WPAB PRESENTS
NOVEL FEATURES

Professor de Visse, Will Spook
 Tonight on French House at
 Coming Summer Term

PROF. GREEN CONDUCTS RATTLESNAKE "CONCERT"

The Penn State radio station, WPAB, has been receiving much favorable comment on the program broadcast recently, and of late some novel entertainment features have been introduced into the evening program. The latest of these features was a "concert" by a rattlesnake sent out first Wednesday night, accompanied by an interesting talk on the habits of the reptile.

The following programs have been prepared for tonight and Monday. This evening's program is as follows:

8:00 p. m.—Entire program, including music, by the student French Club of Penn State.

8:20 p. m.—Activities of a College French Club, talk given in French by Albert Hobbs, instructor in French at Penn State, translation of same talk given by D. D. Mason.

8:45 p. m.—The Value of Language Study, talk by Dr. I. L. Foster, head of the Penn State department of Romance Languages.

9:00 p. m.—Talk by Professor H. P. W. de Visse concerning the summer session French House.

Following Professor de Visse's talk, the following musical selections will be given by members of the Penn State Student French Club: vocal solo, Miss Dorothy Brandon '25, violin solo, A. O. McClinton '26, clarinet solo, P. M. Torrance, violin solo, McClellan, and a piano duet by Miss Evelyn Freeseburn '24 and Miss Florence Royer '26.

The following program will be broadcast on Monday:

8:00 p. m.—Musical selections, Farm and Garden night.

8:15 p. m.—Water, Light and Sanitation for the Farm Home, talk by J. R. Hewell, farm engineering specialist.

8:30 p. m.—Farm and Home, music.

8:45 p. m.—Girls' Club Work, by Miss Marion Baker, of the Home Economics extension department.

9:00 p. m.—Music and farm news items.

Rattlesnake Concertists
 George R. Green, the college nature study instructor and specialist.

gave a rattlesnake the feature as a part of his talk on "Snakes" which was broadcast on last Wednesday evening. Comparatively few people have had the opportunity to encounter the rattle in its native haunts and fewer still have heard its warning signal. Thus he felt that his education talk on snakes would be incomplete unless his audience, numbering thousands, actually heard the rattle.

In closing this unusual feature of his Wednesday night talk, Mr. Green stated that rattlesnakes are similar to many other snakes in their reaction to light. Just as the lizard slings away the cover has been removed from his eyes, so does the rattle "rattle" when brought to the light, especially if he has just had a meal of July beetles. A little harmless tickling helps, said Green, who took the rattle to the radio station in a stout wire cage. Green did not guarantee that the snake would "do its stuff" but the reptile was obliging and the experiment was a success.

CLASS DIAMOND TEAMS
OPEN SEASON TUESDAY

Sophomore Candidates Report at Armory Tonight—Seniors and Juniors Out Monday

With two games scheduled for next Tuesday, the class baseball candidates are preparing for the opening series of spring diamond clashes.

The freshman group is the only one that has been getting in regular practice sessions and should profit by these daily work-outs in the coming games. It is expected that members of the other three classes will be slightly handicapped by the fact that they have not worked together as much as have the freshmen.

Sophomores Practice Tonight
 The first regular practice of the sophomore aspirants will take place tonight, when all second-year men deciding positions on their class aggregation will report it six o'clock at the Armory. The junior and senior candidates will have their initial work-outs on Holmes Field next Monday evening at six o'clock.

A total of six games have been scheduled for the class between, this schedule being as follows:

Tuesday, May 13—Seniors vs Sophomores, Juniors vs Freshmen

Thursday, May 15—Seniors vs Freshmen, Juniors vs Sophomores

Thursday, May 20—Seniors vs Juniors

Tuesday, May 27—Sophomores vs Freshmen

FRESHMEN TO PRESENT
ORIGINAL STUNT IN JUNE

Plans are being made by the Freshman Stunt Committee to put on this year something quite new and original to commemorate the passing of the link. Chairman J. N. Stewart of the committee has already blocked out the plans for the event and he and his associates now are working on them. The committee is planning to keep the nature of the stunt a secret until its presentation. The time for its showing has been set at ten o'clock on the Saturday morning of Commencement Week, but the place has not yet been determined.

J. Gordon Amend is writing the stunt this year as he has done in the past and it will be under his direction. All members of the committee will take part in the affair, as will also other members of the class. Not only will the stunt be an innovation in itself but the method of presentation will likewise be unique.

PLAYERS TO GIVE FARCE
BEFORE UNIVERSITY CLUB

"Facing The Music" To Be Presented at Private Showing Next Saturday Night

"Facing The Music," a three-act farce in which Otis Skinner played the leading part on the professional stage last year, will be presented by the Penn State Players at a private showing before members of the University Club on Saturday night, May seveneenth. The production is under the direction of D. D. Mason and rehearsals have been held for the past three weeks in preparation for the coming performance.

The plot in "Facing The Music" concerns a case of mistaken identity, occasioned by the presence in the same apartment house of two men bearing the same name. John Smith played by Frank Neumann '26, is in company with Miss Potheringay, portrayed by Lillian Baker '27, when he falls victim to a robbery in Lakeview Square. To complicate matters, Miss Smith, played by Leah Lark '25, the wife of Reverend John Smith, receives from Miss Potheringay what she believes to be her husband's pocketbook.

Further Complications
 Thinking he is the victim of a conspiracy, John Smith calls in Sergeant Duffell of Scotland Yard to unravel the mystery. Duffell, played by A. A. McCurdy '27, is ambitious for promotion and he draws the wrong conclusions from these happenings, suspecting everyone of being members of a famous gang of European crooks. Matters become worse but, as in every farce, comedy, complications are settled satisfactorily before the final curtain.

"Facing The Music" has enjoyed long professional runs in both America and England and it is the type of play that was written for laughing purposes. Assisting Mr. Mason in staging this production are J. P. Franzen '26 and N. W. Hoyle '27, stage managers, and W. I. Brennan '26, electrician.

The complete cast is as follows:
 Miss Potheringay, Lillian Baker '27
 John Smith, Frank Neumann '26
 Col. Duncan Smith, L. P. Franzen '27
 Soak, Helen Powell '26
 Sergeant Duffell, A. A. McCurdy '27

SUMMER STUDENTS TO REGISTER NEXT WEEK

May Sixteenth and Seventeenth
 Are Dates Set—New Method
 Will Save Time

Students now in college who expect to take work in the Summer Session will be registered on Friday and Saturday, May sixteenth and seventeenth. The registration process recently authorized by the Council of Administration will be used for the first time on these dates. The steps in registration under the new scheme will be as follows:

1.—The student prepares at the office of his scheduling officer, a daily schedule. The form to be used will be one of the regular schedule cards now in use, both sides of the card will be filled out although nothing concerning fees will be added by the scheduling officer.

2.—The student takes this schedule, approved by the scheduling officer, to the office of the Registrar where a blanketed form supplying information for all departments and offices of the college is filled out. The Registrar inspects and approves the blanketed form and keeps it and the trial schedule submitted by the student.

3.—The student goes to the Treasurer's office, pays his fees, receives a copy of his schedule and a receipt which is also a matriculation card good for the Summer session.

4.—The student describes the registration process will appear very soon about the campus. A new, time-saving device will be the use of the one large sheet for all the various forms the student has to fill out. Formerly, this was done on separate cards and caused much more work as well as the loss of many of the cards. All the work will be accomplished at the Registrar's office, and the prospective students will save much time previously lost in going from one office to another.

PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS RECEIVE AG PAMPHLETS

In the interest of prospective students, the school of Agriculture at Penn State has completed a twenty-eight page pamphlet, copies of which are being sent to students throughout the state. The pamphlet is in folder form and tells in words and pictures the story of Penn State and its development to meet the important and growing agricultural interests of the Commonwealth.

The new booklet is both attractive and informing and contains pictures of President Thomas and Dean R. L. Witt, each exhibiting one of the prize-winning hons of the college, views of the campus, photographs of famous stillary athletes and several other interesting features are also included. The pamphlet and a personal letter will be sent to any person in high preparatory school whose name is handed in at the office of the Agricultural Department.

A special article in the pamphlet makes a plea for the farm and the opportunities it holds for a happy and prosperous life for the college-trained agriculturist. Although the enrollment of agricultural students is falling off at many land grant colleges, Penn State is holding her own, according to recent statistics.

SOPHOMORES DEFEATED
IN FIRST PANTS SCRAP

As one of the most successful activities of Spirit Week, the sophomore-freshman Pants Scrap held on New Levee field last Wednesday afternoon at five-thirty o'clock, resulted in a victory for the yearlings who came out of the fight four and one-half pants ahead of the second-year men.

Considerable interest and enthusiasm over this new venture was shown by both underclasses and a large crowd of spectators was present. The sophomore turn-out was not up to expectations so that three heats of thirty men each were run off instead of three heats of one hundred men as had been previously planned.

At the signal of the whistle the two opposing teams rushed at each other from the opposite ends of the field and pulled and tugged to obtain possession of their opponents' trousers. It is noted that this scrap will be continued in future years as a regular freshman-sophomore scrap.

MOTHERS' DAY

We may have many friends,
 Or more than one lover,
 But in all the wide world
 We have just one Mother

She's the first friend we have
 And the best friend on earth,
 But her life may be spent
 Without learning her worth

We may sing of the fame
 Of sister or brother,—
 My song is a tribute
 To my little Mother

RURAL LIFE CLUB PLANS
PICNIC AND RARN DANCE

Ball Game With A. H. Club and Novel Music Are Attractions
 of Spring Outing

Plans for a field day and picnic to be held on the afternoon of May twenty-fourth by the Rural Life Club, were practically completed at the meeting of the club last Thursday night. Election of officers was also conducted at the meeting, with the result that J. C. Kiefer '25 was chosen as president of the organization for the coming year while J. W. Decker '25 was picked as vice-president and H. A. Eitz '25 as secretary and treasurer.

The tentative schedule which was drawn up for the outing on the twenty-fourth calls for a baseball game with the Animal Husbandry Club on Old Beaver Field as the opening event of the afternoon. After the game the members of the club and their guests will embark in buses for Decker's farm on the road to Bulkfonte, where a picnic will be held.

An especially interesting affair has been arranged for the evening entertainment in the form of an old-fashioned square dance to be held in Decker's barn. Taking the place of an orchestra, a country fiddler will be secured to "do all the figures" and to furnish the music. Every member of the club is urged to attend the outing, with a dancing partner if possible, and those who have not already made arrangements for the trip are advised to communicate as soon as possible with J. H. Eubank '25, C. W. Taylor '25, L. J. Bailey '24 or W. M. Bechtel '24.
