SEEDMEN MEET HERE IN TWO-DAY CONFERENCE

Representatives from a number of the largest seed houses of Pennsylvania and adjoining states were guests of the college on Friday and Saturday, September fourteenth and fifteenth. Following a dinner at the Centre Hills Country Club, the seed men enjoyed short talks by Dean Watts, Dr. Myers, Professor Noll, and others interested in plant breeding in relation to the seed industry.

Saturday morning was spent in inspecting the college experimental plants. Particular attention was given to the work in the breeding of corn, wheat, and other grains by Professor Noll, and to the breeding of tomatoes and cabbages now being carried on by Professor Myers.

It is proposed and a plan will probably be adopted whereby this cooperation between college and seedmen shall be promoted by an annual joint meeting and inspection every fall.

CHANGES EFFECTED IN LIBERAL ARTS SCHOOL

Separate Department of Philosophy Is Created—E. W. Runkle To Act as Head

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the college in August, the formation of a separate department of Philosophy in the School of Liberal Arts was decided upon.

Formerly Philosophy was incorporated in the curriculum of the department of Education and Psychology, but with the formation of the new School of Education, it was decided to establish a separate department of Philosophy. Dr. E. W. Runkle has been appointed head of the new department and he will be assisted by Dr. R. H. Dotterer.

Last year the trustees of the college voted to form two new departments from the old department of History, department of History and Political Science and the department of Economics and Sociology were accordingly created. At the opening of college last week these new departments started functioning.

Dr. A. E. Martin has been installed as the head of the department of History and Political Science. This department is in charge of the Pre-legal curriculum and those majoring in History and Political Science.

Dr. O. F. Boucke is the acting head of the department of Economics and Sociology. He is being assisted by Professor C. W. Hasek, who is handling the administrative details. The department has charge of the Commerce and Finance curriculum and those majoring in Economics and Sociology.

The reasons for the change are numerous. The old department was too complicated to be handled efficiently by one head. Aside from this consideration, the subjects were too diverse in character. The change conforms with the practice in other institutions and was made at the request of Dr. Martin and the recommendation of Dean C. W. Stoddart.

The new order of things will permit Dr. Martin to engage in research work and to do some history writing that he has long been planning.

COLLEGE INFIRMARY TREATS MANY CASES IN PAST WEEK

The infirmary has had one hundred and seventeen cases since Monday, September seventeenth. Besides these, there are four new hospital cases. Most of the cases reported thus far have been due to colds and sore throat.

HORT. DEPARTMENT HAS NEW FRUIT WAREHOUSE

Dr. S. W. Fletcher of the department of Horticulture announced yesterday that the present plans of the department are to celebrate the completion of the new fruit packing house of the Horticulture department by a get-together of the faculty of this department and all students specializing in Horticulture.

The new shed is located on the Hiesler Farm, opposite the experiment orchard. It is thirty by sixty feet, with a fruit storage cellar below and a packing floor and package storage above. With a crop of about seven thousand bushels of apples now hanging on the trees of the college orchards, it will be possible for the department to demonstrate modern fruit packing methods in pomology.

The get-together will be held in the new packing shed on Thursday, October fourth, at five o'clock. It is expected that President John M. Thomas will be present.

M. H. BRIGHTMAN SUCCEEDS T. B. CHARLES IN POULTRY DEPT.

The department of Poultry Husbandry has increased its personnel this year. Professor T. B. Charles, who has been with the department since its organization, July first, 1920, resigned on September first, 1923.

Assistant Professor M. H. Brightman of Rhode Island has been appointed to succeed Professor Charles. Mr. P. T. Kistler of the class of '23 has been appointed as assistant in the department of Poultry Husbandry. Mr. Kistler will devote most of his time to experimental work.

FELLOWS—Let's Meet and Eat at the Penn State Cafe

PENN STATE PREPARING TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Penn State, situated in a town which normally boasts a population of less than 3500, is making preparations to entertain a visiting crowd of five times that size. The occasion is the annual Alumni Homecoming Day celebration on Saturday, October twentieth.

There will be room for twenty thousand people at the Penn State-Navy football game on that day, this event being the chief attraction. Upwards of fifteen thousand of the crowd will be from outside the town and campus, and the problem of housing and feeding is a big one with town and college people at this early date. It is said that all hotel space is already reserved in Bellefonte, the nearest sizable town, and a special alumni committee on housing is facing the local situation.

Fraternities, boarding and rooming houses will have to care for the bulk of the crowd.

NETMEN APPROVE PLANS FOR ALL COLLEGG MEET

A change has been made in the coming tennis meet in accordance with the suggestion of Dr. Ham that an all college tennis tournament be held. All students, instructors, and professors may enter.

The plan submitted by Dr. Ham seems to have met with the approval of the net men. It will give some of the instructors and professors a chance to show their skill. G. D. Walker '24, tennis manager, is preparing for the coming event. The names of the contestants should be handed in as early as possible so that they can be posted by Friday night.

This meet will also bring out material for both the varsity and freshman teams. Some of the freshman material looks promising and with a little coaching will become good material for next year's varsity.
