

Runkle
Boy 132

We Won't
Know Co-op
Next Week-End

Penn State Collegian

Semi-Weekly

A Doubleheader
On The Gridiron
Tomorrow

VOL. XIX, No. 10

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1923

PRICE FIVE CENTS

MANY CANDIDATES REPORT AT INITIAL DEBATER'S MEETING

Large Number of Varsity Men
Have Returned—Two Triangular
Meets To Be Held

FRESHMAN CANDIDATES SHOW MUCH PROMISE

Freshman Material Looks Promising—
Are Under Direction
of C. O. Ridenour

Thirty varsity and thirty-two freshmen reported at the first meeting of the Debating Society last Monday night. Most of the varsity men have had some experience on the college team. It is planned to have two triangular debates this year and to make several trips.

The men who have had experience on the varsity squad are D. D. Henry '26, W. E. Gifford '26, L. K. Maurer '26, E. Weitzenko '26, C. S. Grow '26, J. J. Geise '24, J. S. Douglas '24, J. J. Brennan '26, W. H. Seaford '26, E. M. Fee '26 and B. L. Graybill '26. Among the new men who are trying for a place on the squad are, J. H. Hickey '25, H. Lazar '26, M. T. Bunnell '26, H. P. Hornauer '26, W. S. Nicol '25, A. J. Sippos '26, A. Y. Steward '24, J. S. McGinty '26, D. Heider '24, J. Kosco '26, J. Lile '26, E. B. Everett '26, F. H. Bauer '26, S. K. Stevens '26, T. Cain '26, C. C. Gingrich '26 and R. J. Sulman '26.

In all probability the two triangular debates will take place this year. The Bucknell-Dickinson-Penn State debate, which started back in '37 will be one of the attractions. The other triangular match is between Pitt-Washington and Jefferson-Penn State with Pitt probably debating here. A trip is being planned for the varsity which will take them to the middle-west during the spring vacation.

The freshman material looks promising. (Continued on page four)

POULTRY SHOW PLANS ARE BEING COMPLETED

Public Auction of Fowls Will Be Held—Judging Contest
Cups Are Displayed

Plans are being completed for the first Pennsylvania State Poultry Show which will be held here on the eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth of this month, and it is expected that a large number of the returning Penn State alumni will be in attendance. The final plans are progressing rapidly and the Stock Judging Pavilion will be in readiness for the event early next week.

In the pavilion, blue and white bunting, evergreens, and shocks of corn will be used in decoration. Exhibition coops for the birds have been received, and entries for the show are coming in daily.

Will Hold Auction
On Friday afternoon or Saturday morning, a public auction will be held. At this time twenty or more of the finest cockerels bred on the college farms will be sold, and those in charge feel that this auction will form one of the interesting features of the show.

A number of handsome cups will be awarded as prizes and the cups are now on display in the window. Grattan & Sons' store. A large number of prominent poultrymen of Pennsylvania will be present at the show to witness the judging, for there is keen competition for the various cups.

There will be no charge for admission to the exhibit, and everyone is welcome. However, the show management will sell sandwiches, hot dogs, cider and things of a similar nature at the Pavilion to aid in meeting the expenses of the show.

ALL-COLLEGE TENNIS TOURNAMENT REVEALS EXCELLENT MATERIAL

With two matches yet to be played the fourth round of the all-college tennis tournament will be completed by the end of this week. The weather has made it possible to play the matches off quickly, and some excellent material has been uncovered.

The defeat of D. Malpas '26 by G. L. Setman '26 on Tuesday smelted out the biggest upset of the round. The following men survived the fourth round and will enter the fifth round, which must be completed by next Monday. Dr. W. H. Ham, F. O. Nolte, F. G. Straub, W. Gillen '24, T. E. Lewis '24, H. S. Duff, '26, R. A. Garman '26, A. E. Helmlich '26, G. L. Setman '27. The rapid progress in the tournament has been due to the excellent weather during the last two weeks and the good condition of the courts.

The freshman tournament has entered the third round and "Chief" Myers reports that some excellent material is showing up and prospects look hopeful for a crack yearling team next spring.

FROSH GRIDMEN TO FACE CARNEGIE TECH TOMORROW

First Game of Season Will Be
Test for Yearlings—Coach
Is Not Satisfied

SCRIMMAGE HAS SHOWN LACK OF TEAM WORK

First Team That Has Been Used in Practice This Week To Start Tomorrow

The result of a month's training of the largest freshman football squad in the history of Penn State will be put to a practical test when Coach Herman's men line up at one o'clock tomorrow on Old Beaver Field against the first year team from Carnegie Tech.

An estimate as to the strength of the team cannot be made at this time as the Blue and White team has not yet had a real encounter. However, the average weight of the team this year is high and the men on the first team have had considerable football experience before coming to Penn State.

Short scrimmages with the second and third varsity teams have revealed that the freshmen have plenty of fighting spirit but are lacking in the real skill and team work necessary to carry their plays through consistently. Taken as a whole, there is little difference between the strength of the first and second freshmen football teams. "Dutch" is not satisfied with the work done by the teams in practice and said that last week's practice was the poorest held this season. While some of the players are exceptionally good in their positions, others present a problem in forming the first freshman football team.

The same team will be used in tomorrow's game that has been playing regularly during the past week. McPhae and Paige will start as ends, Plain and Muns as tackles, Lukens and Wilson at guards, O'Dea at center, O'Connell at quarter, Gler and Baker halfbacks, and Green at the fullback position. There is not a lot to choose between the first and second teams so that in case they are needed Coach Herman has a complete team from which to pick substitutes. The second team is as follows: Hays or Casey and West as ends, Reed and Signovick tackles, Welso and Smick guards, Gieski center, Kennedy quarterback, Sanford and Way at halfback and Gracy at fullback.

INJURED PLAYERS

Bergman, who hurt his shoulder during the first week of practice, is now back on the field and Pritchard's knee permits him to take part in practice also. Flack has had a bad knee and will not be able to take part in tomorrow's game. His place is filled by Wilson, although it is a toss-up between Wilson and Welso. McPhae also has injuries that may prevent him from playing, and in this event Reed will take his place.

But little is known of the Carnegie Tech freshmen team. Teams in the past have been heavy and possessed good playing qualities and this is what may be expected this year. In their opening game of the season, the Tech freshmen were downed last Saturday by the Slippery Rock Normal School by a 7-0 score.

J. O. KELLER SPEAKS AT PHILADELPHIA MEETING

Professor J. O. Keller, head of the department of Industrial Engineering, addressed the Industrial Engineering Club of Philadelphia at a meeting last Tuesday night, held after a dinner at the city club.

Mr. Keller spoke of the Industrial Engineer as a dble work, and the part which Penn State is playing in the development of this particular branch of the profession. The invitation to speak in Philadelphia came through the work which the department of Industrial Engineering is doing each fall in holding a conference for factory executives. Some of the members of the last conference interested other engineers in Philadelphia in the work at Penn State, resulting in a Penn State meeting of the club.

HOW PENN STATE AND GETTYSBURG WILL LINE UP

PENN STATE		GETTYSBURG
L. H. B. Wilson	F. B. Wentz	L. E. Frank	R. E. Dockert
Q. B. Palm	F. B. Wentz	L. T. Schuster	L. T. Jones
		L. G. Michalaki	R. G. Petus
		C. Gray	C. Slaughter
		R. G. Bedenk (Capt.)	L. G. Beochman
		R. H. B. Johnston	L. T. Yost
		R. E. Artelt	L. E. Singley

LAST CHANCE FOR ADDRESS CHANGES

All persons who have changed their address this year since entering college should notify the registrar at once. This is the last chance for changes to be made in addresses before the new directory goes to press.

THREE MEN REMAIN IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Dale and Stevenson Will Meet in Semi-final Match—Winner To Play Kindt

MATCH NEXT WEEK TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

With one more match to be played off in the semi-finals the Penn State golf championship contenders will enter into the final bracket to decide the winner. J. W. Kindt '24, Ed. Dale '26 and Robert Stevenson '26 are the three men who are contending for the final honors.

Kindt won the right to participate in the finals when he won from S. T. Munhall '26. Dale and Stevenson are to play off the last match in the semi-finals to decide who is to meet Kindt, the leader of the 1924 link team.

By eliminating F. A. Morris '26 by the score of three up and two to play, Dale made himself eligible to meet Stevenson, who meanwhile had scored a victory over E. F. Ege on Wednesday afternoon by the count of one up at the eighteenth hole. The golf played in the semi-finals was exceptional in all branches, and the winners won their matches only by shooting par golf.

In the Dale-Morris match the former was two up at the end of the first round. From then on it was a nip and tuck affair, for the first seven holes in the second round were halved. Dale practically won the match on the sixteenth hole, when Morris got off a bad shot. Dale was quick to take advantage of this and played a better game during the next four holes which resulted in the final score being three up, in Dale's favor. Morris' drives throughout the match were good and the putting of both players was without fault.

Another match which brought forth exclamations from the few who followed the players around the course was that between Kindt and Munhall which was also terminated on Wednesday afternoon. Erratic playing by both men was noticeably outstanding during its entirety. Long drives, combined with a regular long game, made it the most exciting match of the week. Munhall's three-up-and-two-to-play defeat, as easily attributed to his poor play, shows the match was decided by Stevenson's always is, on the greens.

The final match of the week was that staged between Stevenson and Ege, with the former coming out on the best end of a one-up score at the last hole. Both men are good golfers and stood square at the end of the thirteenth hole. Thirteen was the unlucky number for Ege as Stevenson got that one-up margin at the next hole.

Stevenson's consistent play during the next four holes gave him a thirty-nine for the second round against Ege's forty-one. The winner shot a thirty-nine against his opponent's forty during the first nine holes, and came in with seventy-nine as his total number of strokes. Ege had one more, finishing with an eighty.

It is expected that Dale and Stevenson will play off their match this week so that the winner will soon be able to meet Captain Kindt for the championship.

SCENES BY NOTED ETCHER DISPLAYED

Earl Horter's Etchings Will Be Shown in Old Main Museum Over Alumni Week-End

WORK RANKS WITH BEST OF ITS KIND IN COUNTRY

Penn State men and women, as well as the many visitors that will be in State College for Alumni Home-Coming Day, will be afforded the opportunity of viewing the exhibit of etchings belonging to Mr. Earl Horter on the nineteenth, twentieth and twenty-first of this month. This exhibit will be shown in the Fine Arts Museum in Old Main Building.

These etchings are the original drawings of Mr. Horter, who is a New York illustrator and etcher of note. Mr. Horter is an etcher who has commanded the respect of the most severe critics in the world for the last twelve years. At the present time he is one of the most notable of American artists, both as a pencil and etching illustrator.

New York Scenes
The etchings in this group include many interesting scenes in New York and Pittsburgh, and they should, therefore, have a local interest to many of the visitors. Mr. Horter's superb draftsmanship, his skillful array of subject matter, his keen eye for detail, his facile touch—all these reveal in him the qualities which mark the true artist.

A few of the subjects that will be shown are: Old Stock Exchange in Philadelphia; Cathedral Town, Philadelphia; Rocky Top, Tennessee; Old Houses, New Orleans; Yiddish Junkshop, Pennsylvania Farmhouse. Many more equally interesting subjects will be shown at this exhibit, which will be open to spectators on Friday and Saturday from eight-thirty to five-thirty, except that on Saturday it will be closed during the time of the football game with the Navy. On Sunday the display will be open again during the hours of two-thirty and five p. m.

PLAYERS MAKE STRIDES IN ANNUAL PRODUCTION

Characters Interpret Roles with Unusual Ability—Scenic Effects Add to Play

In order to perfect "Casto," the production which has been selected for its first annual presentation, the Penn State Players are holding daily rehearsals in the Auditorium. The characters have committed their various lines and director A. C. Clouting is now spending his time with the final interpretations.

Coming to Penn State with a year and a half experience in professional stock, C. J. O'Donnell '25 is doing an excellent piece of work. His portrayal of George D'Alroy in the present play is of the highest calibre. He will be remembered as Mr. Marden in the Players' production "Mr. Jim Passes By," which was given last June.

The able support which is given by Miss Helen Thompson '25, who plays the part of Esther D'Alroy, lends additional zest to the play. Miss Margaret E. Jones '25 is doubling in this role and the work of both characters is distinctive and individual.

So that the production may be presented with the usual Player finish, stage manager S. B. Levy '24 is making arrangements to have an elaborate set of scenes and lighting effects completed for the first performance.

SHAVINGS GIVEN AWAY BY ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

The factory of the Industrial Engineering Department which is located in Engineering '27 has on hand a quantity of red cedar shavings which it is distributing gratis to those who come after them. These shavings are quite in demand as a moth preventative when placed in bags and hung in closets, and the supply has never lasted very long.

The cedar shavings have been obtained from a quantity of cedar lumber which has just been made into cedar chests which are now undergoing completion for local trade. By making a large number of these chests at one time the prices are kept low and the chests are usually sold in advance. The shop is also making a number of small chests to be used as fur boxes.

An order for a number of single student desks is almost completed and in filling a popular demand. These complete a line of dressers, chiffoniers and student tables which the factory made during the summer months.

BEZDEK CHANGES NITTANY BACKS FOR GETTYSBURG GAME

Wentz To Play Fullback In Grid Contest Tomorrow—Veterans Will Be On Battlefield Team

VACANT ROOMS ARE NEEDED BY ALUMNI

The Penn State Alumni Association desires to make room reservations for Friday and Saturday nights, October nineteenth and twentieth. Persons having available rooms are requested to get in touch with the Association as soon as possible.

NITTANY BOOTERS DEVELOP RAPIDLY

Tentative First Team Is Picked—Coach Longhurst Continues Drill in Fundamentals

ACTUAL PLAYING SEASON WILL SOON COMMENCE

The Penn State soccer team, with Longhurst as its coach, is being moulded into a fast playing and consistent combination. No let-up has occurred in the daily practices and all the men of the squad are back in good playing condition.

A tentative first team has been picked and is doing good work in the daily scrimmages. The coach is still stressing fundamental work although he has begun the training of the men in the finer points of the game. Head work, field work and goal practice are all gone through in the daily work-outs.

R. S. Swartz '26 is playing the position of center forward on the tentative first team while J. Russell '24 is holding down the inside right berth and J. A. Kelley '24 the outside right. Both of the latter men are playing consistent games and will probably hold their positions for the first game of the season.

The outside left berth is being held by J. Crooks '24, who is a dependable player, while the inside left position is being hotly contested for by W. W. Hibbs '24 and J. R. Eisenhuth '26, both of whom are playing good games.

Old Men Back
The center halfback position is definitely held by "Andy" Warner, last year's varsity man and captain of this year's team. In the left halfback berth, Hagenbuch is playing a fairly good game and the left halfback position lies between F. M. Pine '26 and R. I. Gill '26. Both of these are showing sterling ability and are fighting hard.

C. L. McVaugh '24 still retains his old position of right fullback while F. W. Grupp '26 is at the present time playing at the left fullback position. Both of these men play a strong defensive game and are showing up well in the daily scrimmages.

The position of goalkeeper lies between J. L. Johnson '26 and N. T. Cunningham. (Continued on last page)

BEZDEK CHANGES NITTANY BACKS FOR GETTYSBURG GAME

Wentz To Play Fullback In Grid Contest Tomorrow—Veterans Will Be On Battlefield Team

VACANT ROOMS ARE NEEDED BY ALUMNI

The Penn State Alumni Association desires to make room reservations for Friday and Saturday nights, October nineteenth and twentieth. Persons having available rooms are requested to get in touch with the Association as soon as possible.

NITTANY BOOTERS DEVELOP RAPIDLY

Tentative First Team Is Picked—Coach Longhurst Continues Drill in Fundamentals

ACTUAL PLAYING SEASON WILL SOON COMMENCE

The Penn State soccer team, with Longhurst as its coach, is being moulded into a fast playing and consistent combination. No let-up has occurred in the daily practices and all the men of the squad are back in good playing condition.

A tentative first team has been picked and is doing good work in the daily scrimmages. The coach is still stressing fundamental work although he has begun the training of the men in the finer points of the game. Head work, field work and goal practice are all gone through in the daily work-outs.

R. S. Swartz '26 is playing the position of center forward on the tentative first team while J. Russell '24 is holding down the inside right berth and J. A. Kelley '24 the outside right. Both of the latter men are playing consistent games and will probably hold their positions for the first game of the season.

The outside left berth is being held by J. Crooks '24, who is a dependable player, while the inside left position is being hotly contested for by W. W. Hibbs '24 and J. R. Eisenhuth '26, both of whom are playing good games.

Old Men Back
The center halfback position is definitely held by "Andy" Warner, last year's varsity man and captain of this year's team. In the left halfback berth, Hagenbuch is playing a fairly good game and the left halfback position lies between F. M. Pine '26 and R. I. Gill '26. Both of these are showing sterling ability and are fighting hard.

C. L. McVaugh '24 still retains his old position of right fullback while F. W. Grupp '26 is at the present time playing at the left fullback position. Both of these men play a strong defensive game and are showing up well in the daily scrimmages.

The position of goalkeeper lies between J. L. Johnson '26 and N. T. Cunningham. (Continued on last page)

ALUMNAE PLAN BAZAAR FOR COLLEGE CAMPAIGN

The Penn State Alumnae Club will hold a bazaar on Saturday, November seventeenth, in the R. M. Foster block next to the Post Office. They will be assisted by the girls of the college and the entire proceeds will be given to the campaign fund.

The sale will consist of gifts, fancy articles, home-made cakes and candies. All of the Alumnae of the college, as well as the women students and the wives of faculty members have been asked to contribute to the sale. The articles will be varied and the prices reasonable.

STUDENT TRIBUNAL TAKES DRASTIC MEASURES IN ENFORCING CUSTOMS

Beginning its proceedings with the trial of three seniors, Student Tribunal held its third sitting of the year in Room 290, Old Main, at eight-thirty last Wednesday night. Despite the use of the larger room, the crowd was such that many were unable to view the hearings.

The first case of interest on the docket was that of Rex Haver, a senior, charged with undergoing only one semester of customs in his freshman year. Though it expressed its regret at the necessity for the action, the tribunal decided that he should take the remaining semester of customs at once. J. C. Kradel, a senior, whose case was held over at the last meeting, was sentenced to a full year of customs, as he enrolled in the two year course and neglected to meet the yearling requirements. To give time for further investigation, the decision on George Paxton, also a senior who has taken only one semester of customs, was held-over until next week.

J. W. Davidson was the first freshman to step inside the chalk ring. He pleaded guilty to the charge of wearing red socks but professed ignorance of the rule regarding such apparel. He will write out rules twelve two hundred times. L. W. Ruel earned a similar penalty for disregarding orders while engaged in doing an errand. He will submit for the approval of the tribunal a rule six written out an like number of times.

A sensation was caused in the meet-

WORKERS ARE NEARING QUOTA OF "Y" CAMPAIGN

Business Men Present Prizes to Canvassers—Drive Nets Four Thousand Dollars

With over four thousand dollars already collected and with the reorganization of the workers which has taken place, the quota of the Y M C A drive nears completion. The new group which is composed of fifty men selected from those who made the best showing last week, will visit those students who were missed on account of change of address. The failure of the canvassers to find the men at home.

As an added incentive to the workers in the campaign, prizes were offered by several of the local business men. They include a gold watch, given by the Crabtree Jewelry Company, a man's traveling bag from H. W. Sauer, and a bag of golf clubs from L. K. Metzger. The three high men are J. W. Kelley '25, H. W. Ridgway '25 and H. N. Futzinger '24, ranking in the order named.

In addition to these awards, Morris Baum rewarded the highest scoring tickets with a gift of twenty-five movie tickets. The group includes W. F. Matthews '25, S. M. Kaplan '25, C. R. Ehrhart '26, A. K. Smith '26, W. F. Foreman '26, George Paxton '24, H. B. McCrown '24 and R. G. Lowe '24.

REV. ALEXANDER MANN WILL OCCUPY PULPIT AT CHAPEL EXERCISES

Both chapel sections will be certain of hearing an interesting, as well as instructive sermon when the Rev. Alexander Mann occupies the pulpit next Sunday. Rev. Mann is at present of the Diocese of Pittsburgh and is connected with the Trinity church in that city.

The Pittsburgh clergyman is a native New Yorker, having been born in Geneva, New York, and having spent most of his years there. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in this same town, graduating from Hobart University, which is located at Geneva. From 1905 until this year, Rev. Mann had been rector of the Trinity church in Boston.

ON THE GRIDIRON

Saturday, October 13
Penn State vs Gettysburg
Pitt vs West Virginia University
Washington and Jefferson vs Brown
Yale vs Georgia

1. Freshmen shall not walk on grass about private houses unless working thereon.
2. Freshmen shall not stand on grass at football practice.
3. Freshmen may carry top coats.
4. During the halves of football games, freshmen who are wearing signs or other adornment shall parade around the track.
5. Freshmen are not allowed to have girls on Alumni Day.
6. Freshmen are not permitted to wear watch fobs or belts bearing Penn State insignia or colors.
7. Sophomores are not permitted to wear sweaters in class rooms.

President Armbruster also urged that a large circle be formed at Co-op during halcyons in order that a greater number of onlookers may witness the proceedings.

Following a conference after the meeting, the tribunal decided upon the following interpretations of class regulations:

1. Freshmen shall not walk on grass about private houses unless working thereon.
2. Freshmen shall not stand on grass at football practice.
3. Freshmen may carry top coats.
4. During the halves of football games, freshmen who are wearing signs or other adornment shall parade around the track.
5. Freshmen are not allowed to have girls on Alumni Day.
6. Freshmen are not permitted to wear watch fobs or belts bearing Penn State insignia or colors.
7. Sophomores are not permitted to wear sweaters in class rooms.

President Armbruster also urged that a large circle be formed at Co-op during halcyons in order that a greater number of onlookers may witness the proceedings.

Following a conference after the meeting, the tribunal decided upon the following interpretations of class regulations:

1. Freshmen shall not walk on grass about private houses unless working thereon.
2. Freshmen shall not stand on grass at football practice.
3. Freshmen may carry top coats.
4. During the halves of football games, freshmen who are wearing signs or other adornment shall parade around the track.
5. Freshmen are not allowed to have girls on Alumni Day.
6. Freshmen are not permitted to wear watch fobs or belts bearing Penn State insignia or colors.
7. Sophomores are not permitted to wear sweaters in class rooms.

President Armbruster also urged that a large circle be formed at Co-op during halcyons in order that a greater number of onlookers may witness the proceedings.