Penn State Glee Club To Participate in Intercollegiate on March Third

NINE COLLEGES TO BE PRESENT AT CONCERT

The Penn State Glee Club starts next week in its New England trip which will include participation in the seventh annual Intercollegiate Glee Club contest to be held in Carnegie Hall, New York, on March third.

The judges for the coming contest have been announced and are Mr. H. E. Krehbiel, Walter Dambosh, and Miss Marcella Sembrich, all of whom are rated extremely high in the world of music.

The Intercollegiate Glee Club contests were organized in 1914 by Albert F. Pickernell, President of the Intercollegiate Musical Corporation; four clubs entering the first contest that year.

The Harvard Glee Club won the first leg on the beautiful silver cup presented by the University Glee Club of New York last year by taking 259 points out of a possible three hundred.

The contest prize song is "The Hunter's Farewell" by Mendelssohn and the piece which Penn State has chosen for its light number is "Bliss Calls in the Woods" by Kirchl.

After the contest in New York the club will entrain on the midnight sleeper for Boston, arriving there Sunday morning, March fourth.

A busy time is planned for the following day, Monday, when three concerts will be given. The club will sing at the Ridge Technical High School in the morning, and the Cambridge High School in the afternoon.

The activities of the Penn State Glee Club in past years have been quite extensive and reach from coast to coast along the Santa Fe route to California.

The history of the Penn State Glee Club dates back to the election to the Directorship in the Department of Music of Mr. C. C. Robinson in 1912, who in a short time, built up the reputation of the Club to its present high standard.

CREDITS TO BE GIVEN FOR TOUR OF EUROPE

New York University Introduces New Step in Tours By Giving College Credit

European tours under the guidance of college professors are not particularly novel, but the tour arranged by New York University differs from the others in that those who take part in this one will be just as much students of the university as those who attend lectures in the classroom.

It is expected that most of those who take the tour will be teachers and college students specializing in the three courses of study covered by the tour, although anyone may enroll.

Human Geography, conducted by J. Edmund Woodman, Professor of Geology at New York University; The European Background of English Literature, conducted by Harold Hoffman, Instructor of English at New York University; and Contemporary European Problems, conducted by Charles A. Gulick, Instructor in Economics at New York University.

Mr. Hoffman's course offers a study of literature in connection with visits to scenes made famous by poets and novelists of all times.

Those who enroll will be provided with material for preparatory study, and preliminary lectures will be given in the course of the ocean voyage so that the students may be well grounded in their subjects before the tour begins.

Four points toward a college degree will be allowed for each of these courses, but no student will be permitted to take more than two of them.

The tour, which has been arranged by Dean James E. Lough of the Extramural Division of New York University, will be under the direction of Frederick E. Emmons, superintendent of schools of Elizabeth, N. J.

Those who make the tour without seeking credit toward a degree may take any or all of the courses.
