LION CUBS GIVEN INTENSIVE SIGNAL DRILL BY COACH

Left End Position Gives Hermann Most Trouble—Four Gridders Fight for Berth

NEW CANDIDATES SHOW UP WELL IN SCRIMMAGE

Plaid Plebes, With Strong Lineup, Play Here October Eleventh in Season's Opener

Olling all the loose parts of his 1924 yeuling football machine, Coach "Dutch" Hermann announced yesterday that his elven was sorely in need of several long practice sessions before next Saturday the time of the opening gild encounte with the first-yeai representatives from Carnegie Tech

The most outstanding ne d at present is t smooth-working group of eeven men and to obtain this result "Dutch" plans to use intensive signal practice during the coming week Scrimmage and signal drill were called for this afternoon, but tomorrow's practice will be in the nature of a workout, so as to enable the 1925 pigskin-chasers to see the Varsity eleven in action against Notre Dame

One position, especially, is causing the freshman mentor much trouble this being the left end pos There are at leas, four outstanding men who covet this vicancy and ne at present striving hard for the berth Layton hst week was found at the left terminal but the Monessen youth gave way to Stamp at the beginning of this week Stamp did not produce the work which 'Dutch' expected of him o he, too was taken out of the first-string line-up

On Wednesday t mes main Wilson was injected into the scrimmage but he showed up no better at the wing post than the others did and therefore met a fate similar to that suffered by his predecessors "Dutch's" latest plan is to try Grayton as a wingman again to complete Hermann front guard to left end In case Hartman does secure the questionable, terminal it is probable that Grayton will step into the vacant guard position

A second berth is also in doubt this being the tackle, at which Scott and Mahoney are at present alternating Both men have been exhibiting fight-

THESPIAN CLUB SECURES TEN ROAD ENGAGEMENTS

Penn State Alumni in Philadelphia Arrange for Presentation in Quaker City

The Penn State Thespian Club plans t, enlarge its list of outside engagements this yeu so that two trips will be possible The first trip, which will be taken during the first week of Christmas recess, will include showings in Indiana, Greensburg, Johnstown Uniontown Morgantown West Virginia, and Pittsburgh, with the possibility of spending two days in the last-mentioned city

A second tour, which i being arranged for some time in the spring will include engagements in Harrisburg, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Philadelphia All arrangements for the showing in Philadelphia are being undertaken by the Penn State Alumni Association of that city

The Wayburn Studios have again been engaged to coach the Thespian's production, and are now arranging dates so that the club may secure the services of those directors who specialize in the production of college plays

In the event that a manuscript is selected in the near future, rehearsals for the new play will begin in November so that the first presentation will take place here before Christmas vacation

Alumni Organize

Graduation of a member of the Thespian Club automatically secures for the player a membership in the Alumni Association of the Club, which is now in the process of formation A Board of Trustees for the Association will be elected in a short time in order that the trustees may make all arrangements for outside performances

GEORGIA TICKET SALE ANNOUNCED

Tickets for the Georgia Tech game at Atlanta, Georgia, may be procured at the Athletic Office on Monday October 13th

PENN STATE PAYS HOMAGE TO ANDY LYTLE TOMORROW

TOWNSPEOPLE AND FACULTY TO JOIN UNDERGRADUATES IN HONORING BLUE AND WHITE'S OLDEST AND MOST FAITHFUL GRID ROOTER

"Andy" Lytle Day will be celebrated at Penn State tomorrow when the entire student body, faculty and townspeople will unite in honoring Penn State's oldest football rooter Between the halves of the Penn State-North Carolina State football game, "Andy" will be elected to honorary membership in the new freshman class as "the oldest freshman at Penn State"

Now well advanced toward the ninety yeai mark, Andy Lytle is probably a figure unique in college football history Although he never went to college, for more than forty years he has been following the destinies of Penn State teams on the gridiron and during that time he has travelled thousands of miles to see the team in action His white beard and old fur hat have been a familiar sight wherever Penn State has played

Oldest Freshman

Born and reared on a farm a short distance from the college campus, Andy helped to haul the stone for the erection of the first building, Old Main back in 1855 Each year, despite the increasing infirmities of his advancing age, he has made it a point to address the first Penn State football mass meeting, where he has always allied himself with the incoming freshman class and claimed as his own the title of "oldest freshman"

President John M Thomas, Burgess Harry W. Sauers, H A Leitzell, President of the Borough Council, J Laird Holmes candidate for the Assembly and long time friend of "Andy," and other prominent citizens of State College and student leaders of Penn State will escort the "oldest freshman" to the game tomorrow, where he will occupy a place of honor in the President's box The box is in the West Stand immediately back of the home team dugout and affords a fine view of the game and of the freshman cheering section

At the end of the first half, the members of the sophomore class will swarm down upon the playing field but instead of forming a monster S as in years past, the second year men will form the letters ANDY Half the

NEW MEN APPEAR BEFORE TRIBUNAL

Seventeen Students Petition Body for Exemption From First Year of Customs

SPECTATORS EXCLUDED FROM OPENING MEETING

The election of two officers occupied the first part of the meeting of the Student Tribunal in Room 314 Old Main last Wednesday evening The position of Secretary will be occupied for the ensuing year by C H Moore '26, and M D Buckley '26 was elected Master-at-Arms As there were no cases of special moment, all spectators were excluded from the meeting

Nineteen men petitioned exemption from customs, but the cases were judged according to circumstances, so that no set rule as to the customs of other colleges could be recognized The first case at the docket was that of Strand Pedersen '26 t Dime, who was excused from first year customs because of his inexperience and age W C Storch '27, whose customs at the University of Detroit did not conform to the standard of those at Penn State, was requested to take frosh customs for one semester

J E Coffey '27, who took a year of customs at the University of Pittsburgh was excused from freshman customs because of the standing of his former college R M Campbell '27, a petitioner from Bucknell University, who had been "Paddled" Oh yeeah!" will not be required to endure frosh customs at Penn State

Smart Excused

An absence of a few weeks for an operation during the first semester last year was not enough to require J. E Smart '27 to take first year customs again, so Smart will enjoy sophomore customs for this year, providing that he is lenient in his attitude toward the new men

R H Hamilton '28, a special student from St Johns Mullins will be exempt from freshman customs providing that he does not receive a diploma from Penn State In the event that he does receive a certificate, he will be required to take customs during his last year in college

Another Bucknellite, C A. Schuck '25, was excused from customs, since Bucknell customs meet the requirements of the Tribunal A E. Cooper '27,

Chapel Assignments Finally Completed

A second list of chapel assignments will be found on the Old Main and Auditorium bulletin boards This list includes the majority of the freshmen the two-year agricultural students, and some upperclassmen who have not yet been assigned their seats These assignments will go into effect on Sunday, October fifth

A final list will be posted Wednesday October eighth Any student not assigned after that date will make arrangements with Mr. Fishburn in the office of the Dean of Men

COPIES OF NEW RULES WILL BE DISTRIBUTED

Regulations Pertaining to Student Cars and New System of Grades Explained

Copies of pamphlets "1924 Rules Affecting Students," compiled by the administration in order to present to Penn State students complete information in a compact form concerning official regulations, are now ready for distribution at the office of the Registrar

According to A R Warnock, Dean of Men, particular attention should be given to the following portions of the booklet

Rules twenty-five to twenty-nine relative to honor points and the new significance of grades. Rules forty-five to forty-seven relative to chapel attendance and Rule seventy-three relative to student automobiles which states that any student keeping a car in State College after tomorrow without a permit will be considered as intentionally violating the regulation

Dean Warnock states, "In addition to these new rules there are numerous others concerning which every student should be well informed This college, compared to others, has few regulations The few that it has are essential to its proper administration, and will be enforced"

CHEERING PRACTICE TO BE HELD TODAY

There will be another practice at four-fifteen this afternoon in the Auditorium, for all students who wish to sit in the cheering section to be set aside at tomorrow's game

MISS GRACE SAGE TO PRESENT PLAY

Will Appear in "Pomance" Under Auspices of State College Women's Clubs

IS PUPIL OF SEVERAL NOTED ELOCUTIONISTS

Following thousands of stage triumphs in every part of the United States Miss Grace Sage, one of the leading dramatic interpreters of the day will appear in the Auditorium on Thursday evening, October sixteenth, under the auspices of the State College Women's Clubs. Miss Sage will present a three-act play entitled 'Romance" in the form of a monologue and will also offer several sketches from 'Romeo and Juliet

Miss Sage is one of the country's leading exponents of good speech and her offering is certain to meet with popular approval, especially among those students who are interested in clean dramatic and voice training Her viewpoint on the subject was revealed in a recent interview with a member of the Associated Press when the talented dramatist remarked 'Clear enunciation and a rich flexible voice are vitally important But handwriting means little, but nothing can conceal a poor voice'

Years of Preparation

The artistic preparation of Miss Sage began when she was five years old and since then, by unusual dramatic ability has been carefully guided by such masters as Leland T Powers David Bispham and George Riddle Another valuable part of Miss Sages training came from seven in the theatre with Lajla Bat who was formerly Sir Henry Irving's leading lady, and also with Frederick Warde who for years directed the productions of Maxine Elliot and Margaret Illington

Aside from her dramatic ability, Miss Sage is gifted with good taste and a keen, fine imagination Throughout each of her programs, there is the flash and sparkle of comedy which comes from her own sense of humor and her deep sympathy A true insight into character gives Miss Sage audience a remarkable vision of the meaning of the plays the characters come and go in an imagined scene

STUDENT DIRECTORY TO BE READY NEXT WEEK

The Student Directory will be completed by the third week of school according to W S Hoffman, College Registrar All the time, excepting those few who were late in registering, have been sent to the printer

Mr Hoffman has been pushing the work forward as rapidly as possible so that the Directory might be available soon after the opening of college Although the catalogue sets the date for completion on November first, the new method of registration and consistent work has enabled him to perfect the primary draft at this early date.

PENN STATE CLUB TO HOLD MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT

President Mears Urges Presence of All Members in Old Chapel at Seven

NEW CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS ARE DRAFTED

Reorganization of Unit Athletics Is Among Important Items To Be Discussed

With the object of discussing several important projects, the Executive Committee of the Penn State Club held a meeting in the Y-Hut last Sunday evening It was decided that a meeting of the members be called for next Monday night in the Old Chapel at seven o'clock All men interested in this club are requested to turn out as there is some important busines to be transacted and a special invitation is extended to all first-year non-fraternity men

Definite action was taken on the proposal to hold a smoker for the new students, the date of which will be announced at a later time. The social committee of which E G Flohr '25 is the chairman is working out a program that promises to be entertaining and attractive

The tentative constitution for the Club was reviewed at this meeting and several additions were recommended to the committee on Constitution will be presented at the first meeting, and several additions were recommended to the committee on Constitution and By-Laws A detailed analysis of the new constitution will be presented at the first meeting of the Club

BLUE KEY TO ENTERTAIN NORTH CAROLINA SQUAD

Society Is Planning Active Part in Stunt Night—Has Changed Color of Hats

The Blue Key Society will entertain the North Carolina football team and D A E Steams during their stay at Penn State over the week-end

The plan is to take two or three players to each fraternity under the charge of a member of the Blue Key who will entertain them as befits visitors of the Nittany Lion The society is seeking to become the most active organization on the campus Dr Thomas and Chaplain Metzger are very much interested in the work and have taken an active part as advisers, helpers and in giving pointers in general

There is now a movement to establish key societies thruout the country —there being nine at present among which are Penn, Cornell and Dartmouth The Penn State society changed the color of its hats from white to black the key resembling blue as it was before

It offers its aid at all functions, and while it does not have complete charge at the scraps" it expects to take an active part on 'Stunt' night and on other out-door clashes of the sophomores and yearlings It is composed of managers athletes, class officers, and other men prominent about college

LION GRIDDERS FACE BIG TEST TOMORROW

Nittany Guard

"MIKE" MICHALSKE

With but one man missing from the team that last year held Penn State to a 16-0 score, Coach "Buck" Shives North Carolina gridiron team invades the lair of the Nittany Lion tomorrow afternoon to lock horns with the Blue and White in what will probably prove the fiercest early season battle that Bezdek's men have faced in years

Far into the evening with both the white light and the lights brought into play Bez' has driven his men in preparation for tomorrow's encounter and it is evident that the Nittany mentor holds the contest in a serious light With the scrubs using North Carolina formations the varsity has battled to break up the shifty offense of the Southerners while "Bez" devises schemes to perfect a successful defense

Trinity College fell victim to the terrific onslaught of North Carolina's veteran eleven last Saturday afternoon and it was only a muddy field that prevented the Tar Heels from running up more than a 14-0 score Coach Shaw, a former Notre Dame star has been pointing his men for tomorrow's encounter since the opening day of practice and the Lion faces a real test unusual for such an early season contest

Line-up Switched

Dissatisfied with the team's showing against Lebanon Valley last Saturday Coach Bezdek has again switched the varsity line-up and no less than two new faces will be found on the field when Captain "Bus" Gray leads his team against the Tar Heel Hayes, veering luminary last fall has replaced McPhie at left end while "Bill" Helbig has been promoted to the first team taking George Gleis place in the backfield

Troubled with an injured back and a weak ankle, Gray has been under the care of Trainer Cartmell for the past few days and it was deemed advisable to keep the giant halfback out of scrimmage for a while However If Helbig continues to show the form that he has flashed in scrimmage during the past week, both Gray and Gene Baker will have a battle on their hands to retain regular positions

Backfield Remains Intact

With the exception of Helbig the first backfield will be the same as the one that faced Lebanon Valley in the opening encounter last Saturday "Bill" Baker will again back signals while his brother Gene occupies his position at right halfback with Charley Light at fullback Ed Buckley has been doing good work all week and will be ready to fill in at halfback if either Helbig or Baker fail to come through

On the line, Black has been pushing McCann to the limit for one of the tackle positions and the block hurled Cheltenham youth is another regular who will be forced to put up a real battle if he intends to remain on the first team 'Ted' Artelt whose improvement within the past two weeks ranks him with the Best backfield ends and Hayes will fill the terminal posts with Michalske and House at guards and Captain Gray at center

Captains Battle At Center

Rival captains Gray of Penn State and Beaty of North Carolina will battle against each other from the center position in tomorrow's encounter and an interesting spectacle is expected when these two leaders clash "Bus" outweighs his rival by twelve pounds but this lack of weight will not hinder the southern leader from giving his best

The visitors present a real threat in

STUDENT COUNCIL BEGINS ACTIVITIES

Spirit Week, Dance Budgets and Class Dues Considered by Governing Body

ADOPT PLAN TO OBTAIN BETTER GROUP CHEERING

The initial meeting of Student Council was held Tuesday evening at the Delta Upsilon House The main object of the meeting was to organize the body and to bring all the members together giving them an opportunity to become acquainted Several topics of importance were brought up and discussed though no definite action was taken on any of the subjects However the way was prepared for a number of important decisions to be made at the next meeting of the council

President W G Wemd '25 conducted the meeting and offered for consideration the subjects of Spirit Week compulsory payment of class dues and student budgets for the Sophomore Hop and Junior Prom The council will be prepared to discuss these things at length at the next meeting and some action can be expected

C W Tishon '25, opened a discussion in regard to means for obtaining better cheering and getting more candidates to come out for cheer leading He suggested that the members of the three upper classes form a so-

PHILLIPS ACADEMY HEAD WILL SPEAK AT CHAPEL

Dr. A. E. Stearns, Former College Athlete, Is One of Nation's Most Noted Educators

Dr Alfred E Stearns Principal of Phillips Academy Andover Massachusetts will again visit Penn State to address both the morning and evening Chapel services on Sunday, October fifth

Dr Stearns is one of America's best connected men and also one of its most famous educators He graduated from the Old English Preparatory School of which he is now dean received his A B from Amherst while his M A was granted by Yale and some years later his LL D by Amherst He has been the head of Phillips Academy since 1903 and visited this institution last year to study conditions leading to the spirit of the student body on the athletic field

Having been a pitcher on his college baseball team he was an athlete of ability, and frequently takes the mound against the younger boysmen of the school to prove that he has not wholly lost his arm of former days The visit of Dr Stearns was so arranged that he might see the Nittany football team in action on its home field

When introducing him last year Dr Thomas that if the deans of the preparatory schools were to elect a dean of them all undoubtedly they would choose Dr Stearns He is a contributor to the "Atlantic Monthly" and many other leading magazines, and is a speaker of note
