SCHOLARSHIP DAY TO BE MARKED BY MORNING PROGRAM

Exercises Will Take Place in Auditorium This Morning—No Classes Last Hour

PRIZES TO BE AWARDED FOR SCHOLASTIC ABILITY

Dr. Penniman, University of Pennsylvania President, Secured as Principal Speaker

The annual spring scholarship day at Penn State will be observed in the Auditorium this morning at eleven o'clock. President John M. Thomas will preside at the meeting and the speaker of the morning will be Dr. Joseph H. Penniman, president of the University of Pennsylvania. Classes will be dismissed for the last hour and the exercises will begin promptly at twenty minutes past eleven. Following an opening selection on the organ by a student professor of Music, J. Sherman Schoonmaker, Dr. Penniman will make an address and the various awards for scholarship will be made. The program committee considers itself fortunate in securing the speaker for in addition to his duties as president, he is at present acting provost of the Philadelphia university.

The order of the morning's program will be as follows: Organ selection—J. Sherman Schoonmaker. Address—Dr. Joseph H. Penniman. Organ selection—J. Sherman Schoonmaker. Announcement of Honor Society Elections. Presentation of "The President Sparks Prize."

Presentation of Fraternity Scholarship Cups by Inter-Fraternity Council, Intra-Mural Council, and Girls' Campus Clubs.

Organ selection—J. Sherman Schoonmaker. The program of this year has been somewhat changed in form over those of previous years and brings the address of the morning near the first of the exercises. Honor society elections will be announced by members of the various societies and honorary fraternities, and the annual award of scholarship cups will be made by the Inter-Fraternity Council, the Intra-Mural Council, and by the association of the Girls' Campus Clubs.

Scholarship Day here has been steadily increasing in importance and it is hoped that this morning's exercises will be well attended. An effort has been made by those in charge of the program to make it one of the most attractive that has been given at Penn State in order to stimulate further the interest in this event and to make it a vital part of the college program.

COACH CARTMELL OPENS OUTDOOR TRACK SEASON

Practice Delayed by Poor Condition of Track—Meeting Is Held Tonight

Coach Cartmell expects to put the Nittany track squad through its first races on the cinder path of New Beaver field this afternoon. With the Penn Relay Carnival, coming a little more than two weeks from now and the Syracuse meet on May third, the Nittany coach intends to put the trackmen through intensive training during the next two weeks.

Practice has been held up by the poor condition of the cinder track. After spending the winter season on board tracks, it is a slow process taking the men into the cinder path work.

Coach Cartmell has called a meeting of all varsity and freshman candidates for the track team which will be held tonight in room 215, Old Main at eight o'clock. It will outline the work of spring training to the candidates.

The first trials of the spring season will be held on Saturday afternoon. All fifteen events that are scheduled in the regular I. C. A. A. A. meets will be run off and both varsity and field men will compete.

Probably the most serious problem that confronts Cartmell at the present time is the selection of a fourth man to take the place of Edgerton who graduated last June. The track coach frankly confessed that he is still in the dark as to who will fill the position and he is waiting in hopes that one of the candidates will round into varsity form.

Hillhelt, Enck and Carter are the three veterans who remain from last year's championship team. G. W. Hatcher, "25," J. W. Fitzpatrick, "25," and C. D. Tompkins, "26" are probably

REGISTRAR SECURES SEMESTER GRADES

The grades for last semester have been made out and students can secure them at the Registrar's Office. A list of each student's grades is also being sent home to his parents.

LACROSSE TEAM FACES WEEK OF HARD DRILL

Season Opens on Saturday with Baltimore Club—Tentative Line-up Named

The Nittany lacrosse squad will be put through a week of intensive training to put them in condition for the first home game of the season on Saturday with the strong Mount Washington Club of Baltimore. In spite of the fact that they were handicapped by the weather, Coach Jardine hopes to put a formidable aggregation on the field.

The Penn State coach has been watching the men closely and has an idea of the team he will put against the visitors. The lineup will probably be as follows: Goal—T. A. Muri; "25," point—D. W. Wentz; "21," cover point—W. L. Anderson; "25," first defense—M. D. Buckley; "26," second defense—H. Frank; third defense—J. von Houwen; "26," A. O. Thomas; "26," center—B. J. Carson; third attack—G. M. Diner; "24," or L. H. Cloutier; "25," second attack—W. (Continued on last page)

AGRICULTURE STUDENTS TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Dr. Paul L. Vogt Will Be Leading Speaker—Is Author of Well Known Textbook

Under the supervision of the Agricultural Student Council of the School of Agriculture, the second general agricultural mass meeting will take place in room 100 Horticulture building, next Friday evening at seven o'clock. Among other speakers will be Dr. Paul L. Vogt who is Superintendent of the Department of Rural Ed. Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia.

Watts and Bressler To Speak. Other speakers at the Ag mass meeting will be Dean R. L. Watts of the School of Agriculture, and Assistant Dean R. G. Bressler. All three speakers will have something of value to present to the agricultural students, not only along the line of preserving the well-known spirit which is characteristic of the "11th," but also in regard to forwarding the cause of Penn State and her School of Agriculture among the high school students of the Commonwealth.

Dr. Vogt is well-known in educational circles through his previous work as Professor of Sociology at Miami University and with the United States Bureau of Labor. He is the author of an "Introduction to Rural Sociology," and has achieved considerable success as a lecturer upon sociological topics especially with reference to rural problems. Without doubt, this address next Friday will prove of great value and interest to all who hear it.

Is Second Mass Meeting. Although this is the second mass meeting of this nature that the agricultural students have staged, the attendance will closely approximate the enrollment of the school of Agriculture. If the success of the first meeting, held during the winter, is a criterion.

At that convocation Dean Watts, Professor Bressler, Dr. Fletcher and others outlined a plan by which high school students of Pennsylvania can be made acquainted with Penn State and the School of Agriculture. According to this plan, students while home during vacation periods, will address gatherings of high school students in their home towns, describing Penn State and especially the Agricultural school, to them, and endeavoring to point out to agriculturally inclined students the merits of Pennsylvania's School of Agriculture. This has been made necessary on account of the falling off in enrollment of agricultural colleges throughout the country, caused, it has been said, by the widespread slump in rural prosperity.

Students Endorse Plan. All the student organizations on the 11th heartily endorse the plan, and stand ready to cooperate in every way possible. It is understood that Dean Watts and Professor Bressler will have a definite outline to present to the gathering next Friday.

NITTANY BATSMEN WORK INTO SHAPE FOR OPENING TILT

Susquehanna Nine To Appear on New Beaver Field Next Saturday—Line-up Changed

FOUR TWIRLERS SHOW
EARLY SEASON FORM

Coach Killinger To Stage Practice Games This Week—Candidates Work Well in Outfield

By means of daily outdoor practice, Coach Glenn Killinger is whipping his nine into shape for the opening home tilt of the year with Susquehanna University next Saturday. Since both the Orange and Mason and Penn State squads have been equally handicapped by lack of outside preparation, it is expected that the clash will prove interesting and well contested.

After the snow disappeared last week, Captain Palm and his men were able to have batting practice on Friday and the next day they were able to stage a practice game on Old Beaver field. This was the second practice contest of the year and "Killy" made several changes in the original lineup, trying various combinations in the field.

Four Pitchers Used. Four pitchers assumed the burden of the pitching, the variety men working out with the second team. Harrelson occupied the mound for the opening innings, being used on both aggressive and defensive duty. After a few innings had been played, Flaxer went to the box for the "curve" and Harrelson continued for the variety.

Towards the end of the practice, these two pitchers were taken out, Longhurst and Kelly taking their places. The work of these four men on Saturday showed that it will take but a short time for them to round into mid-season form. They had a good assortment of curves, and fast balls, and were constantly "working" the batsmen.

Fortin At First. For the first time this season "Burr" Fortin was able to take up his old duties at first base and he clearly demonstrated that he is going to be a hard man to beat out for that position. Satterly, who held down this post last week was switched to third and he showed good form at this station.

Kerestetter, Zeth and Muth will come up as the most promising receivers and as these three, Kerestetter seems to be the choice. In the practice contest he handled the flares of Harrelson and Kelly equally well and played a fast hard game behind the bat. His hitting was also above the average, although he had had luck several times when he was lobbed with what appeared to be sure hits.

Loeffler and Reed. Loeffler and Reed, veterans from last year, were sure of their posts at short and second base, respectively. Both men fielded their positions well, but seemed rather weak at the bat, as did most of their team mates. Reed resembled the same as at the previous week, Captain Palm taking care of middle. UNIT TEAMS PREPARE FOR BASEBALL SEASON

First Games To Be Played After Vacation—Winning Teams Will Receive Gold Medals

With the approach of spring plans for the inter-unit baseball league are rapidly getting under way and the manager expects to open the season immediately after the Easter vacation. Managers representing six of the twenty-three units have already entered their teams. These men have been given an outline of the work and have been shown the way in which the plans are to be carried out. It is important that all the units that have entered the league should sign up at Chief Meyers' office as soon as possible.

K. D. Bately, "26," manager of the Inter-unit baseball league, is holding an executive meeting within the next few days at which time further plans will be made. As soon as all the units desiring to enter the league have signed up, the schedule will be arranged. A great deal of enthusiasm has been shown by the units already in the league and keen competition can be expected. An award of a gold medal will be given to each member of the winning team.

As soon as the baseball league is under way, the Penn State Club plans to turn its attention to an inter-unit tennis tournament. Coach Bezdek has given his hearty approval to this movement and has promised to reserve courts for the matches.

DR. CROCKETT CLOSURES L. A. LECTURES TONIGHT

"On the Road to Carcassonne" will be the subject of the illustrated lecture to be presented by Dr. W. D. Crockett in Old Chapel at seven o'clock tonight. This is the first of the series of Liberal Arts lectures for this season. Carcassonne is a city in southern France, just north of the Eastern Pyrenees. The city shares with North St. Michel in Brittany, with Le Puy in central France, and Entremont in the Maritime Alps, the honor of being the four most picturesque points in France. The lecturer will speak of Aquitaine, the famous city of the French Pope, and of the Albigensian heresy, which has the best preserved wall of any city of the Middle Ages.

The lecture will be illustrated with many pictures gathered by Dr. Crockett during his recent stay abroad.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT IS LAST OF THE SEASON

New York Soprano Will Assist Songsters—Performance To Be Given Saturday

The last number of the music and entertainment course given this season under the auspices of the department of Music and the Y. M. C. A. will be a concert by the Penn State Glee Club in the Auditorium on next Saturday evening. (April twelfth), at eight-fifteen. Rehearsals for the concert have been proceeding favorably and the few remaining finishing touches will be added this week.

The Glee Club will be assisted by the talented young soprano, Miss Margaret Schulling of New York. Director Grant of the department of Music, recently stated that the department has been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Schulling, for she is undoubtedly one of the coming stars of the concert world. Her repertoire of songs from operas, and a group of art songs from the world's representative composers, including Schubert, Schumann, Mendelssohn, Debussy, McDowell, and La Forge. In addition to the appearance of Miss Schulling, the club will be assisted by Mrs. Irene Osborn, Grant at the organ and J. Sherman Schoonmaker at the piano.

The Auditorium is completely sold out for the night of the coming concert, with the exception of a few seats. These seats are now available and can be purchased at the Y. M. C. A. Hut.

MARIONETTES WILL BE FATHER'S DAY FEATURE

Penn State Players Book Return Engagement of Tony Sarg's Mechanical Actors

Returning to Penn State this year through the efforts of the Penn State Players, Tony Sarg's Marionettes will be here on Father's Day with "The Chinese Willow Plate Story," a production of unusual oriental beauty and excellent music.

Tony Sarg is noted for his illustrations, and he has become even more famous for his Marionettes, and the wonderful scene effects he has achieved in his show. Victor Herbert has given Sarg exceptional music for this production, including numbers that will probably become as famous as his former successes.

Sarg's Marionettes have been increased to life size for this play, and their transparent, coupled with the lighting systems make them resemble huge animated stained glass windows. The show is of a true oriental character, with delicate love music, splendidly designed oriental costumes and scenery, and sublime gardens with monstrous gold fish. He has succeeded in making his figures appear rounded and has introduced light dances and singers to help under the beautiful music of the production. A Chinese Mandarin has also been added to stand at the front of the stage and relate the story of the drama as it progresses.

His story is taken from the scenes illustrated on the famous Willow Plate china, the story of a beautiful Mandarin's daughter who falls in love with her father's secretary. The girl is imprisoned, and her lover banished, but surrounding all difficulties they succeed in eloping. For this they are about to lose their lives under the terrible two-headed sword, but love finally triumphs and all ends happily.

The players will give two performances on Father's Day, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. The play is now being given in the larger theatres of the country, and has recently received the enthusiastic endorsement of David Belasco.

GRID TEAM HOLDS FIRST SCRIMMAGE IN SPRING TRAINING

Coach Bezdek Sends Four Teams through Stiff Workouts on Saturday

G. H. GIER DISPLAYS
GOOD FORM ON OFFENSE

Several New Candidates Report Last Week—Daily Practices Will Continue

Staging the first two scrimmages of the spring football season last week, Coach Hugo Bezdek was able to obtain a fairly good estimate of the new material that he will have to work with when the fall season opens for practice next September. On Friday afternoon, "Bez" took the tentative first and second teams to the N. W. Leaver practice field where he held the first scrimmage and on Saturday afternoon scrimmages were held with all four teams. In the first scrimmage on Friday afternoon, the Nittany coach lined his first team up with Haves and Nittany, both of his varsity freshmen to him, at the end positions and Ernest and Main at tackle. Gieske and Fick, were found at the guard posts with Captain Bez' Gray holding down his place at center. In the back field, "H" Barber called signals with Herman and Gier at halfback and Down at fullback.

During his first team up the Nittany coach noted that Gier, one of the first of the Penn State football night program to be scouted by the college coaches, was a fine player. His squad through a stiff workout on Saturday afternoon and every man gave his utmost in an effort to make an impression on the Penn State team. The first team took the offense during this session while the second team played on the defense.

The bright spot in the Saturday scrimmage was the work of Gier, who, in the first team, the big back took the line to steady whenever he carried the ball and his open field running and ability to shake off tacklers will undoubtedly make him a real contender for a first-string berth next fall. Another man who showed to good advantage in the Saturday workout was Gier and an end on the second team. (Continued on last page)

ALLEBACH TO ADDRESS DAIRY HUSBANDRY CLUB

Executive Committee Will Outline Preparations for Show—Other Committees To Be Named

The monthly meeting of the Dairy Husbandry students, to be staged at seven o'clock in room 219 Old Main building, will be an important one in that final plan for the annual Dairy Cattle Show and Stock Sale will be formulated. A full attendance will be in order, as Mr. H. D. Allebach, President of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, Philadelphia.

Inter-Student Talk. Although Mr. Allebach has not announced his topic, he is before the dairy students tomorrow night is sure to be interesting. A head of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, Allebach has a wealth of experience and a fund of information and knowledge of the dairy world, both from the producers' and the manufacturers' standpoint that will interest any phase of the subject he may select, with real interest for every student who hears him.

The Dairy Husbandry Club is fortunate in securing men like Allebach to address its meetings since these outside speakers bear all the expenses of their journeys to and from Penn State. The meetings are generally well attended, and the dairy students have derived from the talks a large amount of excellent advice and information.

Committees To Be Named. The business of the dairy club's meeting tomorrow night will concern the coming show and much will be held May tenth. Chairman H. D. Smith, "21" of the executive committee, who has had charge of the preliminary organization of the show, will present a report of the activities of his group. It is also expected that the students who will have charge of the actual driving and exhibiting of the animals will be named at this meeting. There will probably include a general superintendent and a superintendent for each breed of cattle.

Although the actual driving of the animals will not begin until after Easter, it is necessary that those who intend to exhibit should have their animals to the club, and choose their animals before the Easter recess.

REAR ADMIRAL SIMS TO ADDRESS MEETING

Prohibition among College Men Is Theme of Thursday Night Speech—Mass Meeting Is Arranged

HYGIENE LECTURE ON THURSDAY NIGHT

The first of a series of seven mental hygiene lectures to be given by Dr. H. V. Pike of the Duncison State Hospital will be given on Thursday evening, in Room 3, Liberal Arts at seven o'clock. Dr. Pike's subject will be, "An Hysterical History of Mental Hygiene."

WPAB WILL UNITE NITTANY ALUMNI

Gatherings of Former Students To "Listen in" on Alumni Radio Program

COLLEGE SONGS SUNG IN UNISON IS FEATURE

Songs of Penn State will be sung in unison by thousands of alumni and former students of the college as a feature of the first annual Penn State alumni night program to be staged by the college boards, singing at nine o'clock tomorrow night from clubs to eleven o'clock. The singing at "Varsity," "Liberal Arts" and the "Nittany Lion" will not only fill the outside air but in the hotel and club rooms and homes where Penn State men and women are to be gathered in groups to "listen in" for this special program.

Penn State alumni and friends on the outside have been requested to join in on the singing of the campus songs as they come over the air. The estimated volume of this effort would eclipse that heard at one of the Penn State football games.

Alumni Groups. The work of setting the Penn State alumni night program is being done by the Penn State Alumni Association, the Southern New York and New York City Alumni Clubs, and the New York City Alumni Club. The Washington men and women will be together for a talk and singing dinner at the University Club. Places already known where groups will be brought together are Pittsburg Lake Station, West Erie, Schenectady, Cleveland, D. D. and Johnson. An attempt to bring in to get to B. O. and Chicago. The idea of a "Penn State" where the Penn State men and women can get together will be open and the program is over so that those listening by may see in requests of news or songs. The station will be conducted by telephone.

The Alumni night being held to write into the history with the first of these events the first Alumni Radio program to be held in a record hour. The college section hopes to establish a permanent record and as a plan to reach the western coast.

The student variety club, which will be set in this unusual event for following a talk by President Penn at nine o'clock. A feature that will appeal to all friends of Penn State will be the personal news stories during the evening from the desks and other faculty members. A message from Andy's Table Penn State's chief football poster, who is known as a variety former student will be another feature of this novel program. (Continued on last page)

CHORAL SOCIETY BEGINS PRACTICE ON ORATORIO

The Community Choral Society composed largely of members of the faculty and student body of the College and under the direction of Mr. L. H. G. Williams of the department of Mathematics, has begun work on the oratorio, "The Holy City," by A. R. Grant. Practices are being held at least twice each month.

The society plans to present the oratorio mentioned above during "Music Week," which will be the week of May twelfth. There will be meetings on Tuesday, the eighth, and Monday, the fourteenth at seven-thirty o'clock, in the Methodist church. Anyone interested in singing is urged to be present.

The society presented a program in the music section of the Women's Club during the month of February. Some work on the oratorio has just begun, new members are particularly welcome at this time.

Rear Admiral Sims of the United States Navy and Professor H. A. Bezdek will be the principal speakers at the mass meeting which will be held in the Auditorium Thursday evening, April 11, at seven o'clock. Dr. Bezdek will be the speaker of the evening and the program will be held in the Auditorium. The meeting will be held in the Auditorium. The meeting will be held in the Auditorium.

The movement started among the students who attended the Philadelphia and Washington law and social activities. They organized about fifteen student into a club and this club is holding its first meeting at the Nittany Lion. The club is holding its first meeting at the Nittany Lion. The club is holding its first meeting at the Nittany Lion.

FRATERNITY MEN MEET TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Scholarship, Economy and Social Functions Are Subjects of Open Forum Meeting

An open forum meeting held last night in the Auditorium brought the members of the various social fraternities together on the campus. The subjects of the forum were scholarship, economy and social functions. The forum was held in the Auditorium.

In his opening speech of the evening, Dr. J. A. H. "21" who presided at the meeting, stated that the forum was held in the Auditorium. The forum was held in the Auditorium. The forum was held in the Auditorium.

It was his opinion that the forum was held in the Auditorium. The forum was held in the Auditorium. The forum was held in the Auditorium.

Economy Stressed. Economy was considered from the standpoint of both the individual and the college. The forum was held in the Auditorium.

Along with the question of the length of house parties, the chairman gave some idea of the comparison between chapters and fraternities. The forum was held in the Auditorium.

The problem of having this who come in for weeks and dances was also talked over and many helpful hints were expressed on this matter by some of the leaders on the campus.
