PENN STATE BOOTERS OUT-PLAY LAFAYETTE

Blue and White Soccer Players Start Upon Fifth Season of Undefeat With Decisive Victory

With four seasons of defeat to its credit, the Penn State soccer team opened the present season with a victory over the strong combination from Lafayette College.

Good head work was predominant throughout the entire contest on both sides, the ball being kept off the ground at times for periods of two or three minutes.

At one-thirty o'clock the ball was put into play with Lafayette defending the northern goal.

The ball was put into play at the center of the field and within several minutes Swartz, receiving the ball from a succession of passes down the field, placed the ball into the cage for the second tally of the contest.

With the score 2-0 against them, the Lafayette players braced themselves and for a while threatened the Nittany goal, but the Penn State team soon recovered and carried the ball into the Red and White territory.

With the Lafayette team for a moment over-balanced by the sudden turn in the play, the ball was carried toward their goal to be placed for a tally by Kelley.

For the remainder of the first half, the ball kept going from one end of the field to the other, both teams playing a fast and well balanced game.

Starting off with a rush at the beginning of the second half, the Blue and White team immediately took the ball into the enemy territory.

NEW YORK ALUMNI HEAR REPORTS AT BIG GRID BANQUET

Hotel Pennsylvania Is Scene of Large Gathering of Former Penn State Students

EXPRESS SENTIMENT ON REMODELING OLD MAIN

Elect Metropolitan Association Officers and Create New Body for New Jersey Members

More than one hundred Penn State alumni gathered in the Ball Room of the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York last Friday evening and held an informal banquet and get-together preceding the Penn State-West Virginia gridiron classic.

The affair was held under the auspices of the New York branch of the Penn State Alumni Association and proved to be one of the best social functions ever staged by Blue and White graduates in the metropolis.

Included among the speakers of the evening were Professor A. H. Espenstun who spoke on the emergency building fund and Professor F. M. Torrence '05 of the Penn State Mechanical Engineering Department, who discussed the proposed plan to be played on the following day.

The most important matter taken up by the graduates was the discussion on Old Main. A resolution was passed that the exterior appearance of Penn State's first building be retained whatever interior alterations be made, which demonstrates the feeling that old alumni have for the building.

The scenic and costume effects for the State College showings will be designed and executed for the most part by George F. Horner, '22, of Gordonville, Pa.

Recent organization of the Northern New Jersey alumni at the Newark Athletic Club on Tuesday, October twenty-third, proves that graduates in all parts of the country are attempting to get together once more.

ANDOVER PRINCIPAL IS SUNDAY CHAPEL SPEAKER

Challenges Every Man To Account for His Presence in the College of Today

Challenging every man to account for his presence in the present day college, Dr. Alfred E. Stearns delivered a message at the chapel exercises Sunday that struck a responsive chord in everyone attending.

The speaker said that the biggest lack of college men today was to prepare themselves in order that when they leave the environment of their alma mater they may lead other less educated men upward and onward to a definite moral goal.

In closing, Dr. Stearns stated that all men make mistakes and become lost in self-pity and dejection, but that the man who can raise himself out of such a despondency, and come back with a determination to win, is the man of true character and manhood.

SACKETT TALKS ON ENGLISH CONDITIONS

Dean of Engineering Compares England and America Following Trip Abroad

WORKERS FALSE IDEAS ARE SOURCE OF DANGER

"What I saw of the industrial and social crisis that is being faced by England to-day, made me mightily glad to sail past the Statue of Liberty into a country where people believe that wealth really lies in work," said Dean E. L. Sackett of the School of Engineering in summing up a talk given to senior engineers in the Old Chapel last Friday afternoon.

Industrial conditions in England were vividly pictured by Dean Sackett who obtained first hand information on his subject during the two months stay in England from which he has just returned.

As pointed out by Dean Sackett, the people of England and their government are facing a situation loaded with the gravest dangers and for which no has as yet offered a solution.

"The false economic beliefs of the workmen exercised through their political power and the strength of organized labor unions are doing England untold harm. One of these beliefs is that to limit the output of the individual workman means more work for more men and less unemployment."

Cites Vivid Examples

As an illustration, the Dean told of a firm which had installed an automatic machine of American manufacture which was expected to increase the output of the lathe which it replaced by three hundred percent.

PENN STATE GRAPPLERS WILL FACE HARD SEASON

Season Includes Six Matches with Intercollegiate To Be Held at Yale University

With a complete schedule of seven meets arranged to be held during February and March, the Penn State grapplers will meet the strongest contenders for collegiate wrestling honors that have ever been assembled on a Nittany schedule.

Heading the list of opponents is Syracuse. The New York state team will journey to State College and give battle to the Blue and White team on February ninth.

Princeton Tiger will attempt to throw the Lion in the latter's den and is followed by Navy who will come to the Nittany valley on February twenty-third.

After this match the Blue and White team will journey to foreign fields.

Bethlehem will be the scene of the first encounter away from home and Lehigh and Penn State are scheduled to clash on the former's mats on the first of March.

The start of the second period saw the Lion slipping and tearing on the flat play, Wilson gained twelve yards at left end and Light advanced another two.

As a climax to the season, the intercollegiate will be held on March twenty-first and twenty-second.

Bas Gray proved his alertness by intercepting a pass on his own twenty-nine.

Sharing the hero role with Wilson were others of Beade's clan. Captain "Dutch" Beade, one of the best linemen in the country, played a bang-up game at guard until he was led from the field in the last quarter in a semi-conscious condition.

Harry Wilson, sensational Penn State halfback, was the individual star of the game. He flashed the most spectacular football seen in New York this season.

More than fifty thousand football enthusiasts crowded the huge Yankee Stadium last Saturday afternoon and watched the West Virginia and Penn State gridiron warriors battle to a 13-13 deadlock in one of the most fiercely contested encounters ever staged in the east.

Both elevens played brilliant football for every minute of the contest. Several fumbles on either side marred the otherwise untarnished work of both teams, but these boots were due to hard tackling and vigorous blocking.
