all English speaking countries as well as in other lands where he has employed translators to put across his message.
A New York business man, his subject will be discussed from the practical viewpoint of one who has made a personal study of the conditions as they exist. He will undoubtedly lay great stress on the Near East and other portions of the old world over which war clouds are gathering.
Mr. Smith is probably best known for his activities in "The Men and Religion Forward Movement" in 1910. An originator and leader of this he was so successful that organizations were established in fifteen hundred cities and towns. It was on this same movement that he traveled so extensively around the world.
This summer Mr. Smith was active in Europe and he has just returned bearing valuable knowledge of the world situation.
Popular at Colleges
As a student speaker this energetic man has met with unprecedented success. Classes are generally dismissed and convocations held when he reaches the college.
Mr. Smith comes to Penn State as the last speaker on the Tuesday evening series which have been conducted under the joint auspices of the Student Fellowship for Christian Life Service and the Y. M. C. A.

WRESTLING SCHEDULE TO OPEN FEBRUARY TENTH

material will be unearthed before the scrap takes place.
At present there are fifteen sophomores who are trying to obtain positions on their class squad. Of these, Black, in the 135 pound class and Free-land and Manning, both 145 pounders, are doing good work. The 153 pounders are Partemore, Pollock, and Reader. Thomas, who showed ability in the 175 pound division last year and who is now out for football is expected back in the mats within the near future. The heavyweight position is at present occupied by Strickler.
The lack of material among the sophomores in the 125 pound class is accredited to football which is keeping many candidates busy. Coach Detar urges that all men who intend to take up wrestling appear in working togs as soon as possible.

PROFESSOR MARTINEZ TO GIVE SPANISH LECTURE

Professor J. Martinez of the Department of Romance Languages, will give a lecture on South America, Monday evening, November twenty-seventh at seven-thirty in Old Chapel.
Mr. Martinez will speak to students of Spanish and to others interested in the subject. In connection with his lecture, he will show stereopticon views in order to give a vivid picture of the political, commercial and cultural progress of our southern neighbors. He will speak especially of the ancient Inca Empire which is wonderful monuments and interesting forms of civilization.

RIFLE TEAM SCHEDULE HAS BEEN COMPLETED

Eight Matches Are Arranged With Leading Colleges in Addition to Intercollegiate

The schedule of matches for the Penn State Rifle team has been completed. Among the opponents are some of the best scholastic rifle teams in the country. Following is the schedule of the matches:
Jan. 8—Lafayette
Jan. 15—Yale and Lehigh (Triangular match)
Feb. 5—Open
Feb. 12—Univ. of Penna.
Feb. 19—Western Maryland
Feb. 26—Drexel
Mar. 5—Georgetown
Mar. 12—Lehigh
Besides these, the Oxford University team of England, and the intercollegiate Rifle Match will be held some time in March.
This schedule promises to test the merits of the Rifle Team to the very utmost. University of Pennsylvania, last year intercollegiate champion, and all of the other institutions have made a name for themselves in the shooting game. Lehigh won the outdoor intercollegiate on the service range two years ago, and were runners up last year when Penn State won that title. Yale beat Oxford last year, and Drexel is always up in the high class at the matches. G. C. Jeffrey, manager of the team, is to be complimented for this array of opposing talent and the team that can come through such a schedule unscathed is well on its way to the intercollegiate championship.

"Y" IS REPRESENTED AT ANNUAL CONFERENCE

The Y. M. C. A., holding itself as an international organization whose particular field lies among the youth, who are first to be involved in international conflicts, and as an arm of the Christian Church, resolved that the convention call upon Young Men's Christian Associations and members everywhere to give earnest thought and study to the problems involved in the removing of causes of wars and in bringing lasting peace founded upon understanding and trust.
At the recommendation of the student section a resolution was unanimously passed endorsing prohibition, without reservations.
Among the speakers of prominence were Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Dr. Richard Roberts, of Montreal, Canada, and Dr. Warren H. Wilson, who presented the needs of rural America.
Keen interest was shown in the speakers from Europe. Del A. Davis told of the conditions in Constantinople and Smyrna and occasioned much concern among the delegates, on that grave situation.
The conference was entertained by the First University Jubilee Singers, who will perform at Penn State on December twelfth.

MUSICAL ARTISTS APPEAR TOMORROW

The Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra is scheduled to perform his new "Oriental Idylls" this season, and he has written eight full orchestral numbers along oriental lines for the super film "The Rubiyat of Omar Khayyam". The music for these pieces will be published in the near future, and one of them will be played by Cadman himself in the Saturday evening's program.
But in spite of all these songs and orchestral numbers, Cadman's chief claim to fame is by virtue of his propaganda for American Indian folk-song. This has been accomplished during the past four years through concerts and recitals upon this subject, for which he is an unquestioned authority. This side of his work is exemplified in his All-American program which will be presented in the Auditorium tomorrow evening.
The program follows:
Part One
1. Songs
(a) Invocation to the Sun-God (Zuni Song) Troyer
(b) Lovers Proposal (Zuni tune) Troyer
(c) By the Waters of Minnetonka (Cheyenne Melody) Lieurance Tsianina
2. Piano Numbers
(a) The Thunderbird Comes from the Cedars Cadman
(b) To a Vanishing Face (Navajo) Cadman
(c) The Pompadour's Fan (from a poem by Dobson) Cadman
3. Songs
(a) Her Blunke (Navajo) Lieurance
(b) Pale Moon Logan
(c) Ho Ye Warriors (Sioux) Cadman
(d) From the Land of the Sky-Blue Waters Cadman
Part Two
1. Mr. Cadman will exhibit a genuine Indian flageolet and play several Indian love songs on this instrument, followed by brief remarks on the subject of Indian folk-song.
2. Songs
(a) O Golden Sun Freehey
(b) The Naked Bear (Ojibway) Cadman
(c) Tell Her My Lodge is Warm Cadman
Part Three
1. Selections from the American Opera "Shanewis" Cadman
(a) (Aria) The Spring Song of the Robin Woman Cadman
(b) (Aria) Indian Lament (Into the Forest Near to God I Go) Mr. Cadman and Tsianina

DEAN WATTS WILL ADDRESS WASHINGTON GATHERING

The Land Grant College Association today. He will then travel to Pittsburgh where he will be joined by Dr. Fletcher and they will speak at a banquet given by the forists of that vicinity on Thursday evening.
Dean Watts will speak before the President Teaching Division of Agriculture at the Thirty-sixth Annual Conference of the Association of Land Grant Colleges on "The Aims, Purposes, and Credit Value of Laboratory Work." At the meeting of the Experimental Division, the Dean will also lead a discussion, following Dr. Love of Cornell University, on the "Application of Probable Error in Agricultural Experimentation."

BEZDEK HESITATES TO JOIN PHILLIES

had an opportunity to rest up and consider the pros and cons of the offer from every angle. Another meeting will then be arranged and the fate of Penn State's future in football and other athletics will be definitely decided. The offer which President Baker made to Bezdek is rumored to be in the vicinity of $20,000 a year, or more than any other big-league manager with the exception of McGraw of the New York Giants is receiving at the present time. Such an offer, with the water field for his activities which the management of the Phillies would entail, would not lightly be passed over by anyone and would be snapped up without further question by the average man. But Bezdek absolutely refuses to accept it. The reason, as he says, is that the other side of the argument presents the question of ideals and high standards of character which Penn State has always emphasized and which the popular Blue and White athletic director has always fostered. During his stay in Philadelphia, "Bez" sturdily little Lion's coach say "no" to was enthusiastically received by base- President Baker at the next meeting.

If your joints are crippled up with rheumatism. If neuralgia is your daily adversary, or if a burning indigestion is making your days miserable. If you are in constant discomfort from a dragging ache in your back. If any one of a hundred other physical ailments, frets and worries you and makes of your life one long hell. Osteopathy will relieve you. Osteopathy is a simple, natural method of healing by aiding nature instead of hindering and weakening her. Remember that nature is always working to attain the normal; is always endeavoring to restore diseased tissues. All she needs to win out in her battle against disease is just a little of such assistance as Osteopathy alone affords; to have just a little of the abnormal pressure taken off the nerves, or an impingement here and there done away with by a proper adjustment of body structures. If you have never tried Osteopathy, do so at once. It will be a revelation of healing to you. It is simply the application of a little gumption to the problem of ill health; the use of a very simple scientific discovery in body mechanics that often works wonders. A few treatments will usually bring relief. Enough of them will probably cure you. DR. R. L. CAPERS Office above Varsity Store Phone 71-M Office Hours: Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, 10-5
