YEARLING FIVE LOSSES BOTH GAMES ON TRIAL

played together in their high school days. Haines, former Pottsville High school star and teammate of Paul Hood, guard on the Syracuse five, went down to defeat with his team for the first time since he has been playing.

Cornell Trips Yearlings

Three from their efforts of the previous night the Lion freshmen proved in easy prey for the onslaught of the Cornell yearlings on Saturday and when the final whistle had blown, the Red team was on the long end of a 41-29 score.

NAVY BOXERS DEFEAT BLUE AND WHITE TEAM

Jordan was knocked to the floor but recovered and got up on his feet. He was in a daze, however, and leaving himself unguarded for a moment, received a terrific blow on the chin. He went out on the count.

M. F. Coffey '25 of the Nittany team went against a man with a longer reach in the 160-pound division. He fought gamely but could not overcome the deadly grip caused by his shorter arm length and the decision was given to the Navy representative at the end of the third round.

The 175-pound bout was a hard-hitting one neither man losing much time by sparring around. "Hop" Pink showed good ring generalship and was continually out-thinking the Navy fighter. Both men showed good form and the judges handed in a decision for the Nittany man at the end of the third round.

Fighting hard from the sound of the first going, "Rags" Madock won the heavy-weight bout for the Nittany team. The Navy man was heavier than "Rags" but Madock had him continually on the ground in the second round. The Blue and White captain received a cut over the eye which only seemed to spur him on to harder fighting. He displayed his superiority early in the third round and was awarded the decision by the judges.

NEW THESPIAN CAST HAS BEEN SELECTED

From '23, W. F. Strilling '27. The following understudies have been chosen for the chorus: S. J. Harkins '27, C. T. D'Amico '29, C. N. Higgins '27, L. R. Schultz '24, R. S. Hoffman '25, T. J. Holt '27, A. H. Viner '25, H. G. Wombley '27, W. L. L. Calvert '27, H. M. Evans '27, H. J. Byrne '27.
The direction of the comedy will be entirely under the supervision of the Weyburn Studios, the theatrical firm for their production of three of the biggest hits of the "opus" stage this season—the "Follies," "Varieties" and "Lodie Centor's Kid Boots."
J. Gordon Amend is the production manager. J. A. Patton has charge of the stage and he, in collaboration with D. H. Poterfield will take care of the scenic effects. Miss Helen Seward of the department of Fine Arts has designed the costumes. The office of house manager is filled by J. Lee '26.

LACROSSE SQUAD IS OUT FOR PRACTICE

Linson stated that material for all positions is greatly needed. Only a few positions on the team have been closed thus far, and there is a chance for any man with some experience to make good.

Daily practice was started last Monday. Due to the condition of the ground, the next ten days or so will be devoted largely to stick work. Then the practice will begin with daily scrimmages and several practice games. Although out of condition at the opening of the season, the squad is rounding into form, and daily practice has resulted in a noticeable improvement in the stick work.

Holding a berth on the varsity bowling team, "Hop" Pink has not been able to devote much time to lacrosse, but with the close of the boxing season he will devote all his time to the outdoor game. Anderson, who is temporarily out of practice on account of the illness of his father, will be back in a few days to resume his regular position.

Cornell Judge is optimistic about the success of the 1924 season. He took part in Penn State last week and began practice at once. Cornell and Syracuse two teams on the present schedule, were strong contenders for the championship of the northern division of the League last year, but with a stronger team than that of 1923 and both encounters on home ground, the Nittany men are confident that the games will be victories for the Blue and White.

With the first game less than a month away, the managers feel that interest in lacrosse is growing rapidly. This enthusiasm was sufficient last year to cause Penn State to gain admission to the northern division of the Intercollegiate Lacrosse League. This division now includes the teams of Syracuse, Cornell, Harvard, Yale, Hamilton, and Penn State.
The rules of the League, which will go into effect here next year, require that each team play at least four games with other colleges in the division each year. The playing of the League games here next year will give added impetus to the growing interest in lacrosse.

YEARLING WRESTLERS DOWN WEST VIRGINIA

advantage of every opportunity with the result that the decision was given to Fisher by a time advantage of 5 minutes and 27 seconds.
Captain Miller of the visiting team and Walker of Penn State staged an exciting bout in the 135 pound section, both men regarding their feet after being in positions that looked as though each man would get a fall. Miller was given the decision, having in advantage of 4 minutes and 56 seconds.

The first fall of the afternoon came in the 145 pound class when Greenbaum of West Virginia threw Rutherford with an arm and body hold in 6 minutes and 18 seconds. Greenbaum showed a first brand of wrestling and turned Rutherford on his back at the edge of the mat.

In the 158 pound division Captain Jiquis met a clever wrestler in Hobensack and it was some time before the Nittany captain took his man to the mat. Both men were down several times but the bout saw Jiquis with a two minute advantage and he was given a referee's decision.

Schminky and Blitony showed more wrestling skill than any of the preceding fighters. The Nittany wrestler took advantage of an opening and threw his man with a half Nelson and coach hold in 8 minutes and 59 seconds.

In the heavy weight class both men rushed one another off the mats. It was during one of these rushes that the West Virginia man was caught napping and Lukens took an arm and body hold and forced Lawrence's shoulders to the mat in 2 minutes and 10 seconds.

NEOPHYTES TAKE LANTERNS TO RID TOMBSTONE INSCRIPTIONS
Two fraternity initiations at the University of Illinois were suspended by the University officials when the prospective members stole several red lanterns from a collection of construction work. The neophytes were out to read scriptures in the Mt Hope cemetery, took the lanterns to aid them in their task and forgot to return them. The date for continuing the initiation was later set by the college council of administration.

TEACHING POSITIONS OPEN FOR SENIORS

The attention of senior students is called to the Board of Recommendations that is maintained by the college for the purpose of aiding students in securing teaching positions. There have been many calls for teachers and those interested should register at once.
For further information and registration blanks apply at the office of the director—Room 21, Liberal Arts.

VARSIITY TOSSERS DOWN ALLEGHENY AND MAROON

reversed and the Blue and White team put up a total of 11 points in the first half while its opponent was gathering half as many.
The inability of the Nittany Lions to work together was the big fault in the second encounter, and several times "Dutch" went up in the air when the team failed to function as he thought it should.

Fisher and McClurg
Fisher and McClurg stood out as the sensations of the evening with their work on the floor. Fisher played his best guarding game of the season against the Blue and White team and he held the visiting passer to one field goal while he placed three to his own credit. Even though Captain Rose exhibited a fine brand of ball for his team, McClurg the other sturdy forward on the Allegheny five, was the bright light for the visitors.

Exceptionally good foul shooting was outstanding in Thursday night's contest. The Allegheny center shot close to one hundred percent from the foul line, getting eight out of nine tries. With but four men taking a hand in the free tossing for the Blue and White team, a total of fourteen out of eighteen pegs from the fifteen foot mark were successful.

Reed proved to be the high scorer in this game by counting for five field goals and ringing the bell six out of six times from within the foul circle. "Bacon" Loeffler was not far behind him with four double-dickers and six out of his nine tries from the free toss section were counted.

Lions Lack Teamwork
The Nittany Lions lacked united action in their game against Lafayette Loeffler was first removed when he had three personal fouls chalked up against him, and Shriner took his place. Other substitutions followed in rapid succession when Reed began to throw too many long shots at the oval and Neff replaced him at the guarding job for the greater part of the first half. Both Loeffler and Reed were back in the game again when the second period opened. With twelve minutes to go, Hood went in for McVicker and three minutes later Neff got another chance when he was signalled to relieve Fisher.

McVicker and Gehardt played good ball in both games. The former's foot work and passing game have steadily improved in each contest. "Nick's" great trouble so far this season has been that he does not shoot enough. His eye is good, but he does not take that "skin of the teeth" chance with any of his tosses.

Maroon in Poor Shape
Lafayette presented a patched-up team when it came upon the floor on Saturday night. Hood, formerly used to cover one of the forward berths, was found at a guard post, a position that was almost entirely new to him. Moore, who had made a sensational start during the last six weeks of practice, was used in his own credit. He was expected to start the game, did not get a chance to exhibit his virtues until the last seven minutes.

Captain Crate and "Bob" Duffy were the other men used at the forward and center jobs, respectively. Duffy, a former Scranton Technical High star and Mason football flash, proved his worth to the team against Penn State. Moore, a product of a New York City high, was the best all-around man on the visiting combination. The big white 5 on the back of his Jersey flashed around and in and out of nearly every scrimmage.

What Good Appearance Means to College Men

R. H. SMITH Comptroller

The college man of today is in training not for the little things but for the larger responsibilities in the economic, political and social affairs of tomorrow. In his progress toward his objective he must not only merit but he must win the approval of others. A man's personal appearance reflects his individuality as surely as a thermometer registers varying degrees of temperature, and the modern man of affairs is keenly alert to this fact in his estimate of men and choice of associates.
