RIFLEMEN WIN FIRST MATCH FOR SCHEDULE

Nittany Marksmen Defeat Lafayette by Making a Perfect Score in Opening Shoot

Defeating Lafayette by the score of 100 to 92 in the match last week, the Penn State rifle team began the season of the newest minor sport of the college very successfully. The Nittany team made a perfect score, there being only a thousand possible hits.

The rifle team also participated in a triangular meet with Yale and Lehigh on Wednesday, in which ten men shot for each team, the score of the highest five counting. Penn State made a perfect score of 500 out of a possible 500 for five men. The score of the Yale team was 499 while that of Lehigh has not been received. The Yale team is one of the best teams in the country, while the Lehigh team is also a worthy opponent, having come next to the Penn State team in rifle meet at the summer camp. The men who composed the Nittany team are: Ft. M. Spangler '24, R. C. Bender '25, F. W. Artols '25, G. C. Jefferies '23, M. Wentworth '25, J. K. Vessey '25, E. C. Van Vailin '25, J. F. Laidig '23, J. P. Dressler '25 and E. E. Brubaker '24.

Manager G. C. Jefferies has arranged a good schedule for the team this season. On February tenth they shoot University of Ohio; the next match is with New York University. Then comes Western Maryland College on February twelfth, twenty-first, and twenty-second. Drexel Institute on March third, Northwestern University of Ohio on March tenth, and Lehigh University on March seventeenth. Penn State also shoots in the intercollegiate match held by the R. O. T. C. of the Third Corps Area composed of the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware. This match takes place between January fifteenth and March fifteenth. Penn State is the present holder of the cup given for the championship of this area.

PA. HORT. ASSOCIATION PLANS ANNUAL MEETING

Names of Many Prominent Speakers on Long and Interesting List of Lecturers

The sixty-third annual meeting of the State Horticultural Association of Pennsylvania will be held next week, January twenty-third, twenty-fourth, and twenty-fifth at Chestnut Street Hall, Harrisburg.

The names of many prominent speakers appear on the list of lecturers and it is of interest to note that among these are several professors and instructors who are connected with the agricultural school at Penn State. Under the vegetable growers' branch of the meeting is listed the name of Dean R. L. Watts who will speak on "Plant Growing." Likewise, Professor C. E. Mason has been chosen for the subject "Opportunities in Vegetable Farming," and Dr. C. E. Myers will speak concerning "Improvement of Vegetables through Seed Selection." The following day the question of "Why Was Apple Scab Not Controlled in 1927?" will be taken up by E. L. Nixon, "The Relation of So-called Winter Injury of the Crown of Apple Trees to Collar Blight," by C. R. Orton; "What is the Best Way to Remove Spray Stains from Apples?" by F. N. Fagan; and "Substitute for Self-Bolled Lime-Sulphur" by H. W. Thurston. R. D. Anthony, F. N. Fagan, and Paul Thayer will also speak on subjects relative to the purpose of the meeting.

AMHERST FROSH ALWAYS ATTEND 'ICE CREAM RUSH'

Immediately following the opening of college all Amherst freshmen are invited to a "get-together" in College Hall by the Christian Association. Several speakers entertain and the frosh get acquainted.

PROF. I. L. FOSTER TO TAKE EUROPEAN TRIP

Head of Romance Language Dept. to Travel Through Mediterranean Countries

Dr. I. L. Foster, Head of the Department of Romance Languages at Penn State, has been granted a leave of absence for the coming semester, which he and Mrs. Foster will utilize in traveling in foreign countries, returning to the college for the Summer Session.

This will be the first time in his twenty-eight years at Penn State that Dr. Foster has taken an extended trip on leave of absence, and it is for the purpose of securing a rest, change, and opportunity to study European methods of teaching that he will take advantage of the present opportunity. Mrs. Foster will accompany him on the journey which happens to come at the time of their silver wedding anniversary.

Dr. and Mrs. Foster, with several friends and relatives, intend to leave State College about the end of January to travel with Clark's personally conducted cruise of the Mediterranean, which includes visits of varying lengths to Spain, Africa, the Balkan peninsula, the Holy Land, Italy and the continent and England. While in the European countries Dr. Foster intends to study the methods in vogue in teaching of modern languages at the universities and preparatory schools, in the endeavor to secure knowledge that will be helpful in his work at Penn State. His itinerary will also include some of the territory now being visited by Dr. Crockett whom he expects to meet at Naples.

Will Visit Alumni

Since Professor Foster will spend about twelve days in Egypt, it is probable that he will also meet Joseph Leece '20 and Mrs. Leece '21, at Cairo where Mr. Leece, formerly in the Chemistry department here, is now head of the Department of Chemistry at the American University. It is possible that he will meet "Jimmy" McKnight '22, who with Mrs. McKnight is engaged in agricultural mission work at Khartoum, about a thousand miles up the Nile. Dr. Foster likewise looks forward to visiting Donald Blaisdell '20 who is with the Department of Civil Engineering at Robert's College in Constantinople, Turkey.

Not a Little of the time on the trip will be spent in the Holy Land where the party will visit Samaria, Jerusalem, Galilee and nearby regions of Bible fame, while in Egypt the scene of the recent archeological excavations will be visited. If war clouds are not too heavy in France by the time the party reaches Europe, they expect to sojourn a month in Paris, and Professor Foster expects to revisit the German city of Leipzig where he studied for a year. In England, London will be visited for about ten days, during which time Dr. Foster expects to go to Oxford and Cambridge and perhaps to Scotland. The tour is so arranged that the party will return to Penn State in time for the annual Summer Session.

Others who will accompany Dr. and Mrs. Foster are Miss Rebecca Rhodes of Bellefonte, Dr. J. A. C. Clarkson and Miss Adaline P. Miller '19, of Lewisburg, and Mr. Calvin Patterson of College Park, Maryland.

A. H. CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR COMING SEMESTER

Many activities are being planned for the next semester in the Animal Husbandry Club. So far due to the fact that various members have been away on the stock judging tour, and have been engaged in other school duties, there has not been a very definite line of work done in the past few weeks.

New officers, however, are to be elected at the next meeting to be held early in February, at which time definite arrangements will be made for the annual Sirloin Club banquet. A date will be decided upon, also for the series of illustrated lectures to be held soon in the Old Chapel.

NEXT "Y" SPEAKER TO DISCUSS CHINA

thought, dreamed, planned, and hammered away at student work in China, make him an authority on that complex subject. He has traveled for years up and down the land, visiting most of the eighteen provinces and practically all of the great cities.

"Pennsylvania Dutchman"

"A Pennsylvania Dutchman," Rugh styles himself, "with an overlay of Ohio schooling," for he was born in Pennsylvania and educated at Wittenberg, Springfield, Ohio. His post-graduate work was taken at Oberlin. From college he went directly into Y. M. C. A. work, first as Associate General Secretary at Springfield, Ohio, as Student Secretary for Ohio for one year; then traveled another year for the Student Volunteer Movement. He sailed for China on his first trip in 1903. Rugh visited most of the leading cities of the United States and Canada speaking before commercial clubs, churches, and Association groups and always with unusual favor.

Worth While Addresses

Anyone of Mr. Rugh's addresses on China is worth listening to—because he knows what he is talking about, and says it admirably. Following are the subjects of his addresses:
Has the Washington Conference solved the Oriental Problem?
What next in China?
Shall we have chaos or Christ in Asia?
Who's who in the salvation of China?
Can Democracy make good in China?
Twenty-five years of the Y. M. C. A. in China.

CONSERVATION COUNCIL TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

Important Meeting of State Organization Will Be Addressed by Governor Pinchot

Governor Pinchot will address an important meeting of the Pennsylvania State Conservation Council in Harrisburg on Monday, January the twenty-second. Dean R. L. Watts, Dean of the School of Agriculture of Penn State, is President of this Council and will be in attendance at this meeting.

Eighteen State Organizations

Prominent representatives from over eighteen state organizations are expected to be present at the meeting of the Conservation Council to take up matters which are occupying foremost places in the affairs of the organization. Thirty counties in Pennsylvania have organized County Conservation Federations and are affiliated with the State Conservation Council, of which Dean Watts is the head. These counties have been organized by Dean Watts and Professor J. A. Ferguson, of the Department of Forestry, Secretary of the Council.

At the coming conference the Council will endorse the Bond Issue of twenty-five million dollars for the purchase of additional forest land to be annexed to the State forests. At present Pennsylvania owns about a million and a quarter acres which should be included under Commonwealth ownership.

The New Code of the State Game Commission will also come before the Council for consideration, and the New Code for the Department of Fisheries, which will probably be approved. The presence and endorsement of Governor Pinchot at this gathering will, it is thought, undoubtedly have its bearing on the outcome of the measures to be considered by the State Legislature; for, today Governor Pinchot is the leading "conservationist" of the Keystone State. The passage and enactment of these proposed measures will also bring some prestige to Penn State, as the endeavors of Dean Watts and Professor Ferguson have been largely centered on the movement throughout the state.

VARSITY WRESTLERS TO MEET VIRGINIA

First Meet Will Be Held in Armory February Ninth—Two Men On Injured List

With the first wrestling meet of the season definitely arranged with the University of Virginia for February ninth, the Blue and White candidates are working harder every day in preparation for the opening clash of the schedule. This is the first year that the Virginia grapplers have been on the Nittany wrestling card and competition is becoming keener among the candidates for berths on the team.

The first serious injuries which may prove a handicap to the Penn State wrestlers have made their appearance, putting two valuable men on the inactive list for a week or two. F. N. Emory '24, one of the strongest contenders for the heavyweight position, hurt his shoulder a few days ago and cannot wrestle until it is restored to its normal condition. The other injured candidate is J. R. Alexander '23, who pulled a muscle of his chest and is temporarily put out of training.

To Enter Interclass Meet

Many of the varsity candidates will represent their classes in the inter-class meet tomorrow and this will give Coach Detar the opportunity of watching the men under almost actual wrestling conditions. The heavyweight division which is the most difficult class to fill on the varsity will create considerable interest as to the outcome of the three candidates, G. T. Everett '23, E. V. Kirsh '24, and K. S. Stricker '25. Durdan, '25 who wrestled heavyweight at the intercollegiate last season, has been forced to drop to the 175 pound class.

BETHANY TOSSERS PROVIDE NEXT TEST FOR LIONS

down the guard positions with Shatz at center and Gerhardt and Stuckman in the forward berths.

The Bethany tossers come to Penn State with a veteran team and one which promises to give the Nittany cugmen a hard fight. Composed of practically the same players who represented Bethany on the floor last season, this scrappy little aggregation is sure to put up a good battle. Coach Hermann is taking no chances in preparing his men for tomorrow's contest.

Practically all of the cuts have been turned in and the rest of the work will be in planning the book. The committee wishes that all those who still wish to make contributions should do so as soon as possible.
