YEARLING HARRIERS WIN MEET WITH SOPHOMORES

Against a chilling wind and a slow course the freshmen hoped to an easy victory in the annual soph-fresh cross country meet on a three mile course around the golf links late yesterday afternoon. Fouracre and Aem were the low men in their respective teams. Fouracre placed first, covering the distance in the good time of eighteen minutes and two and two-fifths seconds. At the close of the event the score stood 29-35, with the yearling aggregation as the winners.

Despite the size of the score the sophomores gave the first year men a strong race. D. L. Arm, K. B. Barclay, Maurice Chandres, V. Gottschalk, and G. A. Guyer, placed for the second year men. The freshmen to place were Johnson, Harris, Stewart and Kittle. The field was made up of twelve sophomores and seventeen freshmen. Varsity men were barred from the meet. On the whole the individual showing was such as to promise considerable varsity material next spring.

SOPHOMORE HOP PLANS ARE BEING FORMULATED

 ored lights in place of the ordinary light used. This will throw an array of colored squares of light upon the dancers and also cover the bars-effect of the Armory roof.
 Nothing has been definitely decided on the favors but the committee is in touch with several large firms and letters have been sent to other concerns for bids on favors. The data chosen will add to the activities of the week-end fun on Saturday following the Hop, Penn State wrestles Cornell and play Lafayette basket-ball here in the Armory.

R. O. T. C. MEN TO PREPARE SCHEDULE

All sophomores and freshmen taking R. O. T. C. will prepare a pencil schedule when they report for drill next week. There will be some rearrangement of sections and classes are to report at the Armory where they will be assigned to class rooms. All men taking Drill 1 and 3 are required to have a text book or have access to one. Volume one, Manual of Military Training by Moss and Lang is the text that will be used.

PENNSYLVANIA DAY WILL BE FITTINGLY OBSERVED

 attend the Pennsylvania Day activities which are designed as an affair for undergraduates, their guests and friends of the college. It is estimated that the fraternities will entertain upwards of one thousand young ladies at house parties, beginning today and lasting until Monday.

Two Bands Out

Two Blue and White bands will be out for the game with Georgia Tech tomorrow, and Penn State students will be given their first opportunity to view the new blue uniforms which have been issued to a group of fifty players. The second band of seventy-five pieces, in cadet uniforms will be headed by Bandmaster W. O. Thompson. The first unit will be under the direction of student-leader K. R. Dover '24. The band will also be out as one complete body at the mass meeting tonight.

The soccer game which is scheduled for tomorrow morning on New Beaver field at ten o'clock should call out a record crowd. The Naval Academy is sending a strong aggregation to the Nittany valley in an attempt to wrest some of the athletic honors from the Lion, and the contest should prove one of the best to be witnessed here this season.

Glee Club Concert

Heading the bill as the main attraction for tomorrow evening is the Penn State Glee Club concert to be given in the Auditorium. With the final rehearsal completed the Blue and White songsters are in a position to render a program that will be characteristic of Glee Club recitals in the past.

 man playing in the backfield. He may win a chance later for one of these positions.

VARSITY HALL WILL BE FINISHED BY NEXT FALL

New Building Situated Near South Entrance of New Beaver—Is Colonial in Style

Varsity Hall, the future home of the athletic personnel of Penn State, is now in an advanced stage of construction and from all indications should be ready for use next fall.

The new building, which is situated near the south entrance to New Beaver Field, is Colonial in style and when finished will present much the same appearance as its neighbor, Watts Hall. The present plans provide for accommodations for seventy-five men and comfort and efficiency are the two most important factors that are being considered in the construction of the new track house. When completed, Varsity Hall will be a pride to the campus of Penn State as well as an abiding monument to those who gave their best efforts to advance her honor on the field of athletic endeavor.

Situated in the eastern wing of the basement will be a large kitchen with modern equipment. In the central section will be a recreation room, containing pool and card tables, while a classroom will occupy the western wing, in which it is planned to give blackboard talks. The front entrance will open into a large lobby on the first floor. The lobby will be ornamented with banners, pictures and trophy cases. To the right of the lobby, occupying the eastern wing, will be a spacious dining room located directly over the kitchen from which food will be sent in an elevator. The western wing of the first floor will be used as a dormitory and on the second and third floors will be located the living rooms of the athletes. Large storerooms are also being built in which athletic equipment will be housed.

KU KLUX KLAN PURCHASES ALMA COLLEGE AT ZAREPHATH

The Ku Klux Klan has purchased Alma College at Zarephath, New Jersey, just fifteen miles from Princeton, and plans to stimulate intellectual interest in the work of the Klan among the undergraduates and to instill in them the principles of the Klan.

PENN STATE BOOTERS MEET NAVY TOMORROW

 played a loose game during the first half but in the second period, the Nittany players braced themselves and, playing a more consistent game, continually threatened the Syracuse goal. Syracuse had one good opportunity during the game to get a goal when it was given a free penalty kick from the field. A Penn State player blocked the kick, however, and prevented the opponents from scoring. The condition of the field was poor and was a continual hindrance to the men of both teams.

The Toronto Game

With both the Penn State and the Toronto teams playing a fast and consistent game, the Blue and White players were held to a 1-1 tie by the Canadian booters. Considered as the intercollegiate champions of Canada, the Toronto team was slightly bested by the Nittany combination.

The tally for both teams was made in the first half of the game, no scoring being done in the second period. Toronto's point was made by the center forward who played a fast game throughout the entire contest. Penn State's goal was made by Hibbs, playing left inside.

Although it was raining lightly during the entire game, which made the field extremely muddy, both teams played a good game. The coach of the Toronto team said that it was the best and cleanest soccer contest that he had ever witnessed. The Nittany team had five corner kicks but was unable to hang up an extra tally because of the good work of the Canadian goal keeper, who played a strong defensive game. The game ended with the ball in the Toronto territory, Penn State staging a terrific attack. The line-up that faced the Blue and White players, with the exception of two men, was the same that had defeated the strong Princeton aggregation last year.

DR. ARTHUR HOLMES TO LECTURE AT PENN STATE

 On Sunday, the present Philadelphiaan will give two sermons, thus ending his short visit to Penn State Sunday morning. He will preach at the Presbyterian Church, while in the evening he will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist Church.

TRIBUNAL METES OUT JUSTICE TO FRESHMEN

 and will receive their sentences at the next session of the Tribunal.
 Owing to a possible misunderstanding in regard to the customs which will be in effect over the week-end, the following statements were made. All customs will be off tomorrow. Freshmen having guests to house-party are free while going to meet them and while they are in State College. The members issued the ruling that freshmen are free from customs while on their way either into or out of town, even if attending classes, if they do not loiter about the streets.

ARMISTICE DAY WILL BE OBSERVED SUNDAY

 the committee to meet at the Armory at six o'clock, where they will gather in a body and march to the auditorium, where special seats will be reserved for them. Those in charge wish it understood that the special nature of the service will not excuse the absence of students scheduled for chapel at that time. An invocation by the Reverend B. A. O'Hanlon, opening the service, will be followed by hymns and a prayer by the Reverend A. E. Mackie, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church. There will then be addresses by John L. Holmes, ex-burgess of State College, and Elton D. Walker, a World War veteran. Arrangements have been made with Bishop Hughes, who is the chapel speaker for the day, to deliver a special address for the occasion. Bishop Hughes, who is one of the foremost of the New England clergymen, is expected to have an appropriate address.

In addition there will be special music by the choir under the supervision of Director Grant. Several selections

In accord with the sentiment of the day will be rendered during the service, which will terminate with the benediction by Bishop Hughes.
 No other plans have been made by the legion committee, which is headed by J. S. Cobb, of the Agronomy Department, and there will be no special observance on Monday as some communities are planning.
 The gallery on the north side of the auditorium will be reserved for visitors wishing to attend the Armistice Day services on Sunday evening. It is also announced that the program will be concluded in time for the evening services in the churches in the borough, allowing those who attend an opportunity to attend church afterwards.
