

COUNCIL MEMBERS ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR FATHERS' DAY

Five Athletic Contests Will Provide Outdoor Entertainment for Dads

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

Observance of Mothers' Day Is Suggested—Blue Key Will Assist Committee

Preliminary preparations for arranging a program for Fathers' Day, May 12th, were made at the meeting of Student Council last Tuesday night when all of the junior members of the Council were appointed as a committee for drawing up a schedule. This committee will meet tonight to elect a chairman and to formulate definite plans for the annual event.

Five athletic contests will provide outdoor entertainment for the great number of visitors who are expected. The Penn State track, lacrosse and freshman baseball teams will meet teams from Syracuse, the varsity nine will play Georgia Tech on New Beaver field and the tennis team will hold a match with Franklin and Marshall in addition to the athletic events. It is expected that the customary mass meeting for the "Dads" will take place on Saturday night and the Penn State Club has made arrangements for a smoker in the Armory after the mass meeting.

Name Is Retained

At the Council meeting it was suggested that the name "Fathers' Day" should be changed to "Parents' Day" and that the event should include the mothers of students as well as the fathers. The same thought was voiced by President Thomas in his address at the Fathers' Day mass meeting last year. After some discussion however the members of the Council decided to retain the original name and purpose of the day. The sentiment was expressed that by keeping the event exclusively for the fathers a greater fellowship could be maintained. It was agreed at the same time that each fraternally hold a Mothers' Day each spring.

Blue Key May Aid

Although the committee was placed in complete charge of the affair, it was suggested at the meeting that the Blue Key organization be asked to aid in making up the entertainment program. Other students who are not junior members of the Council may also be asked to help make the necessary arrangements. These men will be selected at the meeting of the committee tonight. C. H. Gough '25 is acting as temporary head.

PENN STATE FIREMEN TO HOLD ANNUAL BALL

Dancing Will Last from Nine Till Twelve—Auchenbach's To Feature Thespian Hits

The second annual Firemen's Ball will be held in the Armory on Friday evening, April twenty-fifth, with dancing from eight until twelve o'clock. Music for the affair will be furnished by Auchenbach's Seminars and during intermission, C. F. O'Donnell '25, of the Penn State Players will entertain.

The committee in charge of the ball has completed all arrangements for the dance and an excellent program has been mapped out. One of the features of the music by Auchenbach will be the rendition of the musical score from the recent Thespian show, "The Magazine Cover Girl." "Lucky number" dance will be one of the fun-producing parts of the program, and during intermission the dancers will be entertained with several readings by O'Donnell, who was enthusiastically received at the recent concert of the Penn State Mandolin Club.

Appropriate decorations for the ball will be of a characteristic type and will emphasize the fact that the affair is being staged by the Penn State fire ladders. A unique dance program has been designed by the committee and it is now in the hands of the printer.

THESPIANS HOLD SALE OF TICKETS

A ticket sale will be held on Monday night at Co-op for the Pittsburgh production of "The Magazine Cover Girl" to be given in the Schenley Theatre in both the afternoon and evening of Saturday, May third.

SENATE APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO DRAW UP JUNE PROGRAM

FIFTEEN MEMBERS ARE CHOSEN FROM STUDENT COUNCIL, FACULTY AND ALUMNI—TO DETERMINE NATURE OF COMMENCEMENT ACTIVITIES

Five students, five faculty members and five alumni were included in the committee recently appointed by the College Senate to draw up a tentative program for Commencement Week, next June. Professor S. W. Fletcher is chairman of the committee which includes Professors Lucetia V. T. Simmons, Professor W. S. Dye, Professor C. L. Kinislow and Professor A. S. Hurdell from the faculty, D. V. Bauder '24, M. E. Mitchell '24, R. B. Longacre '24, W. C. Wilson '25 and R. B. Means '25 from the student body, and R. A. Mawer '24, R. H. Smith '25, E. W. Nick '27, E. N. Sullivan '24 and W. R. Oehlke '16 from the alumni association.

The first meeting of the newly appointed Commencement Committee was held this week and a general discussion of plans for this year's June graduation exercises took place, although nothing definite was decided.

SONGSTERS TO GIVE FINAL "Y" PROGRAM

Last Number on "Y" Course Will Be Presented at Eight-fifteen in Auditorium

NEW YORK SOPRANO IS INCLUDED ON PROGRAM

Appearing with a varied program and assisted by Miss Marguerite Schulling, a young New York opera singer, the Penn State Glee Club will present the last feature of the combined department of Music and "Y" entertainment at course in the Auditorium tomorrow night at eight-fifteen o'clock. The "Lus and White" songsters have been rehearsing intensively for tomorrow's performance and promise to make a decided "hit" with the large audience that is certain to greet them.

Included in the program are several selections written by well-known composers such as Thayer, Herbert, Handel and Parker, and the concert has been so arranged that it will appeal to every type of music-lover. An added attraction will be the appearance of the Varsity Quartette in a group of selections. The quartette is composed of C. E. Finley '24, first tenor, D. V. Bauder '24, second tenor, W. B. Lischens '26, baritone, and E. Butler '26, bass.

PENN STATE PLAYERS MAKE FIRST ROAD TRIP

Tour Includes Sunbury, Lock Haven and Williamsport—Show Is "Mr. Pim Passes By"

In their first actual road trip of the year, the Penn State Players presented "Mr. Pim Passes By" at Sunbury and Williamsport on Wednesday and Thursday nights and will end a three-day jaunt tonight with a performance at Lock Haven. "Mr. Pim Passes By" was the Commencement Show of last year and has also played in Altoona and Harrisburg this season.

The Players left Penn State Wednesday morning in a large bus, carrying large banners with the following inscription, "Penn State Players On Tour." Included in the party that made the trip were Director and Mrs. Cloetingh, D. D. Mason, Elizabeth Means '24, Mary Thompson '24, Margaret Jones '25, Helen Thompson '25, Harry Hoshler '24, C. J. O'Donnell '25, D. L. Koppitz '25, stage manager, and G. E. McElhenry '26, assistant stage manager.

Appetizing in Sunbury on Wednesday night under the auspices of the High School Dramatic Association, the Players made a decided hit in their first performance on the trip. Director Cloetingh's work is well known in Sunbury as he had previously assisted in the direction of several high school plays at that place, in addition to presenting "A Successful Career" there last year. The performance of "Mr. Pim Passes By" was sponsored by the Penn State alumni of Sunbury.

A capacity crowd greeted the Players last night when the curtain went up in the auditorium of the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary and the presentation of the three-act comedy was well received by the large audience. Tonight's performance in Lock Haven will be under the auspices of the Dramatic Club of the High School and will terminate the Players' tour.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR TECHNICALS START INSPECTION TRIPS

Over Two Hundred Students Visit Industrial Centers Throughout Eastern States

LAST INSPECTION GROUPS WILL LEAVE TOMORROW

All Trips End April Sixteenth Excepting Those of Geologists and Mining Engineers

About one hundred and eighty senior engineering students left Wednesday morning on their annual inspection trips to the various places throughout the East which are of the most importance in their respective lines of work. Senior students in metallurgy left on Sunday while the junior metallurgists left Tuesday, and the junior mining engineers and geologists will leave tomorrow.

All trips will end on April sixteenth with the exception of the junior mining engineers and the geologists who return April twentieth.

The architects will spend the latter part of this week in Philadelphia inspecting historical and modern structures in and around that city. Sunday they will attend services at one of the noted cathedrals of New York and visit the Metropolitan Art Museum. The remainder of their time will be spent in the city.

GRIDDERS STAGE HARD SCRIMMAGE

First and Second Teams Battle for Forty Minutes on Rain Soaked Field

PREVOST DISPLAYS OLD TIME FORM IN PRACTICE

On a soggy field and with a steady rain driving in their faces, twenty-two members of the spring football squad staged one of the stiffest scrimmages of the pre-season training period on Wednesday afternoon. For forty minutes, the second team attempted to check the onslaught of Coach Bevelok's tentative first eleven and for forty minutes, the so-called "varsity" team fought in successive man-chains down the field.

Due to the absence of Glenn Killinger, Bevelok was in charge of the baseball squad and "Dutch" Hermann assumed responsibility with little criticism. A short session in tackling the dummy and some kicking preceded the actual scrimmage.

The First Team

The first team lined up with McPhie and Hayes at the end positions, Prevost and Phil at tackles, Gleske and Lantz guards and "Red" April at center. In the backfield, "Bill" Baker called signals, with Gene Baker and Gier at halfback, and Dorman at fullback. Several familiar faces, including Ciganovik, of last year's freshman team, and Ferguson, Munkle and Hagner, all of last season's varsity squad were found on the second team.

At the beginning of the practice game, the first stringers for a short while, but Dorman, Gier, "Bill" Baker and Gier warmed up soon after and tore off some long runs. A sixty-yard run by Gene Baker featured the session while some pretty work on the part of "Bill" Baker and Gier also gave Bevelok, who came over from the baseball field soon after the practice started, some food for thought. If the Baker brothers and Gier show the same (Continued on last page)

Penn State Club To Hold Dance in May

The Penn State Club is working on plans for its spring hop which will be staged on May twenty-ninth in the Armory. Auchenbach's Seminars have been secured to furnish music for the affair and the girls have been given Dean Ray's permission to attend.

In addition to the plans for the dance, the club has made some progress in planning activities for Father's Day. The program is practically complete and promises to be one of unusual interest.

The club will hold a special business meeting and smoker Monday evening, April fourteenth, at seven o'clock in Old Chapel. Non-federally men are urged to attend and become acquainted.

NITTANY DEBATERS TO MAKE TOUR OF WESTERN COLLEGES

Penn State Team Will Meet Five of Best Colleges While on Twelve-day Trip

SPEAKERS WILL DEPART NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

W. P. Gifford '25, C. S. Grove '25, H. J. Hartley '25 and D. D. Henry '26 Will Comprise Team

Starting on their annual extended trip, the four selected members of the Penn State varsity debating team in charge of Coach T. J. Giese will leave Penn State next Wednesday evening for their twelve-day journey through the western states. Five of the best middle-west college debating organizations will be met on this tour.

After some deliberation Professor Gates made his selection last Tuesday of the men who will comprise the squad on the trip. The quartet that has been chosen are W. P. Gifford '25, C. S. Grove '25, H. J. Hartley '25 and D. D. Henry '26. These four men have been consistent in their arguing throughout the past winter and were the mainstay of the team.

Two of the number have had a previous experience with the Nittany squad while the other two made their debut in college forensic circles this season. Gifford and Henry are the veterans while Grove and Hartley are the newcomers.

NITTANY LACROSSE MEN OPEN SEASON TOMORROW

ML. Washington Club of Baltimore Faces Lions on New Beaver at One O'clock

Following a week of hard scrimmages the Nittany Lacrosse team is ready for its first game of the season with the Mount Washington Club tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock on New Beaver field. Although handicapped by the loss of three regulars—Yost, Mowatt and Singer, who have gone on inspection trips, Coach Jardine has dependable men filling their places and expects to have a strong combination pitted against the Baltimore team.

Tomorrow's contest is expected to be the hardest game on the Blue and White schedule as the visiting stickmen have an experienced twelve comprised of ex-college stars and are considered one of the best lacrosse teams in the country. However, Coach Jardine after being hindered by adverse weather conditions, has finally whipped a fast, well-rounded team into form, which will take the field favored for at least an even break.

Team in Good Condition

The team is in excellent condition and in this it has a decided advantage over its opponents. In the practice games held during the past week, the defense gave a strong and smooth-looking appearance, while the offense, although in comparison weaker than the defense, is rapidly rounding into shape and should put up a fast and effective attack against the visitors tomorrow.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

Punishment of Petty Crimes Approved as "Prexy" Thomas States Views of College Administration

Petty thieving and property destruction will be punished promptly and rigorously in the future according to the resolution made public by President Thomas and by Student Council at its meeting on Tuesday night. The Council resolution is the result of the efforts of the recently appointed committee on Morals, headed by R. W. Ambush '24.

The resolution stated, "Student Council believes that petty thieving and wanton destruction of property are practices which unless stamped out will undermine the spirit and the ideals of the College. The Council therefore determines to take every possible step to punish offenders and to investigate and prevent evidence in such cases upon which Student Council can make out a warranted punishment."

Before the resolution was presented to the Council it was submitted to the College authorities and was strongly recommended. Dean W. Mack stated, "It is significant that both the College authorities and the members of Student Council have independently agreed that efforts should be made to curb petty thieving and property destruction. The Student Council I am sure have the approval and support of the student body."

Susquehanna Faces Penn State Batsmen Tomorrow

Visitors Open Nittany Baseball Season on New Beaver Field—Game Is Called for Two-thirty

The Penn State batsmen under the direction of Director of Athletics Hazo Bevelok will stand the opening game of their 1924 batsmen on when they encounter the Susquehanna team at two-thirty o'clock on New Beaver field. Both teams have been seriously handicapped by lack of outside practice and no indication of their real strength will be given by tomorrow's exhibition.

Beginning on Wednesday afternoon the Nittany players made New Beaver field headquarters with "Bev" taking charge of the practice. As Coach Killinger had to leave town unexpectedly, Penn State's position in the field was left in the hands of the other players. The choice for right and left fielders was made by the other players. The choice for right and left fielders was made by the other players.

To start the contest, Killinger has been selected for the catching position. The big backup has this far been showing the best form in the practice games but much will depend on the contest.

NITTANY FRESHMEN FACE PITT DEBATERS TONIGHT

Will Be First Time That a Yearling Team Has Appeared at Penn State

In the first freshman debate that has ever been held at Penn State, the Nittany freshmen will face the University of Pittsburgh this evening in the Auditorium tonight at eight o'clock. The question is "Resolved: That the League of Nations should be maintained."

The Smoky City team will consist of three men who will be accompanied by their coach and manager. On the affirmative group will be found R. W. Tyson, R. W. Johnston and G. H. Palmer. These three have been the mainstay of the debating squad this year and have shown the most promise of all the freshmen.

Large Audience Assured

A large audience is assured for tonight's meeting since all students taking the course in English IV, will be obliged to attend the meeting by order of the English Department. Another factor which should bring many people out to hear the debate is that this will be the first freshman debate ever held at Penn State. It will also mark the first year that an individual debate team has been organized, Penn State being the only one of the step and other colleges having since followed.

FRATERNITY LISTS OF ALUMNI WANTED

All fraternities are requested to submit up-to-date address lists of their alumni to the Alumni Association office in Old Main. This request is made in order to complete the revised addresses of graduates.

Annual Tug-of-War Will Be Staged by Underclassmen Tomorrow Afternoon

Whether or not the class of 1927 chooses its own colors will be decided tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock on the path between Chemistry Annex and Agricultural Building when the freshmen engage with the sophomores in the annual tug-of-war. Preceding the pull, the yearlings will meet at the Armory at twelve-forty and run the gauntlet to the scene of the battle.

The tug will be divided into three parts and the class that takes two of the boats will be declared the winner. Seventy-five men will represent each class in every heat and the same man is not permitted to take part twice. Complete arrangements are being made by the committee which consists of R. B. Longacre '24, chairman, P. W. Ambush '24, H. B. Parker '26, M. B. Buckley '26, C. R. Light '26, W. B. Helbig '26 and C. W. Bauer '26.
