

Penn State Collegian

Semi-Weekly

What Is More Elusive Than Spring?

The Ol' Timers Show Their Stuff Tomorrow

VOL. XVIII. No 42

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, MARCH 9, 1923

PRICE FIVE CENTS

MYERS' BUS LINE TO AID CAMPAIGN FUND AT VACATION TIME

Will Contribute Entire Earnings of One Day During Rush Season to Building Fund

EACH CAR WILL MAKE FOUR TRIPS TO TYRONE

Total Campaign Fund Now Placed at $1,096,693.41—$1,000 Received from Africa

An unusual method for leading assistance to the college Emergency Building Fund campaign has been generously offered by Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Myers who operate the Red Bus Line to Tyrone.

Some days ago Mr. Myers, desiring to help the campaign said that he would turn over to the campaign fund every cent he received in fares in transporting students and others to Tyrone on a day when a college vacation would take a large number from State College.

The suggestion was gladly received by Campaign Headquarters and it was presented to Student Council on Tuesday where it was approved and a committee appointed to cooperate in making the plan a success, and to select the day when the start would take place. This day will probably be Wednesday, March twenty-eighth, when Easter vacation starts after the last hour.

Mr. Myers said yesterday that he would have all of his available cars on the job, each prepared to make at least four trips to and from Tyrone. They will start as early in the morning as it is deemed advisable from the number who express a desire to get an early start on the journey home.

It is estimated that upwards of 500 students can be hauled in this manner, through use of the six or seven busses that will be placed in service. Professor Espenshade, vice-director of the campaign, yesterday declared that the offer of Mr. and Mrs. Myers is one of the most generous means of assistance that has come from any source to aid the campaign thus far.

"The Myers will give every dollar received in fares to the campaign," he said, "and all students who can reach their homes through going to Tyrone should do so and thereby give their assistance to the campaign. The regular fare will be charged, of course, and the bus line will stand for the day's expense (Continued on last page)

MEADOWBROOK TO END INDOOR TRACK

Captain Kauffman and C. H. Moore Enter 50-Yard High Hurdles at Philadelphia Tomorrow

"NATE" CARTMELL CALLS FOR FIELD CANDIDATES

Captain "Hank" Kauffman and C. H. Moore '25, hurdlers, are the lone entries for the 50-yard high hurdles at the Meadowbrook games tomorrow. The meet finishes the indoor season for Penn State and Coach Cartmell has already turned his attention to outdoor work, having begun practice on field events.

Because of an injured ankle, Alan Helfrich will not be able to run on the two-mile relay team, and consequently that aggregation will not represent the Blue and White tomorrow. Kauffman and Moore, however, will run the 50-yard high hurdles, Meyers of Rutgers who placed second at the indoor intercollegiate last Saturday, being one of the most formidable opponents for the Nittany delegates in this event. Treman of Cornell, who finished first in the 40-yard hurdles last week, will not run at the Meadowbrook games. It is stated that Thompson of Princeton, and Martin of Penn, with Myers, are probably the outstanding rivals for the hurdles crown.

Field Event Work Started Coach Cartmell has already begun to develop a squad of field event men, and is staging daily workouts in the Armory. A jumping pit and a platform for the weight events have been constructed and are now in working condition.

"Nate" Cartmell is desirous of taking a full squad of field event artists with him on his southern trip, which begins April fourth, and all students who show any ability in the way of weight throwing are urged to compete for varsity or freshman berths.

Trials Meet Soon At present "Mike" Palm on the hammer-throw, Emory on the javelin, and "Tiny" McMahon on the shot put are the only outstanding candidates who have reported for practice in the field events, and the Nittany track mentor feels that he must have more candidates for these departments, as well as the discus, if he hopes to take a strong contingent of field event men with him on his trip to the southland. As soon as a favorable day arrives, "Nate" Cartmell will stage a full fifteen event trials (Continued on last page)

Student Council To Investigate Proposed Penn State Honor Code

What may prove to be one of the most important meetings of student Council for this school term was held last Tuesday night when the formation of a Penn State code was considered and a discussion held concerning the proposed college handbook. Besides these items of business, announcement was made of the unique offer of the Myers Bus Line, and a report was made on the petition to be submitted to the Post-Master General for the speedy construction of the new post-office building.

Council to Send Petition Several months ago, a committee was appointed by the President of Council for the purpose of conducting an investigation relative to the need of a new post-office building for the town. This committee submitted a report at one of the following meetings and recommended that a petition be drafted by the Council and sent to the Post-Master General. This is to be done during the week.

Report on Fresh Exam At the meeting of the Council held two weeks ago, it was proposed that the members of the freshman class be required to pass an examination on the traditions, usages, government, customs, history and facts of the institution, and that a committee be appointed to investigate the practicability of publishing a book that might well serve as a textbook for this examination. At the last meeting, Chairman Longacre found a great need for such a book, and that all of the college officials interviewed on the matter expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the entire proposal. Opposition, however, developed in the Council against the publication of the book, a few members thinking that such a book would duplicate the work performed by the present Y. M. C. A. Handbook. President Lane was authorized by a majority vote to appoint an editorial committee whose duty it would be to decide upon the contents of the book, to secure prominent members of the faculty to write on the various subjects decided upon, and to edit the material submitted. The committee appointed to do this work consisted of—E. D. Schive '23 as chairman, L. L. Bailey '23, H. T. Axford '23, L. G. Well '23, W. F. Harrison '24, and C. H. Gough '25.

Bas Line Makes Offer An unusual offer was received by President Lane from H. M. Myers, proprietor of the Myers Bus Line to Tyrone, to the effect that he would donate the proceeds of one day's operation of his line to the Building Fund, the day to be designated by Student Council. The offer was accepted and a committee selected to select the day and make all arrangements that might be necessary. The committee was appointed as follows—Chairman, R. A. Naestley '23, L. E. Male '23, C. W. Lehr '24, S. G. Wetzel '25, and M. A. Buckley '25.

Penn State Code Proposed Feeling the need of a code to guide the actions of each member of the student body in his conduct in all phases of college life, there seems to be a growing sentiment on the campus that a code be prepared with the ultimate aim of fostering such a spirit of fair play and cleanliness as is now displayed in Penn State athletics. Discussion was held on the proposal that the Council appoint a committee to investigate the systems in vogue on other college campuses and to draw up such a code as might be acceptable to the student body. This discussion emphasized the need of a careful, sane, and sweeping search, and of a broad-minded view that may be applied to social functions, class-room work, and campus life in general. The following members were asked to do this work: A. J. Musser '23 as chairman, I. S. Adams '23, E. D. Schive '23, C. Hare '23, W. H. Payne '23, and W. C. Leheve '23.

No Parent's Day Whether the annual observance of Father's Day should be changed to an observance of Parent's Day was discussed pro and con with no definite decision made. Father's Day is scheduled for the week-end of May fifth this year, while no provision has been made for a Parent's Day. Due to the fact that there is no other vacancy this semester for the observance of a separate Mother's Day and because plans have already been started in preparation for the Father's Day celebration, it was thought inadvisable for a change to be made this semester. The matter of making a change that will become effective next year was laid on the table for the time being.

BEAUX ARTS CARNIVAL WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Four Plays To Be Given Tonight—Costumed Ball Will Be Held Tomorrow Night

All is in readiness for the opening of the Beaux Arts Carnival to be given by the Penn State Architectural Club, tonight in Room 23 of Engineering Building. The committee appointed to do this work consisted of—E. D. Schive '23 as chairman, L. L. Bailey '23, H. T. Axford '23, L. G. Well '23, W. F. Harrison '24, and C. H. Gough '25.

The shows present four side-lights on comedy and range from a gross insinuation forecasted for 1922, through a brazen impertinence of tomorrow, back to an almost unwarranted reflection of today, and terminate with a promised subtlety to come.

Of a light nature, the plays are so marked that the characters find little difficulty in adapting themselves to their roles. The fourth play, "The Perfect Woman", by J. Gordon Amend of the English Department, has just been added to the list. In this play R. W. Robinson '25 takes the part of "John Forger"; E. H. Donley '25 is known as "Stuart Carter", and "Agatha", the Perfect Woman, is portrayed by J. M. Kurz '23.

The "Farewell Supper" by Arthur Hiltner, is handled by a cast in which D. Seaman '26 plays the part of "Annie". This part is worthy of much comment for the splendid portrayal of character which Seaman aided by O. W. White '25 as "Annie", brings forth. Other characters, "John" by W. Richards '25 as "Max", and D. M. Carr '25 as a waiter conduct the cast for this sketch. D. H. Porterfield '24 has the leading part of "Basil" in William DeMille's "Food". He is ably assisted by E. H. Donley '25 as "Irene", and R. W. Robinson '25 as "Harold".

The final play is "The Angel Intruder" by Floyd Dell and again we see Carr playing the part of "Jimmy", while W. C. Root '23 shows up well under the title of "Annabelle". "The Angel" is portrayed by E. G. Flohr '25 and the part of policeman is carried by H. C. Gaul '23.

The stage effects are in charge of Haywood Shacklette '24 and the best work of the department will be effectively used for these productions. Engineering F will be open all day to visitors and Saturday night the festival will be brought to a close with a masked costume ball at the Alpha Delta Sigma House.

WRESTLERS LEAVE FOR CORNELL MEET

Red and White Grapplers Strongest in East—Have Three Intercollegiate Champions

PARTHEMORE TO ENTER MEET IN 158 DIVISION

Meeting the Cornell wrestlers tomorrow night at Ithaca, New York, the Penn State grappling squad will be confronted with one of the strongest mat teams in the east, having five veterans three of whom are intercollegiate champions. Coach Detar feels that if the Blue and White representatives are successful on this northern invasion, the prospects of first place in the Intercollegiate will be much better. Practically no change will be made in the team which defeated Lehigh in the Armory last Saturday afternoon. J. A. Parthemore '25 who has been off the mats during the past week due to illness will probably be in his old berth tomorrow afternoon against Cornell. His condition has improved and Coach Detar is counting on him to show good work.

One position on the Nittany mat squad which is not of first rate wrestling form is the heavyweight division, F. N. Emory '24 suffering from a stiff knee. This trouble during the past few days has improved to such an extent that he will be able to enter the mats tomorrow, however, if no further trouble is experienced.

The line-up for the Nittany squad will be as follows: 115 pound class, L. A. Cary '25 or R. S. Lehman '25; 125 pound class, G. M. Richards '23; 135 pound class, K. Naito '23; 145 pound class, Captain Evans; 155 pound class, J. A. Parthemore '25; 175 pound class, T. E. Billwood '24; Heavyweight—Captain F. N. Emory '24.

Cornell Has Five Veterans The Red and White team which will be pitted against the Lions tomorrow is undoubtedly the hardest opposition which the Nittany warriors have been called upon to face this season. Having won every meet this year by a wide margin, and having five veterans on the squad, three of whom are intercollegiate champions of last year, make them to be formidable opponents.

The results of Cornell in previous matches this year are as follows: Cornell 23—Hennselaer Tech. 0; Cornell 35—Syracuse 0; Cornell 24—Brooklyn Tech. 0; Cornell 13—Columbia 11; Cornell 16—Penn 6.

The line-up of the Cornell team will include: 115 pound class—McWilliams; 125 pound class—Roberts; 135 pound class—Ayan; 145 pound class—Wigsten; 155 pound class—Burr; 175 pound class—Hanson; Heavyweight—Captain Wright.

Roberts, Ayan, Wigsten, Hanson, and Wright are all veterans of last year and of this group, Roberts, Hanson, and Wright captured the intercollegiate championships in their respective divisions last season.

TWENTY-FOUR CONTESTS ON BASEBALL SCHEDULE

First Game at Georgia Tech on March Twenty-Eighth—First Home Game April Second

With but three weeks remaining before the Penn State baseball team starts on its season's schedule, indoor practice is being carried on in the Stock Judging Pavilion. Here the space is somewhat limited but the candidates are showing up well and intensive outdoor practice will be started just as soon as the weather permits.

The schedule as completed consists of a southern, eastern and western trip beside a large number of games to be played at home. The first trip will be to the south and four or five days will be spent in the vicinity of Atlanta, Georgia. This is an ideal trip with which to start the season and will be the farthest south that the team has ever gone to play baseball.

The schedule will be as follows: March 28 Georgia Tech Atlanta, Ga. 29 Georgia Tech Atlanta, Ga. 30 Oglethorpe Univ. Atlanta, Ga. 31 Oglethorpe Univ. Atlanta, Ga. April 2 Univ. of Virginia Charlottesville, Va. 3 William and Mary Norfolk Va. 7 Susquehanna Univ. Philadelphia 14 Univ. of Pennsylvania Philadelphia 20 Bucknell Home 21 Bucknell Home 22 Gettysburg Home 23 Gettysburg Home 24 Gettysburg Home 25 Syracuse West Point 26 Amherst Amherst, Mass. 27 Holy Cross Worcester 15 Pittsburgh Collegians Home 18 Bethany Home 19 Bethany Home 25 Univ. of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh 26 Univ. of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh June 2 Wayneburg Home 8 Univ. of Washington Home 9 Univ. of Pittsburgh Home 11 Univ. of Pittsburgh Home

"HUT" TO BE SCENE OF BOX SOCIAL TOMORROW

A box social is the new yet old-fashioned form of entertainment which will be given by the Student Volunteers Association at the "Y" Hut tomorrow night from eight to eleven o'clock. About forty co-eds will be present and will bring boxes filled with "seats", each box containing the name of the girl who prepared it. These boxes will be auctioned off, and the man getting a box will have the privilege of eating the contents with the girl who put it up.

In addition to the boxes, a play and various stunts will be given by the Student Volunteers. The social is open to all students. Freshmen are permitted to attend and purchase boxes. Sophomore class meeting tonight in Bull Pen at seven o'clock.

Veteran Tosses

ALUMNI FIVE READY FOR VARSITY CLASH

TICKET SALE FOR SOPH HOP TONIGHT

A sale of tickets and spaces for the Soph Hop will take place at Co-Op tonight, from 6:30 to 8:30. Attention is called to the fact that spaces will not be used for the erection of booths at the Hop. The price of tickets sold at the Armory on the night of the dance will be $4.50, instead of $3.00 and $4.00.

PLAYERS SELECT CAST FOR "THE FAITHFUL"

First Expressionistic Play To Be Given by Alumni Being Rehearsed by Players

From the largest number of applicants that has ever tried out for a Penn State Player production A. C. Cloetingh, the director, has selected a tentative cast for "The Faithful", which is to be the next super-production staged by the dramatists, this month.

The play by John Massfield, is an extraordinary one in that it calls for a cast requiring a marked diversification of roles. The directors feel, however, that with the present list of characters the play can be produced in a manner which will be characteristic of the Players' standard.

Austin Blakeslee '23 heads the strongest list of impressionistic actors that has ever been assembled by the local producers. Miss Mary Butcher '24, Miss Ruth Hillier '24, Phil Stanley '23, Henry Porterfield '24, Miss Helen Powell '26, and Bernard Kahan '25 are included in the attending cast which has a personnel of forty members.

RINGMEN IN GOOD SHAPE FOR V. M. I.

Season's Experience and Condition of Men Make Outlook Bright for Tomorrow

STRONG COMPETITION SHOWN IN ALL CLASSES

RASMUSSEN IS MADE TRUSTEE OF COLLEGE

Former Secretary of Agriculture Receives Appointment to Governing Board

Frederick Rasmussen, Secretary of Agriculture for Pennsylvania until six weeks ago, has been appointed to the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State College, Governor Pinchot said last night. Mr. Rasmussen has agreed to accept the position, and the nomination is expected to go to the State Senate for confirmation next Monday night.

As Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Rasmussen has been an ex-officio member of the board of trustees of the college. His appointment to the board by the Governor will fill one of the four vacancies to which men were appointed by Governor Sprout but whose nominations were recalled from the Senate by Governor Pinchot the first day of the administration.

These four men are Congressman Edgar R. Keiss, Williamsport; E. S. Bayard, Pittsburgh; Milton H. Lowry, Scranton postmaster, and H. V. White, Bloomsburg. The Governor has not yet announced which of these vacancies Mr. Rasmussen will fill.

From 1916 to 1919 Mr. Rasmussen was Professor of Dairy Husbandry at State College, and during the war assisted the Pennsylvania Food Administration on agriculture and dairy problems. He was born in Denmark, July 18, 1876; graduated from Halls, Denmark, 1892; engaged in practical farm work before entering Iowa State College in 1902, after which he was instructor and professor in dairying at Purdue University, Indiana, Iowa State College, and New Hampshire State College before joining the Penn State faculty. During the Sprout administration he was Secretary of Agriculture, and is now president of a farm loan bank.

CHEMICAL MOVIES IN OLD CHAPEL TONIGHT

"Story of Evaporated Milk", "Sugar Refining", "Milk", and "Chicks" are the names of the four reels of moving pictures which will be shown in Old Chapel at seven-thirty o'clock this evening, at an open meeting of the Liebig Chemical Society. These pictures were taken at modern industrial plants and will be of interest to the general student body.

The Liebig Chemical Society has this year made an innovation by taking in sophomores and freshmen as associate members of the organization. Two new junior members were also recently inducted: P. H. Rufe and J. J. Shutte. The officers elected for this year are: G. C. Hertling '23, president; G. R. Oellig '23, secretary; E. W. Bird '23, vice-president; and A. S. Worth '23, treasurer.

ALUMNI FIVE READY FOR VARSITY CLASH

Former Penn Staters Have Strong Team This Year

MULLAN, WOLFE, REPLOGLE, "KILLY" AND ADAMS PLAY

Odds Favor Hermann's Proteges in Annual Tussle with Graduate Basketball Tossers

With a record of twelve victories and one defeat by a two point margin, Penn State's varsity basketball tossers complete their 1923 schedule tomorrow night when they tackle the strong Alumni combination on the Armory court in the last game of the cage season. The battle is scheduled to begin at seven-thirty o'clock and promises to be a thriller from start to finish if conclusions can be drawn from former season's contests.

Last year the Alumni engers fell before the efforts of their younger opponents and lost by the count of 24 to 29. It was an uphill battle for the entire length of the encounter against a team that clearly outclassed their outfit in all departments, but the former Penn Staters were game to the core and fought every inch of the way, making the contest fast and interesting.

Varsity is Favorite Although the odds are against them in tomorrow night's engagement, the Alumni passers may be counted upon to provide plenty of opposition for Coach Hermann's proteges. Only two of the men on last year's graduate five will line up against the varsity tomorrow night.

These individuals are "Bill" Mullan '20, star on 1919-1920 basketball team and a crack baseball player, and H. W. Adams '19, another luminary of the cage in his collegiate days. Mullan will take care of one of the forward positions, while Adams will probably hold down the running guard job.

Frank Wolfe, N. E. Replogle, and Glenn Killinger, all members of the strong 1921 combination, will get the call for the other positions and are expected to add materially to the strength of the Alumni outfit. Frank Wolfe, a fast man on the floor and a "dead eye" when it comes to shooting baskets, will prove an able running mate to "Bill" Mullan at the other forward position. Replogle is slated for the pivot position and an interesting side battle is promised when he and "Sam" Shair fight for honors from the center berths. This Replogle individual was not engaged in the mixup last year and the Nittany followers of the cage are anxious to see him in action again as he is remembered for his stellar work on the 1921 aggregation. Not much need be said of "Killy", as his feats on the court, gridiron, and baseball field are generally known by students and graduates alike. His position at guard in tomorrow night's encounter is practically assured.

Same Nittany Line-up First-string positions on the varsity combination are no longer a matter of doubt as the worthy performances of Reed and Gerhardt at the forward positions, Koehler and Loeffler at the guard berths and Shair at center, have made them indispensable to the Nittany four team. Every man on the Blue and White squad is in good condition and is impatiently awaiting an opportunity to match his skill against his predecessor of a few years. In case a commanding lead is established, Coach Hermann is planning to unloose his second team against the graduate combination in the latter half.

KERR'S ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY FOR JUNIOR PROM

Well Known Philadelphia Group Includes Eleven Pieces and Three Entertainers

Two representatives of the Junior Prom committee have returned from Philadelphia after contracting with C. E. Kerr's orchestra to furnish music for the Prom on April twenty-seventh.

This orchestra, playing at the Langdon Cafe, is well established in Philadelphia. The fact that this orchestra has an engagement at Koltz's Theatre during the week of May seventh is an assurance of good music. The contract which has been made calls for an eleven-piece orchestra and three entertainers. Mr. Kerr will personally direct the musicians.

While in Philadelphia the committee men had personal interviews with professional decorators and have brought back some new ideas in decorations and programs which they will present to the committee at their next meeting.

PROF. W. H. MARTIN RETURNS TO DAIRY HUSBANDRY DEPT.

Many friends of Professor W. H. Martin, who has been critically ill, will be pleased to learn that he is now able to leave the Glenn Sanitarium, and the indications are that in a few weeks he will be able to resume his duties in the Dairy Husbandry instructional force.

PRIZE CONTEST

Those students who are working their way through Penn State, either entirely or in part, have an excellent chance to add some welcome cash to their Easter vacation funds through participation in the "How I am Working My Way Through College" letter contest that is being conducted by the office of the Dean of Men and the Y. M. C. A.

Letters are not to be over 300 words in length and the other rules, printed on page three, column two, of last Friday's COLLEGIAN, are easy to follow. No names will be issued in any publication of facts gleaned from contest letters.

The time for the closing of the contest which gives awards of $10, $7 and $5, has been extended to Monday evening, March 12. Write of your experiences and send the letter to the Hut or to the office of the Dean of Men. All students of the college are eligible.

I. E. HOP AT PHI KAPPA SIGMA HOUSE TONIGHT The Industrial Engineers' dance will be held March ninth at the Phi Kappa Sigma house from eight p. m. until midnight. Griffith's orchestra will furnish the music and the price of the tickets is $1.00. All friends of the I. E. Society are invited to attend the hop.

I. E. Booklet Out Penn State's I. E. booklet has just come out, a publication of fifteen hundred copies. The department is sending out a thousand, to men in the industrial world, in order that Penn State and the I. E. department may be given publicity. The booklet contains the pictures, the college and the home addresses, the activities and experiences of the I. E. men enrolled as seniors.

WRESTLERS LEAVE FOR CORNELL MEET

Red and White Grapplers Strongest in East—Have Three Intercollegiate Champions

PARTHEMORE TO ENTER MEET IN 158 DIVISION

Meeting the Cornell wrestlers tomorrow night at Ithaca, New York, the Penn State grappling squad will be confronted with one of the strongest mat teams in the east, having five veterans three of whom are intercollegiate champions. Coach Detar feels that if the Blue and White representatives are successful on this northern invasion, the prospects of first place in the Intercollegiate will be much better. Practically no change will be made in the team which defeated Lehigh in the Armory last Saturday afternoon. J. A. Parthemore '25 who has been off the mats during the past week due to illness will probably be in his old berth tomorrow afternoon against Cornell. His condition has improved and Coach Detar is counting on him to show good work.

One position on the Nittany mat squad which is not of first rate wrestling form is the heavyweight division, F. N. Emory '24 suffering from a stiff knee. This trouble during the past few days has improved to such an extent that he will be able to enter the mats tomorrow, however, if no further trouble is experienced.

The line-up for the Nittany squad will be as follows: 115 pound class, L. A. Cary '25 or R. S. Lehman '25; 125 pound class, G. M. Richards '23; 135 pound class, K. Naito '23; 145 pound class, Captain Evans; 155 pound class, J. A. Parthemore '25; 175 pound class, T. E. Billwood '24; Heavyweight—Captain F. N. Emory '24.

Cornell Has Five Veterans The Red and White team which will be pitted against the Lions tomorrow is undoubtedly the hardest opposition which the Nittany warriors have been called upon to face this season. Having won every meet this year by a wide margin, and having five veterans on the squad, three of whom are intercollegiate champions of last year, make them to be formidable opponents.

The results of Cornell in previous matches this year are as follows: Cornell 23—Hennselaer Tech. 0; Cornell 35—Syracuse 0; Cornell 24—Brooklyn Tech. 0; Cornell 13—Columbia 11; Cornell 16—Penn 6.

The line-up of the Cornell team will include: 115 pound class—McWilliams; 125 pound class—Roberts; 135 pound class—Ayan; 145 pound class—Wigsten; 155 pound class—Burr; 175 pound class—Hanson; Heavyweight—Captain Wright.

Roberts, Ayan, Wigsten, Hanson, and Wright are all veterans of last year and of this group, Roberts, Hanson, and Wright captured the intercollegiate championships in their respective divisions last season.

ALUMNI FIVE READY FOR VARSITY CLASH

Former Penn Staters Have Strong Team This Year

MULLAN, WOLFE, REPLOGLE, "KILLY" AND ADAMS PLAY

Odds Favor Hermann's Proteges in Annual Tussle with Graduate Basketball Tossers

With a record of twelve victories and one defeat by a two point margin, Penn State's varsity basketball tossers complete their 1923 schedule tomorrow night when they tackle the strong Alumni combination on the Armory court in the last game of the cage season. The battle is scheduled to begin at seven-thirty o'clock and promises to be a thriller from start to finish if conclusions can be drawn from former season's contests.

Last year the Alumni engers fell before the efforts of their younger opponents and lost by the count of 24 to 29. It was an uphill battle for the entire length of the encounter against a team that clearly outclassed their outfit in all departments, but the former Penn Staters were game to the core and fought every inch of the way, making the contest fast and interesting.

Varsity is Favorite Although the odds are against them in tomorrow night's engagement, the Alumni passers may be counted upon to provide plenty of opposition for Coach Hermann's proteges. Only two of the men on last year's graduate five will line up against the varsity tomorrow night.

These individuals are "Bill" Mullan '20, star on 1919-1920 basketball team and a crack baseball player, and H. W. Adams '19, another luminary of the cage in his collegiate days. Mullan will take care of one of the forward positions, while Adams will probably hold down the running guard job.

Frank Wolfe, N. E. Replogle, and Glenn Killinger, all members of the strong 1921 combination, will get the call for the other positions and are expected to add materially to the strength of the Alumni outfit. Frank Wolfe, a fast man on the floor and a "dead eye" when it comes to shooting baskets, will prove an able running mate to "Bill" Mullan at the other forward position. Replogle is slated for the pivot position and an interesting side battle is promised when he and "Sam" Shair fight for honors from the center berths. This Replogle individual was not engaged in the mixup last year and the Nittany followers of the cage are anxious to see him in action again as he is remembered for his stellar work on the 1921 aggregation. Not much need be said of "Killy", as his feats on the court, gridiron, and baseball field are generally known by students and graduates alike. His position at guard in tomorrow night's encounter is practically assured.

Same Nittany Line-up First-string positions on the varsity combination are no longer a matter of doubt as the worthy performances of Reed and Gerhardt at the forward positions, Koehler and Loeffler at the guard berths and Shair at center, have made them indispensable to the Nittany four team. Every man on the Blue and White squad is in good condition and is impatiently awaiting an opportunity to match his skill against his predecessor of a few years. In case a commanding lead is established, Coach Hermann is planning to unloose his second team against the graduate combination in the latter half.

KERR'S ORCHESTRA WILL PLAY FOR JUNIOR PROM Well Known Philadelphia Group Includes Eleven Pieces and Three Entertainers

Two representatives of the Junior Prom committee have returned from Philadelphia after contracting with C. E. Kerr's orchestra to furnish music for the Prom on April twenty-seventh.

This orchestra, playing at the Langdon Cafe, is well established in Philadelphia. The fact that this orchestra has an engagement at Koltz's Theatre during the week of May seventh is an assurance of good music. The contract which has been made calls for an eleven-piece orchestra and three entertainers. Mr. Kerr will personally direct the musicians.

While in Philadelphia the committee men had personal interviews with professional decorators and have brought back some new ideas in decorations and programs which they will present to the committee at their next meeting.

PROF. W. H. MARTIN RETURNS TO DAIRY HUSBANDRY DEPT. Many friends of Professor W. H. Martin, who has been critically ill, will be pleased to learn that he is now able to leave the Glenn Sanitarium, and the indications are that in a few weeks he will be able to resume his duties in the Dairy Husbandry instructional force.

PRIZE CONTEST Those students who are working their way through Penn State, either entirely or in part, have an excellent chance to add some welcome cash to their Easter vacation funds through participation in the "How I am Working My Way Through College" letter contest that is being conducted by the office of the Dean of Men and the Y. M. C. A.

Letters are not to be over 300 words in length and the other rules, printed on page three, column two, of last Friday's COLLEGIAN, are easy to follow. No names will be issued in any publication of facts gleaned from contest letters.

The time for the closing of the contest which gives awards of $10, $7 and $5, has been extended to Monday evening, March 12. Write of your experiences and send the letter to the Hut or to the office of the Dean of Men. All students of the college are eligible.

I. E. HOP AT PHI KAPPA SIGMA HOUSE TONIGHT The Industrial Engineers' dance will be held March ninth at the Phi Kappa Sigma house from eight p. m. until midnight. Griffith's orchestra will furnish the music and the price of the tickets is $1.00. All friends of the I. E. Society are invited to attend the hop.

I. E. Booklet Out Penn State's I. E. booklet has just come out, a publication of fifteen hundred copies. The department is sending out a thousand, to men in the industrial world, in order that Penn State and the I. E. department may be given publicity. The booklet contains the pictures, the college and the home addresses, the activities and experiences of the I. E. men enrolled as seniors.

ALUMNI FIVE READY FOR VARSITY CLASH Former Penn Staters Have Strong Team This Year