LIME DEALERS TO HONOR DR. FREAR WITH DORMITORY

Late Director of Agricultural Experiment Station Did Much for Lime Industry

MANUFACTURERS PLAN MEANS OF RAISING FUNDS

General Campaign Continues To Progress Steadily—Berks County Nears Quota

An effort is being made to have the lime dealers and manufacturers operating in Pennsylvania provide funds in the college emergency building campaign for the erection of a dormitory building as a memorial to the late Dr. William Frear, for over thirty years a member of the college faculty, and vice-director of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station here.

It is said by those familiar with the lime business of the country that Dr. Frear has done as much as any other one man in the development of that industry.

Dr. William Frear, Pennsylvania and lime, are the three names intimately linked in the minds of all persons familiar with the agriculture of the eastern United States, according to the "Agricultural Lime News Bulletin," the official publication of the National Lime Association. Speaking of Dr. Frear the bulletin says further:

"His work will stand as one of the monuments to the intelligent practice of liming soil for improvement."

Through the medium of Professor J. W. White, of the Agronomy Dept., the leading lime firms of the state and those that do business in the state have become greatly interested in the proposed to erect the memorial dormitory. He has also interested fertilizer people in the proposition, and it is entirely probable that these people will in time unite their forces and build a handsome structure in honor of the greatest soil chemist the state has ever known.

The proposition has been received favorably by the leaders of the National Lime Association and the National Agricultural Limestone Association. They have taken their share of the project in their own hands and in the near future some favorable report is expected in the possibility of its being made a success. The fertilizer people are of the same relative opinion, though this phase may take more time to complete. The lime people are calling special meetings of the officials to consider the proposition and the ways and means for securing the necessary funds.

The general campaign is progressing steadily. The success of the special group of faculty canvassers sent to counties last week was such that plans are being made to send similar groups to other counties where help is needed in stirring up interest in the campaign. Dean C. W. Stoddard took a group to Berks county last Monday and with the cooperation of the local alumni organization they expect to give that county a good start towards raising its quota.

COMMERCE AND FINANCE DINNER ON MONDAY

C. and F. Club Arranges Second Dinner—Local Business Man Will Speak

In accordance with a plan that was adopted last month of holding a get-together dinner once a month, the recently organized Commerce and Finance Club will hold its second dinner of the year at the University Club next Thursday evening at six-fifteen o'clock. Arrangements already completed indicate that the affair will be a more successful one than that staged in January.

As a main speaker for the occasion the officers of the club have secured Mr. John T. Taylor, former instructor in the Liberal Arts School and now a prominent business man of the town. Mr. Taylor will speak on "What Shall I Do When I Graduate," a subject which should be of great interest to the seniors. Juniors too should be attracted by this topic because it may enable them to decide upon a vocation and then arrange their courses accordingly next year.

Tickets for the dinner may be purchased for seventy-five cents from the officers of the organization or from F. G. Dickinson, instructor, W. C. Foster '24, and C. A. Hill '23. No underclassmen will be permitted to attend the dinner inasmuch as the membership of the Commerce and Finance Club is limited to Seniors and Juniors.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASKETBALL

There will be no interfraternity basketball games played this week because of the fact that the Army is being decorated for the Valentine Dance which takes place on February tenth.

JUNIOR PROM PLANS COMPLETE BY NEXT WEEK

By next week the final plans for the Junior Prom will be completed. Numerous bids from some of the best orchestras in this section of the country have been received, and each one has been given due consideration. The committee finally selected the Mason and Dixon Seven, but this orchestra in sending its bid failed to send a contract. Communications will be made with them as soon as possible, and if an agreement can be made they will be secured.

HELFRICH WINS IN NEWARK A. C. GAMES

Sprinter Again Takes 600 Yard Dash—Captain Kauffman Secures Third Place

TWO-MILE RELAY TEAM MAY RUN AT NEW YORK

Alan Helfrich '24 again won the 600-yard dash for Penn State when he outran the same field at the Newark A. C. games last Wednesday, with whom he competed at the Millrose games a week ago. Earl Eby, Chicago A. C. star who took second place at the Millrose meet, finished third at Newark, while Sidney Leslie, of New York A. C. was second. Captain Kauffman finished third in the 70-yard high hurdles. The first to cross the finish line in this event was Carl Christerson, unattached, who showed wonderful form. His time for the event being 9 and 2-5 seconds. Kauffman was first in his heat, run before the finals, doing the distance in 9 and 3-5 seconds. The name of the second man to finish the hurdles had not been ascertained at time of writing. Christerson likewise won his first heat in 9 and 3-5 seconds. Helfrich's time was 1 minute, 17 and 2-5 seconds. The 600-yard event was run over the one-tenth mile boards, and both the dash and the hurdles were run with smooth shoes.

Practice for Coming Meets

Attention is called to the fact that the Meadowbrook A. C. meet which is erroneously scheduled on the sports folder for tomorrow does not take place until after the indoor intercollegiate which will occur about March third. The next events for the Nittany track team are the New York Athletic Club contest, and the Johns Hopkins games at Baltimore, February twenty-fourth.

Coach Cartmell hopes to enter a two-mile relay team in these meets, and will hold trials soon. Helfrich will probably participate in a special event, and it is also likely that he will run on the relay team. If hurdle events are scheduled, there is a probability that "Nate" Cartmell will send Captain Kauffman also.

Fresh Runners Prepare
The Penn State yearling runners are preparing to enter a medley relay in one or more of the coming games, and Coach Cartmell is doing his best to develop a medley team that will fill the bill.

REHABS START WORK FOR ANNUAL COMEDY

Definite arrangements have been completed by the Rehab Club for staging its annual entertainment on April twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth. The program is to be directed by E. G. Moyer, of Schuylkill Haven, who has managed past entertainments of the Rehab Club.

Several new men, some of professional ability, have become affiliated with the club and the committee in charge promises a play second to none that the organization has put on in the past.

Rehearsals for the entertainment will begin as soon as preparatory arrangements are fully completed. The name and character of the play have not been announced.

Period Set Aside by Student Council for Fostering of Penn State Spirit

Plans for the devotion of one week to the revival and fostering of Penn State spirit were discussed at the last meeting of the Student Council. It was formally passed that February nineteenth to twenty-fourth be set aside for this cause.

At this meeting suggestions as to the best methods of preparing for its observance were submitted. The Student Council suggested that all classes hold meetings within the very near future to discuss this matter, and that all honor societies, fraternities, and other campus organizations take up the subject with a view to developing it and making some preparation for its enactment.

The idea of having each class stage some unique stunt on the campus during Penn State Spirit Week met with instant approval. It would require some work to prepare a stunt, which would be symbolic of Penn State and its true spirit, but, with cooperation, it can be accomplished. It was also suggested that the question of spirit be further revived by having the students of English write themes on "Penn State Spirit". This, of course,

COLLEGE BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT SUNDAY

Stringed Quartet To Assist Band—Program Will Begin at Three-Thirty O'clock

Under the direction of W. O. Thompson, the Penn State Military Band, assisted by a stringed quartet will give a concert in the Auditorium, Sunday afternoon at three-thirty.

The members of the organization have been working hard to prepare for the coming concert. The stringed quartet will comprise A. R. Fink '26, first violin; W. R. Widenor '26, second violin; G. T. Smith '25, viola; and D. Malpass '26, violoncello. The program will be as follows:

1. Meyerbeer—Coronation March (from The Prophet)
2. Kaler-Bela—Overture (French Comedy)
3. (a) Thern—In Highest Thought (b) Peter—Cradle Song
4. Wagner—Grand Fantasia (Thannhauser)
5. Brooks—Religious Meditation (in the Great Beyond)
6. Sousa—March (The Crusader)

The first of the mid-winter series of complimentary concerts was well attended on last Sunday afternoon by an enthusiastic crowd of over sixteen hundred, the Auditorium being packed to the doors. The concert, which was presented by the combined Men's and Girls' Glee Clubs and their quartettes, was of the usual high standard of these popular organizations, and was received with much applause by those present.

The Men's Glee Club will present the third concert on Sunday afternoon, February eighteenth at three-thirty in the Auditorium. Their usual attractive program will be presented along with the initial presentation of the numbers that they are to sing at the Intercollegiate Glee Club Concerts at New York City. These numbers include the prize song to be sung by the eleven colleges competing.

The "Hunter's Farewell" by Mendelssohn, the light song which is selected by each individual club, Penn State having selected "Ellin Calls in the Woods" by Kirell, and the college song, "The Nittany Lion", a new arrangement by Music Director R. W. Grant which met with the enthusiastic approval of the audience at last Sunday's concert. The club leaves today for a short week-end trip which will include concerts at Lock Haven and Williamsport. Thirty men will make the trip.

TURKISH MISSIONARY IS NEXT CHAPEL SPEAKER

Dr. James L. Barton Is Well Informed on Questions Relating to Near East.

Doctor James L. Barton, who will be the chapel speaker at both services next Sunday, is one of the best known authorities in America on questions relating to the Near East. He has just returned from the Lusanne conference, where he was one of the American observers. For many years under both Republican and Democratic administrations he has been one of the intimate advisors of the American Secretaries of State on questions affecting Turkey and other nations in that part of the world. For his services to the Christian populations in the Turkish Empire, he was knighted by the Greek government and he has received many honors from civic bodies as well as colleges and universities.

In early life Doctor Barton was a missionary to Turkey and served as president of Euphrates College at Hartford.

BASEBALL MEN START PRACTICE FOR EARLY GAMES

Schedule Will Be Completed Within Few Days—Trip To Atlanta Georgia, Scheduled

STOCK PAVILION NOW USED BY CANDIDATES

Many Men Trying Out for Pitching and Catching—Berths—Prospects Seem Bright

With the approach of the spring months, attention is being turned toward that famous American sport, baseball. A call was sent out a few days ago for the battery of men of Penn State to report in uniform at the Stock Judging Pavilion for practice. The baseball season starts earlier than usual this year and but five or six weeks remain before making the initial journey.

Schedule Soon Complete

There will be a southern, an eastern, and a western trip as usual this year, but as yet the schedule is not complete. It is nearing completion, however, and will be ready for publication within a few days. The first trip will be to the south and four or five days will be spent in the vicinity of Atlanta, Georgia. This will be the farthest south that the team has ever gone to play baseball, and is an ideal trip with which to start the season.

Owing to limited space in the pavilion, there is no opportunity for batting or running, and practice is confined to pitching, catching, and throwing. Practice is further curtailed by the fact that classes are held in the stock pavilion three afternoons of each week, and this leaves but three days a week available for baseball practice.

The men are confident of having a strong team this year, and are working hard with this end in view. Among the men out for pitcher are C. L. Langhurst '24, R. R. Kelley '25, E. A. Dambley '24, W. A. Kelley '24, and W. S. Miller '23. The men competing for the catcher's berth are C. Hare '23, R. J. Kain '23, H. H. Ehrman '24, J. B. Kerstetter '23, and E. W. Hollinger '24. Two men now engaged in other sports will report as soon as the winter sport season closes; W. D. Pflister '24, with the basketball squad, and W. R. Black '25, who is now boxing. With nearly all of the old men back and plenty of good material to choose from Penn State should have an excellent team for the coming season.

ARCHITECTS PLANNING FOR BEAUX ARTS BALL

Cast Chosen for the Three Plays To Be Given in Conjunction With Annual Affair

The Architects, acting on the success of the Beaux Arts play and ball given last year, have decided to make this custom an annual affair. It is planned to devote two nights to the play and all this year, the first night to be given over to an exhibition in the architects' drawing rooms and a program of three or four acts. The second night a mask ball will be held at the Alpha Delta Sigma house. The dates set for these nights are the ninth and tenth of March.

The plays are limited to an architectural cast which was chosen at try-outs held Tuesday night. The plays present a diversification of roles, and there is no doubt that they will provide pleasant entertainment. It is planned to introduce impersonation, with the female roles all being taken by the architects themselves. The plays, under the personal direction of J. Gordon Amend, together with their respective casts, are as follows:

- "Food".....By: William B. deMille
Irene.....E. H. Donley '23

RIFLEMEN SHOOT WITH COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Nittany Team Accepts Offer to Join Intercollegiate Rifle Association

The Penn State Rifle Team has been shooting a match with Columbia University the past week. As the result all are sent by mail, the score will not be known until Monday. The Nittany riflemen have been kept on their toes in shooting, because the relative strength of Columbia is not known.

HOLBEIN DRAWINGS ON EXHIBITION IN GALLERY

Work of 16th Century Shows Unequaled Skill in Portrayal of Character

A collection of prints from the original portraits by Hans Holbein is now on exhibit in the Fine Arts Museum of Old Main. This exhibit is considered one of the best examples of art brought to Penn State, the work of Holbein being unequaled in his manner of character portrayal.

These drawings, done in chalk, were made by Holbein about 1530. He was employed by Henry VIII to make portraits of the members of the court at that time. The chalk drawings were done as a preliminary to the portrait work.

The outstanding feature of this collection is the way in which Holbein has brought out the characters of his subjects with the least amount of lines on the paper. One can cover the entire upper portion of the drawing's head and still be able to read the character in the chin and mouth, which are of the fewest number of lines possible.

Another collection of interest in the gallery is that of O. G. Wales, a Pennsylvanian, who has painted many landscapes typical of Pennsylvania. These landscapes include country scenes with shaded streams, a pond bordering on the edge of the field, old fashioned flower gardens, scenes of summer and autumn. One of the best pictures is that of a moonlit bay, with a sailing vessel at anchor.

Other pictures show views of foreign countries, especially street scenes, with their shops, old houses and quaint people. All of these works are done in oil.

MATMEN CAPTURE OPENING CONTEST

Blue and White Wrestlers Take Six Falls and One Decision From Virginia Team

NITTANY SQUAD SHOWS EXCELLENT MAT WORK

Swamping the University of Virginia grapplers by a score of 33 to 0 last night in the Armory, the Nittany matmen opened the season with little opposition from the visiting team. Six falls and one decision were secured by the Blue and White wrestlers without the services of Captain Evans '23 and L. A. Cary '25, in the 115-pound division, both of whom are on the sick list.

The 115-pound class was filled by R. S. Lehman '25, for Penn State, and Spry for Virginia. Within two minutes after the bout opened, Lehman secured a body and leg hold and took Spry to the mat, and in a few seconds pinned Spry's shoulders to the mat. Time, 2 minutes, 12 seconds.

H. C. Hunter '24 wrestled the 125-pound division against Manning of the visitors. Soon after the two met, Hunter went to the mat, but turned out as a body hold on his opponent. Hunter secured a body hold on Manning, but he managed to slip out, coming by working out and getting on the top of Manning. Hunter got a half-nelson and chancery on the Virginian, which he secured a fall. Time, 3 minutes, 50 seconds.

Natto Shows Up well
Wary work was displayed in the 135-pound class by both Natto '24 and Hanger, representing the visitors. Natto kept his opponent on the defense for more than a minute, Hanger being unable to solve the Japanese grappler's style. In 4 minutes and 59 seconds, Natto fastened his opponent's shoulders to the mat with a neck and body hold.

The Nittany 145-pound class was filled by J. L. Bohn '24 in place of Captain Evans. The bout started off with fast foot work until Captain Graves got a body hold on Bohn, who managed to get out and secured a half-nelson. For 3 minutes and 10 seconds, Graves bridged himself but was finally thrown by Bohn. Time, 6 minutes, 20 seconds.

LA VIE MATERIAL

All material for La Vie must be in the hands of the editor, D. V. Bauder '24, by February tenth. This applies particularly to fraternities and clubs which have not yet handed in their lists.

POPULAR ARTISTS TO SING SATURDAY

Mary Adel Hayes Opera Singer To Give Operatic Program as "Y" Course Number

CONCERT SCHEDULED TO BEGIN AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

The Mary Adel Hayes Opera Singers, consisting of four well known New York Musicians and their accompanist, will appear in the Auditorium tomorrow night at eight o'clock, as the fourth number of the 1922-23 Combined Entertainment and Musical Course by the Y. M. C. A. and the Department of Music. The singers have agreed to stop over at Penn State for a one night engagement on their transcontinental tour of this winter, and their concert promises to be one of the most attractive offered thus far this year by the "Y" course.

Miss Hayes' position as one of America's most popular coloratura artists is secure and the reputation which she has built up with her group of assistants ranks them as one of the foremost in New York. While most of the work of the organization has been done in and around that city, repeated calls for concerts in the western cities have made Miss Hayes particularly well-known in the west.

While no accurate program of the concert which is to be presented tomorrow night has been received, it will probably be of the same nature as those given on similar platforms throughout the east. Costumed excerpts from many of the old favorite operas such as "Faust", "Rigoletto", "Carmen", "Il Trovatore", and "Martha", will feature the program, with a generous sprinkling of special selections from famous cantatas and oratorios included in the concert. In all of the operatic scenes, the Mary Adel Singers have endeavored to make them musically and artistically correct and the applause which they have received in previous concerts has shown how well they have succeeded.

The Mary Adel Hayes Opera Singers comprise Mary Adel Hayes, the coloratura soprano who leads the group; Miss Katharine Richards, contralto; Mr. Claude Schell, tenor; Mr. John Wainman, baritone; and Miss Buelah Clark, pianist and flutist. The entire organization has been with Miss Hayes during past seasons so that the group is not an experiment in any sense of the word. Each one of the individual artists has won distinction in oratorio or concert fields, and under the careful coaching of a leading New York impresario, the ensemble has developed a concert group that is far above average.

MEN'S NEW DORMITORY RAPIDLY TAKING FORM

List of June May See Completion of Building—May Be Able to House Summer Students

Rising up far above the other buildings in its immediate locality is the new men's dormitory building on the northwest campus. Although not complete it is rapidly taking form and now may be viewed as something tangible to be looked upon with pride.

The building is being constructed with fire-proof brick and is supported throughout with steel and cement. The two wings of the building, one on either end, add greatly to the size of the building. It will contain everything in the line of conveniences and adaptability for its intended use.

It has been the expressed wish about the campus that the new building be ready for occupancy by the close of this semester. According to information gained from reliable sources it is plausible to expect its completion about the first of June. This will permit the housing of many summer school students if such action is authorized by the College.

LIONS, FRESH FROM PENN WIN, TACKLE DICKINSON TONIGHT

Decisive Victory Over Quakers Is Instrumental in Lending Confidence to Nittany Cagers

TOSSERS DISPLAY FINE BRAND OF TEAM WORK

Hermann Expects Hard Game With Veteran Dickinson Team—Line Up Remains Unchanged

The next test for Coach "Dutch" Hermann's undefeated Nittany basketball team and one which promises to try out the reserve strength of the Blue and White quintet, will be provided tonight when the cruek Dickinson College tossers, victors over Penn in a hard-fought contest several weeks ago, invade the Armory with the express purpose of adding the Lion's scalp to their string of conquests.

With but one day's interval between the hard tussle with Penn and the clash with the Dickinson five tonight, Coach Hermann has had little time to correct the faults evidenced in the game with the Quakers on Wednesday. The players themselves are feeling the effects of the tiresome ride from Philadelphia and found considerable difficulty limbering up in the practice game last night. However, the Nittany mentor is optimistic concerning the outcome of the Dickinson engagement and predicts

PLAYERS' PROCEEDS TO AID LOCAL RED CROSS

Initial Showing of "A Successful Calamity" Held Last Night in Williamsport

The staging of "A Successful Calamity" by the Penn State Players at Bucknell University on the eighth of February has been cancelled and the performance will be held in Williamsport instead.

A full dress rehearsal was held last Tuesday evening and everything is in readiness for the initial appearance of this production, which has been decided upon as the Players' road show for the season. The play will be presented to State College audiences on February sixteenth and seventeenth. The proceeds from the local performances are to be donated to the local branch of the American Red Cross.

Melvin Neff '24 is doing good work on the properties and stage work for the Players. A new pipe-frame form of stage properties has been made, and it will be used in the road engagements in connection with "A Successful Calamity". These properties are compact, and make possible the rapid movement from one stand to another.

It was also intended to employ alternates in making the first appearance of this production, but it was decided that the following members of the Players' staff will enact the parts in the first performance at Williamsport.

- Mr. Wilson.....Phil E. Stanley '23
- Mrs. Wilton.....Laura Crick '23

FROSH-MARYLAND MAT MEETS ARE POSTPONED

Trip Will Probably Be Arranged Within Few Weeks—Squad Continues Practice

The southern wrestling trip which was being arranged for the frosh grapplers for today and tomorrow has been indefinitely postponed. The expected meets with the Baltimore City College and the Gilliam Country School of Maryland had been sanctioned by the Athletic Committee but word was received in the early part of the week that the Maryland institutions had previously filled the prospective dates.

Manager Griffith '23 is expecting definite arrangements within a few days and it is hoped that the trip for the freshmen wrestlers can be made for the same time that the varsity matmen journey to Navy in February. Since their defeat at the hands of the Hollidaysburg Y. M. C. A., wrestlers last week, the Nittany freshmen have been greatly improving their style and
