P. R. R. PROPOSES SPECIAL TRAIN TO PENN GRID GAME

Passenger List Open to Members of Faculty, to Students and Townspeople

SPECIAL TO RUN FROM LEMONT ON SATURDAY

Persons Wishing Places on Train May Leave Name and Address at COLLEGIAN Office

Quotations have been received recently by the COLLEGIAN concerning the running of a special train to carry Penn State students to and from the Penn game at Philadelphia on November fifteenth. All faculty members, students or townspeople who wish to arrange for transportation on this train should leave their names and addresses at the COLLEGIAN office by noon of November third, and should also specify whether they prefer the "leopard" or "day coach" idea explained below.

Prices applying to such a movement in connection with organized bodies of students are as follows:

100 to 125, inclusive	$11.50
126 to 150, inclusive	13.00
151 to 175, inclusive	14.50
176 to 199, inclusive	16.00
200 and over	17.50

These rates as quoted above, apply only to movement in coaches, and it is understood that identification cards, which would be used in connection with such a movement, would be used only on the special train in each direction.

Schedule
As a tentative schedule for the Penn State special, the Pennsylvania Railroad suggests the following: The train to leave Lemont at six-thirty a. m. on Saturday, November fifteenth, arriving at Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, at one p. m. Returning, the special would leave Broad Street Station at noon Sunday and arrive at Lemont at seven-fifty p. m. It is probable that the hours could be changed to suit the convenience of the party, subject to the approval of the Transportation Department. (Continued on last page.)

HOUSE PARTY CONCERT PLANNED BY GLEE CLUB

Miss Melissa Snyder Will Assist With Program—Is Known as Dramatic Soprano

Extensive preparations are now being made by the Penn State Glee Club for its seventh annual Pennsylvania Day concert, which will be given in the Auditorium Saturday evening, November eighth at eight-fifteen o'clock.

With Director R. W. Grant holding three rehearsals each week, the indications point to a concert which will equal and perhaps surpass all former November House Party entertainments. A number of new attractions will be added to this year's program, and these will help to make it well balanced and enjoyable.

An interesting program of speakers, with music, both vocal and instrumental interpolated, was the attraction at the annual Penn State Glee Club Smoker, which was held Wednesday evening at the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity house.

Headling the list of speakers was E. N. Sullivan, secretary of the Alumni Association, and he was followed by Dean A. R. Warnock, Professor O. P. Bourke, Dean C. W. Stoddart, President John M. Thomas, and Director R. W. Grant.

In his speech, "Froxy" Thomas confessed that in his college days he had been a member of the "Club" of his Alma Mater, and after speaking he was asked to demonstrate his ability. With three members of the varsity quartette he rendered a selection, displaying a very good bass voice, and was unanimously admitted as an honorary member of the Glee Club.

GOLF TOURNEY WINNER TO BE DECIDED TODAY

In the semi-final round of the all-college golf tournament, Feneley defeated S. T. Munhall 26 four and three, on Tuesday afternoon and will play H. P. Taylor '26 for the championship of the College on Friday afternoon beginning at two-thirty o'clock at which time they will complete eighteen holes. A cup will be given to the winner and a silver medal to the runner-up.

SOPH HARRIERS WIN INTER-CLASS MEET

R. R. Fouracre '27 Captures First Place—K. B. Barclay '26 Is Second To Finish

MEET IS FIRST TRIAL FOR FRESHMAN TEAM

Hardly outstanding their opponents, the sophomore harriers experienced little difficulty in winning the annual inter-class cross-country meet which was staged over a three-mile course Wednesday afternoon. R. R. Fouracre '27 was first to break the tape, the sophomore liminary covering the distance in less than thirteen minutes. K. B. Barclay '26 came in second, closely followed by Stewart, Johnson and Reels, all second-year men.

The sophomores scored a total of twenty-one points, while the juniors second place, rolled up thirty-five markers. The freshmen came in third, followed by the seniors in last place. Captain Decker of the varsity team was the first senior to break the tape.

Freshmen Trials
In addition to being an inter-class meet, the run Wednesday afternoon served as trials for the freshman team. The following yearlings finished in the order named: Mansfield, Covert, Megard, Taylor, Huskins, Fitzgibbons and Osterling. These men will represent 1925 in the freshman-sophomore scrap next Wednesday and will also take the field against the Carnegie Tech plebes here on Pennsylvania Day.

According to the present plans of Coach Cartmel, varsity trials for the Carnegie Tech meet here next Saturday will be staged tomorrow afternoon. The candidates will be forced to cover a six-mile course as the Plebe meet will be the first this season in which the Lion harriers will be called upon to run this distance.

SELECTIONS MADE FOR GIRLS' VARSITY QUARTET

The Girls' Varsity Quartet for the coming year has been selected as follows:

First Soprano—Betty R. Croll '25
Second Soprano—Marie Helmold '26
First Alto—Pauline Finckhbaugh '25
Second Alto—Dorothy Brandon '25

Student Council Decides Against Band Making Trip to Navy-State Game

At a meeting of the Student Council last Tuesday evening in Room 11 Liberal Arts, the most important question discussed was that of the College Band making the trip to Annapolis for the Navy-Penn State football game.

C. L. McGuffie '25, representing the band, advanced the argument that the only incentive men have to join the organization is the fact that a few trips are made during the football season. A. H. Heffrich '25, president of the Athletic Association, stated that the appropriation for the Navy trip would create a heavy drain on the Association treasury. W. H. Seafross, treasurer of the Senior Class, also opposed the move for more funds, explaining the present situation of the Interclass Budget.

Due to the arguments advanced by Heffrich and Seafross, and the trend of the general discussion, the motion to allow the band to accompany the grid squad to the Naval Academy was defeated almost unanimously.

Freshman Traffic Rules
The regulation concerning the use of the sidewalk bordering the Allen Street driveway from College Avenue by the first-year men was again interpreted by Student Council, and it was decided that the rule must be strictly enforced. This regulation plainly states that freshmen are not to walk more than two abreast on these sidewalks.

YEARLING ELEVEN TO FACE ORANGE TEAM TOMORROW

Lion Cubs Leave For Binghamton, New York—Game Is Called for Two O'clock

HERMANN TAKES TWENTY MEN ON NORTHERN TRIP

Second and Third Teams Are Put Through Scrimmage—Roepke Makes Long Runs

With a determination to keep a clean slate for the season, Coach Hermann's yearling gridiron warriors left last night for Binghamton, New York, where they will battle with the strong Syracuse freshman team in the First Ward Stadium at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Scoring fifty points to their opponents' thirteen in the past three encounters the Lion cubs have established an enviable record. One factor which may spell defeat and which the yearling mentor fears is that of over-confidence, but if this can be overcome Penn State will have one of the scrappiest freshman teams in the East.

Light Practice
Monday night was spent in signal practice and a light workout to rest up the team. The following afternoon was given over to scrimmage with first-stringers pitted against the second eleven. The regulars were a little stiff and slow in getting started but soon hit their stride and provided considerable opposition for their opponents.

In an effort to produce a larger number of substitutes, "Dutch" used his second and third teams in scrimmage drill Wednesday night, while the first seven was sent through dummy scrimmage and signal drill. Roepke, halfback on the second stringers, aided with perfect interference, broke through the line twice for ninety-five yard runs and placed the ball behind the uprights. The yearling coach admitted they he was the fastest man running from scrimmage and if his work continues it will be a matter of a toss-up between him and Lesko for the backfield berth.

The second eleven played a good offensive game and the work of Zimmerman, guard, and Houseman, halfback, was outstanding. Harrington is developing into a good fullback under the instructions of the yearling coach, who has been spending considerable time with understraps.

Twenty Men Make Trip
In all probability "Dutch" will line-up his yearlings against the Orange freshmen with Kral and Stamp at ends, Greenhields and Mahony, tackles, Hartman and Bard, guards, Hastings, center, Dancerfield, quartback, Lesko and Langren, halfbacks and Lewis, fullback. As substitutes, Paulie, Garrison, Scott, Kerr or Claybaugh, Yarger, Roepke, Holtzman and Pincura or McGrath will accompany the team.

APPLICATIONS FOR PENN GAME TICKETS

Applications for tickets for the Penn game may be obtained at the Athletic Office today and tomorrow during college hours.

I. F. C. CONSIDERS SENIOR WEEK PLAN

Thursday, April Thirtieth, Set as Tentative Date for Junior Prom Next Spring

DANCING TO BE FORMAL ON COMING FRIDAY NIGHT

Senior Week, as ratified by the College Senate and Student Council, was discussed at the Inter-Fraternity Council meeting at the Delta Upsilon house last Wednesday night. The vote on its ratification as it now stands was put off until the next meeting in order to give the individual fraternities a chance to advise their representatives how to vote on the question.

W. G. Wicand '25, President of Student Council, presented the complete program as now arranged. This phase Senior Week as the first weekend in May. On Thursday evening, April thirteenth, Junior Prom will be held and no fraternity dances will be permitted that night. On Friday and Saturday nights, May first and second, dances will take place at the fraternities, and the Penn State Club dances will likely be held on one of these nights, according to the tentative program.

Objections were raised by several representatives that the Senior Week and the Commencement Week dances seemed to be steps towards the gradual abolition of all house parties. Another argument raised by the Hellenic delegates opposed to Senior Week was that the two functions mentioned above increased, rather than decreased, the expenses inflicted upon students.

These objections were answered by President Wicand, who said that the social program as it now stands was granted only after strenuous arguments by the student and alumni representatives to the College Senate. He also put the matter up to the individual fraternities as to the method of meeting their expenses for the social functions and he advised that societies put up in hiring their orchestras for Commencement Week. The June dances will not count as among those permitted. (Continued on third page)

COUNT TOLSTOY TO GIVE FAMOUS LECTURE HERE

Noted Russian Will Speak Before Nittany Students on November Twenty-second

Through the efforts of the Cosmopolitan Club, Count Ilya Tolstoy, eldest son of the great Leo Tolstoy, Russia's most famous literary genius, has been secured to give a lecture in the Auditorium, Saturday evening, November twenty-second, at eight fifteen o'clock. The noted Russian will take as his subject "Leo Tolstoy: His Life and Works."

Since the death of his father, Count Tolstoy has become famous because of his ability as a lecturer, author, and philosopher. He has given many lectures in the United States and has impressed his audiences as one who is a seeker after the best and deepest things in life. He not only interprets the Christian philosophy of his father, but believes in it, and has broadened and added to it. He is recognized as one of the first minds of the world today.

In his lecture, since he has a perfect command of English, he will be able to picture vividly the life of his father and the influence which caused him to become the great philosopher and writer that he was at his death. He will also explain the philosophy of his parent.

Tickets for this lecture may be obtained at the "Y" Hut for fifty cents apiece.

SCHOLARSHIP DAY EXERCISES TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

Deans of Schools Will Give Short Talks on Importance of Day for Penn State

PROGRAM TO BE VARIED BY MUSICAL SELECTIONS

Ceremony Begins at Ten-thirty in Auditorium—Last Two Classes Will Be Excused

A specially arranged musical and oratorical program will mark the opening of the Scholarship Day exercises next Monday morning at ten-thirty o'clock in the Auditorium. Owing to the inability of Chancellor Bowman of the University of Pittsburgh to be present at the exercises as the principal speaker of the day, short talks will be made by the deans of all the schools in order to give the students a general idea as to the importance of Scholarship Day at Penn State.

A short organ recital by Mrs. R. W. Grant, and violin solos by A. R. Pink '26, will add variety to the regular presentation program.

After the addresses and musical selections, there will be the customary announcement of elections to honorary societies, such as Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Lambda Upsilon, Tau Beta Pi and others. Following these announcements, there will be presentations of cups, medals, and prizes by various organizations and persons. The cups offered by the Pan-Hellenic and Intramural Councils, the Girls' Campus Club cup, the President Sparks medal, and the French Club prizes will be awarded. The Penn State Players will present cash prizes of fifty and twenty-five dollars to the winners of the play-writing contest held last year.

The Honor Society Council made up of all the College Honor Societies, will offer medals to the students in the Junior and Sophomore Classes who have averages above the figure selected by the Council.

TORONTO BOOTERS FACE LION ELEVEN TOMORROW

Contest Is First International Match Since Oxford Game Played Here in 1921

When the Lion booters clash with the Toronto booters tomorrow afternoon at one-thirty o'clock on New Beaver Field, Penn State will witness its first international soccer game since the time when Oxford played here in 1921.

The visitors have been intercollegiate champions of Canada for four years and have two victories to their credit for this season. Penn State played Toronto four years ago and won, but last year's loss occurred in a game of the game and a hard fight is in store for the Lion soccerites if they wish to retain their enviable record of the past.

The Line-ups
Coach Leonard will probably keep his original line-up intact, but several new men may break into the game. Harzold is putting in a strong bid for a terminal position while McLaugh is pushing Lippincott for the right halfback position. M. Gil, who substituted in last Saturday's contest, played a heady game and may possibly be called on in case of substitutions. A merry battle is being staged by Holmich and Johnson for the goal guardianship.

The Toronto team will line-up as follows: Wilson, goal; Peterson, right fullback; Sargeman, left fullback; Ryan, right halfback; Dreyer, center halfback; Melick, left halfback; Smith, outside right; Rieck, inside right; Captain Green, center; Wingfield, inside left; Brooks, outside left. The team is practically new but is setting a fast pace in soccer circles.

The Nittany mentor is placing emphasis on centering the ball by the wingmen and practice on penalty and corner kicks. Before daily scrimmage begins, Leonard puts the squad through head work and drilling. It was evident that there was a final scoring punch lacking in last week's encounter and this has been given considerable attention by the soccer coach.

LIONS FACE STIFF BATTLE WITH NAVY ELEVEN TOMORROW

Nittany Gridders Hope To Win Back Lost Prestige—Coach Bezdek Uncertain of Varsity Line-up

Navy Captain

A broken Nittany Lion, determined to regain its rightful place in the intercollegiate football world, left State College early this morning to battle with "Old" Polwell's hapless Navy eleven. Forgotten is the miserable showing against Georgia Tech; the hard-fought defeat at the hands of Syracuse is a thing of the past and tomorrow afternoon Annapolis will witness a typical fighting Blue and White eleven, resolved to redeem itself in the eyes of Penn State.

Navy's eleven has been run over rough-shod all season and despite the fact that Polwell lost four regulars this week on account of deficiency in studies, the Annapolis mentor, for the past few days, has been working with a new combination which promises to give results. For years, the Middies have put up great battles against their traditional Penn State rivals and with both teams fighting to wipe out the stigma of "past defeats, a real battle is expected tomorrow afternoon when the prowess of Bezdek and Polwell clash.

Line-up Uncertain
When approached this morning regarding the probable line-up of the Lion team, Coach Bezdek remarked that he was as yet uncertain. But Beaman, Captain Gray, Michalske, Prosser, Filbeck and Arlitt are assured places on the eleven that will face Navy. "Freddy" Flock, who started for the first time this season against Syracuse last Saturday, received a dislocated toe in scrimmage Tuesday night and it is doubtful if the former Meersburg star will occupy his old position. "Doc" has been using McCann in Flock's position for the past few days and either he or "Bill" House, who is suffering with a bad attack of "ball", will be found at right guard if Flock is unable to start.

"Ken" Weston, an unheralded grinder who has come up from the fourth team, is putting up a great fight for a regular end position and "leg" intimated that the Allentown youth may replace "Doc" Hays at left end. "Bill" Baker continues to push Lafferty for the quarter-back berth and it will be a toss-up as to which man will take the field tomorrow. Pritchard or Light at fullback, Gier or Heilig and Hockley or Bergman at halfbacks complete the available source of backfield material for the Navy clash.

FIRST SCRAP TO BE STAGED TOMORROW

Underclassmen Clash in Annual Tie-up Meet on Old Beaver at One-Thirty

PRESENCE OF FRESHMEN REQUIRED BY CUSTOMS

Under the direction of the Student Council committees on class scraps, and aided by the Blue Key Society, the first inter-class scrap of the year, the tie-up clash, will be fought between the members of the freshman and sophomore classes tomorrow afternoon at one-thirty o'clock on Old Beaver Field.

The rules for this scrap, as given in the Student's Handbook, state that it is fought by two groups of fifty men each, representing the two classes. The contestants line up at opposite ends of the field, each man holding a piece of half-inch rope, five feet long. At a given signal, they rush on the field, meet at the center, and every man attempts to get the hands and feet of a member of the opposing class. At the end of five minutes, a signal is given and all tying stops. While the scrap is in progress, any contestant may try to untie his hands or feet, or those of any other member of his class, but after the shot is fired these men who are tied must remain so until untied. A man tied either by hands or feet, counts one point, and a man tied both hands and feet counts two points.

In previous years, because the men of the two classes did not turn out in full force, only three heats of fifty men each have been held, but with cooperation on the part of sophomores and freshmen, it will be possible to stage the scrap in six heats as originally specified in the Handbook. The class having the most number of ties to its credit at the end of the six heats will be declared the winner.

Attendance at this affair is compulsory of all freshmen and the committee urges that all second-year men attend the event, so as to insure its success. Tennis or basketball shoes must be worn by all contestants and slugging or rough tactics will not be permitted.

"RAGS" MADERA RECOVERING STRENGTH AFTER OPERATION

R. C. Madera '25, who underwent an operation for a injury to his leg, received three years ago in the Penn State-Harvard game, is recovering rapidly and hopes to be back in time to finish this semester.

Coolidge Carries Penn State Vote

Preliminary election day thrills were experienced by the COLLEGIAN balloting counters last Wednesday when the results of the presidential straw vote at Penn State were determined. As has been the case at most other eastern colleges where a similar campaign has been held, Coolidge and Dawes was declared to be the favorite combination.
