AGRONOMY STUDENTS STAGE GRAIN EXHIBIT

Fifty-Seven Entries Included Thirty of Small Grain and Twenty-Seven of Corn

The first grain show that Penn State has ever staged was exhibited in the Agriculture Building last Saturday before a large group of interested students and farmers. There were fifty-seven entries in all, of which thirty were small grain and the remainder corn. All had been grown by Penn State students. The judges were C. F. Nell, professor of experimental agronomy, and E. D. Gardner, professor of agronomy.

The corn show consisted of two divisions: ten ear lots and the best single ear. In order to make the contest fair as far as possible the state was divided into five districts according to the type of corn grown in the respective districts. In the first district yellow dent corn was exhibited and the prizes went as follows: first, L. R. Schultz '24, second, J. R. Funk A. and third, S. M. Mourner A. In the second district W. O. Mitchell '24 took first in yellow dent. There were no other awards in this section. The yellow dent winners in the third group were N. H. Burday A. first, J. W. Decker '25, second, and W. S. Phillip A. third. The first prize for white capped yellow dent went to R. G. Connelly '25.

District four had three classes of corn entered: yellow dent, white capped yellow dent, and flint. The first prize men in each were respectively, D. E. Alliger '26, P. C. Brown '23, and E. C. Hickok '25. In the fifth section the winners in yellow dent were J. T. Hamilton A. first, L. D. Patterson A. second, and M. McDowell '24, third, and W. S. Phillip A. third. The first prize for white capped yellow dent went to R. L. Shultz '24. This corn was yellow dent and was grown in district five Montgomery county. The single ear open competition awards went to A. W. Brubaker '24 and J. P. Williams '26.

The wheat prizes were taken in order by E. V. Kirsch '25, R. D. Kresge '25, and H. M. Musser '24. In oats, R. D. Kresge '25 was first, H. M. Smith '24, second, and W. O. Mitchell '24, third. The buckwheat winner was E. C. Hickok '25, first, E. V. Kirsch '25, second, and L. R. Schultz '24 third. R. D. Kresge '25, E. E. Gardner '25, and C. G. McVitty '23 took first, second, and third places respectively in rye.

A purple ribbon was the special award for grand champion corn winner. All firsts received blue ribbons and when there was competition special prizes, donated by the State College merchants, were offered second and third places respectively in rye, white.

The Clover Club and the Agronomy department are so well pleased with the show that they are already considering plans for a similar one next year. The show this year was made possible through the effort and superintendence of H. M. Smith '24, the Clover Club feels especially grateful to the following merchants who gave prizes to stimulate interest in the events: L. K. Metzger, Athletic store, Grahams, Suters Crabtree Promm, the Fashion Shop, and Montgomery.

STUDENT COUNCIL STUDYS CAMPUS IMPROVEMENT

 Another on the campus, the carelessness of the student body in neglecting to salute President Thomas, and the prevalence of ill-behaved conduct and undesirable remarks at indoor athletic meets merited special discussion. The committee in charge of this campaign consists of the following Council members:—W. H. Payne, chairman '23; L. S. Adams '23; C. T. Gumballus '26; L. W. Vollmer '25; and C. H. Gough '25.

The calendar for the school year will be formed before the next meeting of Student Council. President Lane appointed as members of the calendar committee to represent the student body G. B. Lane '23, A. J. Musser '23, E. D. Schive '23, M. H. Palm '24, and E. E. Longene '24. This committee will meet in conjunction with a faculty representation to decide on the time the dates of the closing and opening of the school term.

It was brought to the attention of the Council that town merchants were using the campus bulletin boards for advertising purposes. It was decided to authorize the Department of Grounds and Buildings to tear down all such advertising. Also, the proprietors of the candy stands being run on the third floor of Old Main are to be notified that the location of these stands is responsible for confusion on this floor between classes and that they must arrange for a change of location.

A committee was appointed to interview the college authorities on the possibility of constructing a student skating rink. This committee was urged to act promptly and to make a full report at the next meeting. L. G. Well '23 was called to the chairmanship of this committee.

BASKETEERS LOOK FOR HARD TUSSEL WITH TECH

 star and member of last season's floor squad, has reported for practice this week and is a welcome addition to the list of basketball candidates. Wilson's style on the floor is much like his work on the gridiron. He is steady and reliable, saving his spectacular work for the pinches. He is cool and unflinched under any conditions and is expected to put up a great fight for one of the guard positions. Marshall, Pickett, Artelt, Stuckman, Fatzinger, and Fell are also showing up well in daily practice.

Tech Outfit Is Strong
 Carnegie Tech is reported to have a strong team this year with several veterans of last year's squad in the line-up. Coach Lubin, former star forward at the University of Pittsburgh, is directing the destinies of the Skibo tossers this winter and is instituting an entirely new system of playing which the Tech followers are hoping will place their team among the leaders in collegiate ranks this year.

UTAH UNIVERSITY CO-EDS TRY SHOTGUN HUNTING "DIVERSION"
 Trapping a groundhog that lurked about the home of a professor amounted to more than a mere assignment for two co-eds studying mammalian zoology at Utah University.

HORRORS!
 Dandruff on those gorgeously tailored shoulders? Quick! get yourself a bottle of "Vaseline" Hair Tonic and stop that before your reputation is ruined. Worse still—have you lost a hair or two from each temple? Remember Uncle John's round and glistening pate, and be forewarned. "Vaseline" Hair Tonic is an invaluable aid in keeping the scalp in perfect condition. At the same time, it gives the niftiest, sleekest look to the head.

NO ISSUE DURING EXAMINATIONS

The Collegian Board has decided to suspend the issues of January twenty-third and twenty-sixth during the period of examination. The following issue will be published Tuesday, the thirteenth.

DR. RUTENOUR SPEAKS ON COUGHING AND SNEEZING

Through the medium of the COLLEGIAN Dr. J. P. Rutenour wishes to improve the hygienic conditions among the students. In this short discussion on coughs he speaks of their origin and of the dangers that accompany them.

"A cough is a symptom of an inflammatory condition of the respiratory tract, either acute or chronic. The inflammation in many cases is due to infection of the mucous membrane by some micro-organism. This micro-organism is the specific germ that causes measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, pneumonia, whooping cough, or any of the other air-borne coughs. The cough is simply an effort on the part of nature to clear the throat of some of the offending material. This material may be the product of this bacterial organism.

"Everyone should cover his nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing so as to avoid the spread of possible disease germs."

PENN STATE PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN "U" CLUB

 is under the direction of W. K. Jones. It is played by:
 Luke Hazy.....John J. Temple '26
 Revenue Officer.....Allyn C. Loosley '26
 The third play is "The Gazing Globe", a weird, fantastic bit of tragedy by Eugene O'Neill. It tells the story of a tragic ambition that dies in the South Seas.
 The cast of characters follows:
 Zama.....Elsie Kohler '23
 Ohano.....Ruthanna Sharpless '23
 Nijo.....Phil Stanley '23
 The cast is a very exceptional one and promises a splendid presentation. It will be the last appearance of Miss Sharpless in the University Club repertoire, as she is being graduated in February. Miss Sharpless has been very active in the Penn State Players, and her absence will leave a place that cannot be easily filled. The play is under the direction of A. C. Cloething.

BRIGHAM YOUNG UNIVERSITY RESUMES FOOTBALL RELATIONS
 The Brigham Young University of Provo, Utah, one of the greatest Universities in the West, has resumed intercollegiate football after a lapse of 26 years. At the first call for football candidates, this fall, many showed their desire for the sport, by attending the first meeting.

EXTENSION CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT COLLEGE
 The annual extension conference for Pennsylvania will be held at State College during the week of January twelfth. The work of the conference will consist of a review of the work done in the past year and plans for the coming season. With one exception the addresses will be given by Penn State faculty members. The exception is E. G. Nourse, Professor of Agricultural Economics at Ames, Iowa, who will give a series of six lectures on the work in his particular field. A large and enthusiastic conference is expected.

WELL-KNOWN EDUCATOR WILL SPEAK IN AUDITORIUM TONIGHT
 Dr. W. C. Bagley, professor of Education at Columbia University, who is well-known as an educator and writer of text-books, will speak here on Friday evening of this week at eight fifteen o'clock in the Foyer of the Auditorium. All faculty members and others interested are invited to attend. While in State College, Dr. Bagley will install a chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity.

DEAN SACKETT WILL SPEAK TO BRYN MAWR GRADUATES

Dean Sackett will speak at Bryn Mawr on January sixteenth before the graduating class of that institution. His subject will be "Training in the Industries." The class has been studying Factory Methods and Personnel and will undoubtedly find the Dean's talk exceedingly entertaining and instructive.

 county; E. W. Graham, $100 in Clarion county; Lewis Willis, $50 in Berks county; Granville B. Lane, $200 in Venango county; H. D. Fritschman, $450 in Indiana county; Miss Margaret I. Allen, $656 in Columbia, Washington, Allegheny and Westmoreland counties; W. C. Rowland, Jr., $300 in Philadelphia; Miss Ella H. Keller, $75 in Luzerne county; Miss Edna H. Williams, $145 in Westmoreland county; Miss Florence King, $400 in Northampton county; E. W. Smith and C. B. Tilton, $35 in Lawrence county.

Any other students who gathered pledges at home are requested to report promptly at Campaign Headquarters, and all are asked to return any unused canvassing materials and pledge blanks.

One of the most important features of the campaign at present is the "annual cross-fire" which has already started. The object of this movement is to enlist the aid of alumni officers and former members of every alumni and campus organization, that they may have letters written to every one of the members urging immediate participation in the campaign. All national and local fraternities, all classes, departments and societies will be included in this campaign. For example, every alumnus who was a member of the Thespians, Glee Club, Froth Board, Phi Kappa Phi, Scabbard and Blade, etc., will receive a letter soon from another alumnus or student in the organization, asking that he be sure to join in the campaign for $2,000,000 in an effort to make his old campus organization 100 percent in the drive. Each organization will have a number of key-men who will do the letter writing, each assigned to communicate with those of his class or others whom he knew while in college. The animal husbandry and the dairy husbandry departments have already started to canvass their graduates in this manner and the movement will be carried into every possible channel.

E. N. Sullivan, general alumni secretary, is in charge of this "cross-fire." There was an expected slump in campaign return over the holidays, but there was a week-end recovery which brought the total up to $554,000 by noon on Saturday. The largest single pledge of the week was for $300 from Alpha D. Johnson, president of the State Chamber of Commerce and a member of the college board of trustees. A total of $2535 came from Chicago alumni on Wednesday, making the total pledged by Wednesday evening, $966,914.

Faculty members have been giving a great deal of time to the campaign work, and Professor Espenshade has established the custom of a weekly meeting on Mondays for the purpose of exchanging experience in field work. These meetings have been very successful.

At the annual meeting of the State Grange in Williamsport just before the holidays, announcement was made that a committee was to be appointed to visit the college and determine the advisability of the Grange undertaking the task of raising funds for the erection of a "building or buildings" as a part of the emergency campaign. Dean R. L. Watts suggested to the Grangers that a dormitory for men and one for women students be provided in this manner, but to date no announcement has been made of the personnel of the committee.

The poultry and livestock dormitory campaigns are progressing slowly but surely, as is the collection of pledges for the hospital. Before the end of the month a special hardware dealers' leaflet will be published setting forth the proposal that the hardware men combine with the farm implement dealers and the automotive dealers of the state in the erection of a $100,000 dormitory unit.

Campaign workers therefore have a fight to be a little optimistic over the ultimate results of the campaign for with all this splendid co-operation and patron, success in the drive is sure to come, though it may take several weeks or months in which to complete the work.
