

POULTRY STUDENTS PLAN ANNUAL PRODUCTS SHOW

Officers Are Elected at Special Meeting—Date Will Be Set at Later Meeting

It was definitely decided by the faculty and students of the Poultry Husbandry Department at a special meeting to hold the Second Annual State Standard Products Show...

Both students and faculty voted for the officers of the coming exhibit of birds, the final result giving the position of secretary to Leon Todd '25...

Reports coming from last year's exhibitors are very favorable and indicate that poultrymen throughout the state desire this show to be made an annual event at Penn State...

This show differs from the purely exhibitive and fancy types of shows in that the birds are judged on their ability to produce eggs as well as for the standard characteristics of the breed...

With the question of an orchestra still unsettled, the Military Ball committee is turning its attention to the other details of the function in an effort to make this year's ball as successful as that of last year...

DEAN SACKETT TALKS TO YORK BUSINESSMEN

Dean R. L. Sackett of the School of Engineering, addressed the Retail Merchants of York at a dinner held under the auspices of the local Chamber of Commerce, February nineteenth at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The Dean gave an interesting talk on the various business courses which the Engineering Extension Department has assembled in response to numerous requests for work of this sort.

The State Chamber of Commerce has been particularly active in promoting employee training by means of the State College courses, which have been accepted by various trade bodies throughout the state.

Correspondence instruction in Stenography, Accounting, Bookkeeping, Advertising and Business Law, among others, has proved very popular. In some sections study groups have been formed to supplement the correspondence study.

D. H. CLUB APPROVES "AG" COUNCIL CONSTITUTION

Discussion on Second Annual Mock Sale and Show Will Be Held at March Meeting

The February meeting of the Dairy Husbandry Club recently was remarkably well attended by both students and faculty.

The first new business that was brought to the attention of the club members was presented by President W. S. Holt '24. It dealt with the approval of the constitution for the newly formed Agricultural Student Council, which includes in its membership the presidents of all student organizations on the Hill, as well as the Editor-in-Chief of the Penn State Farmer.

Three Students Speak at the meeting giving their experiences in practical work of the past summer. The first of the trio, O. S. Hanson '23, gave an interesting account of his summer's experience with the Penn State dairy cattle on the show circuit.

Professor W. H. Martin was the first speaker and he told of the Annual Dairy Products Show held recently in Harrisburg. He gave an interesting report of his observations there, especially with regard to the dairy exhibits. Following this talk, the meeting was adjourned and prizes and refreshment were supplied by the refreshment committee.

STUDENT GARDENS WILL SELL FOR FIVE DOLLARS

The student gardens, which the students in Horticulture 4 plan and work while in school, will be offered for sale again this year. These gardens are twenty feet by forty feet in size. They will sell for five dollars, which is cheaper than last year by three dollars.

SHORT COURSE STUDENTS STAGE ANNUAL BANQUET

Musical Entertainment Furnished by Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity Orchestra

The 1924 graduating class in the Short Course of Agriculture held its annual banquet last Thursday evening at the State College Hotel. Among those present were Vice-Dean R. B. Brewster, and a number of Professors of the Agricultural School.

Following the dinner A. B. Reinhold, instructor, introduced a very enjoyable program. The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity orchestra furnished the music. "Black" Taylor, assistant variety show-leader, cracked several jokes, and entertained with a clever representation of buck and wing dancing.

Vice-Dean R. G. Bressler gave a very interesting talk, in which he explained to the graduates would have to contend with as individual farm owners. He emphasized particularly that they should not let themselves down to their work, and forget to make life as interesting as possible, or fail to keep up with outside open news.

Short talks were also given by Professors A. A. Baird, H. C. Knudsen, A. L. Dean, M. P. Grimes, W. D. Swope, G. P. Shibley, and I. R. Knapp. The final address of the evening was delivered by Mrs. Reinhold, the class president. In concluding the program all joined in the singing of songs with the "Alma Mater" as the final number.

CONGRESSMAN SWOOPES GIVES PATRIOTIC SPEECH

The Hon. William I. Swoopes spoke at the Patriotic Mass Meeting held last Friday evening in the Auditorium. The meeting was held under the auspices of the P. O. S. of A. and the college. The music was under the direction of the Phi Mu Alpha Fraternity.

Mr. Swoopes said, "It is the duty of every citizen to fight for the betterment of your community. The town or community represents your own thoughts and ideals. The most important league is not the League of Nations or a World Court of International Justice, but a law enforcement league. Every loyal patriot should aid in enforcing the law."

MANY APPLICANTS SEEK MILK TESTING POSITIONS

In accordance with the act of legislation of May twenty-third 1919 providing that testing of milk and cream in commercial dairies in Pennsylvania must be made by a certified tester, who has furnished satisfactory evidence of good character and who has passed examinations in milk and cream testing, a considerable number of applicants presented themselves at the Dairy Building last Thursday morning.

The milk testing law has been of much benefit to dairy farmers in the state in as much as it has been found that a considerable number of applicants were plainly incompetent to do accurate testing of milk and cream. Since it is on the basis of these tests that dairy farmers are paid for their products, it is important that only those who are competent be permitted to do the testing.

Up to the time of the present examination 1191 applicants have passed the examination. These examinations were first given in January 1920 and have been given once each month since then.

MANY ANIMALS GIVEN TO DAIRY DEPARTMENT

State Cattle Breeders Improve College Herd by Gifts of Select Animals

The college herd has recently been greatly improved through the generosity of the dairy cattle breeders in the state, in sending representative animals of the famous breeds to fill the empty stanchions in the college dairy barn made empty by an outbreak of tuberculosis seven years ago. The fine specimens of the different breeds presented to the college have also been of very material advantage in teaching students what constitute a good type in the various breeds. About twenty-five thousand visitors who go through the dairy barn annually also have a comprehensive idea of the differences in type of the respective dairy breeds.

At the present time the college herd includes one hundred and fifty animals of which seventy are mature cows and the rest heifers and calves. The herd includes sixty-seven Holsteins, thirty-five Jerseys, thirty-seven Friesians, twenty-two Guernseys, and two Brown Swiss. The lands of the institution.

Readers Are Looking for Your Ad Advertising is the cheapest, quickest and best method of salesmanship that has yet been found. Therefore the most progressive merchants advertise. And naturally, when you want the cheapest or the best article, of any kind, it is fair to assume that the most progressive men will have it for sale. Every shrewd merchant advertises in this paper because there are thousands of your readers eager to see this advertising when it appears. He knows that you are looking for whatever good merchandise news he has to offer. And if any merchant so far discounts your value to him as not to advertise in the paper you read, you can well afford to discount his value to you. If any merchant is so careless as to overlook the great combined purchasing value of thousands of your readers every week, the chances are he is overlooking many a good merchandise value when it comes his turn to go into the market and buy. So learn, not only to read the advertising news in this paper every week, but also learn to rely upon it for everything you need. There isn't one student that cannot reduce his cost of living at any time simply by carefully reading and buying entirely through the advertising pages of this paper day by day.
