NATIONAL A. T. O. CHIEF STOPS AT PENN STATE

Emerson H. Packard, National President of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity, spent last Tuesday afternoon and evening at Penn State, the visit forming a part of a tour of the eastern and southern chapters of the fraternity. The A. T. O. Chief spent the afternoon with officers of the college, and in the evening a smoker was held in his honor by the local chapter of the organization.

Mr. Packard has been traveling southward from his home in Brockton, Massachusetts and came to Penn State from W. J. He plans to visit twenty-five chapters on his present trip and left here to go to Baltimore. He was pleased with fraternal conditions at this institution and heartily commended the strong inter-fraternal spirit which prevails on the campus. It is his purpose to encourage such spirit and to strengthen the bonds between the national organizations and their chapters at the various colleges.

In the afternoon Mr. Packard spent some time with Dean A. R. Warnock, and later in an interview with President Thomas. Tuesday evening he was entertained at a smoker in the local chapter house, at which were present Dean Warnock, the deans of the various schools of the college, and a representative from each of the national fraternities represented at Penn State.

TWELVE THOUSAND SEE HELFRICH WIN RACE

of the evening track drew the pole but got off to a bad start and was running third during the first two laps with Connolly leading and Watson in second place. Hann who was running fourth and fifth during the greater part of the race, with a terrific burst of speed went into first place at the next to last lap and managed to pass Watson and Enck who were in first and second places respectively. At the bell lap, Wharton, A. C. jumper, who had been running fourth challenged Enck and the Blue and White star sprinted and passed Watson crossing the finish line in second place, four yards behind Hann.

Moore Breaks World Record

Although "Chip" Moore broke the old's record in the fifty-yard high hurdles when he moved out Christensen, the Swedish champion, in the first heat, the Nitany sophomore, was beaten out for first place in the final heat by Karl Anderson of the Illinois A. C. Both Moore and Anderson made the distance in 6 and 2.7 seconds which makes the two hurdles joint holders of a new record, the former time being 6 and 1.5 seconds. In the final heat, the Blue and White star got off to a poor start but managed to creep up on Anderson until at the finish line, he was only one foot behind the winner.

PENN STATE LAUNDRY

ANNUAL POULTRY WEEK OPENS FEBRUARY FOURTH

Correspondence Students Come to Penn State for Instruction in Practical Work

Final preparations have been made by the department of Poultry Husbandry and the department of Correspondence Courses in the School of Agriculture for the third annual Poultry Week which will be held at Penn State from February fourth to ninth. The object of this annual event is to give those people taking correspondence courses, actual work in the particular line they are studying.

Although the week of intensive poultry instruction is arranged primarily for the taking correspondence courses, it is open to anyone in the state who is interested in poultry. However, the short course is not designed for the poultry farmer as much as for the man who is raising poultry for profits in business.

Among the instructors who will assist in the work during this week is Professor H. C. Kandel, Professor H. D. Mumot, Assistant Professor M. H. Brightman, L. M. Blue, D. M. Gray, P. A. Stone, P. T. Kistler and P. M. Morzoff. The program which has been arranged for the week is intended to furnish an opportunity for discussion and for other work which cannot be given readily through correspondence.

The entire Penn State poultry plant including houses of various kinds incubating and brooding equipment, several hundred White Leghorn hens and pullets, some of the best record Bantam Rock hens and exhibition flocks of the leading breeds of poultry will be used for the week's work. Instruction will be given in poultry feeding, rationing, computing cost of various incubators, and brooding problems, housing problems in market conditions, selection and judging of fowls, poultry farm management, practical methods of feeding, chicks and treatment of poultry diseases.

SENIOR DANCE WILL BE STAGED TONIGHT

planned for elaborate decorations but instead will have the simplest kind of ornaments and trimmings hung about the walls. The main decorations will be in green, while a system of colored lights will be used in illuminating the Amory floor. Instead of allowing the fraternities to have booths erected on the floor, it has been decided to rent only separate spaces to the fraternities, and on these spaces may be put chairs, lounges and the like, according to the desire of the fraternities. Places for foot lumps for all the Greek letter societies have been reserved.

Plans have been made to check clothes in the locker room, but in case it is unavailable the lockers will be used instead. As the locker room is the most convenient and spacious of the two places the committee plans to have it for use if it is at all possible.

Teeth Orchestras To Play

The "Collegiate Imps", a ten piece organization of talented musicians from Carnegie Tech will furnish the music tonight. This orchestra has gained an enviable reputation in Pittsburgh as being one of the best strictly student dance orchestras in the Western Pennsylvania district. Last summer this group played at Chautauqua and the patrons of that summer resort expressed themselves as very well pleased with the band of music the Pittsburgh combination put forth. The "Imps" have also played at most of the major social functions of Carnegie Tech.

There will be no favors given to the fair ones at this dance, but in their place will be issued souvenir programs. Care has been given to the selection of these programs and it is expected that they will be as welcome as the usual favors.

Patrons and Patronesses

Several prominent members of the college faculty and their wives have been obtained to act in the capacity of patrons and patronesses. These men and women are Dean and Mrs. R. L. Watts, Dean and Mrs. R. L. Brackett, Dean and Mrs. C. W. Stoddard, Dean and Mrs. E. A. Holbrook, Dean and Mrs. W. G. Chambers, Dr. and Mrs. I. M. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Prodek, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Fleming, Mr. H. M. Herriman, Dean Charlott E. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Smith.

The committee in charge of the dance is composed of P. N. Young, Chairman; H. J. Corwitt, H. N. Patzinger, R. S. Pich, W. L. Hess, S. W. Hamilton, H. W. Johnson and P. J. Morzoff.

NITANY TOSSERS MEET PENN TOMORROW NIGHT

Knack, who will be found at a guard post, was out of the running with a broken ankle when Penn opened his season against Drexel on December eighth. Ben Dessen and Bill Knack are veterans on the team and Jimmie Carmack will likely give Penn State its greatest trouble.

Knack is playing his first season at forward, as last year he was used at the guard and center positions. Knack, by the way, is the second highest scorer in the Eastern Inter-collegiate League, a favor of Columbia rates as the high man. Block, with his six feet and two inches, brought his way through the Junior Varsity squad last year and has captured the jumping job on the Penn combination.

Ben Dessen, now holding down the other guard post is one of the fastest and most clever passers on the team. He played on the varsity two years ago, being ineligible last season.

The Red and Blue Subs

Goulditt of last year's varsity is a substitute forward while Drummond Tammage and Stewart of last year's freshman five will be held in reserve. "Jim" McNichol, a brother of the coach and a veteran of last season, will also be available.

Just when the Red and Blue team seemed to be functioning like a veteran combination, Coach McNichol placed Leopold, who was then considered as Penn's shooting ace, and Drummond formerly employed at center, on the bench.

The Penn coach experienced the same difficulty as did "Dutch" Herriman in filling the position at center. During the pre-season practice Drummond was looked upon as the logical man to hold the post, but unfortunately, but Block, with his added height and speed captured the place. In the initial contest Block has been used as a stationary guard to recover the ball when opposing fives venture a shot.

This year's combination is one of the palest fives that has appeared on the Quaker court for some time.

HARVARD STUDENTS VOTE IN FAVOR OF BOK PEACE PLAN

He has spent two semesters at West Virginia Wesleyan, but the members of the Jury decided that this was not enough customs, so they added another semester at Penn State on to them.

W. W. Richman '24 was the first to make his bow in Room 111 Old Main being accused with the unusual charge of invading the domain of freshmen customs by wearing a green toque. Richman was allowed to go with the warning that in the future he should neither wear a green toque, carry matches or refrain from talking to the girls.

The Tribunal also acted upon the petition of J. C. Kistler '24, an incoming freshman, for a ruling on the custom of the privilege of riding senior customs for the rest of his college career because he plans on graduating in June.

Rules For New Freshmen

After the close of the meeting, President Ambruster made several important statements regarding customs for both the new and the old. Freshmen One of these was to the effect that the latest members of the Penn State student body need not wear the customary name card for their first two weeks at this college. Instead they will be obliged to wear these cards next fall, along with the members of the class of 1928.

Another instruction for the incoming freshmen to heed is that of carrying a list of Penn State rules around or their persons. If pamphlets are given out in place of the regular handbooks then they must be carried until the usual "bibles" can be obtained.

The new yearlings are expected to take part in all the class scraps and must also make themselves familiar with the various customs, songs and yells connected with Penn State, within the near future.

"Dutch" also made a few statements with regard to freshman customs in general, correcting a few errors that have cropped up in the interpretation of these customs. One statement was to the effect that no freshmen will be allowed to enter a bowling alley, this rule being connected with the one forbidding entrance into pool rooms.

Customs for freshmen have been declared off the night of the Glee Club dance and the night of the Sophomore Hop and the night following, providing the first-year man has a girl and also that he attends a dance on the night he has the girl. For the Sophomore Hop, customs are off from Friday afternoon, when the girl, if she be from out-of-town, comes in to Penn State, until Sunday afternoon.

However, if a freshman gets a girl from out-of-town for a dance his liberties can not be extended beyond the stated time.
