

NITTANY BOXERS TO FACE ORANGE TEAM TOMORROW EVENING

Syracuse Will Enter Intercollegiate Ring for First Time Against Penn State

BLUE AND WHITE SQUAD IS IN GOOD CONDITION

Zerbe Will Not Fight—160-pound Position Lies Between Bordner and F. D. Weiss '25

Entering the intercollegiate ring for the first time, Syracuse University boxers will face the members of Coach Leo Houck's fighting team tomorrow evening in the Armory. The Nittany squad is in good condition as was shown by its victory over the Army battlers last week. Boston University was formerly scheduled to come to the Nittany Valley on February twenty-third, but the Massachusetts team cancelled the meet and a match was arranged with Syracuse. Inter-class boxing has for a long time been featured at Syracuse, but it is understood that the meet tomorrow will be the Orange's first attempt in the intercollegiate ring. Penn State meets Syracuse in nearly every other line of sport and it is logical to expect a contest should be arranged for the boxing.

ORCHESTRA TO PRESENT CONCERT NEXT SUNDAY

Concert and Cello Composition Will Be Feature of Sunday Afternoon Recital

Thompson will be rendered at the Auditorium on Sunday, February twenty-third, at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon. Solists—Andrew J. Hill '25, clarinet, Donald Malpas '26, violin, 1. J. Hoff—Grand March from Symphonie, "Leone" 2. Richard Wagner—Grand Fantasia "Rienzi" 3. H. Perle—Intermezzo, "Capriccio" 4. George Vanderveer—Bomance for Violin and Clarinet, "Solluck" 5. Max Baer—March 6. Arthur Sullivan—Humoresque, "The Phantas of Paradise" 7. H. W. Lowe—March, "On to Plattsburgh"

INTER-UNIT FIVES PLAY EIGHT GAMES NEXT WEEK

Games of This Week Are Closely Contested—Unit Twenty One Makes Semi-Finals

Several sensational inter-unit basketball games developed from those played on the gymnasium floor last Tuesday evening. The outcome of these contests changed the state of affairs in the matter of section leadership. There were but three games played off and all of these were hotly contested. In the first of the evenings playing Unit 21 outpointed Unit 18 to 9, both teams playing at top form. This game clinched the division leadership for Unit 21 and that group of players is now assured of playing in the semi-finals.

GRADUATION TAKES FIVE MEN FROM LAST YEAR'S TEAM—BATTERY MEN SHOW UP WELL

More than twenty battery candidates for Penn State's varsity baseball team have been registered to the Stock 25-30 million regularly and are working out under the direction of Glenn Killinger. At present practice is being held three times each week but daily work-out will begin on the first of March when Coach Beadek will take charge of the team. Although graduation took "Pip" Koepke, "Dedeck" Miller and "Chal" Hase, from the team, "Burr" will still have Captain Palm, Fortna, Reed, Tank and Goeffert with which to build a nucleus for this year's nine. Several members of last year's winning team, including J. D. Price, B. Schwartz, J. E. Maler, J. Eisenhuth, "Fas" Gray and M. D. Buckler, are expected to report as soon as outdoor practice begins. Among the strongest contenders for the battery's berth are W. H. Keister '25, T. M. Aldin '25, B. Z. Nesbit '26, N. P. Zeth '26 and J. David '26. Keister was regular catcher on the freshman team of two years ago and by the logical candidate for the position at the present time. Zeth had experience with the winning team last year and will undoubtedly put up a hard fight for the back-stop assignment. Coach Beadek will have a strong array of pitchers in H. P. Harberton '25, star hurler on the freshman team last year, J. H. Longhurst '21 and W. D. Fister '21, who will report for practice at the close of the basketball season. Other pitching candidates who are showing real promise are W. A. Kelley '21, E. A. Daniels '21 and P. R. Meyer '25. Straight bats are the rule at present but the hurlers will begin practicing curves soon.

DEAN WATTS TO ADDRESS FARM SCHOOL GRADUATES

Dean Ralph L. Watts of the School of Agriculture has been chosen to deliver the commencement address at the graduation exercises of the National Farm School at Doylestown, Pennsylvania this evening. The subject of his talk will be "The Challenge of Agriculture."

FROSH MEET PITT YEARLINGS TONIGHT

Coach Killinger Will Use Regular Team—Second String Men May Break Into Game

FORMER NITTANY GUARD APPEARS WITH VISITORS

Smiling under their stinging defeat at the hands of the Penn State freshman basketball team last week, Coach "Lou" McManister of Pittsburgh Yearlings tonight in an attempt to even scores in the Armory at six-thirty o'clock. The Blue and White first-year men are in excellent condition and a battle royal is expected when the two teams take the floor.

Coach Killinger has allowed his squad little rest this week and has been experimenting with several combinations although it appears certain that the regular line-up will start the game. Several second-string men who have been putting up hard fights for regular berths in every position may receive an opportunity to break into the line-up tonight if the first team fails to come up to form.

The line-up
Captain Hannas and "Wally" Bezel will be used at the forward positions tonight with Fagg taking care of the forward position, Methylene and O'Dea will start at point with a possibility of Rhinehart and Daugherty breaking in at the defense posts. Saylor, whose field goal saved the Nittany yearlings at Kilduff last week, has been a menace to visiting guards in scrimmage all week, and he will undoubtedly get into the game.

The work of "Joe" O'Dea on the western trip was a source of satisfaction to Coach Killinger and the Washington D. C. lot appears to be the most improved player on the yearling team. In every game last week "Joe" came through with field goals at critical moments and from present indications, he should prove a valuable man for the varsity next year. Methylene was a tower of defense in the three games last week with Hannas.

CANDIDATES FOR VARSITY NINE REPORT REGULARLY

BEZDEK EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS ON COFFIN-NAILS

As a means of fighting the use of cigarettes among the students of the junior and senior high schools of Allentown, the board of education of that city inaugurated a campaign of education last night when Coach Hugo Beadek spoke before a large crowd of high school students speaking from a wealth of experience the Nittany mentor declared that the "coffin nail" was not a part of any system of athletic training. Beadek will be followed in the anti-cigarette drive by noted athletes from leading colleges and universities in this and other states. The police department of Allentown and the Federation of Churches is co-operating in the campaign.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL OBJECTS TO HOP BUDGET

Unanimous Vote Is Cast Against Floor Space Rate Set by Hop Committee

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS FOUR DOLLAR REDUCTION

Committee Appointed to Investigate Cutting of June House Party to Four Days

By a unanimous vote, the thirty-two fraternities represented in the Penn State Interfraternity Council disapproved the Sophomore Hop committee's action of charging six dollars for floor space at this year's affair and recommended two dollars as a nominal price. This step was taken at the council meeting held at the Hotel Thien, 21 home on Tuesday evening after several organizations had protested against the seemingly unreasonably fee. Immediately after this action, the Inter-Mural Council was notified and its members were also in favor of the step. Although the Soph Hop budget has already been approved by N.H. Fleming and Comptroller Smith, it is likely that a new one will be drawn up if the Hop committee is to fall in line with the action of the fraternities.

STUDENT AID MAY HASTEN NEW CODE

Council to Call upon Nittany Students to Offer Suggestions for Honor System

It is possible that the Penn State student body may play an important role in the formulation of a new honor code for the Nittany Institution. The plan of the Council is to call on the students to offer suggestions in obtaining suggestions in the form of proposed honor codes which will call each student's conception as to what should constitute the best and most feasible system for Penn State.

RIFLE SCHEDULE OPENS WITH PENN SHOOTERS

First Heat of Dual Match with Princeton Fired—Prepare for Corps Contest

Being its first match of the season against the University of Pennsylvania, the Penn State rifle team, from present indications, should go through the season with a record as successful as that of last year. The scores of this week's match have not been received from Princeton at the time this edition went to press.

DR. METZGER ARRANGES NEW CHAPEL PROGRAM

In order that Penn State students may have the opportunity of hearing some excellent chapel speakers next year, Dr. Fraser Metzger, College Chaplain, has been working out a program which promises to be of interest. Some of the best preachers of the pulpit have been secured and several men who spoke in the chapel services this year have promised to return.

HOP FLOOR SPACE SALE IS POSTPONED

On account of the action of the Interfraternity Council in voting against the six dollar price for floor space at the Sophomore Hop, the date which was to have taken place at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday evening was postponed. The Hop committee plans to meet with Council representatives within a few days in an attempt to come to an agreement on the price of floor space and arrangements of the result of this meeting will be published in the next issue of the COLLEGIAN.

WORK ON VARSITY HALL IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

According to R. F. Weber, Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at Penn State, the roof on Varsity Hall will be completed this week. If weather conditions permit, work on the second of Penn State's new buildings is progressing rapidly and from present indications, Nittany athletes will be able to move into their new home at the beginning of the next college year.

NAVY WRESTLERS TO MEET NITTANY TEAM TOMORROW

Fifteen Men Compose Navy Squad Which Will Arrive at Penn State This Afternoon

The Navy team to whom the Nittany wrestlers suffered defeat last year at Annapolis, line up against Coach DeLoe's men at two-thirty o'clock tomorrow in the Armory. Backed by several victories the Middlesex are confident of the outcome of tomorrow's encounter, while the Lions are just a mix of giving a good account of themselves. Both teams are in good condition and appear to be well matched.
