NITTANY STICKMEN CLASH WITH NAVY TWELVE TOMORROW

Coach Jardine Takes Fifteen Men on Southern Trip—Line-up Undergoes Changes

R. JOHNSTON RECEIVES SLIGHT INJURY TO FOOT

Twenty Yearling Grid Stars To Report for Regular Work-outs Next Week

The Penn State lacrosse team left Wednesday morning for Baltimore, as the first step on a two game trip to the south. Yesterday afternoon the Lion twelve played the University of Maryland, but the results did not arrive in time for publication in this issue. Tomorrow, Coach Jardine's men are pitted against the strong aggregation from the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

The Nittany lacrosse schedule is one of the hardest that could possibly be picked and with the exception of Syracuse, who defeated the Lions last Saturday, Maryland and the Navy are the strongest teams in eastern intercollegiate play. Although the Navy was beaten by Maryland this season, Coach Jardine expects a stiff battle at Annapolis for no team fights harder than that of the midshipmen on its home grounds.

Johnston injured. Early this week, before the trip south, the Blue and White stickmen received another attack of bad luck when Ray Johnston, first defense, injured his foot and although he made the trip, he may be kept from the lineup. Coach Jardine took fifteen players to Baltimore and if Johnston could not play there was an able man to rely upon.

The revised lineup for the trip is as follows: Morgan, goal; Myers, point; Dickley, cover point; Johnson, first defense; Frank, second defense; Yost, third defense; Carson, center; Helbig, third attack; Laferriere, second attack; Hackett, first attack; Singer, outside; Hanes, inside; Shinks, Clouser and Wieland substitutes.

Freshmen Report

The world that twenty men from this year's freshman football squad will report for lacrosse practice gives a great deal of hope for next year's team. At present the prospects for the 1925 varsity lacrosse team are rather dull, as Coach Jardine will have to develop almost a whole new combination. However, with this quantity of freshmen material and the men from this year's sophomore team, there will be plenty of candidates to pick from, if they can learn the game in time.

PENN STATE CLUB WILL HOLD ALL-COLLEGE HOP

Auchenbach's Orchestra To Supply Music—First Ticket Sale To Be Announced Later

Plans for the Penn State Club Hop, scheduled for the night of May twenty-ninth in the Armory, will be further discussed at a meeting of the club to be held at seven-thirty o'clock on Monday night in Old Chapel.

Practically all of the arrangements for the dance have been completed except the naming of a date for the advance ticket sale. This, in connection with other important business of the club, will be acted upon on Monday night.

Auchenbach's Will Play

Auchenbach's Serenades have been secured to supply the music for the Hop, and the programs are now in the hands of the printer. Although the first public ticket sale has not been announced, tickets are now in the hands of the committee and can be obtained from R. P. Meigs '25, B. C. Duncan '25 and E. G. Flohr '25, officers of the club.

It is expected that the dance will prove popular, as customs will be suspended for all freshmen attending the affair in the company of a girl, and the girls themselves will have added time as the following day will be a college holiday. The Hop will be an all college affair, and the social committee of the club is preparing to handle a large number of dancers.

WELFARE COMMITTEE GRANTS REQUEST OF FRATERNITY GROUP

AUTHORIZES FIVE-DAY COMMENCEMENT HOUSE PARTY THIS YEAR AS PROPOSALS FOR REFORM ARE SUBMITTED BY TWO COUNCILS

That it had confidence in the ability of the fraternity group to carry out satisfactory regulation of house parties this year was the sentiment expressed by the Senate Welfare Committee in a recent statement dealing with its action in restoring the June house party program to its original five-day duration.

"Y" WILL ERECT MEMORIAL CABIN

Plot of Ground Given by "Andy" Lytle Will Be Location of Monument to Donor

PLAN TO BEGIN ACTUAL CONSTRUCTION IN JUNE

The Penn State Y. M. C. A. is now working out the details of a plan for the erection of a memorial cabin as a monument of esteem to "Andy" Lytle, familiarly known to students as Penn State's "coldest freshman."

The section of land given by Mr. Lytle measures one hundred and fifty by three hundred feet, and is located at the base of Tussey Mountain, just under the Shingletown Gap. The site is well elevated and commands a beautiful view of the intervening valleys to the Alleghenies. There is a possibility that more land will later be added by the "Y," and that the forested section surrounding the cabin will become known as Lytle Park.

LION NETMEN OPPOSE BUCKNELL TOMORROW

Meet Scheduled for Two O'clock on Army Courts—Visitors Enter Seven Men

With one victory to its credit, the Penn State tennis team will meet the aggregation from Bucknell tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock on the Army courts. The Lewistown collegians are expected to bring a team of seven men, in which even there will be six singles and three doubles matches played.

The Nittany netmen will be weakened by the loss of C. L. McVough '25 who is absent on an inspection trip, and T. M. Price '26 who will probably be out of the lineup due to a sore ankle. Price is rated as first on the squad and if he is not able to play tomorrow, the strength of the Lion team will be materially lessened.

MINING STUDENTS HOLD FINAL SMOKER TONIGHT

The Student Mining and Metallurgical Societies will hold their final smoker and get-together of the year at the Old Mining Building on Friday evening, May ninth at seven-thirty.

Major A. C. Fieldner, formerly of the Chemik W. Finance Service and now Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Station of the Bureau of Mines, will be the guest of the Society and will discuss the work of the Bureau of Mines and its relation to the mining and metallurgical engineer.

LION TRACK TEAM GOES TO ANNAPOLIS

Nittany Coach To Send Well-Balanced Team—Navy Is Strong on Track and Field

The Penn State track team will meet the Navy cinder men at Annapolis tomorrow afternoon, in what promises to be a stiff contest for the Blue and White aggregation. About twenty-two track men will make the trip, and Coach Cattell plans to send a well-balanced team to meet the Midlanders.

YEARLING CINDER-MEN MEET PITT FRESHMEN

Trash To Meet Pitt

The Blue and White yearlings will enter the line-up of the season when they meet the Pittsburgh freshmen track team at Schenley Oval tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

YEARLING NINE FACES KISKI TEAM TOMORROW

Practice Puts Squad Into Smooth Working Order—Coach May Change Infield

Attempting to remedy the faults shown in most recent games, Coach Leo Houch has put his yearling baseball team through a week of hard practice in preparation for their game with Kiski at Shingletown tomorrow afternoon.

Spirit Week Closes Tomorrow With Annual Observance of Poverty Day

Penn State will be transformed into a "campus of hoboes" tomorrow when practically nine hundred freshmen don their annual observance of Poverty Day. The annual observance of Poverty Day commemorates the occasion which has been observed for the past five days in an attempt to revive traditional customs.

LAST CHANCE TO PAY SENIOR DUES

The last opportunity for seniors to pay their class dues will be given Monday evening at seven o'clock at Co-op. By a ruling of the class the names of the men not paying their dues will be crossed from the class role and Commencement program.

'Y' ENTERTAINMENT SERIES IS BOOKED FOR COMING YEAR

Course To Include Eight Numbers—Flonzaley Quartet Appears for Second Time

"THE BARBER OF SEVILLE" TO BE GIVEN IN OCTOBER

Cleveland Symphony Orchestra Is Second Attraction—Canadian Humorist Secured

The Y. M. C. A. and the Department of Music have arranged a Lacuna Course for next year which it is hoped will far surpass all former undertakings. The course will be brought to the students in an additional cost of six hundred dollars over the one of this year.

LION GOLFERS TO MEET PENN TEAM TOMORROW

Columbia University Is Met This Morning in Rye, N. Y.—Four Players Make Trip

After strenuous practice all week the Penn State golf team is in the condition for its matches with Columbia University this morning at Westchester-Baltimore Country Club at Rye, New York and with the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow morning at Whittemore Valley Country Club.

DR. GILES WILL ADDRESS SUNDAY CHAPEL SERVICE

Delivered Baccalaureate Sermon Here Last Year—Combined Choirs To Sing

Dr. Warren Giles, pastor of the First Reformed Church of East Orange, New Jersey, will be the speaker at the chapel service on Sunday morning. Dr. Giles has been an associate of President Thomas in the past, and this will not be his first visit to Penn State.

FIRST ANNUAL AG DANCE TO BE STAGED TONIGHT

Affair Is Not Limited to Students of Agricultural—Dancing From Eight to Twelve

Taking the place of the Agricultural Banquet, the first annual Ag Dance will be held tonight in the Armory, with Ken Keller's Rainbow Orchestra from Altoona furnishing the music. Dancing will begin at eight o'clock and close at twelve.

JUNIOR CLASS TO MEET ON TUESDAY

CADET FIELD DAY PLANS COMPLETED

Penn State Regiment To Pass in Review Before General Charles S. Muir

BEST DRILLED COMPANY TO RECEIVE SILVER CUP

The Military Department of Penn State is preparing for a Field Day and Review, which is to be held on the Holmes Field May twenty-ninth at two o'clock. There will be a number of races of various kinds and the day will be closed with a review of the entire Penn State regiment by General Charles S. Muir of the Third Corps Area.

PENN STATE NINE MEETS BUCKNELL TEAM TOMORROW

Captain Tarr, Pitcher for Invaders, Defeated Blue and White Last Season

Encouraged by their successes against the reputed Cornell Tech nine last week, Coach Killian's men will tackle the strong Bucknell aggregation tomorrow afternoon. The contest is slated for two-thirty o'clock on New Beaver Field. Yesterday's game with Gettysburg College had to be called off because of the heavy rainfall.

Captain Tarr, pitcher for the Blue and White last season, was the star in the contest. He pitched a complete game and won the game, 3 to 2.

Another well known athlete with the Bucknellians is shorts vector a catcher. He has had two years experience behind the bat and played a large part in the success of former administrations to the Blue and White and yet again he has been the star in the contest.

After the race the regiment will pass in review before General Muir, who is commander of the Third Corps Area, and who was commander of the Fourth Army Corps exercises during the World War. The best drilled company will receive a silver cup with the name of the company commander engraved on it.

DR. GILES WILL ADDRESS SUNDAY CHAPEL SERVICE

One of the twining staff members, enjoys the novel experience of coming to Bucknell from the University of Hawaii and securing a place on the team in his very first year at an American institution. He, along with Tarr and LaRue, the latter having three seasons of slab work to his credit, has been bearing the brunt of the pitching this spring.

DR. GILES WILL ADDRESS SUNDAY CHAPEL SERVICE

As the speaker at the Baccalaureate service here last year, Dr. Giles delivered an inspiring address which was enthusiastically received by the students and their friends. The message to the graduates, class was unique and different from the usual commencement sermon and many appreciative comments were heard from the parents and visitors who attended the service.

JUNIOR CLASS TO MEET ON TUESDAY

There will be a number of races of various kinds and the day will be closed with a review of the entire Penn State regiment by General Charles S. Muir of the Third Corps Area.

The races will be a combination of all that is wild and out of the ordinary. The first event will be a short race and this will be followed by an equipment race, a centipede race and a three-legged race. Contestants of the short race take off their shoes and throw them into a barrel which is then shaken up. When the gun is fired, the contestants scramble for their shoes in the barrel, put them on and race to the finish mark.

The equipment race is a race in taking off and putting on military equipment in the mounted relay two men from a team. One sits on the shoulders of the other a certain distance is run, and then they change and the order becomes the sidelen. The team which reaches the finish line first wins. There will be run in every race and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Regimental Review

After the races the regiment will pass in review before General Muir, who is commander of the Third Corps Area, and who was commander of the Fourth Army Corps exercises during the World War. The best drilled company will receive a silver cup with the name of the company commander engraved on it.

There will be a competition in the manual of arms after the review. A number of students will be chosen from each company and President Thomas will award medals to the three best skilled in the manual of arms. At this time a silver cup will be presented to the captain of the team that wins the inter-class shoot, which is to be held Monday May nineteenth. There will be four teams in the match representing the four classes. Each team will be composed of five men and the winning team will be awarded the cup.

General William H. Hoy, a former commandant of the Penn State R. O. F. C. will be the guest of Colonel Bond of Danburg on May twenty-ninth at a reunion of the twenty-eighth division. General Hoy will be in State College on the thirtieth Memorial Day when there will be a parade of the Penn State color regiment, the American Legion, the G. A. R. and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.
