two yard mark for a touchdown a minute before the end of the second quarter Wilson intercepted a forward pass and carried it to the thirteen yard line before he was downed. The half ended, however, before the ball could be again put in play.

Visitor's Rally

The fighting qualities of Bill Wood's team were evidenced in the third quarter for the visitors came back with a rush that carried the ball into Penn State's territory and kept it there during the entire period. A series of forward passes from Emanuel to Mensch and Korochak, the latter a substitute end who carried a forward pass for a touchdown against Lehgh, brought the ball from the fifteen yard line to Penn State's ten yard line. On the next play Artelt blocked one of Emanuel's hives out of the air and it was Penn State's ball on the ten yard line.

Gray kicked out of danger but Gettysburg, continuing its aerial attack, soon had the ball within striking distance of the Penn State goal. Three forward passes failed and on fourth down Emanuel drop kicked. The kick was short and high and Gray dropped on the ball at the fifteen yard mark.

Penn State Scores

In the final quarter Penn State began another drive that carried the ball well into Gettysburg territory. A penalty cost the Nittany team twenty yards and Palm then resorted to a drop kick. He made a hard try from the forty-eight yard line but his boot was wide.

Emanuel on the first play threw a forward pass down the field but Palm intercepted it, catching the ball, ran it back to the eighteen yard line before he was downed. Line smashes by Wilson and Johnston followed and then Vvents carried the ball to the two yard line for a first down by a terrific line plunge. On the next play Wilson skirted the left end and ambled over the goal line for the final tally.

YEARLINGS WIN FROM CARNEGIE TECH FROSH

Two or three unsuccessful attempts, a pass from Hamilton to Vogt enabled the latter to make a touchdown. The ball soon became the property of the Penn State freshmen. Then, with but two or three minutes left to play before the end of the half, O'Connell scored three points by making a perfect field goal.

In the first part of the second half, neither side made any substantial gain, and it was in this period that Toch lightened up her defense. The Blue and White team was within a few yards of the goal line but was unable to push the ball over.

A peculiar incident took place in the last period of the game. A drop kick by the Penn State quarterback was blocked, the ball lay on the ground for a few seconds unclaimed by either side. Kennedy then picked up the ball for State but neither side apparently knew just what to do. Unassisted and unchallenged, the player proceeded through the opposing line for a down. Another touchdown was eventually added to the Nittany score but the extra point was not gained.

A few noticeable points about Saturday's game were the substitutions made by the coaches of both teams, the apparent playing ability of many of the players and the determination of the opposing team. A number of substitutions were necessary in the ranks of the Blue warriors, while but two were made in the Nittany line-up. Hamilton, Vogt, Harmon, Shriver and Manby all put out a fine brand of football. Baker and Cier were constant ground gainers for the yearling, Gier making the three touchdowns and Baker making several runs off tackle for substantial gains. Page, Lukens and MacPhae also held their positions well.

VARIED PROGRAM IS PREPARED FOR ALUMNI

It will attend the Blue and White-Navy encounter in the afternoon will exceed even the crowd that witnessed the Penn State-Dartmouth game three years ago when approximately twenty-five hundred graduates were numbered among the spectators. Last Friday, Graduate Manager of Athletics Nell M. Fleming sent out forty-seven hundred Alumni tickets for the game.

It was expected that Governor Gifford Pinchot would be able to attend the game but last Friday, President Thomas received the following letter from him:

Harrisburg, Pa., October eleventh, 1923

President John M. Thomas, State College, Pa.

My dear President:

Indeed I wish I could come on October twentieth. Unfortunately, as you may have seen, the President has asked the Governors to meet him at Washington on that day and I must go. I am keenly sorry.

Sincerely yours,
Gifford Pinchot

The final event on the program will be the elder and pretzel feed in the Armory on Saturday night at eight-thirty o'clock which will be for the alumni only. This affair will be sponsored by the Blue Key and E. H. Keller, president of that organization, has outlined a series of events which will include wrestling, boxing, music by Auchenbach's Serenaders who have offered their services for the evening and a five minute vaudeville sketch by

"Jack" Myers and "Schlop" Schlosser. A spirit of cooperation between the student body and Homecoming Committee, composed of P. B. Brennehan '24, chairman, F. M. Torrence '05, W. R. Mason '17 and A. S. Snyder '20, has been shown throughout the extensive preparations for Homecoming Day and the success of the affair will be accredited to the undergraduates as well as graduates.

Notices

The Military Department announces that all men who have uniforms must wear them commencing Wednesday, October seventeenth. Students who have had opportunity to draw their uniforms and have not done so, will not be given credit for drill until they appear in uniform.

Residents of State College are requested by the borough and college officials to keep their cars off the streets as much as possible on Alumni Day, October twentieth, and thus aid in relieving the traffic congestion.

Private parking reservations will be furnished north east of Park Avenue, about four minutes walk from the football field. Space may be obtained by calling G. A. Shuey, Ex-22, or addressing a request to postoffice box 540.

There will be a meeting of the Grange tonight in room 100 Hort building at seven o'clock, for the purpose of balloting for candidates and nominating officers. This meeting is open to members only.

The Penn State Players banquet, which will be held on Friday evening, October nineteenth, and which was to include all Players and their partners, has been changed to a stag affair and smoker for Players and alumni.

Application blanks for the West Virginia game will be issued at the A. A. Office on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

PENN STATE WINS GAME FROM GETTYSBURG TEAM

13 yards but on the next play a beautiful forward, Emanuel Stouffer, put the ball back on the twenty-six yard mark. It was fourth down and Emanuel fell back for a drop-kick. As the Nittany line came charging through, the fullback nervously juggled the pass and the ball trickled off his toe and rolled about ten yards before a Penn State man fell on it.

Penn State's big opportunity came at the beginning of the second quarter. Following Gray's punt, Gettysburg began an advance from her thirteen yard line. Stouffer tore through the line for thirteen yards and on the next play put the ball on the thirty yard mark. Then came a bad break for the visitors. Yost snapped the ball, high and slightly wide, and Emanuel let it slip from his fingers as Eap Frank and Artelt came to vie in. The ball bounced along the ground and Frank fell on it at the eighteen yard mark.

Undismayed, the plucky Gettysburg team held fast and on three successive attempts Penn State failed to advance the ball more than five yards. But the visitors could not shake the accuracy of Palm's toe and on the next play a perfect drop kick went sailing over their heads for a three point counter.

Penn State Scores Again

From the kick-off Penn State then launched a driving attack that carried the ball the length of the field for a touchdown. Palm received Emanuel's kick-off on the six yard line and carried it to the thirty-yard mark before Singley, the Gettysburg left end, maled him. On the next three plays, Johnston, Wilson and Wentz carried the ball in turn, the fullback making first down on a six yard smash through the line. On the next play Wentz hit the line with terrific force and tore through for twelve yards to the visitor's forty-four yard mark. Johnston and Palm gained two more yards. Again Wentz was given the ball and the heavy back shot through the Gettysburg defense and carried the ball to the twenty-eight yard mark before he was stopped. Two more line plays followed. Then Johnston broke loose on a long run and carried the ball from the twenty-
